All Around Us Are VERIFICATIONS Keep Watching Signs

Editor's note: This has been a week for verifications and confirmations pouring into the spotlight for anyone with eyes and ears open and mind not too set in prejudice.

As Commander Hatonn commented during a business meeting several days ago, "It took FOUR Presidents to try to shoot down Ross Perot's opposition to the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA)." For those of you who saw the disinformation pageant on the non-news programs last week, there were the dutiful puppets of Ford, Carter and Bush, next to bro' Clinton, to tell you-the-people how wrong Ross was and how right they are.

Sure. Just don't miss what a formidable rally against the crooks-in-high-places that YOU have accomplished by bombing Ross Perot (12377 Merit Drive, Suite 1700, Dallas, TX 75251) with Truth from CONTACT and elsewhere. Yes, the pen IS indeed mightier than the crooks...ah...I mean, sword.

Another verification that ought to scare the sweat out of you is on pages 30-31. Reading between the lines of that London Times article, there are all the points that Commanders Hatonn and Soltec have been making for years about "detonating" earthquakes and making them look like natural disasters.

Then, pages 2-5 present first-hand reports of recent unusual craft sighted in the Southwest and Southern California. Again, Commander Hatonn verified Space Command presence in both cases and then, in the provocative phrasing of a good poker player, threw out, "YOU don't have THAT advanced of technology!" Moreover, with respect to the probably robotoid troops marching into the light beam and up into the craft, "You know, WE can do Mind Control, too!" Certainly for many who go out and look, starships are visible ALL OVER the sky these nights...and days!

Finally, as pictures speak volumes, the deep and longstanding Masonic hold on Washington, D.C. saw more verification this week and we share that with you on pages 24-25.

Keep watching. The signs are coming fast and incredible now!

Update From New Mexico Unusual Sightings Galore!

*Editor's note: The following is a transcription of a conversation between radio professional Wes Miller of Gallup, New Mexico and Rick Martin for CONTACT on 9/15/93. This must be REALLY hot stuff because "they" have tried to wipe this out of my computer several times during the editing process; it has been a real chore getting this to you!

Rick: Ok, Wes, you're on tape now.

Wes: You realized that we had a story right off the bat, eh?

Rick: Yes, I did.

Wes: We had another incident here this morning.

Rick: Before we talk about that, let's talk about the photographs that CONTACT got this morning. [CONTACT received several color photographs of the mystery object which appeared over New Mexico-Arizona last week. (See page 2 of last week's CONTACT for the story.) The object (see picture below this paragraph) appears on the photos to be translucent, almost transparent, and very large, in the approximate shape of a balloon with a flattened top and several string-like objects hanging off the sides. There appears to be no instrumentation or anything of that nature attached to this object.] What was the backdrop? Was the backdrop a large craft and then the balloon was in front of it?

Wes: No, I don't think so. It just appears that way because you had that round thing there.

Rick: Yes.

Wes: I think that it was taken out of a telescope is why. It was actually putting a camera up to the telescope.

Rick: Ok.

Wes: So that round part was the outer fringes of the telescope.

Rick: Ok.

Wes: So that object was just hanging in the sky, just like that.

Rick: Let's hear what happened yesterday and bring me up to date.

Wes: Ok, what I'm going to do is start you off with Kevin [the pilot who reported to us in last week's story]. I'll go ahead and start it to set the background. What happened is, yesterday, Kevin is a pilot and he was nice enough to take me up in a plane. We looked for this UFO that was apparently downed in an area not far from Gallup within a hundred miles. Wheatfields Lake, about 60-70 miles from Gallup, and we went to look in that specific area and we took about an hour. We stayed up for about an hour looking for this object and, apparently we didn't see anything that we could tell was the actual downed craft. We do have some additional information about that.

We had another incident this morning, with an object in the sky. We need to get some confirmation from Hatonn on it, but we're pretty sure that today, what we spotted, was definitely another balloon and not actually a UFO in the sky. I'm going to turn it over to Kevin and I'm going to ask him to describe it to you as he had seen it through his 60X telescope.

Kevin: Hello, Rick.

Rick: You know the circular luminescent object and then in front of that is the so-called "balloon". Is that circular object the periphery of the telescope or is that, in fact, the large craft?

Kevin: Let me explain that. What I had to do to take that photograph is, I did not have a converter for my camera and that particular spotting scope. What I did was, I held the camera lens right up there and snapped the photograph through the eyepiece of that particular spotting scope. What you're seeing there is, actually, the object is clear and any brightness or anything around that would just be a result of snapping the picture through that telescope.

Rick: So what we should indeed be looking at is that jelly-fish object.

Kevin: Exactly.

Rick: Kind of interesting.

Kevin: It looks like a big flying girdle, if you will.

Now, the object this morning—and I also did photograph it but I haven't developed it, I will send you photos of it—it appears to me, Rick, what they have done is floated another balloon over us here that is obviously a weather balloon-type craft. This was this morning, approximately 8:00. This object is truly a weather balloon. It has tethers or appendages, if you will, hanging from it that look like tethers. I don't know if we'll be able to see it in the photograph but there is also an object like a weight or maybe scientific instruments, if you will, hanging from this object. And it looked to me like a balloon. My feeling, in the spirit of these crooks, is that they have put this other balloon up there APPEARING like the real craft to disinform us.

Editor's note: It just so happens that Commander Soltec's scribe, Kali, and her husband, who live in the Southwest, sort of near all this activity, also saw a large weather balloon on that same morning. Though they are perennial sky watchers, Kali said that they have never seen a weather balloon up in the sky before, in over 33 years in the area, and yet now, all of a sudden, here's one "coincidentally" with all the genuine sky activity. This, of course, makes it easy to manufacture excuses when genuine calls come in about sighting real craft since "they" can say you must be observing the weather balloon(s)!.

Rick: Sure.

Kevin: I also got some more photographs. Obviously, this object was smaller. Obviously, this other object was lower. And, that's not to say it was not large, it was not high but it was there. It looked like a typical weather balloon.

Rick: But the object that you were actually flying toward [mentioned in last week's CONTACT], that you said was roughly half a mile across or what-have-you, was what we see a picture of?

Kevin: That's what you see the picture of. And the new object, we'll have pictures within a few days.

Rick: Ok. How did things look from the sky when you went up to look around? Did you see any military or any downed craft or anything?

Kevin: I saw, what I thought, could be flashes of military aircraft doing some steep turns in the vicinity of that first object.

Rick: The first object being the military plane you saw go down?

Kevin: Negative. The first object was the flying girdle, if you will, the "tear drop" with the tethers...the ones you have photographs of in your possession [and one of which is printed on page 2].

Rick: Ok.

Kevin: It looked to me like there were some military aircraft in the vicinity.

The second object, today's object, I did not see any evidence of military aircraft around, although there was one eye-witness who called to Wes's place of work and described seeing 2 military fueling aircraft flying well beneath it.

At this time, I don't have anything to report about our flight yesterday—when we went to look for downed, either military aircraft or any other craft. We're working with some other people on some other things and there have been a few developments, some other stories that have come out today. I'll turn you back over to Wes.

Rick: Well, thanks a lot for your help, Kevin.

Wes: Did you have any questions about that first photograph, other than the background?

Rick: No, the background was my main question. It looked really interesting, it's hard to know what to make of it.

Wes: Yes, it doesn't look like a classic balloon, does it?

Rick: No, it looked almost etheric.

Wes: It did, didn't it? According the Commander Hatonn, they had sent up, that same day, a photon-powered UFO from White Sands. But he also mentioned the fact that they have a new weapon, some kind of a biological weapon. I don't know if this balloon thing has anything to do with it.

It's funny, when they launch these things, they come up about the same place as the Phoenix spaceship sets, so you think it's the Phoenix until you get better details on it. The one that you have a photo of, Rick, didn't move for several hours. I mean, it stayed stationary for several hours. Now, this balloon, this morning, moved out and was gone by 8:00 A.M., so it got about an hour's worth of daylight. But it was obviously moving. It moved like a balloon. It performed like a balloon. But the object that you have a picture of didn't perform like a balloon at all. It was stationary for quite some time!

Rick: Well, the way that it looks from the photograph, it would appear that an object like that would blow so easily in any direction.

Wes: Exactly! There were winds that day. And there were winds up higher and, of course, the winds up higher are usually more substantial. In this case, that thing stayed there for a good 5 hours!

Rick: Very interesting.

Wes: So, I thought it kind of looked like an acorn to me. I thought that maybe those 4 protruding objects on it might be landing-gear-type things, but I don't know if that is the case or not.

Rick: It's hard to tell at a glance like that.

Wes: It really is. Usually on a classic balloon case, you'll see that part of it which, say, looks ethereal but you'll have something hanging down from it. This morning it was very visible that you could see something hanging down from the balloon. But there was nothing hanging down from that one, you can see it.

Rick: Well yes, you usually have instrumentation and things like that to measure what the tests are about, but in this particular case it looked just, etheric. I don't know another description for it.

Wes: Have you ever seen anything like that?

Rick: Well, I've seen a few jelly fish that look like that out in the ocean.

Wes: [Laughter] Yes, jelly fish would be a good description of that, with a few more long tentacles. What we need to know is if we can get some more information about exact location for where we should be looking.

And I have some information from a woman this morning. I'll call her EB. On Monday, when it was raining here in the area—we had rains Monday and Tuesday—in a town north of here, about 25 miles from Gallup called Tohatchi, she spotted 7 planes: 2 big military planes and 5 small ones, some flying very, very close and low to the ground and the other 2, the bigger ones, like Kevin spotted the other night when he described from Wheatfields Lake, which was flying low.

She sighted them about 9:50 on Monday night, in the rain, flying in the rain, observed them for about 15 minutes and, she saw, like I said, some close to the ground, some higher up. It was kind of, it wasn't a total blackout on rain—in other words, it was partly cloudy, so you could get some break in the clouds. They were definitely flying in the rain going back and forth, back and forth, back and forth. I would say, going about 10 miles north of Tohatchi, looking for something. It was obvious they were looking for something. And some of them were very low. It was at night and in the rain. Usually nobody would be crazy enough to do that. Totally a military operation. Flying like that in a thunderstorm is very strange.

Rick: Is there any military activity in Gallup now?

Wes: We have not spotted any military activity in Gallup. We do not see any military vehicles, such as anything from that convoy, out yesterday. So, we obviously are not in the right place or they cleaned it up. One of the two. So, we don't know exactly.

I have two other stories for you.

Now, the first story is from the time of the first sighting of the UFO that we had in late May. We did an interview on that in conjunction with the so-called "mystery" virus in this area, or what the press now calls the Hantavirus. I've got an eyewitness now, and I'll tell you exactly the place. We're going to name him T2, he's very afraid of getting his name out.

Rick: I don't blame him.

Wes: Chaco Canyon is a very famous landmark, about 70 miles from Gallup to the Crown Point-Little Water area where the immediate outbreak of the Hantavirus first came about. Now, about 20 miles to 25 miles beyond that, and we're talking...they call it the Bisti Badlands, we're talking, there's nobody out there! Very seldom are there any people at all. This was in late May.

There was a convoy of military vehicles on a dirt road and they were all painted black, about 15-20 vehicles. They were headed out away from Chaco Canyon and there was 1 single Navajo gentleman, I think he was sheep herding. He got very concerned about what was going on in that area, so he followed them. They went over a ridge into a canyon, called Buffalo Canyon. And in this canyon, when he got up to the ridge he kind of snuck up to the ridge and peered over into the canyon.

Rick: O.K.

Wes: He saw a UFO about 300 yards in diameter hovering about 100-200 feet off the ground. He saw the military trucks drive under this UFO and a yellow beam came out of the UFO and they were actually transferring equipment from the ground up into the UFO. He watched this for about 20 minutes before he became frightened and left the area. But there was actually a transfer of equipment from the ground crews, in black-painted vehicles, transferring equipment into a UFO hovering close to the ground.

Rick: Did you get any other description of the craft?

Wes: It was round, cylindrical, and kind of like an upside down Frisbee. That was the description of the craft. About 300 yards in diameter.

Rick: Was there a color?

Wes: I didn't ask him the color; I should have asked him that. I'm assuming it's silver but I need to ask him a color and he's going to call me back in a couple of days.

Rick: REALLY interesting!

Wes: Very interesting. Any questions? We need to confirm that with Commander Hatonn in some way, I would think.

Rick: Well, I'll share this tape, of course.

Wes: The last story is in the paper. I want to give you a little Hantavirus update real quickly and let you know what's going on with figures, and things like that.

I'm going to read this story which came in the Albuquerque Journal this morning. The title is "Hantavirus Kills 21st Victim", and this comes out of Bismark, North Dakota. I'll quote from this article: "A 14-year-old North Dakota boy is the nation's 21st victim of a deadly disease spread by rodents. The boy, from the Ft. Cotton area in northeast North Dakota, died in late August from a respiratory illness. The Federal Centers for Disease Control and Prevention in Atlanta confirmed the death as the 21st casualty of Hantavirus, a State Health Department official said Tuesday. Health officials said the Hantavirus is spread by airborne particles of urine or droppings of saliva from infected rodents. It isn't transmitted person-to-person. The Hantavirus was first diagnosed in the Four Corners area of New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, and Colorado in early June [Wes: When, in fact, it was May.]. North Dakota is the 9th State with a confirmed Hantavirus case."

What's particularly interesting about this, Rick, is that I had reported in your article that the figures, at that time, in an article from the Albuquerque Journal had been 29 victims, 60 victims and 29 deaths. So, every time it gets up a little higher, into the 30s, into the 40s, they cut the figure again and they start over at 19 or 20 and they keep continually doing this so all the figures are deflated. I'm trying to tell the people who will read this article, there are many, many more victims than 21. They will come right out and state it, "We've confirmed 29 cases." And then they say, "No, those are not confirmed." So you're not getting a true count, at all, of what's going on. And they are admitting 9 States now, so you can bet that it's in most States.

I've got an article, too, that I'm going to let Kevin read that is on the balloon from the Thursday incident.

Kevin: Hello, Rick. Thursday, Albuquerque, the 9th and the following day, on Friday, there was a small article that appeared in the Gallup newspaper, and it's from the Albuquerque Associated Press and I shall quote (on the photograph), on the object. "A bright, round object in the sky earlier this week seen by morning commuters was a balloon used to research cosmic rays, authorities said. The balloon was launched Wednesday night at Ft. Sumner as part of an experiment. Commuters reported seeing it early Thursday. The National Scientific Balloon Facility of Palestine, Texas launched the balloon under contract from New Mexico State University, a facility spokeswoman said." Now, we would like to get some confirmation as to what really is going on here. I really feel this is disinformation. I'll turn you back over to Wes. Thank you.

Wes: I think our main concern now is, are they dumping on us. Are they spraying again. You know, they've been warning us very strongly here for the last couple of months that there's going to be a BIG outbreak this Fall and Winter. So, we're wondering what affect that's going to have and if you can get us any information, fine. I'll stay in contact with these people; I do have the names.

We're going to try to pinpoint this area. If we can get a little bit closer to where some of this may be happening. We think maybe that craft that Commander Hatonn says he put down might be on the Hopi lands.

Rick: You said previously that you either knew someone who was law enforcement on the Navajo Reservation or a friend; did you get any feedback there?

Wes: He just got off duty with the fair that ended this week. I have that call in again this morning. We haven't been able to get any information yet. We're still working on that direction.

Rick: I would imagine if it did take place on Navajo land that it would be rather subdued.

Wes: What they're saying now—and this is probably something that needs to be on the interview—they have contacted a person who we know who works for the Navajo Forest Service. And they told him there was a downed airplane and they sent him out looking for this, which they never did find. So the story they're putting out for the general population is that there's a downed airplane for that particular Tuesday night, which nobody has seen. I think that's another question we need to ask Hatonn. Did they put down one of their own UFOs, or did they put down an airplane? Certainly nobody has reported anything missing, as far as airplanes go. And the FAA said there was no downed airplanes. So the story is strictly military, as far as that goes. For the general population, and for the NTUA and the Navajo Police, I'm sure they're saying it's a downed airplane. We don't think it is, but it may be.

Rick: Well, again, I will share the tape, so you'll probably have your answer before too long.

Wes: Well, as we know, it's up to him to decide what he wants to give us.

Rick: That's right.

Wes: We're working real hard on the information and we're trying to get you as much as we can. We've got our friend here from Australia. He's thinking we're totally crazy.

Rick: I was going to say, what does he think of all this?

Wes: Well, what do you think of all this?

[Laughter] "BS!" Of course, those weren't his exact words, but...[laughter]

Rick: Well, that's a good place to end.

Wes: He's going to let us have our own opinion, but he still thinks we're bonkers. We're crazy yanks.

Unusual Sighting From Yucca Valley

Editor's note: The following is a transcription of an incredible call to CONTACT from someone who has provided very reliable information in the past. This call was received on 9/13/93.

Caller: I have some elderly, patriot contactees out here from whom I normally get a lot of information. Last Thursday evening they were sitting out on their lawn chairs...

Rick: And where are they located?

Caller: Oh, they are about, maybe, 5 miles north-northwest of Yucca Valley, California. That is, they were kind of between Yucca Valley and Twenty-Nine Palms.

Rick: Ok.

Caller: They saw this huge, quarter-mile-wide object. They said it was semi-cigar shaped, a bright light came from the north to the south. It dropped out of the sky and came very low to the ground. The light, they said, was blinding. You couldn't look right at it and it bathed the entire mesa in light. And they described it as "sliding" over towards Yucca Valley, but very low. And they said, it looked to be, a quarter-mile wide. They didn't really give a description of how long, but that it was shaped somewhat like a palm frond.

Rick: Like a what?

Caller: Like a palm frond, or cigar shaped, and that it made no sound, but it was the most incredible thing they'd ever seen. Both of them saw it, husband and wife. Nothing was written up in the paper, and apparently, they talked to a few people but they're afraid to ask around. They said this was not a figment of their imagination.

I know the Marines [at the huge Twenty-Nine Palms base] are really going nuts in the past 4 days, all types of new, strange booms. We're very familiar with the booms out here and they've been all, very different, very new. A lot of activity. We're not sure if it's connected with them or something else. Very strange though. I just wanted to let you know.

Massive World Control By The Committee Of 300

9/12/93 #1 HATONN

Let us move on today, scribe, and present a bit more of the "300" material. Leave the so-called "patriots" to themselves and their harangues of ego B.S. If you can't see beyond the flash-bulb then you certainly CANNOT SEE THE "LIGHT"!

