PREPARE TODAY FOR AN UNCERTAIN TOMORROW

1/26/97 CORT CHRISTIE

Today's debt-driven economy will not last forever and planning for the inevitable should be a part of everyone's financial planning. By taking the time to consider just how the debt load of this country will effect each of us personally we will find that most of us have not positioned ourselves for the coming economic crisis. Nevada Corporations can provide you and your assets with privacy and protection so that when the economic tide turns you will be safe and dry.

PRIVACY OF YOUR AFFAIRS.

Nevada statutes have developed a corporate structure unlike any other state. The preferred state to incorporate in for years has been Delaware. You will find many of your Fortune 500 corporations residing in Delaware, but Nevada created their corporate statutes based on Delaware and went further. They created their corporate structure to allow investors and owners of Nevada Corporations to remain completely private. First of all, most states in this country require you to publicly file the name and address of a corporation's Directors, Officers, and Stockholders. This information can then be publicly accessed usually via a brief telephone call to the Secretary of State's Office in the state of incorporation. Well Nevada, in an attempt to create a private corporate shelter, only requires the name of the corporation's President, Secretary, and Treasurer (not Vice President[s]) and the corporations Directors. The state does not wish to know who the investors or stockholders of the corporation are. This makes Nevada the preferred state for incorporation.

PROTECT YOUR PROPERTIES.

There are many, many advantages today for holding real estate in a corporation. Corporations allow owners of real estate privacy and asset protection. This can make all the difference when that lawsuit comes up or when the IRS decides to make you their next victim for whatever reason (usually they don't need one). What you will find with most large land holders, is that they will never hold property in their own name. If they do, they have not been in the game for very long.

Liability risk should be on the minds of everyone today. It has become common today for the court to say that a motorist involved in an accident, who has no fault in that accident, can be partially responsible. If an injury occurs on a property the injured party will usually sue the owner of the property. If the owner of that property has all assets in the same name, all of those assets could potentially be lost in the suit. Lawsuits need to be a concern of everyone today. Real estate held in a corporation can spread out your risk to the point where judgments against you, as an individual, cannot be easily attached to a corporation. If a suit comes up against your corporation, all that the suing party can go after are those assets held in the corporation's name. This can be some valuable insulation!

A corporation also offers great privacy and can provide you the cover for owning real estate and remaining hidden. With the protection that Nevada allows to corporation owners, it can be very hard to determine the ownership of a corporation. Let's use this story as an example: Three partners were the owners of an apartment complex and the partners were in constant disagreement. One of the partners with the financial ability made an offer to the other partners to buy them out. The other partners were being given a very good price for their share, but would not sell because they did not want to sell their shares to the other partner; ego differences, I believe. So the other partner, being crafty, created a corporation and hired a man to represent it. This unknown corporation then came in and made an offer to all of these partners. The partner/owner of the corporation put on a good show and said that he didn't want to sell out but would if the other partners decided that it was a good deal. This allowed the one partner to buy the complex for about the same price without having the other partners know that they just sold to him. This same strategy can work for you in your day-to-day life. Isn't it true that people who appear to have a lot, will attract attention and trouble? This is an unfortunate situation but it is true. Keeping a low profile can make your life much more peaceful.

Real estate held in a corporation keeps the focus off of you and on this unknown corporation. Normally, no one will know who the owner of the corporation is. Just always remember the saying, "I just work here", or in this case, "I just represent Big Corporation In The Sky, Inc.", and play dumb. It's fun and taking this approach works. You will disappear and this new name will show up everywhere you used to be spotlighted.

Many states now have statutes where real estate that is sold is automatically reappraised (Calif. Prop. 13). Well, if a corporation is the owner of the real estate, and you sell your property by selling your shares of stock in that corporation, the deed on the property is never changed. This sale of personal property (the stock), not real estate, would never be recorded and therefore, no reappraisal! Now if every Californian who has seen his real estate value grow and grow could offer a buyer a corporation for sale, that would be a very nice incentive to pay a higher price. This strategy has many implications with the tax system also.

For these and many other reasons, holding real estate in a corporation can be very beneficial. By protecting what you own, you can save a tremendous amount in the long run. Plan today for the unexpected tomorrow.

It's Tax Free Nevada (The last of the "safe havens")

If you're looking for the benefits that incorporating has to offer, such as limiting your personal liability, increasing tax-free benefits, and raising capital through the sale of stock—taking just 5 minutes of your time to explore the benefits of forming a Nevada Corporation could save you and your company thousands of dollars.

AMENDMENT FEVER HITS CONGRESS

Excerpted from THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 1/12/97, [quoting:]

An epidemic of constitutional amendment fever is spreading in the corridors of the 105th Congress.

At least two proposed amendments appear to have a healthy chance of winning approval in both House and Senate. One amendment would require that the federal budget be balanced except in certain circumstances and the other would ban flag burning.

A third proposal with wide appeal would broaden the rights of crime victims.

Prospects are less certain for amendments that would limit lawmakers' terms, require a two-thirds congressional vote to raise taxes, allow prayer in public schools and limit spending in political campaigns.

"We're in a new stage of amendment fever," said Kathleen Sullivan, a constitutional law professor at Stanford University. "For the first time in at least 20 years, there are a high number of amendments being taken seriously."

Sullivan is one who thinks the Constitution shouldn't be changed casually.

"The Constitution should not be used as a bargaining chip for short-run political gains," Sullivan said. "It was intended", as Chief Justice Marshall once said, "to endure for the ages to come". That's why the framers made amendments so difficult because they wanted to restrain us from writing this year's polls into the Constitution.

"The Constitution has this kind of a mystical civic force that is the one thing we all agree upon as the bedrock of our system."

Oddly, many of the proposed amendments are being pushed by Republicans, who usually take a more cautious approach to changing the Constitution.

"One of the ironies has been that the ascendancy of the conservative party to the majority has led to a proliferation of amendments, which is the very antithesis of conservatism," said Thomas E. Mann, a Brookings Institution scholar. [Just another one of the Elite's play on words to fool "us slaves" since both parties are CONTROLLED BY THE ELITE.]

But, he added, "It's a way to advance objectives that can't be achieved in any other ways [especially if they are malevolent, dastardly and selfish objectives as are the Elite's plans.]"

Of the 11,000 amendments proposed since the Constitution was drafted more than 200 years ago, only 33 passed Congress and only 27 of those were ratified by the states. [End quoting]

I certainly hope you start working overtime writing letters to, phoning and faxing Congress to bring a halt in the Elite's attempt to replace our Constitution with their CONSTITUTION OF INTERDEPENDENCE OF ALL THE WORLD'S PEOPLE UNDER THEIR NEW WORLD ORDER.

DOCTOR: ASSISTED DEATH A 'MORTAL DANGER'

Excerpted from THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 1/11/97, [quoting:]

About 10 percent of the physician-assisted suicides in the Netherlands over 27 years were not voluntary, a Dutch doctor has told a jury in a lawsuit challenging Florida's ban on assisted suicide.

The trial was expected to go to the jury Monday. A man with AIDS says in a lawsuit he wants to have a doctor help him die.

Assisted suicide "is out of control" in the Netherlands, testified Dr. Richard Finegsen, a Dutch cardiologist. "It is a terrible and totally unnecessary act—a mortal danger to our civilization."

He said a government-sponsored report in 1991 found that about 1,000 of the 11,800 physician-assisted deaths of terminally ill patients were cases where people had not given their consent.

And only 28 percent of the voluntary deaths were reported to the government and none of the doctors reported involuntary deaths of terminally ill patients, he said.

"Dutch doctors don't like paperwork," Finegsen said. He has written several books on physician-assisted suicide.

The study depended upon physicians being able to remain anonymous in the report.

Charles Hall, a 35-year-old Beverly Hills man who is dying of AIDS complications, is asking a judge for the right to die an assisted death.

Dr. Cecil McIver of Jupiter is seeking immunity from prosecution if he helps hasten Hall's death.

People assisting in suicide in Florida can get 15 years in prison.

Finegsen said the Netherlands requires terminally ill patients to make an explicit written statement to the physician that their choice of suicide is voluntary.

Other rules, he said, are: The family must be consulted; a second doctor must be consulted; the only cases that are legal are when the suffering is unbearable; and the death must be reported to the government.

Hall's attorney, Robert Rivas, objected to the testimony on the basis that what happens in the Netherlands is irrelevant to Hall's case. [End quoting]

His testimony is certainly an excellent example of what will be or is already happening here.

Can you imagine how easy it will be to buy the murder of your enemies or someone who has what you want?

The government is already using this method—ill or healthy—at their pleasure, and you want to now put it into the hands of ANY doctor??

NICOTINE, COCAINE: SWISS SCIENTISTS NOTE SIMILARITY

Excerpted from THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 1/12/97, [quoting:]

Nicotine appears to stimulate brain cells in nearly the same way that cocaine does, new research finds. Scientists at the drug company Glaxo-Wellcome in Geneva studied laboratory rats that received cocaine and nicotine for two weeks. By measuring proteins produced by genes activated in the brain, the researchers found that the two drugs appear to stimulate those areas in nearly identical patterns. Neal Benowitz, a nicotine researcher at the University of California at San Francisco, said the research adds a new level of support for the idea that while nicotine and cocaine have different effects, they are very similar drugs. [End quoting]

If you add to the above information that they add cocaine to cigarette paper you'll begin to understand why it's so hard to break the habit—I'm talking from experience. With God's help, I made it a number of years back.

ENERGY PRICES LOW, O'LEARY SAYS

Excerpted from THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 1/20/97, [quoting:]

The price of energy is artificially depressed in this country, Energy Secretary Hazel O'Leary said in an interview on the eve of her departure from office, and Americans will not be serious about conservation or energy independence until they pay more or there is another shock.

She said she tried within the constraints of the budget to nurture alternative fuel and energy technologies. The prevailing view, she said, is that "somehow, miraculously, the market will present itself" for technologies like fuel cells. [End quoting]

What a bunch of propaganda!!

CONTACT has given you much information on free energy devices lately. Is this more damage control??—repeating their big lies often enough to convince us to willingly pay higher and higher fuel costs.

O'Leary even gives us a VEILED THREAT of a near term energy crisis.

THERE IS NO ENERGY OR POTENTIAL ENERGY SHORTAGE AND NEVER HAS BEEN. WE MOST DEFINITELY HAVE A DIRE SHORTAGE OF HONEST LEADERS!! HOW MUCH LONGER ARE WE GOING TO PUT UP WITH THIS??

How many of you who have read our articles on free energy have been on the phones, faxes, E-mail or been writing letters to our leaders??

TRAFFICKING IN HUMAN ORGANS

October 1996: Xavier Gautier, an investigative journalist for the French newspaper Le Figaro, found dead, hanging by the neck in Yugoslavia, had been investigating "alleged trafficking in human organs taken from specially selected and executed Bosnian prisoners of war." I have previously pointed to this worldwide organ traffic, but have been told it's an "urban folk tale". [Many people are being murdered around the world—for their organs.]

CLINTON ELECTED BY ONLY 24 PERCENT

November 1996: Bill Clinton is re-elected President. 49 percent of the electorate actually votes and of that 49 percent, 49 percent vote for Clinton. This means that only 24 percent of the electorate actually voted for Clinton [emphasis mine]. for those not good at math, look at it like this: suppose 100 people are eligible to vote, but only 49 of them do so. Of those 49 only 49 percent vote for Clinton. 49 percent of that 49 is 24. [Call that a victory??]

Dogging Clinton's heels well be Rep. Dan Burton (R-Ind.) who will replace Rep. William Clinger as chair of the House Government Reform and Oversight Committee. Says Burton, who publicly doubts the credibility of the Vince Foster "suicide" investigation, "Nobody's above the law. We're going to be diligent in finding out if there was wrongdoing and if anyone should be prosecuted."