In "Dr. John Coleman's" book, CONSPIRATORS' HIERARCHY: THE STORY OF THE COMMITTEE OF 300, we had been speaking of the organizations, etc., controlled by that Committee. We had made it to STANFORD RESEARCH INSTITUTE. We urge that you get this book from "Dr. Coleman" [Editor's note: "Coleman" can be reached through his newsletter, WORLD INTELLIGENCE REVIEW, 2533 North Carson Street, Carson City, NV 89706, for those interested in obtaining a copy of his book]. It is an excellent reference volume for just about everything we will mention of the New World Order regarding this Elite Committee. The bastards of destruction through control are far nearer your front door-step than you could ever have imagined.

STANFORD RESEARCH INSTITUTE

Our own Dr. Young is an excellent reference regarding the Stanford Research Institute. God bless him for choosing to assist us instead of the Elite World Order. Every day I am humbly grateful for his participation along with the others here at this paper—that Truth has an outlet of such high and enduring quality worthy of our word and work. Thank you.

QUOTING, CONTINUED:

Stanford Research Center (SRC) was founded in 1946 by the Tavistock Institute For Human Relations. Stanford was created to help Robert O. Anderson and his ARCO Oil Company, who had secured for the Committee of 300 the oil rights on the North Slope of Alaska. Basically, the job was too large for Anderson's Aspen Institute to handle, so a new center had to be founded and funded. That new center was Stanford Research Center. Alaska sold its rights on a downpayment of $900 million, a relatively small amount for the Committee of 300. The Governor of Alaska was steered to SRI for help and advice. This was no accident, but the result of judicious planning and a process of long-range conditioning.

[Editor's note: Let me interject here with a little historical note of clarification. Since at least the early 1970s, when I arrived as an Electrical Engineering graduate student at Stanford University, this organization that "Coleman" is talking about has been called Stanford Research Institute, or SRI, not Stanford Research Center, or SRC. Maybe it was called SRC originally; I never heard that name before. I'm compelled to throw in this clarification because it seems "Coleman" himself changed what he's calling the place, in mid-paragraph above, from SRC to SRI. Of course the name is not important, but the activities conducted therein definitely are!

While I was becoming very "unacceptable" because of pursuing some interesting "psychic physics" research at Stanford University proper—inventing a detector something like a Geiger Counter that could actually respond to THOUGHT energies (!) — over at SRI, meanwhile, some of you may remember the ESP-related "Remote Viewing" research that went on for many years, especially in the 1970s and up to the mid-1980s, under Russell Targ and Dr. Harold Puthoff. Some writings on this telepathy-related subject even made it into the prestigious Journal Of The Electrical And Electronic Engineers as well as in the top international general scientific journal called Nature (that article was titled "Information Transmission Under Conditions of Sensory Shielding", 10/18/74). You can read about this eye-opening research in several of the more comprehensive popular books on ESP and psychic phenomena. Some remarkable clues about the mind's capabilities were revealed in that research—of course whether such revelation was intentional or not is another matter.

More recently, there was a serious explosion one early evening at SRI, in early January of 1992, which killed at least one researcher. Because of the sheer size of the explosion, and thus local Fire and Police Departments crawling all over the place, SRI was unable to hide that the researchers were working in the astounding area of Cold Fusion, funded by—of all people—the Electric Power Research Institute, or EPRI.

Here is an area of science—Cold Fusion or Free Energy—that the Government has desperately been trying, for several years, to convince you-the-people is nothing but baloney. And look what was going on at SRI under very private cover...until the explosion literally opened things up.

It is also curious to note that Cold Fusion-Free Energy research has been going on all over the world since that initial announcement of the phenomenon, over four years ago, and some of that research is taking place in Tupperware or plastic buckets or other really make-shift experiments...and yet there hasn't been any other explosions. Makes you wonder just exactly WHAT combination of unmentionable technologies they must have been fiddling around with at SRI to cause such a hefty explosion!

And while I'm on the subject of Cold Fusion, remember those two scientists—Stanley Pons and Martin Fleischman—from the University of Utah, in Salt Lake City, who first announced their discovery of Cold Fusion with its "free energy" implications in late Spring-early Summer of 1989? Remember that they were first "accepted" and about to be heavily funded, and then—ahem—after orders from The Elite, were laughed out of the universe? Well, guess where they are now? They have a brand new, beautiful and quite well endowed laboratory in the South of France for continuing a most amazing array of valid Cold Fusion experiments and practical developments—funded by—now get this—a subsidiary of The Toyota Corporation!!!!

For this last tidbit of information, I must take a moment here to thank a special CONTACT benefactor, Dr. Pierre Clautier of Montreal. He sent me a VCR tape several months ago of a most informative Canadian Broadcasting Corporation "Prime Time News" broadcast called THE SECRET LIFE OF COLD FUSION that filled in several missing pieces after those two scientists seemed to drop off the face of the Earth. It is an exceptionally well-done piece of scientific journalism. You can be sure such eye-opening information would never be allowed airing in the United States...and probably won't see the chance of any second viewing in Canada either!

I could say a lot more about this matter, but just know that Cold Fusion-Free Energy research has simply gone underground in the United States. We-the-people are to be bled dry and no discovery—that God has provided Free Energy for our use—is going to get in the way of the satanic New World Order Elite's Committee of 300 monopoly on gas, oil and electricity. Well, we'll just have to see about that, won't we?!

Anyway, back to "Coleman" on SRI!

Following the Governor's call for help, three SRI scientists set up shop in Alaska where they met with the Alaskan Secretary of State and the State Planning Office. Francis Greehan, who headed the SRI team, assured the Governor that his problem of how to handle the rich oil find would be safe in the hands of SRI. Naturally Greehan did not mention the Committee of 300 or the Club of Rome. In less than a month Greehan assembled a team of economists, petroleum scientists and new-science scientists numbering in the hundreds. The report SRI gave to the Governor ran to eighty-eight pages.

The proposal was adopted virtually without change by the Alaska Legislature in 1970. Greehan had indeed done a remarkable job for the Committee of 300. From this beginning SRI developed into an institution employing 4000 people with an annual budget of $160 million plus. Its President, Charles A. Anderson, has seen much of this growth during his tenure, as has Professor Willis Harman, director of the SRI Center For the Study of Social Policies, employing hundreds of new-science scientists, many of the top staffers having been transferred from Tavistock's London base. One of those was RCA Board Chairman and former British Intelligence agent, David Sarnoff, who was closely involved with Harman and his team for twenty-five years. Sarnoff was something of a "watchdog" for the mother institute in Sussex.

Stanford claims to make no moral judgments on projects it accepts, working for Israel and the Arabs, South Africa and Libya but, as one could imagine, by adopting this attitude it ensures an "inside edge" with foreign governments that the CIA has found most useful. In Jim Ridgeway's book, The Closed Corporation, SRI spokesman Gibson brags about SRI's non-discriminatory stance. Although not on the Federal Contract Research Center lists, SRI is today the largest military think tank, dwarfing Hudson and Rand. Among SRI's speciality departments are chemical and biological warfare experimental centers.

One of Stanford's more dangerous activities is counter-insurgency operations aimed at civilian populations—just the sort of "1984" things government is already using against its own people. The U.S. Government pays SRI millions of dollars each year for this kind of highly controversial "research". Following student protests against chemical warfare experiments conducted at Stanford, SRI "sold" itself to a private group for just $25 million. Of course nothing really changed, SRI was still a Tavistock project and the Committee of 300 still owned it, but the gullible appeared to be satisfied by this meaningless cosmetic change.

[Editor's note: Let me jump in here again to explain the above statement. SRI was, up until about 1970, located on the Stanford University campus proper. You will remember that the time of the late 1960s and into the early 1970s was a time of much campus unrest over the Vietnam War and Big Government presence on University campuses, culminating in the tragic Kent State University shootings by the Ohio National Guard in the Spring of 1970. I was a wide-eyed freshman at the University of Notre Dame at the time—where President Fr. Theodore Hesburgh became internationally famous for having the nerve to impose his "15-minute rule" for campus unrest where any protest circumstance infringed upon others' rights (you have 15 minutes to "meditate" on your rule-breaking actions or be thrown out). It was indeed a nervous time for campuses across this nation.

Well, Stanford had its share of sit-ins, burnings of the President's Office AND a stink over SRI's amoral or conscience-less acceptance of, especially, those very lucrative military research contracts.

So, what the University did was move SRI up the road a mile or so north, out of sight of the campus proper in Palo Alto, CA and into its own well-guarded complex over the town line, in Menlo Park. For all the praise the students, maybe inadvertently or maybe as an engineered "moving excuse", deserve for raising a stink about SRI, "Coleman's" final sentence above remains absolutely correct, that "the gullible appeared to be satisfied by this meaningless cosmetic change".

With Stanford Research Institute now separated from the campus, those "versatile" professors who had joint appointments to both places didn't have to show their SRI connections anymore, say, in the official Stanford telephone directory or other public records of campus appointments or credentials. Doing "research" at SRI was now the same as outside consulting or working a second job at some other place of employment. Pretty slick sanitizing of the Stanford facade, isn't it?!

There is one outrageous postscript to this bit of history. In the early 1980s there was yet another stink raised on campus—it seemed somewhat on the order of "a teapot in a teapot" thing—about the name "Stanford" still being associated with SRI, when SRI was up there all by itself and "hardly connected" with the activities of the campus proper. Maybe SRI had become so "deeply involved" by that time that even the University wanted still greater distance from SRI, at least for appearance sake. I can't remember the exact details now, but Stanford Research Institute was—get this for a case of the most superficial of cosmetic surgeries—officially "renamed" SRI, Inc. In other words, SRI was no longer an acronym for a place called Stanford Research Institute; rather, SRI, Inc. was now THE NEW ACTUAL NAME of the place. Isn't the academic world "colorful" when the New World Order Elite get into the game?!

In 1958 a startling new development arose. Advanced Research Products Agency (ARPA), a contracting agency for the Defense Department, approached SRI with a top secret proposal. John Foster at the Pentagon told SRI that what was needed was a program to insure the United States against "technological surprise". Foster wanted to perfect a condition where the environment became a weapon; special bombs to trigger volcanoes and-or earthquakes, behavioral research on potential enemies and minerals and metals with potential for new weapons. The project was accepted by SRI and code-named "SHAKY".

The massive electronic brain in SHAKY was capable of carrying out many commands, its computers having been constructed by IBM for SRI. Twenty-eight scientists worked on what is called "Human Augmentation". The IBM computer even has the capability to solve problems by analogy and recognizes and identifies scientists who work with it. The "special applications" of this tool can be better imagined than described. Brzezinski knew what he was talking about when he wrote The Technotronic Era.

Stanford Research Institute works closely with scores of civilian consulting firms, trying to apply military technology to domestic situations. This has not always been a success but as techniques improve, the prospects for massive all-pervading surveillance, as described by Brzezinski, daily becomes more real. IT ALREADY EXISTS AND IS IN USE, EVEN THOUGH SLIGHT MALFUNCTIONS FROM TIME TO TIME HAVE TO BE IRONED OUT. One such civilian consulting firm was Schriever McKee Associates of McLean, Virginia, run by retired General Bernard A. Schriever, a former chief of the Air Force Systems Command, who developed the Titan, Thor, Atlas and Minuteman rockets.

Schriever put together a consortium of Lockheed, Emerson Electric, Northrop, Control Data, Raytheon and TRW under the name of URBAN SYSTEMS ASSOCIATES, INC. The purpose of the consortium? To solve social and psychological "urban problems" by means of military techniques using advanced electronic systems. It is interesting to note that TRW became the largest credit information collecting company in the credit-reporting business as a result and an outcome of its work with Urban Systems Associates, Inc.

This should tell us a great deal about just how far this nation is already under TOTAL SURVEILLANCE, which is the first requirement of the Committee of 300. No dictatorship, especially not one on a global scale, can function without total control over each and every individual. SRI was well on its way to becoming a key Committee of 300 research organization.

By the 1980s, 60% of SRI's contracts were devoted to "futurism" with both military and civilian applications. Its major clients were the U.S. Department of Defense—Directorate of Defense Research and Engineering—Office of Aerospace Research which dealt with "Applications of the Behavioral Sciences to Research Management", Executive Office of the President, Office of Science and Technology, U.S. Department of Health. On behalf of the Department of Health, SRI ran a program called "Patterns in ESDEA Title I Reading Achievements Tests". Other clients were the U.S. Department of Energy, the U.S. Department of Labor, U.S. Department of Transportation and the National Science Foundation (NSF). Of significance was the paper developed for NSF, entitled Assessment of Future and International Problems.

Stanford Research, under the tutelage of Tavistock Institute in London, put together a far reaching and chilling system it called "Business Intelligence Program". In excess of 600 companies in the U.S. and abroad became subscribers. The program covered research in Japanese Foreign Business Relations, Consumer Marketing in a period of Change, The Mounting Challenge of International Terrorism, Sensory Evaluation in Consumer Products, Electronic Funds Transfer System, Opto-Electric Sensing, Exploratory Planning Methods, the U.S. Defense Industry and Capital Availability. Among the TOP Committee of 300 companies who became clients of this program were Bechtel Corporation (George Shultz was on its board), Hewlett Packard, TRW, Bank of America, Shell Oil Company, RCA, Blyth, [H: Humnn—wasn't "Blyth" the name of Clinton's lineage? Better go look it up for it is directly attached to Rockefeller!] Eastman Dillon, Saga Foods Corporation, McDonnell Douglas, Crown Zellerbach, Wells Fargo Bank and Kaiser Industries.

But one of the most sinister of all SRI programs with the possibilities of doing tremendous damage in altering the direction in which the United States will go, socially, morally and religiously, was Stanford's Charles F. Kettering Foundation's Changing Images of Man under Stanford official reference "Contract Number URH (489)-2150 Policy Research Report Number 4/4/74", prepared by SRI Center For the Study of Social Policy, Director Willis Harman. This is probably one of the most far-reaching investigations into how man might be changed that has ever been conducted.

The report, covering 319 pages, was written by 14 new-science scientists under the supervision of Tavistock and 23 top controllers including B.F. Skinner, Margaret Mead, Ervin Lazlo and Sir Geoffrey Vickers, a high-level British Intelligence officer in MI-6. It will be recalled that his son-in-law, Sir Peter Vickers Hall, was a founding member of the so-called conservative "Heritage Foundation". Much of the 3000 pages of "recommendations" given to the Reagan administration in January 1981 were based upon material taken from Willis Harman's Changing Images of Man.

I was privileged to receive a copy of The Changing Images of Man from my intelligence colleagues five days after it was accepted by the United States Government. What I read shocked me, as I realized I was looking at a blueprint for a future America, unlike anything I had ever seen before. The nation was to be programmed to change and become so accustomed to such planned changes that it would hardly be noticeable when profound changes would occur. We have gone downhill so fast since The Aquarian Conspiracy (the book title of Willis Harman's technical paper) was written, that today, divorce draws no stigma, suicide is at an all-time high and raises few eyebrows, social deviations from the norm and sexual aberrations, once unmentionable in decent circles, are now commonplace and excite no special protest.

As a nation, we have not noticed how Changing Images of Mankind has radically altered our American way of life forever. Somehow we were overcome by the "Watergate Syndrome". For a while we were shocked and dismayed to learn that Nixon was nothing but a cheap crook who hobnobbed with Earl Warren's Mafia friends at the beautiful home they built for him adjoining the Nixon estate. When too many "future shocks" and news headlines demanded our attention, we lost our way, or rather, the huge number of choices with which we were and still are daily confronted, confused us to such a degree that we were no longer able to make the necessary choices.

Worse yet, having been subjected to a barrage of crimes in high places, plus the trauma of the Vietnam War, our nation seemed no longer to want truths. Such reaction is carefully explained in Willis Harman's technical paper. In short, the American nation was reacting exactly as profiled. Worse yet, in not wishing to accept truth, we took matters a step further: We look to Government to shield us from the truth.

the various places awaiting it. Thank you.

CONTINUED QUOTING (from CONSPIRATORS' HIERARCHY: THE STORY OF THE COMMITTEE OF 300):

The corrupt stench of the Reagan-Bush Administrations we wanted covered with six feet of earth. The crimes committed under the title of Iran-Contra affair (or "scandals"), we didn't want uncovered. We let our President lie to us regarding his whereabouts in the period October 20-23rd, 1980. Yet these crimes far exceed in quantity and scope anything Nixon did while he was in office. Do we, as a nation, recognize it as going downhill with our brakes off?

No, we do not. When those whose business it is to bring the truth to the American people that a private, well-organized little government inside the White House was busy committing one crime after another, crimes which attacked the very soul of this nation and the Republican institutions upon which it rested, we were told not to bother the public with such things. "We really don't want to know about all this speculation," became a standard response. [H: Yes indeed, and all the while during this time you are having one "October Surprise" after another with the muck getting thicker, deeper and more encompassing. Here is where ones like Gunther Russbacher got trapped in between the mud and the cement and a coffin was raised to keep him under wraps when the stuff began to hit the blade system of the circulation fans. Remember that, in the case of the October Surprise with Bush et al.—it was just, within the past weeks, stated that there would be no further investigation for there was nothing to base any investigation upon. "NOTHING TOOK PLACE"—they reported. EXACTLY like they reported that there are no living POWs or MIAs in Southeast Asia—especially in Vietnam—so let's "go for it with a trade agreement. The docks are already shifted from the Philippines, Brown is paid off along with several others—and what is stopping the sell-out?" WHAT FOOLS ABIDE WITH THEE!]

When the highest elected official of the land blatantly put U.N. law above The Constitution Of The United States—an impeachable offense, the majority accepted it as "normal". When the highest elected official of the land went to war without a Congressional Declaration of War, the fact was censored out by the news media and, again, we accepted it rather than face the truth. [H: And you wore "YELLOW" ribbons yet—the color of cowardice!]

When the Gulf War, which our President plotted and planned, began, not only were we happy with the censorship of the most blatant kind, we even took it to our hearts, believing that it was "good for the war effort". Our President lied, April Glaspie lied, the State Department lied. They said the war was justified because President Hussein had been warned to leave Kuwait alone. When Glaspie's cables to the State Department were finally made public, one United States Senator after another went charging to defend Glaspie, the harlot. It mattered not that they came from both the Democrats and the Republicans. We, the people, let them get away with their vile lies.

In this public attitude of the American people, the wildest dreams of Willis Harman and his teams of scientists became a reality. The Tavistock Institute was elated at its success in destroying the self respect and self esteem of this once great nation. We are told that we won the Gulf War. What is not yet perceived by the vast majority of Americans is that, in "winning" the war, it cost the self respect and honor of our nation. That lies rotting in the desert sands of Kuwait and Iraq, alongside the corpses of the Iraqi soldiers we butchered in the agreed retreat from Kuwait and Basra. We could not keep our word that we would abide by the Geneva Conventions and not attack them. "What do you want," our controllers asked us, "victory or self respect? You can't have both." [H: So actually—YOU HAD NEITHER! YOU DID NOT WIN ANYTHING EXCEPT A BLACK IMAGE—AND LOST EVERY SHRED OF CREDIBILITY REMAINING TO A FALTERING NATION. YOU HAVE NOW SADDLED YOUR RETURNING TROOPS WITH DISEASE AND PHYSICAL AILMENTS THAT WILL BURY MOST OF THEM. AND, YOU AT HOME DID IT WITH HOOPLA AND RIBBON DRAPING. TOO BAD YOU DIDN'T CHOOSE THE RIGHT SYMBOLS—BLACK COFFINS!]

One hundred years ago, this could not have happened, but now it has happened and excites no comment. We have succumbed to the long range penetration warfare waged against this nation by Tavistock. Like the German nation, defeated by the Prudential Bombing Survey, enough of us have succumbed to make this nation the kind that totalitarian regimes of the past would have only envisaged in their dreams. "Here," they would say, "is a nation, one of the largest in the world, that doesn't want the truth. All of our propaganda agencies can be dispensed with. We don't have to struggle to keep the truth from this nation; they have willingly rejected it of their own volition. This nation is a push-over."

Our once proud Republic of the United States of America became no more than a series of criminal front organizations, which history shows is always the start of totalitarianism. This is the stage of permanent alteration we are at in America as 1991 drew to a close. We live in a throw-away society, programmed not to last. We do not even flinch at the 4 million homeless nor the 30 million jobless, nor the 15 million babies murdered thus far. They are "throw aways" of the Age of Aquarius, a conspiracy so damnable that, when first confronted with it, the majority will disavow its existence, rationalizing these events as "times have changed".

This is how the Tavistock Institute and Willis Harman programmed us to react. Dismantling of our ideals goes on without protest. The spiritual and intellectual drive of our people has been destroyed! On May 27th, 1991, President Bush made a very profound statement, the thrust of which appears to have been totally misused by most political commentators:

"The moral dimension of American policy requires us to chart a moral course through a world of lesser evils. That is the real world, not black and white. Very few moral absolutes."

What else could we expect from a president who is most probably the most evil man ever to occupy the White House?

Consider this in the light of his order to the military to bury alive 12,000 Iraqi soldiers. Consider this in the light of his ongoing war of genocide against the Iraqi people. President Bush was delighted to characterize President Saddam Hussein as the "Hitler of our times". He never bothered to offer a single scrap of proof. It was not needed. Because President Bush made the statement, we accepted it without question. Consider this in the bright light of truth, that he did all of these things in the name of the American people while secretly taking his orders from the Committee of 300. [H: By the way—I think it would be a good thing to re-run the writing on Schwarzkopf [see page 11]. He is one of the more heinous players in your nation followed only in stature by Powell who has sold out his own people and silently resigns.]

But, more than anything else, consider this: President Bush and his controllers feel so secure that they no longer deem it necessary to hide their evil control of the American people, or to lie about it. This is self-evident in the statement that he, as our leader, will make all manner of compromises with truth, honesty and decency if his controllers (and ours) deem it necessary. On May 27th, 1991, the President of the United States abandoned each and every principle embodied in our Constitution and boldly proclaimed that he was no longer bound by it. This is a great victory for the Tavistock Institute and the Prudential Bombing Survey, whose target changed from German worker housing in 1945 to the soul of the American people in a war that began in 1946 and runs through to today.

Increased pressure on this nation for change was applied by Stanford Research Institute in the early 1960s. SRI's offensive gathered power and momentum. Switch on your television set and you will see Stanford's victory in front of your very eyes: Talk shows featuring heavy sexual details, special video channels where perversion, rock and roll and drugs reign supreme. Where once John Wayne ruled, we now have a made-over apology for a man (or is he?) called Michael Jackson, a parody of a human being who is held up as a hero, as he gyrates, shuffles, mumbles and screams his way across television screens in millions of American homes.

A woman who has been through a series of marriages gets national coverage. One filthy, half-washed, drug-ridden decadent rock band after another has hours of air time devoted to its inane sounds and mad gyrations, clothes fashions and language aberrations. Soap operas showing, as near as "dammit" is to swearing, pornographic scenes, draw no comment. Whereas in early 1960 this would never have been tolerated, today it is accepted as normal. We have been subjected and we have succumbed to what Tavistock Institute calls "future shocks" whose future is NOW and we are so numbed by one cultural shock after another that to protest seems like a futile gesture and, therefore, logically we think, it does no good to protest.

In 1986 the Committee of 300 ordered the pressure turned up. The U.S. was not going down fast enough. The United States began the process of "recognizing" the butchers of Cambodia, the criminal Pol Pot regime, self confessors to the murder of 2 million Cambodian citizens. In 1991, the wheel turned the full circle. The United States went to war against a friendly nation that had been programmed to trust the Washington traitors. We accused President Hussein of the small nation of Iraq of all manner of evil, NONE OF WHICH WAS EVEN REMOTELY TRUE. We killed and maimed its children, we left them to starve and to die of all manner of diseases.

In the same breath we sent the Bush emissaries of the Committee of 300 to Cambodia to RECOGNIZE THE EVIL MASS MURDERERS OF 2 MILLION CAMBODIANS, who were sacrificed by the Committee of 300's depopulation of cities experiment, which the big cities of the United States will experience in the not too distant future. Now, President Bush and his Committee of 300-ridden administration say, in effect, "Look people, what do you want from me? I told you that I will compromise where I see fit, even when that means sleeping with the Pol Pot murderers. SO WHAT—KISS MY HIPS."

[H: Worse yet, the successor to that tin throne, Billary Clintonfellerberg is worse—BY FAR—because he is such a puppet that he doesn't even know which way to literally wag his tail and simply amuses you with tying up an airport and getting his hair "dressed" for $200 a whack whilst you bow and scrape and go over to the welfare office and "pull yours out"!]

PAY ATTENTION TO THIS NEXT, PLEASE, BECAUSE YOU ARE "GETTING THERE"!]!

The level of pressure for change will reach a peak in 1993 and we shall witness scenes such as we would never have thought possible. Punch-drunk America will react, but ever so slightly. Not even the latest threat to our freedom, the personal computer card, disturbs us. Willis Harman's Changing Images of Man would have been too technical for most so the service of Marilyn Ferguson was obtained to make it more easily understood. The Age of Aquarius heralded nude stage shows and a song which made the top of the charts: "The Dawning of the Age of the Aquarius" swept the globe.

The personal computer card which, when fully distributed, will deprive us of our familiar environment and, as we shall see, environment means a lot more than the usually accepted meaning of the word. The United States has gone through a period of intense trauma such as has never been visited upon any other nation in the history of the world, and the worst is yet to come.

Everything is going according to what Tavistock ordered and what the social scientists at Stanford mapped out. Times do not change; they are made to change. All changes are preplanned and come as the result of careful action. We have been changed, gradually at first, but now the pace of change is picking up. The United States is being transformed from One Nation Under God to a polyglot of nations under several gods. The U.S. is no longer One nation under God. The framers of the Constitution have lost the battle. [H: Or finally won it as the case may well be!]

Our forebears spoke a common language and believed in a common religion—Christianity—and held common ideals. There were no aliens in our midst; that came later in a deliberately planned attempt to break up the United States into a series of fragmented nationalities, cultures and beliefs. If you doubt this, go down to the East Side of New York, or the West Side of Los Angeles, on any given Saturday and look around you. The United States has become several nations struggling to coexist under a common system of government. When the floodgates of immigration were opened wide by Franklin D. Roosevelt, a cousin of the head of the Committee of 300, the cultural shock caused great confusion and dislocation and made "One Nation" an unworkable concept. The Club of Rome and NATO have exacerbated the situation. "Love thy neighbor" is an ideal that will not work unless your neighbor "is as yourself".

[H: I do not wish to interrupt here except to say that this is most idealistic in concept. It is not, however, the true and complete way it came about. There was trouble at the time of the writing of the Constitution; so to allow it to go forth that somehow the Founding Fathers were goodie-two-shoes is frivolously preposterous. Most of the leaders of the nation of America (U.S.) were of the Freemasonic order and indeed did some very good work from time to time. But I suggest you ask the Native American "Indians" if they were so all-fired wonderful.

YOU NEVER MOVED OUT FROM UNDER THE CROWN OF ENGLAND AND THEREFROM IS THE COMMITTEE OF 300 BIRTHED AND OPERATIVE IN ALL ITS EVIL SATANIC ORDER. I give honor to this writer, however, for he has studied well the workings and is, in fact, not an "original" American. The concept is understandable but not quite accurate. The facts are, however, that you don't have anything else upon which to longer base a government and working society. Once you silently moved out from under the facade of God's word and rules for human goodness, the writing was on the wall for all to see: without morality of the kind brought forth through Godly laws and actions, a nation or a people CANNOT ENDURE. When GOD is separated out FROM a nation and government—it will fall. It is only a matter of WHEN! I do not intend to interrupt the author's projections at each disagreement—but this one seemed so important as to not allow my silence.]

To the framers of our Constitution, the truths they laid out for future generations were "self-evident"—to themselves. Being unsure that future generations would also find the truths to which they bound this nation self-evident, THEY SET ABOUT SPELLING THEM OUT. IT SEEMS THAT THEY WERE AFRAID OF A TIME THAT MIGHT COME WHEN THE TRUTHS THEY ESPOUSED WOULD NO LONGER BE SELF-EVIDENT. The Tavistock institute for Human Relations has made sure that what the framers feared might come to pass has indeed come to pass. That time has arrived with Bush and his "no absolutes" and his New World Order under The Committee of 300.

This is part of the concept of social changes forced upon Americans which Harman and the Club of Rome said would make for severe trauma and a great building up of pressure. The social upheavals that have taken place since the advent of Tavistock, the Club of Rome and NATO will continue in the U.S. for as long as the limit of absorption is ignored. Nations are made up of individuals and, like individuals, there is a limit to their ability to absorb changes, no matter how robust they may be.

This psychological truth was well proven by the Strategic Bombing Survey which called for saturation bombing of German worker housing. As mentioned earlier, the project was the work of the Prudential Insurance Company and no one doubts today that Germany suffered its defeat because of this operation. Many of the scientists who worked on that project are working on saturation bombing of America, or else they have passed on, leaving their skilled techniques in the hands of others who followed behind them.

The legacy they left behind them can be found in the fact that we have not so much lost our way as a nation, but that we have been steered in a direction opposite to that which the framers of the Declaration guided us for over 200 years. We have, in short, lost contact with our historical genes, our faith, which inspired countless generations of Americans to move forward as a nation, benefiting from the patrimony left to us by the framers of the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution. That we are lost is clear to all who seek the truth, as unpleasant as it may be.

With President Bush and his "no absolute morals" guiding us, we blunder ahead as lost nations and individuals tend to do. We are collaborating with the Committee of 300 for our own downfall and our own enslavement. Some sense it—and feel a strong sense of unease. The various conspiracy theories they are familiar with do not seem to cover it all. This is because they know nothing of the Conspirators' Hierarchy, the Committee of 300.

[H: I hear your inquiries as to "Just who IS this 'Coleman' who at one moment is identified as someone else and not, certainly, on your team?" and then other things indicate that he is a substantial CITIZEN of the U.S. and an untiring PATRIOT OF SAME.

He is still running around giving lectures; my friends, so he can't be much of a THREAT to that which he denounces—so indeed, where might he fit? Confused? No! He sees truth written there and speaks it for the most part—but he is still, in every sense of the word, a TOOL of the very ones he thinks he tattles on. He helps the masters sort the audience and provides proof that the bindings are now on you and tightening.

He does EXACTLY THAT WHICH HE IS PROGRAMMED TO DO. He COULD be different but he won't be. The workers for Tavistock and MI-6 are the BEST AT WHAT THEY ARE SET UP TO DO—and even any "reader" could find one "John Coleman"—on any day—so what have we here? Contradictions? To say the very least.

But, is what he offers correct in most instances? YES INDEED AND IT WILL BEHOVE YOU TO CONSIDER IT. THE ACTUAL DEED IS ALL BUT FINISHED IN THE "TAKING" OF A NATION AND A PEOPLE—AND YOU MUST CONSIDER WHAT TO DO AND WHERE TO GO FROM HERE. I WOULD CERTAINLY, IF I WERE YOU—KEEP MY SURVIVAL ATTITUDE IN GEAR AND POLISHED—AND SEE HOW BEST TO SURVIVE THIS ONCOMING BRINGING DOWN OF THE PRISON CURTAIN OVER AMERICA—FOR IT IS ENCOMPASSING THE GLOBE AS WE WRITE! Get square with God, not the Masonic code of secret rituals—and you will be in protection; do not, and you have made your choice. So be it.]

These souls who feel a deep sense of unease and that something is radically wrong, yet cannot put their collective fingers on the problem, walk in darkness. They look to a future they see slipping away from them. The American dream has become a mirage. They place their faith in religion but take no steps to help that faith along by ACTION. Americans will never experience a retracing of steps such as the Europeans experienced when at the height of the Dark Ages. By determined ACTION, they awoke in themselves a spirit of renewal which resulted in the glorious Renaissance.

The enemy that has directed them to this point decided to make a strong move against the United States in 1980, so that a Renaissance of America would be impossible. Who is the enemy? The enemy is no faceless "they". The enemy is clearly definable as the Committee of 300, the Club of Rome, NATO and ALL OF ITS AFFILIATED ORGANIZATIONS [AND GROUPS], the think-tanks and research institutions controlled by Tavistock. There is no need to use "they" or "the enemy" except as shorthand. WE KNOW WHO "THEY", THE ENEMY, ARE. The Committee of 300 with its Eastern Liberal Establishment "aristocracy", its banks, insurance companies, giant corporations, foundations, communications networks, presided over by a HIERARCHY OF CONSPIRATORS—THIS IS THE ENEMY.

This is the power that brought to life the reign of terror in Russia, the Bolshevik Revolution, World Wars I and II, Korea, Vietnam, the fall of Rhodesia, South Africa, Nicaragua, and the Philippines. This is the secret upper-level government that brought into existence the controlled disintegration of the U.S. economy and deindustrialized what was once the greatest industrial power, for good, that the world had ever known.

America today can be compared with a soldier who falls asleep in the thick of battle. We Americans have fallen asleep, given way to apathy caused by being confronted with a multiplicity of choices which has confused us. These are the changes that alter our environment, break down our resistance to change, so that we become dazed, apathetic and eventually fall asleep in the thick of battle.

There is a technical term for this condition. It is called "long range penetration strain". The art of subjecting a very large group of people to continued long range penetration strain was developed by scientists working out of the Tavistock Institute of Human Relations and their U.S. subsidiaries, Stanford Research Institute and Rand Corporation, and at least another 150 research institutions here in the U.S.

Dr. Kurt Lewin, the scientist who developed this fiendish warfare, has caused the average American patriot to fret over various conspiracy theories, leaving him or her with a feeling of uncertainty and insecurity, isolated and perhaps even afraid, as he searches, but fails to understand the decay and rot caused by The Changing Images of Mankind, unable to identify or combat the social, moral, economic and political changes he deems undesirable and does not want, yet which increase in intensity on every hand.

END OF QUOTING FOR THIS SEGMENT; TO BE CONTINUED

When we next write on this subject we will discuss this Kurt Lewin for it is not a "household" name. Probably it was "Coleman" who brought the most noise forth about this man and, still, it is not seen by most as factual—but then, ones didn't see the hidden dangers of Cecil Rhodes either!

Is there a way to come into Truth from the myriads of false writings? Indeed!! It becomes more and more easy to come into knowing Truth—for Truth abides by the LAWSOFGODAND CREATION—ANDTHE

ADVERSARY TAKES THE OPPOSITE ROAD. CAN YOU EVER HAVE FAITH AND BELIEVE? In the words of Little Crow:

"It always comes back to the faith of the individual. You have to have faith in what you believe—whether it is the dogma of something that nobody else believes in, if you have the faith in it, that's what is required for it to work for you. It always comes down to the individual taking responsibility for their life."

EVERY TIME! It is "responsibility" upon which pivots the possibilities of reclamation. If you continue to cast off your responsibilities upon the shoulders of another or demand that others make your decisions and you coast along for the ride—the ride will end you in the swamp-pit! Responsibility of self—IN TRUTH—is where the secret of the ages of growing MANKIND lies. When YOU are willing to take total responsibility for SELF and others do likewise—then, and only then, can you see the perfection of a Radiant world in Balance and Harmony with all else that IS.

Salu.

7/31/93 #1 HATONN

GEN. NORMAN SCHWARZKOPF

Just as, if we didn't tell you differently, you would think Alan Dershowitz is a loyal Constitutionalist, there are many others who SEEM to be something they ARE NOT. Dershowitz is always SEEN in every prominent "case" that happens and yet—he didn't do anything good for Tyson, Helmsley, etc. He is a self-proclaimed "Israel First" worker and has gone further so as to publicly state: That America will be the new Israel as the pro-Israelites take over the government.

Another in the field of politics and economics is one called Larry Abraham.

Gary Allen wrote a book called None Dare Call It Conspiracy. It was actually mostly the work of Eustace Mullins and was a top-level publication and Mullins was in the circle during the writing, etc. Somehow that book became to be recognized as Larry Abraham's property and work. Recently Abraham wrote another one, called Call It Conspiracy. Same thing, reworked. Abraham is a member of—and did, in fact, set up—the "Phoenix Club" of newsletter publishers [all with consecutive Phoenix, AZ, Post Office boxes, thus the name of the "club"] and has done totally unscrupulous things and orchestrated immoral, if not totally illegal, organizations operating with Schultz in Monaco. All under the guise of patriotism and Constitutional "rights".

Now comes a thrust to run SCHWARZKOPF for president of the U.S.A. What do YOU REALLY KNOW ABOUT THIS MAN? If "I" told you—would you believe me? Did I think him a "good man"? NO! Did I think him a "good general"? YES, for he was blood-thirsty enough to win a war—even if it cost every one of his men, and the enemy, their lives. I DO NOT SANCTION WAR OR VIOLENCE!—PERIOD!!