Let's hope that Burton is really out to get to the bottom of things [Don't hold your breath!!], which if Clinton is innocent will work to his benefit as well. [End quoting]

THE VERY LARGE TELESCOPE

From POPULAR SCIENCE MAGAZINE, Feb. 1997, [quoting:]

The very large telescope, [see picture at bottom of page] to be completed in the Chilean Andes by the end of the decade, will need very large mirrors. In fact, its four mirrors, each measuring 8.2 meters [approximately 27 feet] in diameter, are the largest in the world. After formation with a new spin-casting technique, the mirrors required cooling for several months. The European Southern Observatory will use the telescope to look far back into the universe's past. [End quoting]

This is quite an amazing feat to accomplish. I sure wish I could look through this telescope—how about you? Of course nowadays they don't look through the large telescopes—they use computer monitors. Everything is computerized.

COMPUTER ATTACKS SHOW NEW PATTERNS

Excerpted from PC MAGAZINE, 2/4/97, [quoting:]

In a report, a law-enforcement consultant describes a scenario that's enough to make your hair curl. Apparently, if a virus is hidden in a Java program on a Web page on your server, unbeknownst to you, and someone downloads the virus, your server can legally be the target of a wiretap and a search warrant. Worse, according to the source, the title [of ownership?] of your computer can be transferred to the government as soon as a hacker uses it to commit a crime. Use a computer. Go directly to jail. [End quoting]

One way or another, the Elite will try to control all computer use to bring in their New World Order. Worldwide communications have to be gotten under their control.

A CIA FUNDING OPERATION by Gene "Chip" Tatum

Excerpted from CONSPIRACY NATION newsletter, Vol. 9 No. 93, 1/12/97, e-mail: <bigred@shout.net>, [quoting:]

STEP 1:

Find a depository which fits the following criteria:

1. Large cash reserves.
2. Much of the cash reserves should represent deposits from an illegal activity (i.e.: drug transactions). For this example we will use Banco Nacional de Panama, a reserve depository which is protected by Manuel Noriega. The depositor will be Pablo Escobar. Finding the proper depository would be the function of the CIA, and in this example we will use William Casey.

STEP 2:

Arrange for a loan from this depository. We will use the name of George Bush in this example for the person obtaining the loan.

We will use the amount of $8 billion for this example. Sometimes the depository will not be very cooperative. If this occurs, the CIA will coerce or intimidate the depository officials into cooperating. Ultimately, the loan will be made.

STEP 3:

Split the loan proceeds in half. One half ($4 billion) will be sent to Iran to purchase "super bills" at the rate of two "super bills" for one authentic bill. Thus, $4 billion in cash buys $8 billion in "super bills". (NOTE: A "super bill" is a perfectly counterfeited U.S. bill. These bills are printed by an Intaglio press which was sold to the Shah of Iran in the late '60s, early '70s.

The Shah was also given the plates, ink and paper necessary to successfully print U.S. dollars in large denominations. This was given to the Shah by the CIA. (Unfortunately, the Shah left the press, plates, ink and paper for the Iranian Revolutionary Councils when he fled in late 1978.)

The second half of the loan ($4 billion) will be sent to a CIA launderer selected by the CIA (Casey) for his or her ability to move large sums of money around the world as a matter of ordinary business. For this example we will use the name of Nana DeBusia. (DeBusia is the grandson of Guyana's first democratic leader and owner of many U.S. and foreign banks.)

STEP 4:

Repay original loan to depository in "super bills." (Give Banco Nacional de Panama $8 billion in "super bills" to replace the authentic currency it loaned.) These "super bills" are placed in the reserve vault and, as long as they are not withdrawn by the depositor, their existence will not jeopardize the value of the U.S. dollar. But, because they are perfect in every way, to put the "super bills" in circulation would eventually devalue the U.S. dollar by flooding the monetary marketplace with U.S. currency.

STEP 5:

Arrange to sell Iran something of value for [in order to recover] the authentic currency used to purchase the "super bills". In this example, we will use arms, ammunition and replacement parts for military equipment. (We will use the name Oliver North as the example of a person arranging the sale of arms to Iran.) In other words, the CIA now arranges to sell Iran $4 billion worth of arms and equipment in order to get the original $4 billion of authentic currency back. Now, the CIA has $4 billion to use in funding covert activities without relying on Congressional authority and funding. If caught, the CIA can report the source of funds as being from an arms transaction with Iran.

STEP 6:

Ensure that the "super bills" are not withdrawn. This is done through the process of neutralization of the depositor.

Neutralization is the use of intimidation, coercion or termination. In this example, Pablo Escobar is killed.

STEP 7:

This CIA launderer in possession of one-half of the original loan proceeds is moving his $4 billion through a maze of banks which are cooperative with both the launderer and the CIA. For this example, we will use the following trail of deposits to banks: a bank in Spain; the Vatican Bank; banks in Luxembourg.

Then the launderer wires from his London offices $3.8 billion in laundered monies to private numbered accounts being controlled by the original architects. The launderer keeps $200 million for his job well done, leaving the $3.8 billion in the numbered accounts.

STEP 8:

Neutralize the CIA launderer. In this example Nana DeBusia was indicted by the U.S. on 32 counts to include bank fraud. The CIA stepped up in his behalf and stated that it would not be in the best interest of the U.S. to prosecute DeBusia. He was facing several hundred years in prison if convicted. He was subsequently acquitted on all counts.

CIA TALLY

$4 billion for use in unauthorized black ops* (*black operations are those covert operations performed without the knowledge or authority of Congress.)

$3.8 billion in private numbered accounts controlled by the architects of the funding operation

SUMMARY OF THE EXAMPLE

To summarize the example, the Director of the CIA, William Casey, approached the Ex-Director of the CIA and current Vice President of the United States [at the time of Reagan Presidency], George Bush, with the name of a vulnerable depository, the Banco Nacional de Panama. Vice President Bush then arranged for a short term loan of $8 billion.

Bush arranged for $4 billion to go to Iran to purchase super bills and $4 billion to go to Nana DeBusia to be laundered into several private accounts. He (Bush) commissioned Oliver North to oversee the Iranian connection. North delivered $4 billion in U.S. currency to Iran. Iran gave North $8 billion in super bills in exchange for the $4 billion in good U.S. currency. North then delivered the $8 billion in super bills back to the Banco Nacional de Panama. The loan transaction is now complete.

There is $8 billion in super bills in the reserve vaults of the Banco Nacional de Panama, there is $4 billion in authentic U.S. currency in the hands of the Iranians, and there is $4 billion in good currency with CIA launderer Nana DeBusia.

North sells the Iranians military hardware and parts for the amount of $4 billion and diverts a portion of the proceeds to the Contras of Nicaragua (Iran/Contra).

Nana DeBusia, in the meantime, is laundering the deposits of $4 billion through various banks, including the Vatican's bank in Italy. After several successful banking transactions, DeBusia presents $3.8 billion in the sound deposits to numbered accounts in various locations.

When the funding operation is complete, there is $4 billion in CIA accounts to be utilized for covert and black operations; there is $3.8 billion in private numbered accounts controlled by George Bush and William Casey. Pablo Escobar, the primary depositor is dead to ensure no one will withdraw the super bills. General Noriega is in U.S. federal prison and under constant U.S. guard to ensure his silence, and William Casey is dead, leaving $3.8 billion in good U.S. currency in the control of George Bush.

ity of Japanese (particularly those on Okinawa) would like to see the 47,000 American troops still stationed there go home, they can relax. The Japanese establishment has just found a new, socially useful function for those unwanted Marines. All those who manage to get themselves killed in the line of duty (or because they got drunk and drove too fast), and who wind up dead at military hospitals, can soon donate their organs to Japanese citizens.

The Japanese themselves have been debating a law that would permit their own citizens to donate parts after death. But such a law would involve accepting the standard of "brain death"—the legal definition of death in the United States. A committee of Japanese legal, medical, religious and other experts met over several years to discuss this issue without coming to a unanimous conclusion.

A friend who was a member of this deliberation group once told me he had thought the major objections would come from the Buddhist clergy because of their belief that the soul takes three days to leave the body by which time organs can no longer be harvested. But the major objection was raised by liberal Japanese lawyers who pointed out that Japan is a group-oriented society with a strong sense of "inner" and "outer" groups. They raised fears that a definition of brain death might lead doctors to make socially convenient decisions, such as "pulling the plug" on a homeless person.

In the absence of a brain-death law, rich Japanese who need kidney, cornea or other transplants have been traveling to the Philippines or the United States to get them. But now Japanese doctors would like to use organs that the five U.S. military hospitals in Japan are willing to make available. Well, I suppose it's nice to know the Marines are considered good for something in Japan.

But the absurdities of the United States' insistence that we must maintain these forward-deployed troops at all costs (rather than arranging for access to Japanese ports for our naval vessels) does not end here. A meeting was recently held in Washington to discuss Prime Minister Ryutaro Hashimoto's promise to develop Okinawa as a free-trade zone and turn it into "a second" Hong Kong.

A State Department spokesman said at this meeting, "It would be an unnecessary complication to in any way raise U.S. commercial interests" as part of the ongoing U.S. effort to retain military basing rights on Okinawa. In other words, the United States continues to "delink" economic and military matters where Japan is concerned. This means, among other things, that we are defending a nation to which we are going into debt.

It also means that whenever we do finally get tossed out of Okinawa—and this is likely to occur sooner than anyone in the Pentagon would like to think—we will have no economic leverage, no business concerns in place to take a piece of the new action.

When President Clinton attends the APEC summit on Nov. 25, it will be at the former U.S. naval base at Subic Bay. The Americans were thrown out of Subic in 1992, after a large majority vote of the Philippine Senate. The Pentagon had said that the 7th Fleet could not survive without the Philippine facility, but it seems to have managed.

The Pentagon also swore that the Filipinos would be sorry when they lost all those base jobs. But instead, Subic Bay has become a thriving free-trade zone, an Asian hub for Federal Express and other international concerns. This is exactly what Gov. Masahide Ota intends to achieve for Okinawa.

But meanwhile, by all means let us supply body parts to the Japanese. They seem to be more acceptable than California rice, Florida oranges or Detroit automobiles. [End quoting]

Greedy, evil people will take or steal anything to maintain their lifestyle.

Cold, Diabolical Truth Behind Emerging Viruses

with CONTACT readers. That interview took place by telephone on Jan. 14, 1997.

Martin: Let me just begin by thanking you on behalf of all CONTACT readers for the invaluable work you are doing in exposing the tremendously diabolical and, unfortunately successful, cover-up concerning the despicable development of viruses such as AIDS and EBOLA.

It was a pleasure to meet with you and listen to your presentation at the Pasadena Natural Health Show this past weekend. As you indicated in your talk, AIDS and EBOLA are just the tip of the iceberg with respect to retroviruses that are available and, indeed, being utilized in many contaminated vaccines.

Dr. Len Horowitz

We have a lot of ground that I want to cover with you, and since we have published literally hundreds of pages of information on the development of AIDS, as well as extensive interviews with Joyce Riley and Peter Kawaja, in addition to printing voluminous material on the very key issue of depopulation of a planet, I would like you to begin by giving a fairly brief general introduction to what you are currently trying to expose, and then there are some very specific questions I would like you to expand on in great detail.

So, let's begin with, generally, what is the main topic of Emerging Viruses: AIDS & EBOLA?

Dr. Horowitz: It's the man-made origin of AIDS and EBOLA. It's virtually who made these viruses, when they made these types of virus, how they made them. Because most people could never imagine this to be true, we've reprinted the government contracts so you even how much the bioengineers were paid for this type of research. And the purpose of the book is to take a very close look at what we are doing in biotechnology, what we are doing in vaccines, vaccinations—take a very close look at those people we've entrusted with our health and safety and ask some very serious questions, such as: Are we bringing ourselves death and disease by trusting the people that we've been trusting? And, the book's purpose, in the long range political sense, is to develop a grass-roots effort to raise public awareness to act at state, local, and federal levels to, essentially, take an issue that has been virtually covered up and have a solid, independent Congressional investigation into all of the published facts; into analyses of the vaccine lots; into FDA reforms, so that the FDA is allowed to tell health scientists the truth about what the risks are associated with vaccines, so that they can then tell health professionals and the public to call for an investigation of the vaccine lots that, most plausibly, spread AIDS to the world; to call for look-back studies into the populations who received these contaminated vaccines and, in that effort, hopefully bring the truth to light. And I say hopefully because, in the past, these types of efforts, even after they've gotten to Congress, have been either censored or Congressional investigating committees have been—particularly in this area of biological weapons—directed by the Rockefellers and the Rockefeller Foundation and the Rockefellers' committees investigating these type of things, and that's like putting the wolf in charge of the chicken coop.

So what the purpose of the book is—and I think also, there is kind of like a subtle, I guess spiritual purpose to the book—the purpose is to not only help save lives but to look at the issue of man's inhumanity towards man, and to recognize that the people that are really at the very top of all of this appear to be extremely evil. Not only, in my opinion, are they blinded by ideology, in a sense, this appears to be, to many people whom I've consulted with, a symptom of the forces of good vs. the forces of evil on the planet. And it is really playing out, very interestingly now and very quickly now, to what appears to have been predicted for centuries now with the prophecies, as well as what the Book of Revelation discusses. In fact I tell people, after reading the book Emerging Viruses: AIDS & EBOLA, to go back and reread the Book of Revelation, particularly Chapter 18. And the parallels are so striking that even scientists who understand the scriptures and who understand, who have at least dabbled in the Bible, have to come to a conclusion that it is very plausible that what we are witnessing here has been truly predicted and this is really God's Plan unfolding. And I think that that is a purpose, also, that has very uplifting benefits.

The three reasons why the book is extremely important in terms of uncovering and disclosing the true origin of AIDS & EBOLA is, number one, sociological. The people who have been blamed for this epidemic, the Gays and the Blacks have clearly been wronged. They have been wrongly blamed. They have been persecuted. They have taken on the guilt and the shame associated with this disease, to some extent, which has reduced their self-esteem and, in essence, has reduced their immunocapacity to even fight off infectious diseases. That's a part of a very large picture of this illness. So, to tell the truth about the origin can help sociologically for healing.

Secondly, scientifically, if you know the origin of AIDS and, very clearly, one of the research projects that I failed to mention is also—besides testing the vaccines for contamination and doing look-back studies—we could actually reproduce the circumstances under which these early laboratory experiments were taking place, recombine the viruses that they were recombining, and look and see what the relationships are to the simian-immuno deficiency viruses, which are related to HIV and HIVs, HIV-1 and HIV-2. So, that type of research, Dr. W. John Martin would like to do and is in the current process of writing up a grant proposal to do that. And the purpose, ultimately, is to help develop treatments because if you know the gene sequences and you know how they came together, and you're now in the research science beginning to learn the specific amino-acid sequences that relate to specific molecular changes within the cell that are causing disease—so, there is hope that you could develop therapies, be they genetic therapies, be they other therapies. So, that's—scientifically, I think it's an important question also, and I think I have a fair consensus in the scientific community about that.

The next reason is, ethical and moral. Number one, if this epidemic began (which in my opinion it did) through contaminated vaccines and through sloppy science, and perhaps even by intent, then there is no doubt in my mind that learning that truth could help, not only help reduce the spread of AIDS as it may be continuing to be spread, both through accidental contamination of vaccines, as well as, perhaps intent. Then you could help reduce the epidemic by telling the truth about it and finding the facts about its origin.

Martin: Speaking of evil, let's talk about one of your favorite people, Dr. Robert Gallo, and I do say that literally with tongue-in-cheek. Who is Dr. Gallo and why is he so important to the American public?

Dr. Horowitz: Rick, let me just finish my one last comment. Is that alright?

Martin: Sure.

Dr. Horowitz: The last part was the ethical and moral.

Martin: Yes.

Dr. Horowitz: So, and that fits into the spiritual. Martin: Yes, it certainly does.

Dr. Horowitz: That's exactly my concern, the Big Picture. The people who have perpetrated this, be they blind scientists working for the government or Satanic forces...

Martin: Right.

Dr. Horowitz: ...working for Satan...

Martin: Yes.

Dr. Horowitz: They really have to be exposed and they really need to take responsibility, and they need to be accountable. And, I mean, I'm not looking for blood. I'm just looking for the truth and to stop what appears to be so insane. And that's a spiritual quest, and that's why I'm really—what's moving me to do this work.

Now, with regard to Dr. Gallo, you want to know about Dr. Gallo?

Martin: Yes, in detail.

Dr. Horowitz: [Laughing.] Well, I can tell you the story about what happened at the 11th International Conference on AIDS in Vancouver, if you like?

Martin: Sure.

Dr. Horowitz: During that conference I was invited to participate and ask Dr. Gallo questions in an Open Forum that he was conducting.

Martin: Now, for our readers who don't know who he is, who is Dr. Gallo?

world's preeminent retrovirologist, expert in retroviruses. He used to work at the National Cancer Institute, and now he's been given the Institute for Human Virology at the University of Baltimore or affiliated with the University of Baltimore, in Maryland. This scientist, allegedly, discovered or codiscovered the AIDS virus with Dr. Luc Montagnier from the Pasteur Institute. What ultimately was shown is that Dr. Gallo committed, at minimum, scientific misconduct, and more likely, scientific fraud in cloning Dr. Montagnier's isolate. People in Gallo's lab and Gallo cloned the isolate that Montagnier had discovered, and then called it his. And then he decided that this viruses was in his family of discovered retroviruses, the HTLV-1, 2, and he called the AIDS viruses, initially, HTLV-3. France ended up suing the United States for about a decade. The lawsuit was not so long ago settled and, as a result, France is now sharing the royalties with Dr. Gallo and the Americans.

At the 11th International Conference on AIDS, knowing that Gallo and his research affiliate at Litton Bionetics Research Laboratory—whose laboratory operations were active both in the Bethesda area, as well as Northwest Uganda.

Martin: Litton is one of my questions further down but they're all linked, so keep on talking.

Dr. Horowitz: Well, Litton Bionetics is a subsidiary or was a subsidiary, actually it still exists, it is a subsidiary—actually, it's no longer Litton, they've sold it. They sold parts of it to Medpath—they are a very large laboratory organization, and Medpath, I believe, is still owned by Dow Chemical or Dow Corning. They were a subsidiary at the time of the mega military weapons contracting firm, Litton Industries, at the time Litton was vying for 6th and 7th place of the world military market providers. They were—they are currently 11th. Litton Industries is currently the 11th top military weapons supplier for the world.

And so Dr. Gallo worked with these folks at the National Cancer Institute and what they did—I'm sorry—at Litton Bionetics AND the National Cancer Institute, and what they did is they took monkey viruses that were considered human benign and they recombined them with virtually every animal cancer virus known, and there were many. Among the things that they recombined were viruses such as feline leukemia, virus RNA, and chicken leukemia sarcoma virus RNA, they combined these with monkey viruses and then—chicken leukemia virus RNA, for example, caused immune suppression, wasting and death. And, of course, cat leukemia virus RNA produced a laundry list of symptoms virtually identical to what AIDS patients suffer from, and then, even at that point, that virus could not infect humans. It needed another major mutation before it could do that. And now you're going to begin to see why it was Dr. Robert Gallo's speculation that it was an African Green Monkey that bit a man, or was eaten by a human being. And then, of course, there were other rumors that men began to have sex with African Green Monkeys the size of chickens. Now you're going to see why all of that was totally ridiculous, scientific hogwash, because to get this mutant virus, to get these recombinant or what we call hybrid viruses to infect humans and go from monkey to humans, they cultured it in human white blood cells in some studies, in human fetal tissue cells in culture in other studies, so that it would adapt. You know, it would develop the GT-120 proteins on the external envelope, it would develop perhaps not the specific proteins but very similar GP-120-like proteins, on the external envelope, so that it could attach to the human cells, be carried across the cell membranes, enter the gene of the cell and then do virtually everything that the AIDS virus does. Now knowing that, and then knowing how most plausibly the AIDS epidemic began was through the 1974 experimental hepatitis B vaccine that was developed, partially, in Litton Bionetics-supplied contaminated chimpanzees and Rhesus monkeys, and that this vaccine was tested simultaneously in 200,000 human subjects in New York City and Central Africa by 1974. I went to this conference wherein Dr. Gallo was speaking and I asked Dr. Gallo a question. And that was, "Dr. Gallo, are you at all concerned that your early research in taking monkey viruses, such as SV40, in the presence of Simian foamy retrovirus contaminants"—and Simian foamy retrovirus contaminants, Dr. Gallo knew, contain that unique enzyme called reverse transcriptase which, virtually, makes the AIDS virus work. And then I said, "and then recombining these viruses with cancer viruses, such as feline leukemia virus RNA and chicken leukemia sarcoma virus RNA, and then culturing them in human white blood cells in some studies, and human fetal tissue cells in culture in other studies, might have given rise to the AIDS virus or its progenitors, which might have contaminated vaccines by way of contaminated monkeys and chimpanzees shipped by your colleagues at Litton Bionetics to the vaccine manufacturers at Merck, Sharp & Dohme."

Well, to make, I guess, a short story even briefer, he got very angry with me. He told me that he never did this work; he couldn't have done this work, and that I need to go back and get a grade 101-level of biologic science training, high-school level.

Martin: Did Gallo really say to you that AIDS was an accident?

Dr. Horowitz: When I pressed him, when I pressed him on my thesis and I said, "You mean to say it's not possible"—now this was on July 30 during a conversation, he phoned me.

Martin: Was that last year?

Dr. Horowitz: That's last year [1996], and he allowed me to tape it. And I think probably for your readers it might be best if I stop here, go out to my camper, get the specific quote, and then call you back with it, so you get it right.

Martin: That's fine.

Dr. Horowitz: Ok, give me two minutes. [Then, after a pause:] Ok, recording?

Martin: Yes.

Dr. Horowitz: Specifically, with regard to the response, when I pressed him on it and I said, "So there's absolutely no possibility these types of experiments, and not necessarily in your lab, present the building blocks where hybrids were being created that might have given rise to the HIVs?"

Dr. Gallo replied, quote, "No. I cannot say no to you. I don't say no to you. I said that we don't have any virus that we know of that has homology to HIV-1, to say this became HIV-1 except for the monkey virus SIV or the human virus HIV-2, which is essentially exactly the same as the strain of SIV. We just don't have any virus that has those sequences in it. Now, if you say to me, could it be an unidentified virus that mixed with A, with B, with C, then I would say, yes, that's possible." End quote.

Then, a little bit later on in the conversation—let's see if I have that quote here, too—I have that in another document.

Martin: That's ok, I have quite a long list of questions.

Dr. Horowitz: In essence, what he said was this, with regard to the accident: When we were discussing the plausibility of the theory that I have advanced, though he said that he could not argue with it, he did say that I was barking up the wrong tree, but that he could tell me, even more plausibly, how it might have happened by accident, at that time. Now, that is not a direct quote. That is, virtually....

Martin: Paraphrase?

Dr. Horowitz: Paraphrase, yes. I have the direct quote in another document.

Martin: What is DNA provirus menu? And then, also, endonuclease?