I don't have to do an "Introduction" to this article, but I want to again recognize Eustace Mullins (whom I honor greatly in all his work) for researching and presenting FACTUAL TRUTH that you might evaluate circumstances and persons of prominence who can impact you mightily.

As you read this, however, please keep in mind the little group trying to get ALL of your personal information—COSMOS! Remember, they stressed that working with them were several people of importance (to sell you on their authenticity and good intentions), like Janet Reno AND NORMAN SCHWARZKOPF! Stop paying attention and you are goners.

The following explains itself so I ask that Dharma simply present it as is:

QUOTING:

TIP: GEN. NORMAN
SCHWARZKOPF

(TIP—Tare Identification Program—is a regular feature of Kingdom Chronicle. Its purpose is in keeping with the parable of the wheat and the tares given by our Master in Matthew 13.)

An item of interest came across our desk from the July 1992 issue of Instauration magazine: "Switzerland. A maverick Swiss Jew, Niklaus Meinberg, wrote a lengthy article for a rural Swiss newspaper which was reprinted in Zurich Tagensanzeiger, a popular daily. Meinberg claimed that General Norman SCHWARZKOPF of Gulf War fame, has an IQ of 170 and a Jewish mother."

His ancestry is not surprising in view of the research done by our compatriot, Mr. Eustace Mullins. In an article first written in the 1970s, and reprinted in 1988 by the CDL Report, (P.O. Box 449, Arabi, LA 70032), Mr. Mullins unmasked Schwarzkopf's Jewish ancestry... Except that Mr. Mullins was talking about "Stormin' Norman's" father, Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, Sr.! And therein hangs an amazing story, dug out by Mr. Mullins, and from which we excerpt briefly below. [H: I would ask you to recall that "Norman" was the beloved favorite of the Jewish community and the Jewish Lobbies—not to mention that he was special speaker with overwhelming reception in the Jewish leagues and especially in Florida in the Jewish retirement and vacation communities.]

Many of our readers are no doubt aware of the very highly publicized crime, the 1932 kidnapping and murder of the toddler son of Charles Lindbergh, Jr., the famous aviator. A poor German immigrant by the name of Bruno Richard Hauptmann was charged, convicted and executed in the electric chair in 1936. The truth is, however, that Hauptmann had been framed, by conspiracy of the prosecutor, the defense attorney, and Col. Norman SCHWARZKOPF. The prosecutor was the Attorney General of New Jersey, the Jew David Wilentz.

Quoting from the article by Eustace Mullins: "Governor Hoffman of New Jersey later wrote in Liberty Magazine that J. Edgar Hoover informed him that he and the FBI had formally withdrawn from the case on October 10, 1934. This was three weeks after Hauptmann's arrest, when Hoover's agents reported to him that Wilentz and his chief co-conspirator, the Jew Col. H. Norman SCHWARZKOPF, head of the New Jersey State Police (SCHWARZKOPF means "blackhead" in German) were concocting a completely phony case against Hauptmann....

"During the Hauptmann trial in New Jersey, Wilentz became fearful that the parade of perjured witnesses he and SCHWARZKOPF had suborned, as well as the clumsily manufactured evidence against Hauptmann, was having little effect on the jury....

"To understand Wilentz' predicament, we should realize that he was a typical Jewish fraud and loudmouth. Although he was prosecuting the most publicized case in American history, Wilentz had never before tried a criminal case of any kind! Like most Jewish officials, he had not been elected to the office of Attorney General of the State of New Jersey, but had been appointed by Gov. Harry Moore as a political payoff after he had persuaded a number of Jews to switch their votes! If he could get a conviction against Hauptmann, he was assured he would become the first Jewish governor of New Jersey, and perhaps follow Woodrow Wilson's example in moving from that office into the White House. [Editor's note: Some investigators now believe that Wilson himself was Jewish, his real name having been Wolfsohn.]

"Since he had nothing to connect Hauptmann with the kidnapping and murder of the Lindbergh child but the possession of ransom bills, he and his fellow Jew, SCHWARZKOPF, enlisted the State Police in manufacturing a phony ladder and other evidence, and rounding up a group of perjured witnesses who would place Hauptmann at the scene of the crime." [H: Remember the Protocols Of The Learned Elders Of Zion? "15: If one of our people should unhappily fall into the hands of justice amongst the Christians, we must rush to help him; find as many witness as he needs to save him from his judges—UNTIL WE BECOME JUDGES OURSELVES!"] "Because more than a dozen persons were involved in Wilentz' conspiracy, it was inevitable that J. Edgar Hoover and other officials would be warned of what Wilentz was doing. It was even more imperative that Wilentz convict Hauptmann in order to protect the real murderers, the Jews who actually kidnapped and ritually murdered the baby." [H: Chelas, we are talking about one of the most notable "babies" in the history of kidnapping and we are talking about a type of RITUAL MURDER.] "As a Jew, it was his duty to his tribe not only to erase all leads to the true killers, but also to prevent the public from learning any details of the nature of the crime, a Jewish ritual murder."

What about Hauptmann's defense attorney? Hauptmann was a virtually penniless immigrant. Enter newspaper publisher William Randolph Hearst. Hearst put up a $300,000 fee to hire Big Ed Reilly of Brooklyn, a defense attorney notorious for getting numerous mobsters acquitted of murder charges. Again, we quote Mr. Mullins:

"It was well known that Hearst wanted a conviction. [What better way to insure that outcome than to pay off the 'defense' attorney?—Ed.] He was haunted by the fear that one of his children would be kidnapped, with a probable demand for a million dollar ransom, which he would have difficulty in paying. He had already relinquished control of the Hearst newspaper to a Jew, Richard Berlin. Few people knew that the Hearsts themselves were Jewish, the original name having been 'Hirsch'. This fact gave further dimension to Hearst's interest in the case. He had forbidden any reporter to ever mention the words 'Jewish ritual murder' in any story. Thus he had a common bond with Wilentz in seeing Hauptmann convicted." (Ironically, in the 1970s, Hearst's granddaughter, Patty Hearst, became the second most famous kidnap victim in American history.)

The record shows that Charles Lindbergh, Jr., cooperated with the prosecution in convicting Hauptmann. Why?! Mullins suggests that Lindbergh, Jr. did not have the backbone his father had. Mullins' research presents a most plausible explanation which is buttressed by numerous historical facts. In summary, the murder of the Lindbergh baby was primarily revenge against the baby's grandpa, Congressman Charles Lindbergh, Sr., one of the most vocal and powerful opponents of the Jewish international bankers' Federal Reserve System! ...a private money monopoly which has now completely enslaved the American people—and most do not even realize they are enslaved.

Thus, we have learned that the roly-poly man, whom the media portrayed as the "grandpa-next-door" in the General's uniform, the man who "brilliantly" masterminded the defeat of the "fourth most powerful military machine in the world", (Did you believe that Madison Avenue hype?) ...a man who is now earning five-figure fees on the lecture circuit while his autobiography is helped to the best-seller lists by the Jewish-controlled media, is none other than another wolf in sheep's clothing! Gen. H. Norman SCHWARZKOPF is another Tare among the Wheat! Watch out for those angel-reapers of Matthew 13, General!

END QUOTING

May the "Force" be with you! Salu.

TREASON

THE GUNTHER RUSSBACHER STORY

THIS STORY IS TRUE

By Rayelan Russbacher

My husband, Gunther Russbacher, piloted the airplane that delivered George Bush to a suburb of Paris to negotiate for the Ronald Reagan election campaign to keep the Iran hostages until after the election in 1980. Gunther is being held as a political prisoner today, as a result of the government's attempt to cover up the October surprise.

Neither my husband nor I have ever claimed that Ronald Reagan knew anything at all about the October Surprise. We have always said it was the Reagan campaign that made a deal. It is my belief that William Casey and George Bush were responsible for the October Surprise. A lot of people remember William Casey as the director of the Central Intelligence Agency who died under mysterious circumstances shortly before he had decided to testify and tell the whole story of the Iran-Contra affair at the end of 1986. But what people don't remember about William Casey is that he was Ronald Reagan's 1980 campaign manager. The other thing that people don't know about William Casey is that his career in Intelligence goes all the way back to World War II. He was one of the original OSS members. George Bush's family was also involved in the OSS during World War II. Bush family members were referred to as the White Shoe Boys; William Casey was referred to as The Cowboy. There was a conflict between the Bush faction and the Casey faction of the CIA that stems all the way from World War II. From World War II all the way through 1980, William Joseph Casey was associated with the Intelligence community, and in 1980 he became Ronald Reagan's campaign manager. On October 31, 1979, President Carter ordered the firing of 700 intelligence operatives (it was referred to as the Halloween Massacre). It is my belief--this is just my own opinion, but there are a number of people who agree with me--that it was these fired intelligence operatives, many of whom were good friends of William Casey, who hatched the October Surprise plot to defeat Jimmy Carter. I believe that the October Surprise literally started back in 1979.

You asked me to give a brief description of who I am and what impact this has had in our lives. In 1980 I was married to a man named John Dyer. He was the dean of Science and Engineering at the Naval Post Graduate School in Monterey, California. The Naval Post Graduate School is like the graduate branch of Annapolis, it's where naval officers go to get their master's degree and their Ph.D.'s. Because my husband was one of the deans, and there were only three civilians who were running the school at the time, because we were upper management, there were many different cocktail and dinner parties, receptions, that we had to attend, with people like Gerald Ford, Henry Kissinger, Cap Weinberger, senators, congressmen, ambassadors, not to mention the high ranking admirals and generals, visiting dignitaries, foreign and domestic, who would come to the school. We entertained the grand sealord of the admiralty--these are the kinds of people who would pass through the navy school on a regular basis.

Starting in the late 70's until around '85 or '86, when I frankly got tired of living the life of academic dean hostess and stopped going to all of those functions, there would be a man at these functions whom I knew as Bob--I never really got to know his last name--but I got to know him well enough that whenever I saw him we spoke to each other; when he was around I would recognize him. The reason that this is a little unusual is that there are so many thousands of naval officers who pass through the Naval Post Graduate School, some as students, some for various other reasons, to take two-week classes, to teach two-week classes, for review boards, for audits, for things like that. But this one particular man and the group he was with came on a regular basis, so I actually got to recognize him by face and by name. His boss's name was Tom and he was an admiral.

My husband John died in 1988, and in 1989 I was passing through Oregon. I had been very ill before I got in the car and headed north. I was taking my niece home to Seattle. When I passed by Medford, Oregon, I got so tired (I was actually on my way to see my uncle who lives in Grants Pass) I knew that I couldn't drive one more mile, so we pulled off and stopped at Nendel's in Medford. My mother and I, minus my 12-year-old niece, were the only two people in the dining room; it looked like the dining room was closed. Down the stairs walks this naval officer named Bob that I had known. We struck up a conversation, and to make a long story short, Bob and I fell in love instantly. What I couldn't understand is why he now introduced himself to me as Gunther Russbacher when I had known him for ten years as Bob. That night he told me that Bob was just a nickname. He said that he was from Austria and Bob meant something else in Austria, and I just accepted at face value that that was his nickname. What I found out much later is that his naval alias is Robert Andrew Walker, and that's why I knew him as Bob.

We started talking--I think we talked for two or three days straight--and at the end of that time we decided that we were going to get married. He told me that he would have to have a clearance check run on me because anyone who works in Intelligence (he had already told me that he was with Navy Intelligence) has to have a security check on any person he's marrying to make sure he's not marrying an KGB agent or something like that. Having been married to John for almost 16 years, I knew that was true because I had had background checks run on me at every stage--before we were married, when he was promoted to the chairman of the Physics Department, and when he was promoted to the position of dean. So I was very familiar with security checks and knew full well that I would pass with flying colors because in the early '80's when a security check was run on me my husband John had said to me that I passed the security check faster than anyone had ever passed it. So I figured that when Gunther ran a security check on me there would be no problem whatsoever. Well, he came back and said that permission to marry me had been denied. I asked why, and he said it was because of my radical activist background. I asked what activities are so radical. Then he listed a whole bunch of things that I had done--yes I had done them--mainly involving picketing a nuclear power plant in California that was built on an earthquake fault (I still don't think that plant should have been built there) and other nuclear power related things. Interestingly enough, my husband John Dyer was the nuclear scientist who designed the nuclear warfare program for the United States Navy, and here's his wife out picketing a nuclear power plant. They still think that's very amusing. He said none of these things really mattered, but what they really denied permission for was that I had been working with a group of investigators and researchers since about 1983 investigating the illegal activities of the CIA in Nicaragua and around the world. I had become very interested after a bombing occurred in La Panca in Nicaragua that killed a number of reporters which had all of the earmarks of a CIA assassination. So I began to listen to the woman whose husband was very severely injured in the bombing. She went around giving radio lectures, very much as I'm doing now, so I heard her on the radio and I became involved researching the illegal activities of the CIA. Of course I saw all of these naval officers passing through the Navy school and I had access to top-level meetings all the time. So I would keep my ears open, ask people questions, and simply listen to their answers. You would be surprised how much naval officers talk, especially when they're in a very secure environment such as at the Admiral's quarters where everybody around them is on their level and most of the wives who are present have all had security background checks. I learned a lot in that environment. One of the things I learned came from a naval captain, one of my husband John's former Ph.D. students. He said to me that if I was looking for government coverups and government scandals why didn't I look for the granddaddy of them all. Of course at that time the October Surprise didn't have a name. He asked the question, didn't it strike me as funny that at the very time that Ronald Reagan was being sworn in as president of the United States, suddenly across the world in Iran the Ayatollah releases the 52 American hostages and they are literally flying out as Ronald Reagan is taking the oath of office? I don't think there is an American who watched that swearing in ceremony and then heard almost immediately afterward that our hostages were free who didn't think, well what is this all about, what is really going on?

I asked this navy captain, "What do you mean?" He didn't really say that anything had happened, he posed questions to me. He said "Don't you think that maybe someone decided that if the hostages were held, Jimmy Carter would be embarrassed and defeated?" It made perfect sense to me. After the party was over I called a friend of mine, Barbara Hoenecker. She is the author of the first book titled October Surprise. There was another book called October Surprise written by Gary Sich, a naval intelligence captain. Quite frankly, the reason that Gary Sich's book was written was to define the parameters of the October Surprise. Barbara's book, even though there were a lot of factual errors in it, went into some of the religious fundamentalism around the world that created the conditions for the rise of October Surprise.

When Gunther requested permission to marry me, permission was denied. They gave a whole number of reasons, but the #1 reason was my friendship with Barbara Hoenecker and the fact that I was actively looking into the CIA and helping her gather information on October Surprise. Gunther did not tell me at that time that he had anything to do with October Surprise whatsoever. I felt that October Surprise was a CIA operation, and the man I knew was a naval officer, not a CIA operative. I thought I was marrying a naval officer who was in naval intelligence and he had taken some type of leave of absence to work with the Department of Justice. Having been around the Navy for almost 16 years I knew that that sort of thing happened all the time. As a matter of fact one of my brothers is an Army officer who was attached to the Office of Navy Intelligence for four or five years. There are revolving doors between the U.S. Government and the different branches of the military, just as Oliver North, a Marine lieutenant colonel, was working in the White House.

It didn't surprise me at all that a naval officer could be attached to the Department of Justice working as an assistant U.S. attorney, which is what Gunther said he was working as when I met him. He told me that what his boss had told him that they would separate us for two years, and if at the end of two years we still wanted to be married they would let us marry. But we would have to go for two years without seeing each other. I think it this is common with people who are deep black cover as my husband is. All prospective wives of Intelligence operatives and high-level government operatives have to have security checks; that's common, but I don't think it's common that they have to be separated for two years before they marry. Although when I was reading a book about the CIA I think that when he married his wife he had to wait a year before he married her, so maybe it is rather common, I don't really know.

Gunther had a small Lear jet that he traveled around in and two pilots who flew it. He said that if we didn't want to be separated for two years the best thing for us to do was to leave early in the morning, fly to Reno, and get married before they had a chance to stop us. That's what we did. We took this black Lear jet, which was called the Blackbird, and we were married by the Justice of the Peace, then we immediately boarded the plane and flew back to Seattle because that was our destination, that was where my niece lived.

On the way to Seattle, a funny thing happened. A pilot turned around and said to my husband, "Chief, our air space has been invaded. We've been ordered to arm." I thought to myself I couldn't possibly have heard him right; I must have had too much champagne, even though I knew I had only had two glasses of champagne. I saw my husband look out the window of the Lear jet at what I thought was the fuel pod on the end of the wing. The top of the fuel pod began to open, and a black missile extended out a foot, maybe 18 inches. I followed my husband forward, and I heard him say, "A small prop plane has violated our air space and we've been ordered to arm. Nellis (meaning Nellis Air Force Base) is scrambling fighters to escort us back to Boeing." At that time the copilot said to the pilot, "Nose cannon fully armed."

There I am, I've just married a naval officer, I'm flying in this black Lear jet named Blackbird, and it has missiles on the wing tip and it has a nose cannon. And I'm thinking to myself, my God what have I gotten myself into; who have I married, who are these people. So, rather stunned, I walk to the back seat of the plane, my husband sits down, he has no idea what to say. What he was thinking was, my God I now understand why my boss forbade us to marry. It would have been a little bit nicer if I had prepared her for what is coming. What I was able to get out of my mouth was, "What kind of a plane is this, who are you?" And for some reason he just blurted out everything. He said, "This is the Blackbird. It used to belong to William Casey. It is a specially designed, modified Lear jet. Up until 1986 I was the No. 3 man in the CIA."

I said, "What do you mean No. 3 man, I've never heard of you." I was very familiar with the top names in the CIA. I'd never heard of Gunther Russbacher, and I certainly had never seen the name Robert Andrew Walker attached to the CIA. He said, "You don't understand. The men whose names are known by the public are basically figureheads, they are not the ones who are really in power in the CIA." He said that there are only about 20% of the CIA that anybody knows about. The other 80% are undercover, it's the covert arm of the CIA. And he said that the director of Central Intelligence is called the DCI, then there's the director of Covert Ops called the DCO. My husband said that up until 1986 he was the DDCO, the Deputy Director of Covert Ops. I asked him what happened in 1986, and he said he lost one of his planes in Nicaragua. I just sort of groaned and said, "You don't mean the Hassenfuss plane do you?" The Hassenfuss plane was the C-130 transport that had been transporting arms to the Contras that crashed in Nicaragua and the Sandinistas were able to say, aha, we've got you. We've been telling you the CIA has been illegally arming these Contras, now here's a plane, here's CIA documents, here's one of your operatives, we've caught you red-handed. This was the beginning of Iran-Contra--October 5, 1986, and of course as you know, the Iran Contra hearings really went nowhere. There hasn't been a real expose of any scandal in the United States government since 1963, and I'm fairly sure all of you are informed enough to agree with me on that.