Dr. Horowitz: Well, in very simple terms, what DNA provirus means, it is virtually the result of a very unGodly procedure. It is—virtually God created all of human life, the natural, healthy cells to operate based on taking the blueprint of life called DNA, and from that developing RNA, messenger RNA and transfer RNA, to play a major role in protein manufacture within the cell to help the cell develop health cell structures and healthy new cells. After you get infected with this retrovirus, this unique enzyme, reverse transcriptase, virtually calls for life to operate in reverse. It calls for the making of provirus DNA by transcribing the RNA that the virus provides. So it's virtually a backwards process of life. And so you have the term reverse transcriptase to describe the enzyme. And this provirus DNA is then aided by another enzyme that the virus delivers called endonuclease. It's a scissors-like enzyme that cuts open the normal gene sequence within the healthy cell and allows this foreign destructive provirus DNA to be inserted into God's magnificent, perfect creation. And so then what happens is that as the cell now tries to reproduce itself, it reads the blueprint of life and it gets fooled. Instead of developing only healthy new cell structures, it begins to develop viruses, and new AIDS viruses, as well. And these viruses then bud-off of the white blood cells. In doing so, they take little pieces of the outside proteins off the healthy, or now infected, white blood cells, and the body mounts an immune response, develops antibodies not only to fight off the viruses but, it again gets fooled because little pieces of the normal cells are attached to the viruses, which now the body recognizes as foreign. And that becomes, then, an autoimmune disease which is why, in most cases, antibodies are helpful to fight off diseases. With AIDS, the antibodies are formed against the normal body's white blood cells. And that's why, although you may have only one out of thousands of T-cells infected with the AIDS virus, which is one of Dr. Peter Duesburg's arguments, one of the major ones....

Martin: We'll get into him in a minute here.

Dr. Horowitz: Ok. But, now you see, you have the entire immune system generating antibodies against your normal white blood cells. So, you know, you really have a major problem going on that is not just associated with an AIDS virus infection, it's associated with anything that can reduce your immuno-capacity or immune-resistance. That's why the AIDS virus infection is a cofactor in the disease process.

Martin: Good answer. Why is the date Feb. 12, 1962, so significant?

Dr. Horowitz: That is the day that the Litton Bionetics Research Contract began for NIH Contract 712025, titled The Investigation of Viral Carcinogenesis in Primates, and primates, of course, are monkeys AND humans. And that day is extremely important because that's the day that Litton began the project under which numerous AIDS-like and EBOLA-like viruses were developed, and that all of this was conducted under a highly funded, largely secret, cancer research program that predated Nixon's war on cancer by a decade. And it was called The Special Virus Cancer Program. And that program was the direct result of well over 100 million human beings being inoculated with Salk and Sabin's polio vaccines that the authorities realized had just delivered cancer viruses.

Martin: Now, this was in Africa we're talking about?

Dr. Horowitz: No, all over the world, particularly Russia. Mostly in Russia. The trials for the polio vaccines continued largely in Russia, but in other areas also—also in America. By 1960-61, we were already administering the Sabin vaccines in tests, and we were delivering—our authorities were delivering—Simian Virus 40, Simian Foamy Retroviruses, Herpes Viruses from monkeys such as cytomegalovirus, such as Epstein Barr viruses, those are some of the viruses that are associated with chronic fatigue. And they were delivering these viruses and the authorities at Merck, Sharp, & Dohme and the National Institute of Health, particularly Maurice Hilleman, went to Sabin during a meeting, and he says, "You know, I've got a problem with your vaccine."

And Sabin says, "What's the problem."

Hilleman says to Sabin, "Cancer."

He says, "What are you talking about?"

Hilleman says to Sabin, "Well, you've got a cancer virus, I believe, in your vaccine."

Sabin says, "Nah."

Hilleman says, "Yes, I'm telling you."

So, at that point—now this is about 1960-61—there was a HUGE internal stir at the National Institute of Health, at the highest levels. And from that, they then began to develop secret monkey virus cancer research studies, in an effort to develop vaccines to prevent the plagues of cancer that they suspected were going to come about as a result of the contaminated vaccines. And, as they were doing this research, of course, because much of the funding was the military's and they were interested in using these as biological weapons—then you had funding for biological weapons by the same researchers who were involved in investigating this for humanitarian reasons.

Martin: Ok, since you brought up biological weapons, I'm going to jump ahead. You've written at great length about Henry Kissinger's involvement. In your research, speaking of biological weapons, what have you uncovered about George Bush's role in the development and dissemination of deadly retroviruses and the like?

Dr. Horowitz: In the book, Emerging Viruses: AIDS & EBOLA, I go into George Bush's role as being the initiator of the population control agenda. He was the principal, initial promoter in Congress when he was still a Congressman from Texas, of population control. And at the time, they were just focusing on population control in the Third World, and their motive was economic and national security. Well, it turns out that Henry Kissinger, his New World Order—and most people have no clue as to what the New World Order is. People have heard about the New World Order but they—few people know that the contemporary evolution of the New World Order, that is, over the past 45, let's say 40 years—has been Henry Kissinger's 1955 Harvard Ph.D. thesis, entitled The Meaning of History, wherein he lays out the need for ongoing small wars around the planet to maintain the economic alignment of the superpowers. And, of course, the military wars—not only are we seeing those continue today in Bosnia and the Middle East, but we have seen an increase in all of the other small wars, like the war on AIDS, the war on Cancer, the war on Drugs, the war on Crime, the war on illegal immigration, the war on illiteracy—all of these wars which we're continuing to lose, and that it doesn't matter because they're still being funded by, and making vast fortunes for, the military medical industrial complex. And so, Henry Kissinger is directly implicated in my book Emerging Viruses: AIDS & EBOLA because he virtually ordered the development of these types of viruses. And the story goes, in 1968, when Kissinger took over as NSC adviser under Richard Nixon—and, by the way, he was being considered for that position for that post, along with Roy Ash, the President of Litton Industries. Well, Kissinger got the job. Roy Ash got over 5 billion dollars in military contracts the next year, of which Litton Bionetics would soon receive 10 million dollars for the development of immune system-ravaging viruses for germ warfare. At any rate, when Kissinger took over as NSC adviser, he almost immediately ordered Melvin Laird to do a reassessment of America's biological weapons capabilities. You see, he was looking for alternatives to nuclear weapons. How he got to that position, as nuclear weapons guru of the world, was through his relationship with Nelson Rockefeller. Nelson Rockefeller made Henry Kissinger the Nuclear Weapons Study Group Director for the Council on Foreign Relations. And here again, most people believe that the Council on Foreign Relations is a government organization. It's not. It is run by the world's leading industrialists and military industrialists. And so—of course it's a Rockefeller-led type of an organization now—Kissinger plays a major role in this organization. He was instrumental in choosing the option for developing these viruses and he was also, horrifyingly, involved in Project Paperclip, which was the exfiltration and importation of Nazis out of Germany to America to work for American intelligence and American industry. And among the people—besides Klaus Barbi and Joseph Mengele—that they imported (that is, Kissinger and General Bowling and others at American intelligence) was Eric Traub, and his assistant, Hitler's top biological weapons developers; and Eric Traub was one of the world's leading virologists. And they came to work under the Central Intelligence Agency for the United States Navy Biological Research Laboratory, which is affiliated with the University of California, both at Berkeley and at Irvine, and that's exactly where Dr. Peter Duesberg is.

Martin: That was one of my next questions. Let's talk about Peter Duesberg for a while.

Dr. Horowitz: Sure. Well, my concerns are seriously legitimate concerns regarding Dr. Duesberg. And my concerns stem from what Dr. Duesberg did in 1986 when, in science, he parted company with Dr. Gallo. All of a sudden he became the principal alternative AIDS expert saying that HIV does not cause AIDS. And you have a vast number of people in alternative health care that listen to him and believe him. And 80 percent of what he's saying, perhaps 90 percent of what he's saying, is absolutely true, irrefutable scientific fact. The problem is, the 10 to 20 percent that he's not telling you is more important than what he's telling you. The fact is, he was intimately involved in the development of these types of viruses with Dr. Robert Gallo. In 1971 during a conference, when asked by Dr. Gallo, "Peter, do you think if we took Type-C cancer viruses and recombined them, and then," (paraphrasing his comments to Dr. Duesberg), "if we take these, and of course do all of the manipulative procedures and get them to be infectious for humans, do you think we could cause cancer in humans, using these types of Type-C cancer viruses?"

And of course the AIDS virus goes through a Type-C cancer virus morphogenesis to become the AIDS virus. And Peter Duesberg responds to Dr. Gallo, in 1971, he says, quote: "That's absolutely right." End quote. This was, of course, in front of a large symposium.

So, my concern, knowing that, number one, Henry Kissinger and General Bowling brought in Eric Traub, a Nazi directly out of Hitler's work groups—that Project Paperclip infiltrated or exfiltrated some 2,000 Nazis, 900 medical and industrial scientists, and that Project Paperclip, although on the books it may have ended, but the fact of the matter is, all of the Nazis, virtually all of the Nazis survived and thrived after the war. They got out with all of their money. Their futures were intact and supported by Central Intelligence, and that, I suspect strongly that Peter Duesberg may be one of those Nazis. I believe that, even if he did not come over directly under a Project Paperclip contract wherein they paid Nazi scientists $65,000 a year, beginning in 1948, plus benefits, and that was a fortune in 1948.

Martin: Good salary.

Dr. Horowitz: Even if he did not come over during that time, and even if he didn't come over until the 1960s—because President Bush, during his presidential campaign, was funded by the Nazis that were brought out, as well as their heirs—and that Project Paperclip, in that sense, therefore has never ceased. We are still exfiltrating Nazi scientists who carry a One World Order, New World Order agenda out of Germany, to work for both American intelligence and American industry. I suspect that Dr. Duesberg, given what he's saying and not saying, is actually a perpetrator of counterintelligence. And what he's doing is identical to the traditional Hegelian method of disinformation. What he's doing is providing the antithesis to Dr. Gallo's thesis. See, in Hegelian counterintelligence, what you do is you provide a thesis—such as like Dr. Gallo, HIV causes AIDS—and the antithesis, Dr. Duesberg, HIV does not cause AIDS—and in the process, everybody gets confused. You have synthesis. In mass confusion, people don't know what to believe. They tune out. They go to sleep. That's exactly what we have.

Given the fact the media in America are so strongly controlled, and personally I have evidence that, on at least three occasions, clearly my work has been censored. You have The New York Times wire services,

Associated Press wire services, you have The Washington Post and L.A. Times wire services, you have Dr. Duesberg filling virtually a hundred percent of all of the alternatives. They have Dr. Gallo and HIV equals AIDS thesis, eighty percent of the limelight and the twenty percent that remains, for alternative debate, is given to Dr. Duesberg. And as a result of that, you have a mass public that goes to sleep. They tune out. So, I see Dr. Duesberg playing a very important role for counterintelligence, and for that reason I suspect the worst. And I would like to be clearly shown that I am mistaken. But until I am, I can not in good faith trust Dr. Duesberg.

Martin: Where is he now?

Dr. Horowitz: He's still affiliated with the University of California.

Martin: At Berkeley?

Dr. Horowitz: Yes, at Berkeley, I believe. And what we are told is a sob story that Dr. Duesberg is forlorn, and he's out of the mainstream, and he can't get research funding. But meanwhile, The New York Times book reviews ran a two-and-a-half-page spread on his latest book. Now, I find that unbelievable. I've never, ever read that long of an article about a single book in The New York Times before. And as I read this review, it wasn't a bad review. In fact, it didn't even take an alternative position to it until the last paragraph of the review. So, I don't see that Duesberg is so down and out. ...To be continued.

Beware Super Bugs That Seem Mild

1/24/97 #1 HATONN

BEWARE, AND FORGET
THE PARABLES.
YOU ARE MUTATING
YOUR OWN BUGS NOW

Especially you with ongoing chronic problems, and children, are processing onstart microbes that are going to give you a really bad go of it next time around. The initial thrust is pretty mild in that you will find you are more nearly symptomatic of "a cold". However, it is a virus which is of the new mysterious influenza variety of bug. This invader is not a common form of "flu bug" and it is leaving healthcare persons in a real quandary for neither does it respond to typical treatment modalities.