Well, here I am in the Blackbird, suddenly realizing that the naval officer that I had married was not a naval officer. He was the dreaded enemy that I had been trying to expose and throw in jail since 1984. He was a CIA operative. I could not believe that I had married the enemy. I also couldn't believe that I didn't care, because I loved the man, and would love him even if he was one of those dreaded CIA people. We stayed in Washington for about two days. Then we flew home and my family had a dinner. We were all seated around having dessert and wine after dinner at my sister-in-law's house, my brother's ex-wife, who lived across the street from my mother and me. Since my husband John died, my mother and I had been living together in the small California town in the central valley where I had grown up.

We were all seated in the living room of my ex-sister-in-law's house when suddenly about 30 armed men broke into the house. I just froze, because all of these men had guns, some were in police uniforms, some were in county sheriff uniforms, others were in FBI T-shirts. They looked real cute like they'd just come off the golf course. They had their guns drawn and they pointed them at my husband and said, "Gunther Russbacher you're under arrest." They handcuffed him in front of my entire family and led him out. They then came up to me and said, "Mrs. Russbacher, your husband is a con man who has been on a crime spree marrying and defrauding wealthy widows." That was the line they gave me. That night they marched me across the street to my house and said they wanted to search my house. At that time I was so naive I thought the FBI were the good guys. I had only been investigating the CIA. I thought the CIA were the scum and the FBI were the guys in the white hats. Boy, have I come a long way since those days, and I think the American public has too. If I were telling this story before Waco and before Randy Weaver, I don't think a lot of people would understand what I'm talking about when I'm talking about the FBI.

I refused them permission to search my house. I asked them if they had a warrant. They said no. They went back, talked to my mother, came back over, and said, "Your mother is the legal owner of this house. She gave us permission to search it." I said, "I am a renter, I pay my mother rent every month. That room is my room, and I do not give you permission to search it. I am certain if you go back and check your law books you will see that I am right, you do not have permission to search this room." My sister-in-law came running over at that point and said, "Mom's had had a heart attack and they won't let her go to the hospital. Please just give them permission to search so your mom won't die." Of course, anybody faced with that type of situation would give them permission to search. Well, they searched alright. They took my husband's briefcase with all of his papers, with all of his various aliases (he had shown them all to me), credit cards, driver's license, passports, stationery from the Department of State with the name Robert Andrew Walker on it, stationery from a stock brokerage firm called National Brokerage Companies out of St. Louis with his alias Emery J. Hayden on it. They took all of the papers. Included in that were a number of CIA black budget bank accounts in Europe, totaling in the millions, probably billions, of dollars. They took his briefcase, all of his clothes, his shaving kit, every single item that had belonged to my husband that was in that house. The only thing they left, and I don't know how they missed it, was a piece of paper with another man's name and telephone number on it, in my husband's handwriting. I can't say the man's name because he's also deep cover. He's the station chief of the St. Louis CIA office. My husband had talked about him quite a bit, and I knew that he was my husband's best friend, and the reason that I'm talking about that right at the moment is because it was this man who eventually told me who my husband was.

Well, the FBI took Gunther away. For about a week I could have no contact with him. I couldn't call, I couldn't write. I finally got a call in to the county jail where he was being held, and I asked what he was being held on. They told me, "We've got charges coming from all over the world, he's the most wanted man in the whole world, every country in the world wants him." When I called the next day and asked what he was being held on, it was kidnapping charges. The official reason for his being in jail was kidnapping my 12-year-old niece, the one that we had taken to Seattle and brought back from Seattle with us, and the FBI filed kidnapping charges against him. Something that I have discovered is that when they're wanting to shut someone down, whether it's a husband or a wife that's doing too much, they get them with either child neglect, child abuse, or child stealing. They get them with some of these newly enacted child laws. That's how they control people, that's how they're controlling another political prisoner and his wife and family. They make up these charges and throw you in jail, and they say that you're a child abuser or a child kidnapper, and there goes your reputation. And of course if you continue trying to expose corruption in government, you stay in jail forever.

This man that I was mentioning is Michael Reconascuito. Michael's wife Bobbie was thrown in jail for stealing her own children. She had no idea that while she was on the run hiding from the FBI, who had just tried to kill her and her three children, her ex-husband had gone to court and gotten custody of her children. The FBI wanted to kill her because Michael went forward and talked about the Department of Justice's role in stealing the Inslaw software called Promise from the Inslaw Company and selling it to foreign countries around the world. This Inslaw scandal, where the Department of Justice literally bankrupted a small software firm and stole their product, is directly connected to the October Surprise scandal, because a guy by the name of Dr. Earl Bryan, a long-time CIA intelligence undercover operative, somebody who had been working in chemical and germ warfare, had made the original connection from the Reagan campaign to the Iranian fundamentalists who were holding the 52 hostages. His payoff for this was the Promise software, so the Department of Justice bankrupted the Inslaw Company. The Promise software was sold to Dr. Earl Bryan, who in turn made millions of dollars selling it around the country. Michael Reconsuito went forward and testified that he was the CIA agent who modified the Promise software so that it could be used by the CIA and by other countries around the world. Right after Michael testified he was arrested and charged with running an illegal methamphetamine lab. Of course these are just entirely bogus charges. Everything that the government said in Michael's trial was a lie, and I'm sure that those of you who have been following the Randy Weaver trial realize now that the government manufactures the evidence that is introduced in these cases.

Right after Michael was arrested, somebody, it could have been the BATF, came in and with machine guns shot up the house where they had been living. Bobbie had an intuitive feeling to get herself and the kids out of that house. They left nine minutes before the shooting started. If they had been in that house, all of them would have been killed. Michael was testifying in Chicago, about six or seven months ago, to a federal grand jury in an inquiry of the Justice Department's impropriety in seizing the Promise software. Just as Michael began to testify his wife Bobbie was thrown in jail on child stealing charges. When she went into hiding, her husband, in Shelton, Washington, was approached by the FBI to get custody of her children. So for three years, while Michael kept his mouth shut, they left Bobbie and the kids alone. But the minute Michael started talking again, Bobbie was thrown in jail and held there for two or three months. She was drugged very, very badly, she's having health problems, she needs to get out of jail, so Michael agrees to keep his mouth shut. The reason that I bring up Michael is because he's being transferred to Sheridan, Oregon.

The first thing that happens to political prisoners is they bankrupt you completely. I was bankrupt and penniless within the first six months of my marriage to Gunther. Then my mother began supporting me, and now my mother is going to have to file for bankruptcy also. They take all of your money, either on lawyers or on collect telephone calls and copying things to send out to people. Michael is trying to appeal his case and he's having to rely on public defenders or lawyers who are in other states. The lawyer out of Chicago who was helping him (who was also helping my husband) was arrested for a minor traffic violation, held in jail for contempt of court, for about two weeks, and while he was in jail the state of Illinois disbarred him. In addition to that, his lawfirm partners had his name removed from the checking account and from all of their cases, which essentially bankrupted him also. This is how the government works. If the Patriots, the whistle blowers, don't have the money, they can't do any damage, which is another reason for these seizure laws. If they take all of our money and put us under the bridges, what harm can we do. We can't afford telephones, a fax machine, a computer.

My husband is in prison, first of all because he married the wrong person. He married someone that they considered a security risk. What they tried to do in those first few months was convince me that he was nothing but a con man so that I would divorce him. What they were afraid of was that he would tell me information, just normal husband and wife talk, and I would hand it over to all of the investigative reporters with whom I had been working who were trying to expose the scandals of the Reagan Bush years. Since one of the lawyers with whom we were working was killed--his body was found on the 21st--I'm afraid for my life.

After the FBI arrested Gunther he prison visit at Terminal Island, was transferred back to Missouri and spent 11 months in jail. Now, realize that my money has been spent on lawyers, telephone bills, trips to Washington, DC. I had flown to DC and talked with Senator Clayborne Pell, a man I had met through my connections at the United Nations. I used to speak at the United Nations on the secret societies of middle ages Europe and how those secret societies manipulated the governments of the world all the way up until about the 1880's when suddenly they seemed to vanish. I realize they didn't vanish, they just changed their names, went undercover, and they're still manipulating. Now they're called the Council of Foreign Relations, or the Trilateral Commission, and various think tanks around the country.

I met with Senator Pell about Donald Gregg's appointment. One of the things that I didn't know about Donald Gregg, and if I had known I may not have married Gunther in the way that I did, but at the time I married Gunther, Donald Gregg, this very man that I had tried to derail as ambassador to South Korea, was the discipline officer for the CIA. I should also say that in 1986 when Donald Gregg and Robert Gates, who is our most recent former director of the CIA, when they came to Gunther's office in the CIA and told him that they no longer wanted him there, that he was fired, get out, he picked them up and tried to throw them out the window. The very man who was the discipline officer of the CIA hated me for trying to derail his appointment as ambassador and hated Gunther since the Vietnam days. Donald Gregg, according to many people I have talked to, was part of this whole drug business that was started in Southeast Asia during the Vietnam war and actually before. One of the reasons that we got involved over there was so that we could get the drug trade away from the French who were making so much money out of it. They use the money to fund their covert black intelligence operations.

For 11 months my husband was held in the county jail in St. Charles County. They bankrupt me by forcing me to hire lawyers, and then they throw charges at him like bad check, grand auto theft, a whole barrage of charges. Every time we prove that they're bogus, there's nothing to them, and the charges get dismissed, they throw more at us. Finally, after I have no money left to hire a lawyer, they bring up some charges that date all the way from 1986. Remember, I told you that Donald Gregg and Bob Gates told him you're fired, get out of here. At the time in 1986 my husband was running a CIA proprietary called National Brokerage Company International. That company was the company that laundered CIA black budget money, and my husband used the money to buy airplanes. He was the one who provided the planes that delivered the arms to people like the Nicaraguan Contras, to the Afghan rebels that we were supporting, and other rebels who are supported by the United States government all around the world. It was my husband who was responsible for the transportation of those weapons around the globe.

So the FBI is telling me that my husband is nothing but a con man. I fly back and talk with Senator Pell, who assures me that my husband is indeed a very good man and he pats my hand and says, "Raye, just settle down because all of this is going to be over in a few months and he's going to be released and you guys can go about your lives, just calm down and sit back and relax for a while." Then as he is pushing me out the door of his office he says, "How is your husband related to the Hapsburgs?" I was a little taken aback because I hadn't said anything to him about that, and I replied that I thought that Gunther's father is a Hapsburg baron, I don't really know, I hadn't pursued that line at that time. I knew that my husband was related to the Austrian royal family, but I knew that there was no Austrian royalty any longer, and so it didn't seem like a big deal to me. We'd been married for two days, and then I hadn't seen him for 11 months except for the brief time that I was able to visit him while he was in a federal prison in Springfield, Missouri, on my way to see Senator Pell. After 11 months of Gunther being in the county jail, my being bankrupted, him having a heart attack while in jail, my not having enough money to fly back to Missouri to see him, the prosecutor offered him a plea agreement. I begged him to take it, which he did. He pled the Alfred plea, which is not a guilty plea, it's a plea that says I am pleading guilty but I am stating that I am innocent and the only reason that I am pleading guilty is because you've got enough evidence to prove me guilty even though I am innocent. He was placed on five years' probation.

As soon as he was released from jail he said we had to drive to Lackland Air Force Base because he had to meet with his team. I had found that he's a member of a seal team. So we drove to Lackland Air Force Base, they gave us a pass to go over to the VIP quarters. They ran a background check on him, saw that he was a captain in the United States Navy, and I very quickly found that William Webster, the director of Central Intelligence, was in the suite on one side of us and Brent Scowcroft, the national security advisor, was in the suite on the other side of us. We had two guards on that floor on either end. I asked my husband why the guards were there, and he said, "To make sure that we don't leave this room except when they tell us to leave." We had phone calls and were told what time we could have breakfast, lunch, and dinner. The rest of the time we had to stay in that room. Realize that I had never had a honeymoon, so staying in the room was quite fine with me at that time, until we realized that the room was completely bugged, and everything we said was listened to by other people. The reason I knew that was that I had played a joke on my husband, and I heard all the people in both rooms on either side of us laughing. I thought that was an incredibly strange coincidence. I told another joke, and I heard them laughing at my joke. I finally said, "The rooms are bugged, they're hearing every single thing we're saying." At that point I started resenting being under house arrest there, not having any idea why we were there. I finally got so fed up with it that I told my husband, "Either you are coming with me or you're staying here, but I am leaving." So I got in the car and I headed toward Reno, Nevada, on Highway 80. During that time at Lackland Air Force Base, George and Barbara Bush were in the room across the hall from us for a few hours, Dick Cheney was there, all sorts of senators and congressmen were there, but I didn't know why until we got to Reno and saw the newspaper headlines: "Looking Glass Command Closed." We had been at the most top secret meeting ever to be held on one of the highest top secret bases in the United States. The Looking Glass Command was the flying nuclear command that stayed in the air 24 hours a day. When the Soviet Union collapsed we no longer needed that, so the meeting that we attended on July 19, 20, and 21, 1990, was the closing of the Looking Glass Command.

While we were in Reno we received a telephone call from an admiral who identified himself as George Raeder. I have no idea if that is his real name or if that is an alias. He said, "Well, it looks like we're going to promote your husband to admiral, clean him up, give him a command, and let him retire in a couple of years." So we were in seventh heaven! We were ordered to Castle Air Force Base, which was another SAC (Strategic Air Command) base. We were ordered to Castle because that was closest to where I lived--about 30 miles. We were there for the promotion ceremony and the press conference in which the Navy was going to give an explanation as to why one of their naval officers had just spent a year in jail. God knows what they were going to say. We spent one night at the base--my mother joined us. The next morning the FBI showed up on the door, the same guy who had arrested him before, and arrested him again for impersonating a naval officer. I said to this guy, "This man is a naval officer. We just came from Lackland Air Force Base, where I had lunch with the director of Naval Intelligence, where I met my husband's entire seal team, where I met my husband's boss, a man that I'd known for ten years, where I know my husband is a naval officer." They arrested him, and as they were walking me down the steps I heard this FBI agent say to my husband, "Oh, don't worry about these charges. We're only using these to revoke your probation so they'll throw you in prison for 21 years and we'll be rid of you."

There were never any charges filed against him for impersonating a naval officer because they could not make those stick; they cannot prove that my husband is not a naval officer. What they used the charges for was to revoke his probation in Missouri so that Missouri would throw him in jail for 21 years, and that is where he is right now. He is serving a 21-year sentence. The charges were all made-up charges, they were made up back in 1986 when they needed to discredit him and National Brokerage Firm so that Gunther Russbacher and National Brokerage Firm would never be attached to a C-130 that had crashed down in Nicaragua. The charges that he is in prison for right now were manufactured in 1986, probably under the orders of Donald Gregg and Robert Gates to totally discredit this man so that their little involvement in the illegal arming of the Contras--and God knows what else went on down there during those years--would never come out and the public would never know what happened. He's serving 21 years in a state prison on charges that don't even add up to $20,000, and the charges are made up from around 26 separate people saying that "he kept my $300 that I gave him for some type of mortgage," or "I gave him a $3,000 check and he never bought my IRA." All of these complaints came at the time that he was being discredited by the CIA and thrown in jail.

So the stock brokerage firm is suddenly closed down, he's thrown in jail, and all of these charges are the little loose ends that were eventually taken care of and cleaned up, but they charged him with felony charges. It would be like you owned a shoe store, went out of business, and you still had people who had ordered shoes, had paid for the shoes, and had never gotten the shoes. These people would normally have taken you to small claims court to get their money back. In California where I live, the amount of money was so small that all of these charges would have been taken to small claims court; it would never have been handled in a criminal court, and no one would have ever received a 21-year sentence for this. In other words, they needed something--anything--to put him away for 21 years. And what they're hoping is that his heart condition will kill him so that he'll never have the opportunity to talk to reporters to tell his story. From the beginning I'm trying to talk to reporters to tell my story and I'm made the laughingstock of radio and newspapers, and it just comes out, grieving widow. Their No. 1 primary goal is to discredit me, that's the objective.

QUESTION: Is there anybody left in government that we can trust?

RAYELAN RUSSBACHER: There is no one in government who can be trusted. They are all bought, bribed, and blackmailed. One of the only things that is going to save this country is for the counties to take back their rights. The counties have to become the strong units of individualism. We've got to take back our states.

INVESTIGATIVE RESEARCHER FOUND DEAD!

JUNE 23, 1993

The badly decomposed body of Paul David Wilcher, age 46, was found today at his Washington DC apartment. Mr. Wilcher was an attorney and an investigative researcher who had been working with Gunther Russbacher, the October Surprise Pilot, trying to prove that the Reagan 1980 campaign conspired to delay the release of the 52 American Embassy hostages. Such a delay would have meant a victory for Reagan.

Mr. Wilcher recently had recently told friends and colleagues in Washington that he knew far more about October Surprise and all the related scandals, such as the INSLAW SCANDAL, the BCCI scandal and other government scandals and coverups, than did DANNY CASOLARO, a reporter and writer who was "sucided" in Martinsburg, West Virginia in 1990. Even though Mr. Casolaro's death was ruled a suicide, there are still many unexplained questions which leave many people feeling that he was murdered to keep him from exposing a network of government corruption which he termed "The Octopus".

Mr. Wilcher's friend and colleague Marion Kindig said that he had expressed concern that he might be killed for "what he had in his head."

Sara McClendon, the chief White House correspondent and a personal friend of Mr. Wilcher's had been trying since Monday to get the police to open the door to his apartment and see if he was there. The local police had expressed a reluctance to get involved.

Finally today Ms. McClendon was successful in getting the police to open up the apartment. Mr. Wilcher was found in the bathroom, sitting on the toilet. No ruling has yet been made on the cause of death. An autopsy hopefully will be performed, but that is not a certainty as this 'release' is being written.

Sara McClendon and Marion-Kindig viewed the body to make an identification. Neither woman was able to positively identify the body. They were only shown the face, which was badly decomposed, swollen and purple. Both women said that the face looked as though it had been badly beaten. Neither woman, even though they knew Mr. Wilcher very well, could positively identify the body of Mr. Wilcher. If the body is not that of Mr. Wilcher, where is Paul Wilcher, who was last seen June 10th or 11th by his neighbors.

Gunther Russbacher had recently arranged for a controversial video tape to be delivered to Mr. Wilcher. The video tape was the cockpit video of the flight back from Paris in an SR 71 spyplane. Mr. Russbacher has claimed that the reason he is in prison is to discredit him and keep him quiet about his role in the 1980 October Surprise Scandal. According to Mr. Russbacher, the cockpit video tape will conclusively prove that he did fly vice-presidential candidate George Bush back from a Paris meeting on October 20, 1980. This tape was supposed to have been delivered to Mr. Wilcher sometime between the 10th of June and the 19th of June 1993.

No one, except government authorities, has been allowed inside Mr. Wilcher's apartment. No one has any idea if any of his data and research is still there. No one knows if the tape was delivered, and if it was, if it is still in the apartment.

Sara McClendon has asked that fingerprints be taken to prove conclusively that the body is that of Mr. Wilcher. She has also demanded that an autopsy be performed.

More information will be released as it becomes available. You may contact Mrs. Russbacher @ P.O. Box 3078 Carmel, Calif. 93921.

....stay tuned!

Renick Paranoid-Schizo

RAY RENICK UPDATE
by Rick Martin

On Friday, September 17, I was present as Ray Renick appeared before San Luis Obispo Superior Court Judge Michael L. Duffy on case #17313. Renick was here scheduled for a pretrial and motions hearing.

One motion concerned the inability to receive a fair trial in the San Luis Obispo, California court system. Another document filed with the court was under the label of "presentation" and concerned invoking the missing 13th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

[Editor's note: Regular CONTACT readers will remember that we just re-ran the fascinating case of the missing REAL 13th Amendment—the one that says no lawyers shall hold positions in government—on page 35 of the 7/27/93 issue of CONTACT. I titled that outlay by Commander Hatonn "The Missing 13th Amendment—Or—Guess What Those $&#! Lawyers Did" and remind you of that here because of what Ray will be bringing up later in this report.]

Renick, who was scheduled to stand trial for attempted murder on Monday, September 20, sat in the courtroom with 12 other inmates, hands cuffed to his side. In a crowded courtroom with cameras rolling and press on all sides, a very nervous Judge Duffy rattled off defendants' rights in a carefully staged litany of compassionate-sounding dialogue.

Reporters—who had been given copies of the collected Renick writings in the 8/24/93 issue of CONTACT—sat conspicuously reading the paper throughout the courtroom. One reporter commented, "At last I'll get to see what Renick has to say!" [Yeah! As Commander Hatonn is always reminding us, the pen is ultimately mightier than the sword.]

Prosecutor Dave Pomeroy pleaded that the court hear the Renick matter early on, and to allow Renick time to explain his particular "belief system". At this point Judge Duffy said he would hear the case right now.

Renick shot up from his chair, tightly holding documents in his right hand while stating to the court, "I can save this court a lot of time, right now! I stand on the missing 13th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the Title of Nobility Amendment; no state has the right to supercede the Constitution which is the highest law of the land." Judge Duffy stated that he was not ready to hear that but Renick would be given an opportunity to speak, and abruptly informed a pensive courtroom that there would be a brief recess. And then he just left the room!

The Renick matter was suddenly moved to another courtroom, before Superior Court Judge Barry Hammer. Prior to Hammer entering the bench, a cuffed Renick shuffled documents and held up to the camera lenses the CONTACT headlines: "Ray Renick's San Luis Obispo 'Connections'" from the 8/24/93 issue, and "The Missing 13th Amendment, Or, Look What Those $&#! Lawyers Did" in the 7/27/93 issue, as well as the provocative map on page 47 of that 8/24/93 CONTACT collection of Renick's writings—showing where the bodies are allegedly buried on Pomeroy Road near the illegal drug lab.

Judge Hammer entered the courtroom and began the proceedings with a voice so soft and subdued that it was plain the tactic was calculated to frustrate the media's ability to record his words. Renick immediately started to give his "missing 13th Amendment" argument, stating the entire proceeding was null and void, that Judge Hammer was not a Judge because he has revoked his citizenship under the 13th Amendment.

At this point Judge Hammer stopped Renick's dialogue and expressed confusion about this matter being raised. "This is not a matter before the court, Mr. Renick. Are you questioning this court's jurisdiction over you?"

"Yes," responded Renick, "and further, the U.S. Constitution must be adhered to in all matters and supercedes hearings on motions. I ask at this time to read into the record my presentation."

Hammer then said, "Are you asking to read out loud the document which you have filed with the court titled 'Presentation?'"

"Yes," said Ray.

"Mr. Renick," said the Judge, "I can see no point in reading out loud documents which the reporters may receive from the Clerk."

To which Ray replied, "Mr. Hammer, a hearing is a hearing by the ears and I have a right to be heard! I want to read, out loud, my presentation."

Judge Hammer then responded, "Motion denied."

Ray stood up and said, "You, sir, are acting illegally!"

Quickly backpeddling, Judge Hammer then granted Renick's request to read the document out loud. Renick proceeds to read to the assembled audience, including the Press, his presentation on the missing 13th Amendment to the Constitution. Ray stated that the Constitution is the Supreme Law of the Land, and all Judges must obey the Constitution.

Renick then moved for the court to vacate all actions against him.

Hammer then registered, with the court Clerk, Renick's motion as an objection to the jurisdiction of the court.

At this point prosecutor Pomeroy moved for the court to allow Dr. Jean Dansereau to testify as to the mental state of Renick. Dansereau had been requested by Judge Duffy earlier in the week to psychologically reevaluate Renick to see whether he was competent to act as his own counsel at trial.

Renick strongly objected to Pomeroy's motion to call Dansereau to be heard. Judge Hammer granted Pomeroy's request, and psychiatrist Dansereau took the stand.

Called as an expert witness, Dr. Dansereau proceeded to put forth his credentials. B.A. from University of Southern California, M.D. from Guadalajara, Mexico, internships in Brooklyn, New York, University of California at Irvine, 4 year residency at L.A.'s University of Southern California Medical Center, 2 years as Vice Department Chair of Psychotropic Drug Review at Atascadero State Hospital [!!!], and currently psychiatrist for County Hospital at San Luis, and Chief Psychiatrist for the County Jail.

Dansereau had already examined Renick on 5/24 of this year and, at that time, had given him a clean mental bill of health. However, now he proceeded to present a far different "expert perception" to the court.

Dansereau had examined Renick for 1.5 hours the evening before, and Renick had been informed that the information provided during that interview would be made public. Dancereau classified Renick as a "paranoid schizophrenic with irrational beliefs". His paranoid schizophrenia, however, is without hallucinations or disorganized thinking.

The interview included a discussion of Renick's system of beliefs—which were described by Dancereau as "bizzare beliefs and delusions". Dancereau mentioned considering a "5150 evaluation". [Editor's Note: Section 5150: Dangerous or gravely disabled person; taking into custody; application; basis of probable cause; liability. Subheading: Involuntary treatment. You fill in the blanks!]

At this point in the proceeding, Renick stood up and loudly objected to the entire proceeding. Renick stated clearly that "paranoia" is not paranoia when it is backed up with documentation, which he had provided for Dancereau.

Dancereau agreed that documentation had been provided. Dancereau then proceeded to outline brief vignettes of Renick's data-backed premises, labeled as his "belief system", structured in such a way as to appear completely ludicrous.

Dancereau brought up the JFK assassination and William P. Clark. Then Dancereau mentioned that Renick believes that some local crooks are using cattle, who, as everyone knows, have 4 stomachs, to import cocaine with.

At this point Ray strongly objected, saying "Dr. Dancereau is turning this into a comedy!"

And, indeed, it was cleverly being turned into a comedy. But with one exception: It wasn't funny.

Now Dr. Dancereau proceeded to completely discount the existence and validity of the so-called "missing" 13th Amendment. He discounted the Amendment, under oath, on two occasions.

Dr. Dancereau proceeded to mention Korean Air Lines Flight #007, and tried to imply that Renick's grounds for Prosecutor Pomeroy's entanglement is "just because a road is named after him."

Dr. Dancereau then calculatingly relayed a conversation with Renick's mother, who described his father as brilliant, the inventor of the recoil-less rifle, who died penniless and with mental problems. Renick's brother, too, "had mental difficulties" according to the good Doctor. This was all by way of Dr. Dancereau carefully constructing the point that schizophrenia runs in families and is genetic.

Dr. Dancereau then, again, stated that he diagnosed Renick as being a paranoid schizophrenic, and further proceeded to classify Renick as psychotic.

He acknowledged that Renick is very intelligent, but his logic is "impaired" by his "delusional system". According to Dancereau, "Ray's entire system of beliefs is irrational".

When asked if Ray's "condition" was treatable, Dr. Dancereau replied, "Yes", without hesitation [Ahem...especially with the psychotropic drugs available under Dr. Dancereau's professional and very private umbrella of mind-altering practice! Go back and review his professional credentials and the main "audience" of his practice, several paragraphs back!].

At this point in the court proceedings, Renick was holding a copy of Rodney Stich's book, DEFRAUDING AMERICA.

Judge Hammer entered into an open discussion with the psychiatrist, asking him to explain the difference in his conclusions from those of the other psychologists who have examined Renick. Dancereau explained that he disagrees with their conclusions, that while it is true that Renick can articulate his beliefs rationally, those beliefs are really irrational and delusional.

Renick then objected, again, on the basis of the 13th Amendment.

Judge Hammer offered to have Renick cross-examine Dr. Dancereau, at which point Renick called the entire court proceeding a travesty and stood on his rights under the 13th Amendment. Renick, while standing, points to Dancereau, still on the witness stand, and loudly said, "You are a liar!" [Considering that Dr. Dancereau had here just done an about-face from his earlier diagnosis, Ray's comment is not without merit!]

Renick then objected to the entire proceeding and again stands on the 13th Amendment. He said that Pomeroy is terrified because he is an accessory to murder. At this point Judge Hammer voiced his doubts about Renick's ability to represent himself.

Judge Hammer expressed his concern over Renick's ability to "stay on track".

Now Renick objects again, based on the 13th Amendment to the Constitution.

And Judge Hammer retorts, "What does that have to do with the ability to represent yourself, Mr. Renick?"

At this point Prosecutor Pomeroy offered to enter into a dialogue with Renick. Judge Hammer found this most unusual, as, on the one hand, Prosecutor Pomeroy was just attempting to establish Renick's mental incompetence, and then, wished to enter into a dialogue—which Renick then agreed to.

However, Judge Hammer disallowed the motion for dialogue out of "protection of Renick's rights" as the accused.

Judge Hammer then ruled that the court does have jurisdiction over Renick. And Hammer explained further that Renick has the right of appeal to a higher court.

Renick stood and asserted, "I stand on the 13th Amendment to the Constitution; and you, Judge, are guilty of kidnapping if you continue to allow me to be held!"

Judge Hammer then stated his recommendation that 3 psychological evaluations be conducted and written reports submitted, those from 2 other psychologists and Dr. Dancereau, to determine Renick's mental state of mind, prior to proceeding with rulings on all other matters and prior to proceeding with a trial.

The Monday trial date for Ray Renick is thus conveniently set aside.

Additional "evaluations" of Renick's case will take place on Monday, September 20, rather than the beginning of the trial.

Prosecutor Pomeroy voiced his belief to the Judge that if Renick goes to trial as is, Pomeroy will steamroll a conviction of a paranoid schizophrenic and "won't feel good about it because Renick will not have presented any defense". Judge Hammer stated that he will be appointing a public defender for Renick.

Now Ray objected, again, to the entire proceeding.

Court was then adjourned.

Conspicuously absent from the television reports later on that evening, and from the stories which appeared later in local newspapers, was any mention of the 13th Amendment issue.

The following day, Saturday, this reporter went to the County Jail to meet with Renick. Renick has been held in solitary confinement in the "old jail" of San Luis Obispo for 4 months. Ray made the point, immediately, that Dancereau was the same psychiatrist who had given him a clean bill of health in a previous evaluation. After a moment's reflection, Renick said, "You know, he just did a 180-degree turnabout. I think somebody got to him."

RAY RENICK LATE BREAKING NEWS

Ray Renick appeared on Monday, September 20, 1993, before Superior Court Judge Hammer, now represented by the court-appointed Public Defender, Mike Adams. Judge Hammer ordered two further written psychiatric evaluations of Renick by Drs. Hallen and Camp, also of ATASCADERO STATE HOSPITAL! Those reports are due by October 15.

Renick is scheduled for a pretrial hearing on October 21, 9:00 A.M., Department II.

The Masonic Connection To The Capitol Cornerstone

Editor's note: Commander Hatonn requested that we run this recent picture from the 9/19/93 newspapers along with the Washington D.C. street layout map as a sobering reminder of the secret Masonic connection to our nation's history.

U. S. Capitol Gets New Cornerstone

WASHINGTON (AP) - Members of Congress, architects, historians and Freemasons gathered Saturday in the rain to re-enact the ritualistic laying of the cornerstone of the U.S. Capitol 200 years ago.

A new cornerstone was dedicated according to Masonic tradition with "corn, the symbol of plenty, wine, the symbol of refreshment, and oil, the symbol of joy and happiness," according to the ceremony's program.

Masonic grand masters from each of the 50 states marched to the new stone and daubed it with ceremonial mortar. Then they measured and leveled it, and Adams declared the stone "well-formed, true and trusty."

The new cornerstone will be preserved in the Capitol for the next cornerstone commemoration, a century from now. But the original cornerstone, which President George Washington tapped with a marble-headed gavel and lain in place with a silver trowel, remains elusive.

Capitol architects, engineers and historians have been searching for it for months, unable to locate the engraved silver plate known to have marked it. A likely candidate is a stone about five feet long, three feet wide and 14 inches deep found in an excavation at the southeast corner of the original walls of the House of Representatives.

9/17/93 #2 HATONN

INTRODUCTION

IN THE SILENCE

As it seems the edges of universal burdens close in upon your shoulders—stand back from that which IS and allow perspective to overcome the confusion.

As was promised, the organized chaos—the planned upheavals—keep the minds flitting and searching for respite only to find a myriad of other distractions and now, personal impact on life-styles, morals, jobs—all facets of life impacted with alien input and degradation. You are NOT different, as readers, than those of the “team” here—each thinking that perhaps another has a better grasp on “reality” and understanding.

All think Dharma “has it”—after all, “...she has Hatonn!” Think again—is the child of the teacher in a classroom treated better or more firmly than the other children? Does the child of the teacher have more answers simply because his/her father is the teacher? Has the child not yet a bit farther to travel in the midst of peers to accomplish and learn—than the others so that there is no partiality? Is it not so, that I have said that Dharma would be given “LESS insight” and “understanding” and “pre-viewing” for protection and her own lessons? I am not come here for individual solutions to the myriads of confusing problems. You are on my team because the answers and actions are laid before you IF YOU BUT SEEK THEM OUT!

You who would inquire as to my intent, etc., must remember that—prior to a response reaching your eyes or ears—the adversary teams already have taken the information off this computer. I CAN confirm that much is going on of clandestine nature in the areas of New Mexico, Arizona, etc. and that “stories” coming back from “viewers” are accurate in most instances—but it is far too critical and serious of nature to have little group discussions on details and plans.

Am “I” around? Yes indeed—I and the fleet are “everywhere” and yes, there are many events taking place—both by your own people (your Earth enemies) and A LOT of activities involving our own Command. No, I will not tell you “which” is “which”.

I shall, however, take some information as it flows and give you ideas as to WHAT should and MUST be getting your attention—DIVIDED—with all other things so that you are not overwhelmed by the sheer quantity of happenings.

GUNTHER RUSSBACHER

The atrocities taking place in the death of your “justice” system as presented here are pathetic. There are lies upon lies, charges dropped and re-opened, deliberate and illegal handling of everything from medications to bail to outright incarceration without cause!

But it is not just Gunther. It is now that if the man just picks up the phone and calls this number—he is immediately summoned by wardens and guards and gotten off the phone. Bail is set at illegal and massive amounts to prevent “escape” from their clutches. There was even a “call” on gold to make sure all funds here would be depleted in order to prevent help. Fine—good buddies! My people don’t have anything and you make your own assets hang out there a mile by your antics. To bring pressure against the Ekkers in matters of which they have no part, no ownership, no participation or involvement—is to show yourselves for the fools you are.

It would appear to be time to bring attention to the hoods in the RTC scandals and that regarding this property, once the Ekkers’. The new charges of criminal complaints as served in the midst of the business meeting earlier this week are stupidly naive.

The Ekkers don’t own anything on or about the lot-property in point, except some birds. ALL property has been taken with the property and they simply “house sit”. The actual owners in Arizona are about “fed up”. They have tried to purchase this lot in point from Mrs. Silver-smith-Stillman and settle her problems.

However, some idiots seem to think that bringing pressure onto the Ekkers does something in her behalf. How? The Church of Christ would simply purchase the property and all would live happily ever after—but not at extortion prices.

I also believe it interesting that charges by the Institute (not Ekkers) against George Green for “criminal” perjury charges connected with stealing gold are admittedly valid—but are not proceeding with prosecution until “civil” matters can be cleared. That is obstructing justice, hiding and abetting criminal actions and felony-grand theft.

And yet, prosecution is afoot by the same parties—against Ekkers for “trespass” on the next-door lot. I repeat: EKKERS HAVE NO PROPERTY—AT THIS LOCATION OR ELSEWHERE! THEY CAN AFFORD NO ATTORNEY IN THIS MATTER, SO HAVE TO RESORT—AGAIN—TO SELF-REPRESENTATION, WHICH, IT SEEMS, IS “NOT ALLOWED”. YOU HAVE COME A LONG, LONG WAY AMERICA—STRAIGHT INTO THE GARBAGE HEAP!

It seems Mrs. Silver-smith-Stillman is a Jewish businesswoman who is attached to “enemies” and political persons locally who have said they would “get” the Ekkers and get them out of town. So, they have blundered. The Ekkers don’t own any of the property in point. They are also accused by the local ex-Municipal Judge of being Anti-Semitic and this is NOW trumpeted, strangely enough, by this property owner (claimed) in point, who had known all along of the use of the property since the Ekkers always had “right of first refusal” at sale of said property adjacent to that which was their own.

The Ekkers did, in fact, have legal documents drawn and filed with the court for “easement” rights and use of the property adjacent, pending solution to the new claims—in behalf of the Church which owns the property once theirs. Those people have been “beyond” gracious in letting the Ekkers be “caretakers” until such time as the home is needed.