In Florida a very, very busy physician in College Park, Florida says, "What I am seeing starts with the common cold and progresses to chest congestion and then to a bacterial superinfection." The facts are that the onstart of the problem is usually so mild as to cause no particular attention to the dis-ease until symptoms increase as mutation of the generations of the microbes increase. There will often be no fever or only "spurts" of fever which present as "hot flashes", flushed face and skin, and a congestion in the lungs that begins at the lowest part of the lungs and becomes pronounced with deep breathing. This causes people to breathe in very shallow breaths and, before the host realizes it, they are SICK but still the symptoms are not severe. Severity comes in about 2 to 3 weeks and is slow in fully blossoming. This causes physicians and patients to assume there is a separate causative element.

I am going to tell you a parable about Dharma now, because she has to remember that we had had a meeting just prior to the day of John's memorial service. I actually used up her voice and she ended up with voice loss to great extent and a bit of a "rough" throat. Neither were much of a bother. However, it didn't improve much over the first week and she increased her colloids intake to the point of having to have a LOT of acidophilus. The congestion never improved much and could be handled with an antihistamine capsule so not much has been thought about it until THIS week. BUT, even though she is functional and seemingly STILL not very ill, the congestion and irritation in the lungs has moved from bronchial irritation to a productive pneumonia.

I am thinking about it and sharing with her and with you—don't let it get out of control! I am insisting that she have quadruple amounts of especially the silver and titanium—EVERY DAY. Remember that the colloids are NOT LONG-ACTING, SLOW-RELEASE SUBSTANCES. They move quickly through the body—so use them several times a day. A teaspoonful four to five times a day is far more effective than one dose. She has been careless and when she would think about it, she would take a "blop" but that is not intelligent management. This is also just about the most contagious one bug to ever come along but it is also the most untreatable one to hit in a very long while—because nobody ever seems to get well from it.

If you take colloidal vitamins and minerals—get some additional coverage. If you can get liquid multivits and minerals, do so. Get some liquid antioxidants and vit-E with some liquid or CRYSTAL vit-C. Then, take juice or Melloream or a non-milk (milk produces mucous) drink of some kind, load it about 5-8 drops of each item AND VORTEX IT, AT LEAST TEN TIMES and drink a quart of that, minimum, a day. You can add several drops of each of the colloids, i.e. silver, etc. as well. This will fling the vit-min particles into the juice like homogenization and allow the body to better assimilate the supplements. If you are on a supplemental regime—CONTINUE IT BY ALL MEANS AND INCREASE SUCH AS VIT-C. Pineapple juice is about the best juice medium as it has enzymes which also assist in assimilation, but anything, even water, would do as a vortex medium.

I know, you will want to know where I was LAST WEEK when you needed me. Well, sometimes we have to learn to think for ourselves BEFORE we get so sick and have difficulty getting well.

You also want an update on Zita. Well, her "cancer" is not the problem these days, but she is not well, either. She will get well if she doesn't drop out on us, however. She, like all of us, have to have a while to heal and the right care and attention to heal properly. She needed help rather than being alone to attend medications, etc., and that help has come, at the moment, with Nora. People, when you are debilitated you have to have some HELP. Most medications which are given for pain and chronic symptom relief have some bad side effects. Some make you nauseated and you will get totally malnourished. Some cause great "confusion" and some cause you to ACTUALLY FORGET you have had a dose of the medication and keep you too confused to allow you to even "count" to see if you have already taken something. I don't want to butt into a physician's business—but there are some things running around that can begin to clear up "terminal" stage cancer. One of them is an inexpensive compound called Hydrazene Sulfate. Now, you will have to CHECK ON THIS because you will hear every Tom, Dick, and Harry calling it "something else" from Hydralazine, Hydroxyzene to Hydroxylene, etc. CAUTION! These are NOT the SAME THING. You should be able to find this substance in a current Physician's Desk Reference (PDR) but the doctors don't like this much—BECAUSE IT WORKS. Perhaps Rick could check with the Medical Clinic and Dr. Freeman.

This is especially good in conjunction with irradiation treatment and chemotherapy. There are no untoward side effects yet found and it will work wonders WITH THE COLLOIDAL FLUSHES. I use "flush" because if you are getting IV infusions of the colloids and Gaias, you are being "flushed" as in "through the blood system". This sulfate works well with almost every other medication to enhance its action. Why? It is a derivative of extremely high frequency (octane) fuel. Just as you can derive a basically inactive carbonic jelly (petroleum), so too can you pull off derivatives from carbon-based petroleum products. These have to be incredibly carefully handled, so don't do anything silly or foolish. This is one reason I'm only giving you enough information to check into possibilities so that you go FIND OUT ALL INFORMATION regarding the substance before you even consider touching it. I expect that in Mexico you don't even need a prescription, but in the U.S. and elsewhere? Who knows?? Is this NEW? No, only HIDDEN. You all have to understand something, readers: YOU DON'T HAVE TO DIE JUST BECAUSE YOU ARE TOLD TO DO SO. I sincerely hope that Zita hears also!

Stopping The Anti-Constitutionalists

12/17/96 GRANDMA

FOLKS, YOU HAD BEST
READ THIS AND THINK ABOUT IT!

An acquaintance of mine, Ron Wheeler, sent me a fax last night, and I know Ron well enough; he thought I would hit the ceiling after reading his epistle written by the anti-constitutionists. Well, he was right, I'm still up there and steaming!

THINK ABOUT IT!

How many times have you listened to malicious gossip about someone, something, or you guys and gals, listening to your (jealous) friends who began to pick on a sore spot about your wife, your husband, your partner, your associate, or anything else coveted by that party? You and I know, this is the first bastard to be in bed with your wife/husband, or your ex-partner's new partner! That is the way it works, folks. Never seen it fail!

This is the way it works. We listened as the President of the United States, and the Vice President, told those young college students out West: The old Constitution is outdated, outmoded, and is in need of change and doing away with. The same goes for this New Age thinking of global control. It happened in Germany, Poland, Hungary, all across Europe—and even the changes in the welfare system. Yep, the same thing.

First, control was obtained over the courts (German Bar Association). Next came mob rule of the mobster elite (business syndicates). Then, in order to rape the profits from big industry, minimum wage and slave labor of prison inmates was implemented. Next thing that happened, prices soared. Those who had jobs, worked either as slave labor or prison inmates. So many restrictions were placed on private manufactured goods, farm products, manufacturing and industry went down the tubes, so did farms. Those people looking for new jobs went in mass migration (preplanned by the mob rule elitists) into the cities, only to freeze to death without jobs, heat, food. Some died from diseases because no doctors were available, or the doctors were also being persecuted and on the proverbial hit list because genocide was the primary objective. Genocide was conducted; no law could stop it. The German Bar Association, and other Bar Associations across Europe had systematically done away with the old constitutions which were patterned after our Constitution and assisted by Ben Franklin, Thomas Paine and other notables of the design of our much admired grandfathered Constitution. You didn't know that did you?

Sure! The seven articles of the grandfathered Constitution give the right to conduct international trade business! But, it cannot impede the rights of the people in the conducting of those international trade agreements. This is the prime reason for the general welfare provisions. The general welfare meant (and still does today): "Insuring the economic status of American industry, manufacturing, jobs, income, producer, etc., will not be overpowered, or overcome by the more experienced European nations", thusly causing the destruction of the American economy. This is the reason for the contracted seven articles, for allowing the trade provisions. Beyond those seven, Congress, the Senate, and even the "Prez", are prohibited entry into the Bill of Rights.

THINK ABOUT IT!

All of you know about the Herman Estate. You also know about V.K. Durham's long running battle trying to obtain a prosecution for Mr. Herman's murder. First, V.K. must obtain the prosecution of the murder before the Estate matters can be resolved.

V.K. has so far been unable to obtain the services of law enforcement agencies, attorneys general, state attorneys, FBI, etc., for the investigation and prosecution of the murder of Russell Herman. Then the Social Security Administration could not gain access to the estate(s), and cut off V.K.'s SSI-Disability. Yes, they were bold enough to put it into writing on SSA letterhead.

V.K. turned around and filed Ancillary Jurisdiction: Murder charges into the U.S. District Court, on November 6, 1996. The U.S. District Court seemingly has its own problems: one of Clinton's appointees got caught taking bribes from attorneys and attorney firms (this was one of the judges in the primary case filed into the U.S. District Court by V.K. on her Aunt's estate, which suffered so much political influence it was unreal. The SSA got into the action demanding access to the Herman estate, after V.K. had told them in writing that a murder was involved, and the information is "none of your damned business".)

The Social Security Administration, individuals, employees, appointees, delegees, agents, and agencies kept on "keepin' on", abusing, misconstruing powers of Offices of Public Trust monies. Then, they put it in writing: V.K. "owed them $12,118.68" (and this is a quote):

Dear Mrs. Durham,

We are writing to let you know that we have paid you $8579.50 too much Supplemental Security Income (SSI) money. The overpayment happened September 1994 through November 1996.

You are over paid because we cannot determine the extent or the amount of the estate that you are the executrix for.

This new overpayment is in addition to the old overpayment of $3539.18 already on your record. (End quote.)

THINK ABOUT IT!

V.K. has received no money from the estate(s). V.K. has found it necessary to borrow money to finally get the estate(s) into the U.S. District Court.

THINK ABOUT IT!

On December 14, 1996, V.K. Durham filed 18 U.S.C. Criminal Charges against the Social Security Administration, individual, employee, agent, assignee, delegee, appointee, etc., Oliver M. Holmes, et al., and the appointor pursuant to the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

THINK ABOUT IT?

Appointor:

The President of the United States
The Federal Advisory Committee Act

Appointee:

Department of Health and Human Services

Managers of:

The Social Security Administration
Public Trust Monies
also known as
Old Age Pension and Disability
"Treasury Trust Funds".

ARE YOU THINKIN'?

V.K. also invoked the Master/Servant Laws. So, it appears with the President already up to his eyeballs in criminal activities, the Old Boy is going to have to explain the following (as will Congress and the Senate, governors, FBI, attorneys general, state senators, congressmen, etc.):

(1) 18 U.S.C., Sec. 4, Misprision of Felony, by concealing a homicide.

All information, including photos (prima facia evidence) were sent by certified mail;

(2) 18 U.S.C., Sec. 1512, Tampering with a Witness or Victim; attempting to prevent a criminal act or suspected criminal act from being set before a U.S. District Court Judge, by a victim or witness;

(3) 18 U.S.C., Chapter 96, Sec. 1962, The Rico Statutes, murder incorporated, extortion, threats, coercion and intimidation by appointees of the Appointor, etc.;

(4) Social Security Administration's employees of Medicare/Medicaid Insurance, U.S. Treasury (appointee by the Appointor) trust fund, who paid for the murder, which occurred in a federal facility; employees refused to conduct an autopsy that could be used in a court of law (and were so damned sure of themselves, they put it in writing; V.K. recorded it off Public Record).

THINK ABOUT IT!

The Fed could not get the estate(s) by following the law. They tried to sneak in the back door and take the estate(s) by misconstruction and abuse of powers of Offices of Public Trust.

ARE YOU THINKING ABOUT THIS?!

V.K., knowing a conflict of interest prevailed in the U.S. District Court appointees and the Appointor, who has exceeded and abused his powers of Office of Public Trust, and the Federal Advisory Committee Act, did file in the U.S. District Court to call forth a duly constituted, fully informed, Article IX, constitutional common law grand jury, to investigate, determine and prosecute the perpetrators.

Latest Journal Goes To Press

Some Thoughts On Hearing And Choosing

Editor's note: Readers, please keep in mind that there is currently quite a long delay, due to lack of funds, between the time that we announce the latest Journal here, only now completed in the writing stage and ready to go to press, and when that new Journal is actually printed and available.

FOREWORD

WHAT YOU DO

I have a little thought-provoker for you who have the writings flowing through each day and enjoy the sharing of minds as we venture through our collective and singular ad-ventures. Sometimes it is harsh in reception when you tarry long enough to listen and misunderstand messages. For, unless you tune your "hearing" within, you will always MISUNDERSTAND.

Let us for just a short moment suppose that you are in sickness and something is wrong with you to the extent that your own body doesn't, say, know when to go to the bathroom and relieve self or there is medication that needs moving through the system by allowing flow. Now, suppose I tell you that you need to urinate at least 18 times a day to move medication through the system so that it bathes all the inner surfaces of the urinary tract. Now, I observe you have missed a couple of hours and I say, "XX, go to the bathroom now; you have forgotten." How does this look in written form in your enemy's hands and reprinting? It will read, "See, they don't even go to the bathroom unless he tells them." DOES ANYONE GET MY POINT?

I do not "spell" out things because, yes indeed, I expect YOU to get and hold your messages, THINK, and follow through. If I appear to complain or am sharp and you feel it personal, and often it is extremely personal to you who must be depended upon for the best function of the whole, then look within and FIND my meaning for I will not jeopardize anything for blathering endlessly and telling you exactly what to do. This is now or ever, unless it is mandatory. If we give our enemies nothing with which to torment us, we are less tormented.

You are each given passage through living in the physical to have ability and responsibility to think, reason, select (choose) and act. Some of you have such CRITICAL roles of acting that I have to remind you from time to time to LOOK, LISTEN, SEE AND HEAR! Especially when my people are tired and hopeless to point it out and consider the seriousness of circumstances and load. I can KNOW that each of you have times of these endless, nagging, and painful decisions, but lashing out at one another when both are weary is unacceptable. Each of you think that in some measure YOUR task is less/more, easier/more difficult, less responsible/more responsible, and so it is. But let me remind you that all men expect God to make a show-and-tell while GOD, ON THE OTHER HAND, SENT YOU. God sent YOU to do that which is your appointed task and it overlaps and, yet, there has to be a "buck stops here" person in every slot lest NO ONE TAKE RESPONSIBILITY FOR ANYTHING—WHICH IS MAINLY WHAT LIFE INSISTS YOU DO—TAKE NO RESPONSIBILITY.

I choose to nudge each of you into THINKING, not laying forth a plan already written in cement. All I ask you to do is think, OR, I will nudge you to act. I also have to ask you who are very close, to, for goodness sakes, ease up on one another, allow breathing, and give us a break already.

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

PLEASE CONSIDER SPONSORING A PHOENIX JOURNAL

The cost for printing the PHOENIX JOURNALS in sufficient quantities to offer them at rock bottom prices is always a serious challenge to our financial resources. At this time we need financial assistance to help cover the printing costs of the JOURNALS. If you are in a position to assist, please call PHOENIX SOURCE DISTRIBUTORS, INC. at (800)800-5565 and ask for Brent.

We would like to extend our thanks once again to those of you who have helped us so greatly in the past. Without your assistance we would not have come this far.

Let us consider a short writing which reads:

Like sheaves of corn He gathers you unto Himself.
He threshes you to make you naked.
He sifts you to free you from your husks.
He grinds you to whiteness.
He kneads you until you are pliant;
And then He assigns you to His sacred fire,
that you may become sacred bread for God's sacred feast.

Sounds good? No, it is NOT like that even though the parable may wear quite well in the processing of corn or wheat.

He does NOT thresh you to nakedness. If you become naked it is of your doing and God wants you NOT as naked bodies or souls. You have been graced with that which allows you to clothe selves and never does he want you naked—only in recognition of an absence of human ego that interferes with your receiving of NEW CLOTHES. You must prepare soul and body for receiving and that often requires removing the old and allowing for the new.

He does NOT sift you to free you from your husks. HE ALLOWS YOU TO SIFT AND GRIND AND SIFT AGAIN, YOUR OWN WORTHINESS FROM THE DECLARATIONS OF EGO UPON SELF THAT BIND YOU LIKE THE GLUTEN IN THE LOAF OR THE LEAVEN IN PUFFED CAKES. The facts are that most of you are totally EMBARRASSED by God's presence for mankind has made God to sound like trash from the lips in the obscene manner of assumption of power through greed.

He does NOT grind you to whiteness. Suppose you are blue corn or whole grain? You will NEVER be "white" but you can be the BEST of that which you ARE.

He does NOT knead you until you are pliant. He allows you to be that which you will, and do that which you will, and hopes that some day you measure self against His own image and in that reflection you BECOME that which is wondrous. This only comes in the KNOWING of His perfection and your ABSOLUTE LOVE RECEIVED.

I watch you who claim to love one another, but what you do is focus on self and resent the other for not also focusing on YOURself. You blame the other for not expressing, sharing, guiding, whatever. You want explicit homage without offering that which is needed in the other to solicit the offering of "self".

You can NEVER know that which is in the heart of another—even if readers of minds become available—nor can you demand it change IN THAT OTHER.

If you are not careful IN YOUR EXPECTATION OF LOVE, you will err. You will reach out unto that which is within the OTHER to take it unto self and rare is the man or woman who simply accepts the other for its being. So, negotiate those things of life which are physical and can be valued but compromise not TRUTH or SOUL KNOWING. For, if this is demanded, Love perishes as ice before the fire. And taking that thought a bit further, remember that if the ice exceeds the measure of your "fire", you shall be swallowed and extinguished by the water from the ice.

RESPECT, ESTEEM, and REVERENCE are the key words properly defined, which God wishes FROM YOU and FOR YOU. WORSHIP is a non-word in God's vocabulary. For as a REFLECTION of God you must worship self to worship God, and that is a WRONG concept if you would ever respect, esteem and/or revere SELF. You can worship the grain but in so doing you cannot also have the loaf.

And herein lays the secret of LOVE for one another. You cannot THRESH the other to suit your wishes or to make you naked, so to speak, and have the Other long respect you. You cannot sift the other to achieve that which YOU have decided is perfection of texture. You must not grind the other until you have lost all color of expression lest you end up with nothing of value whatsoever and learn to hate the other for what

YOU have done to her/him.

And, no matter how nice it sounds in a book of verses, you cannot knead the other into something pliant in your hands for all you will have left is a wad of soggy dough and that is what you deserve in its most expressive form.

You can ONLY LOVE another for what they already express and present and, if you find you must require them to be something ELSE, you will have lost the very joy you sought in the first place.

When you want to reflect perfection, look unto God in that mirror. When you want a reflection of self—look and see what man has done to mankind. If there is perfection in SELF—then imperfections in another are unnoticed.

Let me example in relationships with another as in couples: Do you love and adore, cherish and care for the other WITH all their differences? If there were no trappings of pleasure save companionship, can you still “love” and adore? Friendship MUST COME FIRST, with RESPECT, and then two people can hope to thrive as TWO—never ONE. Even God is perfect duality in the WHOLE, not just “one”. And when you seek actions from your “other”, be very careful that you seek LOVE from self in behalf of that other lest you be only seeking your own pleasure and gratification. And, further, when you are responded to badly—get thee away for you trod beyond the friendship that binds you and into the USE of another. When you pay the light-bill to get electricity, I suggest you take time to turn on the switch.

I will offer you some thoughts now, on BEING that which raises you above and beyond the drudgery of physical demands and seemingly necessary “things”.

What do you think about these “things”? Do you deplore the “things” gained through living? I hope not, for they are as necessary as the march through living. But at what level do you serve them versus them serving you? Do you get and demand comfort for the body to the exclusion of peace and joy filling the soul? In addition to this question, I ask another one: Do you tend those things of physical acquisition that you be worthy of the tending, by God, of self?

Or in the words of the prophet: “Do you have only comfort, and the lust for comfort, that stealthy thing that enters the house as guest, and then becomes a host, and then a master?” Are YOU the master or are THINGS the master? “Verily the lust for comfort and pleasure murders the passion of the soul, and then walks grinning in the funeral.” Who will walk in YOUR funeral—laughing at your silliness?

[From The Prophet, QUOTING:]

And an orator said, Speak to us of Freedom.

And he answered:

At the city gate and by your fireside I have seen you prostrate yourself and worship your own freedom, even as slaves humble themselves before a tyrant and praise him though he slays them.

Ay, in the grove of the temple and in the shadow of the citadel I have seen the freest among you wear their freedom as a yoke and a handcuff.

And my heart bled within me; for you can only be free when even the desire of seeking freedom becomes a harness to you, and when you cease to speak of freedom as a goal and a fulfillment.

You shall be free indeed when your days are not without a care nor your nights without a want and a grief, but rather when these things girdle your life and yet you rise above them naked and unbound.

And how shall you rise beyond your days and nights unless you break the chains which you at the dawn of your understanding have fastened around your noon hour?

In truth that which you call freedom is the strongest of these chains, though its links glitter in the Sun and dazzle your eyes.

And what is it but fragments of your own self you would discard that you may become free?

If it is an unjust law you would abolish, that law was written with your own hand upon your own forehead. You cannot erase it by burning your law books nor by washing the foreheads of your judges, though you pour the sea upon them. And if it is a despot you would dethrone, see first that his throne erected within you is destroyed.

For how can a tyrant rule the free and the proud, but for a tyranny in their own freedom and a shame in their own pride? And if it is care you would cast off, that care has been chosen BY YOU rather than imposed upon you.

And if it is a fear you would dispel, the seat of that fear is in your heart and not in the hand of the feared.

Verily all things move within your being in constant half embrace, the desired and the dreaded, the repugnant and the cherished, the pursued and that which you would escape. These things move within you as lights and shadows in pairs that cling.

And when the shadow fades and is no more, the light that lingers becomes a shadow to another light.

And thus your freedom when it loses its fetters becomes itself the fetter of a greater freedom.

[END OF QUOTING]

The point? For you to discern THE POINT! But a good rule of thumb in making passage through this world of contradictions is to NEVER TURN YOUR BACK TO THE LIGHT OF GOD, lest all you ever find before you are the shadows in the dark.

We chuckle over cute jokes and cliches such as “Who knows? The Shadow knows...” No, the SHADOW does NOT KNOW. Only Light and Realization KNOW. The shadow is but the LIGHT WITH YOU IN THE WAY.

When we bring Light upon and within the darkness, there can be no evil for there is need for evil to flourish in dark secret places and thoughts—and actions presented in those dim places wherein ones hide their nakedness and dark thoughts, only then can a world flourish in goodness with each being equal in RIGHTS to another.

But as long as you bring things to light, of ill-doing, and then bless the doer, as yes, a Newt Gingrich, you pay more dearly than you can imagine for the evil which will grow from the evil allowed to continue. You will have only given nourishment to the growth of a bigger evil—and this is without exception.

DON'T ANY OF YOU REMEMBER OUR WRITINGS ABOUT THE FACT THAT NEWT GINGRICH IS THE ONE WHO MANDATED, SOLD AND THRUST UPON YOU UNSUSPECTING CITIZENS A BINDING OF THE MOST IMPRISONING LAWS (EXECUTIVE ORDERS) OF YOUR HISTORIES? IN ONE SWOOP ALL THINGS, ACTIONS, POSSESSIONS, FREEDOM OF TRAVEL, CIRCUMSTANCE AND EVERYTHING YOU CONSIDER FREEDOM IS TAKEN FROM YOU UNDER THE GUISE OF LAW AND UNDER THE FACADE, NOT USED MUCH ANY MORE, OF EMERGENCY OR CRISIS. IT IS A FACT, NOT JUST A POSSIBILITY. YOU CANNOT TRAVEL FREELY, YOU CAN OWN NOTHING THAT CAN'T BE REMOVED THROUGH TAXES AND VOTING—YOU HAVE NO FREEDOMS! Even your THOUGHTS are now governed and you may NOT THINK THAT WHICH YOU WILL, BUT RATHER, THAT WHICH IS ORDERED. THE LIGHTS ARE TURNED OFF, PEOPLE, AND I CAN ONLY TELL YOU HOW TO TURN THEM ON—I CANNOT TURN ON THE SWITCH AND MAKE MIRACLES.