Blessed ones—when the REAL GOD is being attended and not lip-service—the taker-downers are in full force and effort. It is what your world has become and YOU account for nothing but fodder for the New World Order mills. One day it will be that you are simply “Soylent Green”.

I think Mr. Dixon had best consider alternative actions such as bringing in the Church in point and probably right back up the string to the RTC and the criminal actions of the S&L and auctioneer. This is harassment in its obvious form and the “source” of the problem should be demanded proclaimed.

Another thing which is strange, in my humble opinion, is a demand to appear and defend selves IN COURT, with no time for response, legal action or rebuttal. I suggest this case be carried to the limits of the law and within the absolute LETTER OF THE LAW!

Mr. Green continues to play these rotten, stinking games and I again warn him—and now suggest caution to those who represent the University of Science and Philosophy, who are sending out information provided by Mr. Green—that you are getting in the defamation business yourselves! Now, sirs, we know you are of the Brookings Institute for MIND CONTROL and run by British Intelligence MI-6. That is fine with us. But, we find your latest incredulous mailings to be DIRECTLY from George Green and, as Journalists in dated-news-item periodicals and newspapers, not only offensive but totally limited as to right of speech and press.

You had better KNOW that the CONTACT newspaper in point is certified as valid and accepted by the Department Of Taxation of the State of Nevada. Further, the stupid information you are dispersing as to "infringements" as gathered by one "Webber" is totally absurd as the very names and information are gathered FROM THE CREDITS GIVEN IN THE NEWSPAPER AND JOURNALS!

Further, I believe that since Mr. Green's departure from operations around here, EVERY AUTHOR WILL FIND HIS WORK, IF MENTIONED, IS ADVERTISED WITH INFORMATION AS TO HOW TO GET THE WORK—DIRECTLY FROM SAID AUTHOR!

This includes ones who work WITH Green—i.e., "Coleman", etc. We do not exclude Truth or value of "work" because a man either disagrees with me or gets a bad case of greedies. How is it that somehow Ekkers, again, get all the credit of running everything when the whole thing in problem WAS RUN DIRECTLY BY GEORGE GREEN?

You who go forth proclaiming patriotism and freedom and serve the black forces—are interesting indeed. There is a full movement afoot to bring back justice and some form of Constitutional law—hopefully. However, you are being "HAD" by thieves and idiots from Oregon to Australia and around to Sussex, England. There is even "one" who touts himself as a "lawyer" in knowing of all the "ways" to handle everything from a traffic ticket to closing courts B.S. Go for "that idiotic fraud and you will be 'creamed'." There is a lot of good going on but there is also a LOT of confusion and ego-trippers who simply add to the certain downfall of your society in their "good intentions". USE YOUR HEADS!

Who does the paper support? Everyone and anyone who has a story in Truth to the limitations of time and space and timely importance.

Ones who ask for our help and then go forth and make absurd clowns of themselves before the bench—thanks to this "authority" input—are going to find themselves without assistance at all if they cannot get control of their own actions. They may act the fool all they wish. We will not participate in their self-centered games—even if they, in concept, be correct in knowledge.

Act the insane party and you shall be so-treated—with psychiatric evaluations to prove you are insane. Count on it. [See the Ray Renick hearing update on page 22 for some background on the kind of activity that Commander is talking about here.] Then, do not sit back and blame GOD for your own foolish actions and antics. What happens is, they don't feel a need to lower self to the insight of God in anything—only tout the "name of" and then act like mentally-deficient accusers in their own self-claimed know-it-all attitudes. There are more of these around, clouding issues, than you might realize—actually hurting their own cause and then when they "blow it", blame God for failure.

WHEN GOD ACTS—HE DOES NOT "BLOW" IT. I do not go about forcing anyone to do anything. However, neither do I care for even the remotest suggestion that I give advice of such behavior in any instance. Now, I am going to change the subject because it is time you ones REALIZE—YOU ARE INTO THE TIMES PROPHESIED! Keep pretending it will "go away" and the only thing which will go away is YOU AND YOURS!

GROUND WAVE EMERGENCY NETWORK (GWEN)

I have written on this subject and the "towers" many times and for many months. This is a series (network) of large towers for communications and warning "...WHEN THERE IS A NUCLEAR ATTACK." This is what the Government says, so don't go with the old "no more cold war" garbage. These towers are being placed all over the map—anywhere it is deemed appropriate—in spite of "land owners" or anything else of citizen input. The following is a written article sent to us (from California) dealing with a California resident and "land owner" when confronted by the engineers putting up these massive structures. I hope it will seep into your realization that this is ONE MORE evidence of your controlled state of being. This deals with a resident citizen by the name of Ken Rose. He does not know of this writing but certainly needs some help—except that, citizens, there IS NO HELP. THE DYE IS CAST—THE DEED'S DONE. THERE IS NO "PREVENTION" OF THESE THINGS—THAT PART IS OVER.

QUOTING:

....Last week Surprise Valley resident Ken Rose received a letter from the United States Department of Defense. Rose was informed the Department of the Army is going to buy some of his land; they are choosing the location, and they will determine the price.

An irate Rose told the U.S. Army representative that he did not want to sell the property and was told in response, "FINE, WE WILL CONDEMN THE LAND AND CLAIM IT UNDER THE 'RIGHT OF EMINENT DOMAIN'."

"This is the United States of America; I didn't think the Government was supposed to threaten its citizens, and confiscate their land," said Rose. "The Bureau of Land Management (BLM) owns property all around me, why can't they use government land? They are carving out a section of my field, making the rest of the land useless to me."

The Army's said intent is to build a 290 foot tower on 11.5 acres of land just east of Cedarville. The tower will be part of the Ground Wave Emergency Network (GWEN).

Concerned Modoc County Supervisor Ron McIntyre was able to contact Captain Roy Gardener, officer in charge of the GWEN project. McIntyre was told by the Massachusetts-based officer that the tower is one of twenty-nine sites in the U.S. [H: And if you believe that number you are really dead ducks] that will be used to aid in communications AFTER A NUCLEAR ATTACK. It is part of the National Command Network. The tower will be built on the Ken Rose property by May, 1994. The tower will be supported by a large series of guy wires, have a 24-hour flashing beacon, a perimeter fence and a couple of equipment sheds. In addition, the tower complex will contain a generator and a backup generator. The unmanned tower will activate 12 seconds every hour. The project is said to be environmentally benign, and will put out about 3,000 watts.

Mr. Rose has signed no papers deeding his land to the Government.

About five years ago the Government contacted Rose, along with several other valley ranchers, concerning appropriation of their lands. At that time Rose agreed to sell the government a far corner of his land, bordering BLM lands. They agreed on a price and the location. Four years ago the project was said to be abandoned because the tower would be obsolete before it was completed.

In late June of this year, Rose received a letter from the U.S. Army requesting permission for right of entry for survey and exploration. Rose signed the document thinking the Army would be surveying the agreed-upon site.

The first week in September, Rose received another letter from the Department of the Army notifying him of the location of the parcel they were acquiring. It is located 400 feet south of his northern boundary line. This leaves a 400 foot by 700 foot strip of land between the tower and the BLM land. The agreed upon price was lowered to twenty cents on the dollar.

"What can I do with this narrow strip of land? I can't use a pivot to irrigate with a chunk cut out of the middle. I can't sell it as a building site, who wants to live next to a 290-foot tower, blinking all night, emitting who knows what? I am a developer by profession. How can I develop this land? If this were truly a matter of national security, I would gladly give them the land," said Rose.

Joe Colt, Modoc County Supervisor, expressed incredulity at the Government's actions, "There are thousands of acres of government land around here that could be used instead of picking on a private landowner. Certainly moving the tower 400 feet to the north and locating it on public land would make sense. In fact, they could locate the tower on the government land on Sugar Hill, where the existing tower is being abandoned. We need to stand up for our local citizens when the Government tries to push them around. The Government has lawyers on their payrolls, and unlimited funds; a private citizen can't afford to fight them."

None of the people living adjacent to the project have been notified that anything is happening.

"My daughter has cancer. Electromagnetic fields have been implicated in juvenile cancer cases. Whether this is true or not, I can't afford to take the chance," said a worried neighbor.

Another landowner adjacent to the project asked, "Aren't they supposed to notify us in case we want to protest or something? Will they at least put lights on it in December so it will be a giant Christmas tree? They could put it in Long Valley, no one would notice it there. I question the need of this tower, the cold war has stopped since the initial funding. They have plenty of communication satellites that are more efficient and are already in place. It seems to be a waste of taxpayers' money, unless it's going to be a gigantic Democratic phallic symbol."

According to Modoc County Planner Scott Kessler, the Government has assured him the site has passed the National Environmental Agency requirements, and the Finding of "No Significance" requirements.

Kessler said he hasn't reviewed any of the Army's documents. He feels they need a conditional use permit and that has not been applied for.

The Government also has the power to pre-empt all rules that apply to the normal citizen.

"This action on the part of the military does nothing to benefit the Valley. There are no jobs created, no new taxes generated; in fact, they will be taking more land off the tax rolls. Property values in the area will drop. There are no positive returns for this valley or its residents," adds Rose. "My lawyer told me, 'If the Government wants your wife, kiss her goodbye.' I know it's practically hopeless to fight the Government, but I want the rest of the valley to know what's happening. They could be next."

Randy Humble, Manager of the Cedarville Airport expressed concern, "Those little low flying jets that race down the east side of the valley are lost. They think they're in Long Valley, and it will only be a matter of time before one of them hits the tower or its guy wires. Also it's much too close to our airport's traffic pattern."

When an Army representative was questioned on why they couldn't use BLM land, he replied, "It's not worth the hassle."

Ken Rose has plans for developing his properties. The Army's project will not do any of these things. Calling your Governmental Representatives to complain may help. There is a listing of names on page two of this paper. [H: We do not have that listing; however, it appears that this article was in the Modoc County Record, Cedarville, California—by, Jean Bilsdeaux, with a work telephone number of 916-279-6125.]

"I guess the only thing I can say is, we are not happy with their attitude towards their procurement of our property."

END OF QUOTING

Why would I run something like this above, in the Introduction of a JOURNAL? Because it is TYPICAL of what has come to be in your world. If you cannot see it coming—God help you!

NAFTA

I think you need another reminder of how cut and dried are the responses of Government and your representatives to EVERYTHING—all neatly planned and lies already printed for your consumption.

The following is a typical response to a well thought out and extremely well written letter to one, Wally Herger, of the 2nd District, California, 2433 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C., Congress of the United States, 20515-0502. Now, while reading this, you must remember the MILLIONS of now-unemployed workers in your nation or you will lose the comedy aspect of this response.

QUOTING:

Mr. Stan Brandenburg
306 N Main St.
Alturas, California 96101

Dear Stan:

Thank you for letting me know of your concern with regard to the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA). I appreciate your giving me the opportunity to address this issue.

I believe Congress must be prepared to walk away from any trade agreement which would adversely impact American workers and our economy. Moreover, I believe that any trade agreement we eventually accept with Mexico, or any other nation, must be beneficial to Northern California and the overall economy.

It is anticipated that the Northern California economy will benefit significantly from increased exports of U.S. products to Mexico under NAFTA. Currently, Mexican tariffs on U.S. exports average 2 1/2 times higher than U.S. tariffs on imports of products from Mexico. NAFTA would phase out these tariffs which currently benefit Mexico, thus "leveling the playing field" for American workers. NAFTA is expected to benefit the wood products and agriculture industries in the North State. Organizations such as the California Chamber of Commerce, California Farm Bureau and the California Cattlemen's Association are strongly supportive of NAFTA because of the potential to increase exports and spur economic growth in Northern California.

You may be interested to know that U.S. exports to Mexico have created approximately 400,000 jobs for American workers in the last five years. NAFTA is expected to create 325,000 new jobs in the U.S., and it is important to note that export-related jobs pay an average of 17% more than other manufacturing jobs.

I certainly do not want to see the sovereignty of the U.S. Government weakened by any trade agreement. [H: Perhaps here is the most significant statement of the whole day: "...the sovereignty OF THE U.S. GOVERNMENT...(???)!] At the same time, I believe that we need to pursue agreements which will be mutually beneficial to both the American people and our trading partners, and that this can be done without sacrificing our autonomy. In 1990, U.S. exports accounted for 88 percent of the increase in the Gross National Product, the primary measurement of the U.S. economy. Also, past trade agreements have proven to be beneficial to our economy. For example, we have seen agricultural exports to Canada increase by 130% since the implementation of the Canadian Free Trade Agreement in 1988.

In any event, I will not support any trade pact unless I am convinced that the agreement, on the whole, is better for U.S. workers and our Northern California economy. However, as I understand the current draft of the treaty, and given the above statistics, I believe that NAFTA would indeed be beneficial to Northern California. For that reason, it is my current intention to support such a treaty when it comes before me for consideration.

Again, I appreciate your taking the time to express your views, and sincerely hope you will continue to contact me regarding Federal issues of importance to you.

Sincerely,
Wally Herger
Member of Congress

Incredible Earthquake Verification

Editor's note: The recent story below verifies what both Commander Hatonn and Commander Soltec have warned about "unnatural" ways to create "natural" disasters. Readers will remember from Soltec's article in the August 10, 1993 CONTACT how "they" are going to detonate underneath Los Angeles to "check" the earthquake faults there; and to the right is the story on how the same is going to be done at the north end of the San Andreas--ahem--purely for research purposes!

Russia planned 'quake bomb' to devastate US

by Matthew Campbell, Moscow

SOVIET generals considered building a "seismic bomb" that could be exploded underground to devastate America with earthquakes and tidal waves, according to a former KGB general.

His claim is supported by evidence from seismologists who conducted nuclear tests to see if they would cause earthquakes - and were generously funded by the military - even while Mikhail Gorbachev was doing his best to end the cold war in the late 1980s.

Oleg Kalugin, a Soviet counter-intelligence chief who has become a reformist politician, says he discovered the extent of research into geophysical warfare when he became the KGB watchdog over top-secret research at the Soviet Academy of Sciences in 1988. There he found scientific papers that described how a nuclear blast could be engineered to jolt the earth's tectonic plates, the blocks of the earth's crust whose movement causes earthquakes.

The part of the United States most vulnerable to such attacks is California, which straddles fault lines linked to the Pacific plate. "The idea was to be able to cause earthquakes in America as devastating as any nuclear blast. The advantage was that we would not be seen as the initiator of war. Only nature could be blamed," Kalugin said.

The idea first emerged in the 1960s when Soviet seismologists noticed that underground nuclear test explosions were sometimes followed a few days later by earthquakes, often hundreds of miles away. Scientists subsequently exploded 32 nuclear bombs around the Soviet Union to test seismic effects.

Once the military learned in the 1980s that an underground nuclear shockwave might be harnessed into a weapon, civilian geologists were given generous research grants to investigate further. Alexei Yablokov, President Yeltsin's adviser on ecological matters, said last week: "Officially, these explosions were carried out in the interests of a better understanding of the earth's geological structure. But everyone suspected the military was looking for a seismic weapon, even though it seemed like science fiction."

One analysis of seismic data from the first years appears to prove the link between test explosions and earthquakes, according to Alexei Nikolaev, a scientist at Moscow's Institute of Geology. He said nuclear tests at Semipalatinsk, in the former Soviet republic of Kazakhstan, had caused earthquakes in Tajikistan, Uzbekistan and even Iran.

"At first, people were dismissive of the idea that explosions could in some way be connected to earthquakes. Even today, no link is officially admitted," Nikolaev said. "But the probability of an earthquake in the Hindu Kush in Tajikistan is two or three times greater after a test nuclear explosion at Semipalatinsk."

Nikolaev and his team claim their work showed that even small underground nuclear explosions caused strong jolts up to 1,600 miles away. Some Russian scientists are even convinced the earthquake that devastated Armenia in 1988, in which 45,000 people were killed, was precipitated by an underground test explosion the week before at Novaya Zemlya, a test site 2,000 miles away

Nikolaev said: "The effects are never immediate. The earthquake might come two days, a week or a few weeks after the blast so it could never be a precise weapon of war."

He argues that a nuclear explosion cannot actually create an earthquake. "By shaking the earth's crust we can precipitate an earthquake that is about to happen. But we could not organise an earthquake where none is likely to happen."

Ikrām Kerimov, deputy director of a geology institute in the former Soviet republic of Azerbaijan, disagrees. "A lot of work needs to be done, but there is a high possibility for someone to use seismology as a weapon," he said.

He discovered the military's interest when his own request for a large amount of money to buy seismological equipment from Britain in 1989 was approved overnight.

Since the collapse of the Soviet Union, newly independent Azerbaijan has forged ties with near east neighbours such as Iran, and Kerimov said the monitoring equipment his team had bought was being shared with an Iranian research team at Tabriz University.

Another Editor's note: To begin with, I would like to thank CONTACT benefactor, Dr. Pierre Clautier, for faxing this extremely timely writing from the London Times. Then, I would like to call your attention to two seemingly unrelated events in Los Angeles over the past few days. First, there was a good-sized rock slide that closed the Pacific Coast Highway near Malibu (rock slides only happen in California during the winter rainy season, unless...), and then, a day or so later, a huge 62-inch water main "just happened to" rupture in that same geologically-active area. Still wonder if the ground is shaking and moving in Los Angeles? Anyone remember the movie "Earthquake" ???!!!

Research to shake up key earthquake zone

Explosions offer look at north state faults

By John D. Cox
Bee Staff Writer

One of the most complex and active earthquake zones in the world is getting a little extra shake these days from seismic scientists.

U.S. Geological Survey specialists and university scientists are setting off at least two dozen minor underground explosions to develop a better picture of the place where three plates of the Earth's crust come together.

"We're doing a CAT scan of the Earth," said Walter Mooney of the USGS in Menlo Park. "We're trying to locate the faults in the areas that are most likely to shake violently during an earthquake."

Focus of the three-week investigation is an eight-county area of northwestern California near the Mendocino Triple Junction, a unique zone where the Pacific Plate, the North American Plate and the oceanic Gorda Plate come together.

The region is characterized by numerous earthquakes as the Pacific Plate continues its migration northward along the San Andreas Fault and the Gorda Plate pushes under the North American Plate. Earthquakes there in April 1992 destroyed more than 100 homes and caused more than $50 million damage.

"The triple junction is where there is a change from the sliding fault motion that is characterized along the San Andreas Fault to the underthrusting, the pushing-under of the oceanic plate beneath the edge of the continent," said Mooney. "We're looking at that complex transition from sliding to subducting."