How long can I stay among you and ask you to “think” and tell you “how it is”? Until YOU show me that you will not see and hear and then I will GO, or, I will take you with me on the greater journey. God does not come uninvited and He does not make imprint if unasked. Just because you leave HIM and HE never leaves you is not the point. The point is that when asked to leave, when denied, when we are thwarted with full allowance by our very so-called “friends”, then we GO.

Then, you are left to your consequences of choices—for always, unto the ENDING of your play, you will be LEFT TO YOUR CHOICES EVEN IF THOSE CHOICES APPEAR TO SELF TO BE “NO” CHOICE AT ALL. You either are moving TOWARD GOD or AWAY FROM GOD—there is no static positioning save in the “voidance” of a split moment in perception while you change your “charge”. When and how does a particle called “electric” change from a positive into a negative?

Ah, but don't you see, readers, THESE are the things we are BANNED from sharing with you. THIS is the basic information of God and Life in LIGHT, that we cannot write lest my scribe be tossed into the prison. There are not other suitable ways to present TRUTH. There are many ways to arrive AT TRUTH—but TRUTH is expressed in only those ways understood by ALL.

Could I not give the messages in Arabic or Aramaic or Biblical lingo? Yes, and have! But YOU must have it translated into language you can recognize and understand. If I am disallowed repeating, paraphrasing, or diagraming because it happens to match a copyrighted volume by some author who even claims to have received it from HIGHER sources, we are bound to your imprisonment, for why would I cause my people to bear a cost so high when the message is not wanted, and THEY ALREADY KNOW? WHO DO YOU THINK YOU ARE THAT WE WOULD FORCE TRUTH UPON YOU WHILST WE ROT IN PRISON FOR THE PRIVILEGE OF SHARING KNOWLEDGE? We serve GOD, we are NOT STUPID!

And to such as my dear friend, Bertha L., I suggest you think very, very carefully about your “friends”. When a person tells you that they are bothered by “plagiarism” or some other thing, but read not any other than received by selves—BEWARE. They are uninformed and misinformed and they set themselves higher than you. Further, they will speak incorrectly for they have become set in their own limitation and have fallen into the trap of self-perceived shackles. God is ALL; God IS freedom, and if your work be chosen to be spoken as a lesson for all—their HONOR is beyond measure. If you be disallowed from evidence and consideration of information, you CANNOT GROW TO KNOW TRUTH—FOR TRUTH IS THE KNOWING. Those who espouse the limited input of “elementals” are using the uninformed and most unknowing resources of the Earth. We can honor those little beings who offer intuition and service, but THEY are here to LEARN FROM US AS WE OFFER TRUTH AND GREATER KNOWLEDGE FOR ALL. YOU MUST JUDGE THE WORD AND NOT THE SPEAKER! And, if you continue to attach self to these seemingly harmless but enjoyable messengers—you deserve the lack of growth which results. Even the most NEGATIVE aspect has its POSITIVE aspect as well. And hence comes the saying: “You have to kiss a lot of frogs to find the prince.” And, you have to journey wherein TRUTH ABIDES if you want to find TRUTH. Not all the transient fortune tellers in the world can give you truth unless it happenstances its way through the messages and, at that, it is the offerer's truth, but it rarely is THE TRUTH.

Today is your U.S. Coronation Day and does anyone see anything wrong with the pictures flowing forth? How about the starving and sick citizens in a society wherein Welfare is being cut and every service to citizens is cut—and in Washington, District of Criminals—millions of $$$ were spent on a fireworks show—not even on the day of the crowning. It is shown around the world as the biggest and most elaborate fireworks showing ever in Washington D.C., even bigger than the celebration of FREEDOM on your 200th Birthday. Is Billy Clintonista and Billiary worthy of such idiocy and YOUR MONEY? Well, you put them in there—and now you are stuck with them. Is this the reward for criminal activities and immoral actions against you-the-people? Go back and re-read the first of this writing and answer your own questions and quit asking me what is YOUR job. What do YOU think is your job? I am not going to tell you when to go to the bathroom and have the ridicule of the enemy around about you for you, in human form, have to accept the burden, blame and/or reward—I CANNOT. You have come to REVERSE everything beautiful, goodly and precious into foolish folly and I do not intend to participate in such lessening of self-worth of my precious and wondrous people. If you do not understand a message, think about it, ponder it, speak of it with another or others, and it will come clear: The meaning!

Do not, either, put ANOTHER into your failure to understand. If you do not understand God's message then ASK GOD UNTIL YOU UNDERSTAND—NOT SOMEBODY ELSE. If you are able, share with others who might discern or differently interpret and come to conclusions of rightness—but do not dump your load onto the back or soul of ANOTHER.

Everyone, each of you, is a receiver and each of you a farmer: BUT HOW MANY WEEDS AND THISTLES DO YOU ALLOW TO GROW? Be very careful as to HOW you respond to this question for it is very telling indeed, ON SELF.

How can I example so that there is understanding? Sometimes I am left with nothing which is "generalized" enough to be a good parable. But let us consider that you are in this place, this location. Suppose you do not like this place and disagree with the people already here and functioning—even if badly. You made a choice to come here—so you have to make a choice whether you stay or go. You can make contribution—but you are NOT welcome to come forth and demand that you be the new King or Queen. If you prefer to build a new "whatever", then you get your funds, your blueprint, and you can then go into competition if you have to remain in OUR SPACE, or you can go forth and build elsewhere and perhaps we will even help you to do so if we find stability and prosperity in our own place.

To stay and assault, denounce and damage will merit you, in the final acts of the play, your downfall. We will NOT act without goodness for that is OUR MISSION; therefore, if the adversaries lie, cheat and steal from us or about us—they are WRONG in concept and TRUTH and they WILL fall. Even if we are abolished—THEY SHALL FALL. Truth stands alone into infinity—evil is only of physical character and destroys the one it parasitizes and condemns to endless torment.

Is it a "lonely" way for those who simply serve God? Are you kidding me by asking such a foolish question? Of course it is NOT LONELY—there can be NO loneliness in GOD, only the perception of being away from others of your manifest species and the self-imposed "guilt" of not wishing to abide the silliness of the masses. In solitude WITH GOD CREATOR WITHIN

THE CREATION is the JOY and PEACE your SOUL SEEKS EVERY MOMENT OF ITS EXISTENCE—WHICH IS ETERNAL. Boring? Come now—what is "boring"?

Boring: One that is dull. And, To tire with dullness. DO YOU REALLY THINK GOD AND CREATION TO BE DULL? If so, then you need that attitude adjustment immediately because you are in really serious trouble.

Do you really think that a roll in the hay with a prostitute (either sex) to be more exciting than to soar through the eternal knowingness of cosmos and all that IS? If you answer "yes" or "maybe" in serious intent—get thee to a psychiatrist who, you will find, is a half-crazy nut treating a half-sane nut (you).

"Peace" is never birthed from violence. "Joy" is never brought forth from evil chaos. LOVE is never birthed from inborn and inbred HATE. Pretense is the name of that game which calls hate—"love", and "absolute", "unconditional".

Hate is often the parasite eating away at self that presents in the form of endless touts of "unconditional love" while actions speak the TRUTH, and ignorance and refusal to see and hear lead the blinded being into the trap of "another's" ignorance or shrewd manipulations. And again I say to you, THE CHOICES ARE FREELY GIVEN BY GOD AND WITHIN THE CREATION—TO CHOOSE YOUR PATH AND YOUR DESTINATION. JUST DON'T INTERPRET YOUR DESTINATION INCORRECTLY LEST YOUR PATHWAY BE STREWN WITH PAIN AND DISAPPOINTMENTS THAT NEVER SEEM TO "WORK OUT" WELL. THOSE ARE OF YOUR DOING—NOT GOD'S.

If you follow the WRONG LEADER, you will follow him right into his own HELL. Follow the facts and truth, always available if you seek and look, and you shall prevail without depending on or selling out "self" to the ingrate usurpers and users. Choices are never-ending experiences, from the next breath you breathe to the greatest thing in participation that you can image or vision. Life is made up of nothing save CHOICES, for life physical is a schoolroom for that which is soul—through learning in consequential responses FROM CHOICES. YOU decide, through choices, your journey, your lessons, your pathway, your perceptions, your discernment and your destination. It behooves you, if you really seek Truth and Knowing, to choose carefully and, as with parents and children, if you want wise and goodly children—YOU MUST BE A WISE AND GOODLY PARENT. When the sins of the father are rested upon the son—KNOW THAT THE SINS SHALL COME BACK TO HAUNT THE FATHER. Just as your child will reflect that which is YOU, YOU will reflect that which is YOUR FATHER's, right on up the line to Father God!

Worse for searching man, he is usually so late, wise. This causes a most uncomfortable set of new choices and regrets that old choices were not better made. This is called "life", friends, and in actuality it is: THE WAY IT IS, no more and no less. Yesterday's choices are GONE, even if you are experiencing the residual consequences—your only capability is to NOW make a better choice and better and better and....

You did what you did—move on! You may be able to rectify some errors but basically you are right where you ARE, and you had best consider carefully the lessons, choose better, and MOVE ON. And it pays to move into LIGHT lest all you see before you ARE SHADOWS.

Salu and good morning.

Let's call the journal:

A WALK THROUGH CHOICES

We walk through life perceiving things and holding ideas and even ideals, which we seldom understand—and less willing are we to know truth regarding the things we "accept". Life is but a walk through the residuals and consequences, good or bad, of our choices as balanced against the choices and actions of others. When our choices reflect God and The Creation, in balance and harmony according to those never-changing LAWS of both, we have "arrived" at our most glorious destination.

What Are The Phoenix Journals?

Many people have asked us what the Phoenix Journals are. They contain the true history (his-story) of mankind on this planet as well as detailed information about the most asked about and wondered about subjects (i.e., Spirituality, E.T.s, our origin, our purpose here on this planet, etc.). Commander Hatonn, and the other Higher Spiritual Teachers who have authored these Journals, weave spiritual lessons and insights throughout the unveiling of lies which have been deceptively forced upon us, throughout time, by the Elite anti-Christ controllers. These Journals are the "Dead Sea Scrolls" of our time. Their importance for the growth of mankind cannot be overstated. They are the textbooks of understanding which God promised us we would have, to guide us through the "End Times".

Here is what Commander Hatonn has said about the Phoenix Journals. Quoting from Journal #40, THE TRILLION DOLLAR LIE, Vol.II, pgs. 47 & 48: "Some day in the far recesses of the future experiences of another human civilization—these Journals will be found and TRUTH will again be given unto the world manifest so that another lost civilization can regain and find its way. God always gives His creations that which they need when the sequence is proper. It is what man DOES WITH THESE THINGS which marks the civilization. WHAT WILL YOUR LEGACY BE????? I focus on current activities which might turn your world about in time to save your ecosystems and your sovereignty as nations and peoples. You cannot wait to be filled in on the lies of the generations, lest you wait until too late to take control of your circumstance presently within the lies. YOU ARE A PEOPLE OF MASSIVE DECEPTION AND WHAT YOU WILL DO WITH THIS INFORMATION IN ACTION DETERMINES YOUR PURPOSE AND GROWTH IN THIS WONDROUS MANIFESTED EXPERIENCE. WILL YOU PERISH PHYSICALLY OF THE EVIL INTENT, OR WILL YOU MOVE INTO AND WITHIN THE PLACES OF HOLY CREATOR? THE CHOICE IS YOURS."