The scientists plan to set off at least eight minor ammonium nitrate explosions along each of three major test-lines from Clearlake to northern Humboldt County, and from the coast to the northern Sierra Nevada foothills. The small shock waves from the blasts, in holes 100 feet to 180 feet underground, will be recorded by 600 sensitive portable seismographs spaced along the test-lines.

The test shots, hardly noticeable on the surface, will be detonated each night between 10 p.m.

Seismic study in Northern California

A seismic refraction investigation will help in understanding the Mendocino Triple Junction and the Cascadia Subduction Zone. The investigation involves controlled explosions along test lines that will reflect back to seismographs as waves. The recordings of the reflected waves can be processed by computers to produce images of the various stratum and faults.

See graphic and 3 a.m. The explosions create seismic waves that reflect back from faults and rock layers as deep as 20 miles.

Unlike the recordings of shock waves caused by earthquakes, Mooney noted that with this investigation "we are in complete control of the circumstances of the experiment. "We get to choose the time and the place where we investigate the properties of the crust," he said.

First developed as a tool for the exploration for oil, the technique promises what Mooney called "a very clear picture of the subsurface of the Earth." (What's left?)

THE WORD

Tapes, Transcriptions & Videos

In addition to audio tapes of meetings with Commander Hatonn and written transcriptions of some taped topics, THE WORD also offers other tapes and videos on selected topics.

Donations to cover the costs of tapes are $4.00 for one tape, $6.00 for two tapes and $2.50 per tape for three or more, except where otherwise noted. The transcriptions are $3.00 each. (Mexico or Canada add $0.25 and other foreign countries add $0.50 per tape or transcription.) Postage is included in tape and transcription prices.

Please send check or money order to: THE WORD, P.O. Box 6194, Tehachapi, CA 93582 or call 805-822-4176 if you have questions or you wish to use your Visa, Discover or Master Card.

If you desire to automatically receive tapes from future meetings, please send at least a $50 donation from which tape costs will be deducted. We will try to notify you as your balance reaches zero.

Special Order tapes are noted below by * and are not automatically sent since this material is usually either already in print or will be soon. Available written transcriptions are noted by #.

ECSTASY TO AGONY THROUGH THE PLAN 2000

By GYEORGOS CERES HATONN
(J68) $7.95 307 pages

We the people of America gave oath and contract to our children and grandchildren to hold the Constitution of the United States of America as the Lamp of Freedom and Guidance to all the world, to Light the path to sovereignty of "man" and freedom to the oppressed. Learn how we have failed our progeny, our selves and God--while we have sold our nation for a pittance.

Other timely topics in this JOURNAL ARE: A NUCLEAR DEVICE used in World Trade Center bombing--Trilaterals demand World Army--Destruction of American jobs--An update on the BATF--A botched Waco, Texas mission and more. (INDEXED)

There comes a time when a person must take a stand--but, there are ways to make a stand--AND WAYS TO MAKE A STAND!! To try to out-gun or out-run the adversary is not going to cut it, for BOTH those methods are HIS BEST TRUMP CARDS! "They have bigger guns and they know how to find you if you try to outrun them."

We must stop thinking that ALL far-out presentations are entertainment-produced and incredible. The movies The Philadelphia Experiment, The Manhattan Project, Jacob's Ladder, D.A.R.Y.L. (There Once Was A Boy) AND COMA, ARE ACTUAL EXPERIENCES AND EXPERIMENTS.

Some of the important topics discussed in this JOURNAL are: CESAR CHAVEZ WAS MURDERED--Janet Reno and "Waco"--Janet Reno to stamp out "groups"--Koresh: a KHAZARIAN ZIONIST & STILL ALIVE--Russbacher's OPERATION CLYDESDALE--Cosmos update--Warning to America's Christians!--Randy Weaver trial update--Blood Sacrifices. GAIANDRIANA

Gaiandriana is a non-alcoholic health tonic which provides basic "foods" to help cells, weakened by the stresses of modern life, to return to a state of health.

The better our cells function, the greater is the stamina returned to our internal defense systems, and the better we can counter the constant onslaught of biological and viral invaders. The end result is a feeling of well-being by, of course, being well.

The Gaiandriana (commonly referred to as "chondriana" in the Biological literature) are capable of intelligent, organized attack against cellular invaders like viruses. Think of it as a "pac-man" operation of sorts. However, beyond that, the Gaiandriana are capable of stimulating cellular structural repairs due to damage caused by, for instance, free radicals and cumulative levels of so-called "background" radiation in our modern environment. Healthy DNA and RNA within the nuclei of our cells then lead to properly formed and concentrated enzymes, upon which healthy cellular function depends.

Gaiandriana liquid is made entirely from wholesome natural ingredients.

AQUAGAIA

Complementary to the Gaiandriana product, Aquagaia is also a non-alcoholic health tonic which provides basic "foods" to help cells, weakened by the stresses of modern life, to return to a state of healthy function.

Aquagaia contains mitochondria. These are the major biochemical energy "processors" within cellular metabolism. First, enzymes begin the breakdown process of organic nutrients (like fats, carbohydrates and proteins) to intermediate substances such as amino and pyruvic acids. Then, in the next "bucket brigade" step, these various acid molecules are processed within the mitochondria to release chemical energy recognized as adenosine triphosphate (ATP).

About 95% of the energy needed to "run the machinery" that keeps each cell going and healthy is produced in the mitochondria. Unfortunately, the mitochondria are particularly damaged by free radicals and cumulative levels of so-called "background" radiation in our modern environment. These compromised mitochondria, like half-dead batteries, then lead to impaired cellular functioning and health. Thus is the importance of Aquagaia, with its assimilatable supply of healthy mitochondria — like "fresh batteries" for the body's cells.

The better our cells function, the greater is the stamina returned to our internal defense systems, and the better we can counter the constant onslaught of biological and viral invaders.

2/11/93 #2 HATONN

GAIANDRIANA & AQUAGAIA

To help in understanding the workings of these organic "pac-men" you must realize that there is a protein covering "cap" on viruses. The protein cap is centered on a charged zinc atom and is the part of the virus that recognizes and binds to DNA—in turn allowing the virus to reproduce.

Aquagaia, in conjunction with the Gaiandriana, knock out the zinc atom (a simple "charge" change), which renders the protein ineffective. This is a breakdown of "parts" of the Gaiandriana male-female DNA structure which releases many working variants but frees the Gaiandriettes or "killers" to take out that zinc atom and pass right into the affected cell. Without the "cap", the virus cannot reproduce and infect more cells—further, the damaged virus feeds the Gaiandriana unified cells and the circulating mitochondria.

Healthy cells are not affected because they lack the zinc-centered protein cap on the virus.

These "Gaia" compounds have an effect on cancer cells because they stop an enzyme on the cancer cells from producing a "messenger" molecule that blocks a second enzyme from attacking the cancer cell's DNA. The compounds (Gaia) have been seen to actually take out leukemia, breast, brain and colon cancer cells. We have no claim to anything other than stating that people utilizing these simple and natural substances do show improved well-being and do report feeling generally and, often remarkably, improved as to state of health, thought processes and stamina.

The obvious conclusion is that there might well be good reports of better health and faster recovery, following infection by other viruses, than those mentioned above. All viruses known react in generally the same manner.

It is known that many diseases are due to retroviral DNA and these are the most affected viruses by the Gaia-chondrianas (living crystal forms). We, again, make no medical claims—we are simply reporting in an effort to explain WHAT takes place within the cellular structures of living organisms.

NOTE

If any product you receive has an unpleasant odor — it is from the finishing culture process. Leave the bottle open to air and it will quickly dissipate. Then, depending on taste and preference—refrigerate after opening and reclosing.

IMPORTANT: Do not mix the two, Gaiandriana and Aquagaia, together for storage as the Aquagaia (mitochondria) are aggressive and begin to "eat" the Gaiandriana for fuel. Once ingested, they go about their appointed tasks, but in bottle prisons they are not particularly compatible once the available fuel supply is exhausted. Juices are excellent to take with the Aquagaia because the mitochondria must have the fuel derived from same, the most effective juice being from the tropical "Guava" fruit. Any juice is fine, however, and is most pleasant to intake. Diabetics should utilize whatever juices are available on their food plan to keep within the safe guidelines for calories and other requirements.

The most innocuous and easy intake available is simply a few drops under the tongue, both products taken at the same time or at different times of the day. Once the "initial" program is completed, and the maintenance level of intake is being followed, certainly the drops under the tongue are the least annoying to any daily regimen.

A-C-E ANTI-OXIDANT FORMULA

There is growing evidence that essentially everyone in our society is exposed to free radicals, now more than ever. While free radicals are normal products of our cells and have certain beneficial roles in the body, increased levels of free radicals in our body tissues can be detrimental to our health. Free radicals are highly unstable substances produced in the body through, among other routes, metabolism of oxygen. Free radicals multiply through a series of chain reactions and can attack the polyunsaturated fatty acids of cell membranes. Unless excess free radicals are neutralized, they can cause considerable damage to the structure and function of cell membranes and thus, the cells themselves.

The products from free radical reactions are implicated in the progressive accumulation of deleterious cellular changes over time, which may eventually result in recognizable disease. Free radical damage is implicated in the initiation and promotion of many cancers, as well as atherosclerosis.

One area of aging research suggests that free radicals damage body cells and cause the pathological changes associated with aging. Besides being by-products of the metabolism of oxygen, such as during strenuous exercise, we are also exposed to significant sources of free radicals from the environment, such as from so-called "background" levels of ionizing radiation.

Cooperative defense systems that can protect the body from free radical damage include certain enzymes and the antioxidant vitamins A, C, and E and Beta-Carotene, which protect cell membranes from oxidative damage. Vitamin E, one of the fat-soluble vitamins, is present in the blood as d-alpha-tocopherol and is well accepted as the major antioxidant in lipid body tissues. Vitamin E is considered the first line of defense against cell-membrane damage due to peroxidation. Vitamin E scavenges free radicals, terminating chain reactions and confining damage to limited areas of the membrane. Selenium contained in the enzyme glytathione peroxidase is the second line of defense that destroys peroxides before they can damage cell membranes. Beta-Carotene, a precursor of Vitamin A, also traps free radicals. Vitamin C is water soluble and serves to neutralize free radicals in aqueous systems.

The antioxidants show promise as cancer-prevention agents, alone and in combination.

ALOE COMPLETE (Whole Leaf, Cold Pressed Aloe Vera Concentrate)

Aloe Vera has a long and impressive history that spans hundreds of centuries, countries and cultures, and appears in countless "folk remedies" as a plant revered for its healing qualities.

Aloe Complete is a whole-leaf concentrate prepared from the freshly harvested leaves of the Barbadensis Miller Aloe Vera plant. Aloe Complete guarantees a minimum of 10,000 mg. of mucopolysaccharides per liter.

The nutrients reported in Aloe Vera include mucopolysaccharides and polysaccharides (glucomannans), glycoproteins, glucose, mannose, galactose, xylose, arabinose, tannins, steroids, organic acids, antibiotic principles, glucuronic acids, enzymes (oxidase, catalase and amylase), trace sugars, calcium oxalate, a protein containing 18 amino acids, "wound healing" hormones, biogenic stimulators, saponins, vitamins B1, B2, niacin, B6, choline, folic acid, chloride, sulfate, iron, calcium, copper, sodium, potassium, silicon, manganese, plus many other metabolism-assisting components.

GINKGO BILOBA (Ginkgo Biloba extract, 24%)

The Ginkgo Biloba extract is a complex compound. The green leaves of the tree are usually harvested from trees grown on plantations in South Korea, Japan and France.

Ginkgo is reported to have a natural affinity for the nervous system. It also seems to stimulate the vascular and endocrine systems that, in turn, strongly affect the function of the nervous system, possibly increasing the capacity for normal physical activity, and the flow of blood to the brain. Some research indicates the possible effectiveness of Ginkgo in the treatment of Alzheimer's disease.

Due to its pharmacological properties, Ginkgo is now widely used throughout Europe for treating many forms of vascular disease. In a survey of packaging information of European products, Ginkgo has been recommended for such ailments as headaches, vertigo, inner-ear disturbances, diminished intellectual capacity and alertness as a result of insufficient circulation to the brain, anxiety, and depression, to name a few.

Ginkgo Biloba Extract (24%) is concentrated from the leaves of the Ginkgo Biloba tree. The highly specialized extraction process yields a 50:1 concentrate from the leaves (50 grams of leaf produce 1 gram of extract). The extract is then further standardized to contain 24% of the active Ginkgo Flavoglycosides.

CHLORELLA

Chlorella is a nutritionally balanced whole food and contributes to the health and growth of human cells like no single vitamin or mineral possibly can.

Chlorella is extremely high in protein (60%) and contains more than 20 vitamins and minerals, 19 of the 22 essential and non-essential amino acids, enzymes and chlorella growth factor. It is one of the richest sources of RNA and DNA known and has twenty times as much chlorophyll as alfalfa, 10 times more than other edible algae including spirulina, and 10 times more than barley grass.

Chlorella is a natural vitality enhancer. The vitamins found in chlorella cells include: vitamin C, provitamin A, B-carotene, chlorophyll-A, chlorophyll-B, thiamine (B1), riboflavin (B2), pyridoxine (B6), niacin (B3), pantothenic acid, folic acid, vitamin B-12, biotin, choline, vitamin K, PABA, lipoic acid, inositol and para-aminobenzoic acid. The minerals include: phosphorus, potassium, iodine, magnesium, sulphur, iron, calcium, manganese, copper, zinc and cobalt.

The amino acids include: lysine, histidine, arginine, aspartic acid, threonine, serine, glutamic acid, proline, glycine, alanine, cystine, valine, methionine, isoleucine, leucine, tyrosine, phenylalanine, ornithine, tryptophan.

The suggested daily consumption is 3 grams per day.

ECHINACEA GOLD PLUS (with American Ginseng)

In recent years few medicinal plants have garnered as much attention as Echinacea (Echinacea Purpurea and Echinacea Angustifolia).

Echinacea is a non-specific stimulant to the immune system. Claims for Echinacea include: stimulation of leukocytes, mild antibiotic activity, anti-inflammatory activity, stimulation of the adrenal cortex, stimulation of the properdin-complement system, interferon-like activity, stimulation of general cellular immunity, and antiviral activity. Internal preparations are said to assist in alleviating cold and flu symptoms, respiratory infections, and arthritis, to name a few.

Goldenseal (Hydrastis Canadensis) is among the most popular herbs in the American health food market. Uses are numerous, including but not limited to: antiseptic, hemostatic, diuretic, laxative, and tonic/anti-inflammatory for the mucous membranes, hemorrhoids, nasal congestion, mouth and gum sores and eye afflictions.

Few medicinal plants in the world possess Ginseng's near-legendary status. Dating back thousands of years, its history of use in the Orient records therapeutic properties so wide ranging that it was first dismissed by Western doctors as a "panacea". When fatigued, Ginseng reportedly restores both physical and mental functions to peak efficiency and, with regular use, improves resistance to disease and stress. American Ginseng's genus name is Panax Quinquefolius.

Over 40,000 species of mushrooms exist, many of which are used as medicines. Of particular note are such remedies as penicillin- and ergot-based extracts used in migraine treatment, to name a few. Extensive research has been done with one mushroom in particular, namely, Reishi. This mushroom is now considered a tried and true immune system fortifier.

OXY TODDY

Made from pure Aloe Vera juice from organic Aloe Vera plants, this product is oxygen-enhanced with 35% food grade hydrogen peroxide, minerals, whole Aloe Vera pulp, 60 colloidal plant minerals (an aqueous solution), and natural flavors.

One ounce of Oxy Toddy contains approximately 20 drops of 35% food grade hydrogen peroxide. This product contains no sugar, fillers or starches and is cold processed to ensure maximum enzymatic activity.

GUNTHER RUSSBACHER UPDATE

As regular CONTACT readers are already aware from last week's update, Gunther has been moved from a Missouri State prison to another facility. He is being held on bogus charges, and bail has been set at an extremely high amount, cash only, no 10%, and no property.

There were reports coming into CONTACT last week that Gunther was not being given his proper medication at the new facility. After some well-placed phone calls of inquiry, we're told he has now been given medication.

For those of you who would like to continue to correspond with Gunther, his new mailing address is: Gunther Russbacher, St. Charles County Jail, 301 N. 2nd St., St. Charles, MO 63301.

72 Hour Kit Checklist

- Water
Stored in a portable container. Rotate regularly. Have at least three gallons per person (for a three day supply). Have a water purification method.
- Food
Suitable for long term storage. Packaged to prevent water damage. Include cups, utensils, paper plates and a can opener, if needed.
- Extra Clothing
A complete outfit of warm clothing for each family member. Include extra socks, and underwear. Include walking shoes.
- Warmth & Shelter
Coats, hats, scarves, and gloves for everyone include warm blankets (wool or emergency blankets are best). Rain ponchos, garbage bags, and/or umbrellas to keep off the rain. Warm Packs or other heat source. Pup tent or tarp.
- Light Source
Flashlight with extra batteries or a chemical lightstick. Kerosene lanterns are fine, but any flame may pose a hazard, especially near potential gas leaks. Have at least two quick and safe light sources in your kit.
- Tools
Pocket knife, lightweight shovel, duct tape, matches, pocket sewing kit, screwdriver.
- Important Papers
Important family documents (such as birth certificates, marriage certificates, insurance forms, wills), addresses and phone numbers of relatives, and places to meet if separated.
- Money
Keep at last $20 in your kit. Be sure to include quarters for phone calls, etc.
- First Aid Supplies
Pain relievers, bandages, antiseptics, clean cloths, burn ointment. Include any personal medications.
- Special Needs
For babies: diapers, ointment, bottles & pacifiers, hand towels, special foods, and other supplies as needed. Consider the needs of elderly people as well as those with handicaps or other special needs.
- Stress Relievers
Card games, books, small hobbies, hard candy, Bible. For children: small toys, paper and pen, favorite security items.
- Communications
Portable radio with batteries, signal mirrors, whistles, red flags, signal flares.
- Personal Sanitation
Sanitary napkins, razors, toothbrush, hand soap, dish soap, towels, toilet paper.
- Portable Container
Such as a book bag, backpack, or duffel bag. Should be easy to carry and lightweight. Shoulder straps are best for traveling long distances.
- Additional Items
Added as carrying weight and expense of kit will allow: Extra food, camp stove and cooking equipment, tents, sleeping bags, sun block, insect repellent, portable toilet.