In case you didn't know, Phoenix Source Distributors, Inc. can automatically send you the latest Phoenix Journals as they are printed. This gives you an extra discount on new Journals and you don't have to keep remembering to order. Call (800) 800-5565 for details.

PARABLES

Once upon a time, long, long ago, it was a dark and dreary day. The Sun had not shown for a long time and creeping through the crowd was a sinister feeling of having the fit hit the Shan—and there came upon the scene a TEACHER. Now this teacher looked just like everybody else although there was something different. And so the story went on and on as expressions of great lessons poured forth in artistic and, sometimes, even eloquent, stylized professorship—but nobody understood a damned thing the teacher said. Then one day, the teacher left. Well, he left by rather abrupt and strange means of transportation—in an invisible ship of some kind—which the crowd didn't understand a bit better than the lessons. He just up and ascended into nowhere and disappeared. Then came forth a teacher who presented like everybody else presented, as a handicapped babe with inability to do anything except stay alive at the mercy of everyone around him. He then set upon being a bigger nut than the first. He actually said he was of Higher Learning and that things were a bit screwed up on Earth and Man had gone about as far as he could go and ever expect to have an invisible ship come ascend him off to parts unknown but surely of glory and cloud-sitting.

Have you heard of mysterious mysteries and unsolved things? You know, beans from the heavens falling all about? How about fishes from the sky? How about the infamous little frogs? Well, did it ever occur to you that perhaps if you ascend in the wrong intent you might turn into a frog or a fish or a bean? No? Well, you tell little people that if they err and do this or that or the other, that they will turn into a frog or something terribly worse.

It is a fact that if a human somehow manages to ASCEND to distant clouds that that same human will COME RIGHT BACK DOWN TO EARTH AND THE LANDING IS MOST NERVE WRACKING. Or is it that the human ascended because he was blown to bits and had to ascend as something equally small in space takeup.

Does this all sound like I'm playing games with you? Well, how do you think I feel about YOUR ATTITUDES? What do you think I think when you gobble up some nutty story about Mars' rocks and moon cheese? What think you that I might think when I see all of you bow to the King of immorality reviewing his troops of gladiators on Coronation Day? Then, let's get serious: What do you think I think when next it is demanded of me to provide the same impatient people, who vacillate like the wind in even their own soul belief, with riches and abundance? GOD is ABUNDANCE—I am the result of hard work and I, just like you, have to earn my abundance the OLD FASHIONED WAY: I HAVE TO WORK FOR IT!

Anyway, back to the new teacher: He wised up more quickly and saw that no one could look at themselves with any possibility of truth in their reflections. So he had to tell them tales of this or that for, like, the children were dumbed down, just as today. Times had come upon the lands where kindergarten stuff was all that remained which could be understood. The people had, however, learned about the big bad wolf who insisted that if you made a rabbit stew you had to give the wolf two-thirds of the stew and pay the wolf not to eat you too!

Ah, but those were the "practical" things of living. What took place in the everyday living experience? You asked permission to relieve self, marry, bed, eat, and if you paid enough to the power wolves, you even got to go to the market and try to sell whatever you might have had permission to grow or make—and you could sell IF YOU PAID A HEAVY FINE TO THE BIG WOLVES FOR THE PRIVILEGE.

All this took place while there WERE SOME SLAVES who didn't have to even work—they were fed, clothed, sheltered and PAID to just "take". They would have children, who were also paid for—and nobody of that sect worked at all. Ah, but you found that THEY were being fattened for the kill in the gladiator's pits. So, you withdrew your feelings, buried them and thanked the wolves to just be allowed to work and slave for their pleasures and trinkets.

I have a warped mind? LOOK AROUND YOU—AGAIN. And what did that "teacher" have to do with anything? Well, he spoke in parables which EVEN YOU COULD UNDERSTAND—you know, if you kill somebody it is going to be wrong because you will undoubtedly get some terrible thing in return—like killed. He also said you better honor those parents who tried to do what they could to make you understand the ropes surrounding the boxing ring. He said it is better not to take your neighbor's stuff or your neighbor would be really p—er—ticked-off at you. He also said things like "leave your neighbor's wife alone because the stubborn old coot won't like that even as much as taking his stuff". This was a far-out, probably from space—er-a-ah-er, spaced-out weirdo, it was evaluated, but my goodness, the wolves said, this dim-wit is going to get the rabble roused and God (oh yes, there were places for God, like in cursing, hiding, in the name of, etc.) only knows what will happen then. So, down with the teacher and down with the messenger and hail to the chief—grave robber.

Then it was decided to make religion the powerful THING to bind the people. They decided to make it nasty and terrible and use all sorts of unacceptable things to lock people into it like sacrifices, mandatory telling on oneself, paying penalties to unseen or seen, drinking blood and eating flesh and if that was a bit too much, substitute crackers of unleavened nature and a bit of squashed grapes and PRETEND. Then, get on your knees and grovel and pay, pay, pay, pay—to who? The church authorities while they call it sharing with God. Grovel to who? THE PRIESTS AND THE SELF-APPOINTED "WISE" MEN WHO TALK TO GOD—BUT DON'T LET ANY OTHER PERSON TALK TO GOD FOR THAT WOULD BE "EVIL". You just dance with chickens, pretend to drink blood (grape juice), commune with a MAN'S stated icon of invisible voices and beings which ONLY HE CAN ATTAIN ATTENTION, and pray—pray for self to be better able to pray for others, especially the MAN IN CHARGE.

Don't you catch the "catch words"? "Let us pray that America continues on her path to growth and glory." Say what? You are on your path to growth and glory? For whom? Immorality is rewarded now, note Newt the lizard. Immoral and criminal actions merit a CROWN on Coronation—er-ah-a—Inauguration day. Even the "first lady" (and man, that is the LAST "lady", ask O'Brien) must have a more costly and finer dress than the original trial coronation day while the grovelers and Royal "Watchers" long for equal rights to squash themselves just to get close enough to be graced in the same TRAIN TERMINAL with the clowns on the stage. One young man put it well—he said, "I was at the parade and couldn't even SEE the people on the stage—the paraders got in the way. And then I got to go to the Tennessee Ball in Union Station but I never did see anyone except the expensive dress of the lady in front of me with the big hair and I got bumped and my drink spilled on her dress—and I really didn't have any fun after that... She said the dress and her boyfriend's (a Senator yet) Tussdo (whatever that is) had been rented and red pop probably wouldn't come out and it was awful. But I had to rent a tuxedo to get in also, to watch the stage acts and kids in the band, be in ripped-out blue jeans and slop-shirts." Perhaps it was the only honest and truthful experience of the day! DO YOU EVER JUST SIT AND PONDER WHAT GOD AND HIS TROOPERS REALLY OBSERVE?

Many times in our more leisure time visits I am asked what we do for entertainment? WATCH YOU! And then, listen, while you call US non-existent minds and boring "guardians". Guard WHAT? I consider most of you to have non-existent MINDS and even worse deteriorated brains. Is this an insult? YOU GO LOOK AT THE PEOPLE CRAMMED TO SUFFOCATION UP TO A PODIUM AWAITING A CRIMINAL TO COME AND SMILE ON YOUR LITTLE UP-TURNED AND DROOLING FACES! IT IS AN INSULT TO GOD FOR YOU ARE TO BE A REFLEC-

B.C.

TION OF GOD, CREATOR OF THE UNIVERSE, AND YOU ACT AS IF YOU ARE NOTHING, DEPENDING ON THE CRUMBS TOSSED FROM THE FEASTERS' TABLES THAT EVEN THE DOGS WON'T TOUCH. Do you realize that only SHEEP would crowd into crazy and dangerous places and lap at the poison pool because somebody else did it first? But even the sheep won't STAY.

Did you ever think you would live to see the day—AND DID YOU EVEN SEE IT MONDAY, THE BLACKS SHOUTING IN EVERY GESTURE IMAGINED, TO "SCREW YOU"? Ah indeed, the band and prancing gladiators—with every vulgar gesture they could bring into their "dance" program. And the crowd and spectators and the King applauded and shouted and threw salutes and kisses—and I wondered if Clintonistas even realized they were naked, for the emperor had no new clothes to the real viewers of the charade of prancing robots.

So then, in parable form, of course, does God measure your growth, intentions, and how much HOPE can be given for a world in such chaos? HE AND WE ARE REQUIRED TO WATCH IT ALL AND MEASURE IT ON A SCALE OF ONE TO TEN. AND BROTHERS AND SISTERS—YOU ARE AT ABOUT MINUS 6.142 MILLION AND MOVING—BACKWARDS.

Did ANYBODY hear Newt Gingrich talking about his gains and their hard work listing off accomplishments AMONG WHICH WAS THE PUTTING ASIDE AND TAKING OUT OF CONSTITUTIONAL LAWS TO BETTER SERVE A BETTER WORLD? ANYBODY OUT THERE? WE FIND ALMOST NO "INTELLIGENT LIFE"! And yes, it was SAID and this is "taking credit", this mighty servant of Satan's troops. Later someone actually called into C-SPAN and wanted to set up a fund to help Gingrich pay his fine, that the old Constitution HAD TO GO! Well, it WENT! And yes indeed, right out with the IN of the Executive Orders that Gingrich saw to it went into power over LAW.

So what happens next? Let me ask YOU? WHAT HAPPENS NEXT? How many of you are waiting for me or "us" to somehow make it different for you? How many of you even understand a whit of what you want or expect? Why? How many markers (chips) have you earned and set aside against the day of abundance for payoff and reward. Oh??

Some of you have joined something you didn't even think was "real", shared a while and moved on to better trappings and some receiver or voice you better liked for your personal permission to do nothing. Then you rush back when the original cast-offs seem to be maybe getting something in reward for THEIR work and faithfulness. B.S., GOD WORKS HIS ABUNDANCE ON HIS PEOPLE—THE ONES WILLING TO WORK FOR HIM IN THE LEAN TIMES. Nobody is coming back to reap great riches and self-indulgence off the backs of those who EARNED the abundance. If you WENT

YOUR WAY AND NOW YOU PRETEND OTHERWISE—PLEASE GO BACK TO WHEREVER YOU WERE OR WHEREVER YOU WENT.

I don't care if that be California, U.S.A. or South Africa!! I certainly HOPE my friends and people HEAR THIS PARABLE!

You will stop your silliness about tossing out God's abundance. Set your business to structures so private that nobody, number one, knows except your PARTNERS—and sometimes, not even your partners in the project. I don't mean happenstance spouses, family, friends or business terrorists. PROTECT THAT WHICH IS GIVEN INTO YOUR CARE—CAREFULLY AND TO THE VERY BEST OF YOUR ABILITY.

If you were wise in early structure—YOU MADE NO STRUCTURE. If, however, there were those who helped, prayed with and for, and diligently KNEW that in reward for WORK they could patiently wait for that which would come in exchange for THEIR PERSONAL INPUT.

Let us assume that a man named Simon went forth and found someone who would offer funds toward venture projects, based on purchase of contracts, or even just wanted to help—say someone in another country—for whatever reasons. Now, there should be "commission" (your word which best fits) for arranging the opportunity; then Simon may wish to input some "commission" onto some who integrally helped HIM and the project assumption. But what of the hangers-on? Do THEY simply GET for being in existence and possibly even speaking out and serving against you? No. If they have SERVED YOU in your ongoing service and/or business and there is sharing to be done—it will be to pay for "markers" for prior indebtedness for service, labor or, if there is a good project for which these people have equally worked toward financing—and it appears it can be viable and worthy of input of funds entrusted into your hands and for which accounting MUST COME, then you consider carefully the POSSIBILITY of some venture financing. NOTHING IS FREE AS IN "FREE LUNCH". And WHO gets to make the final evaluation? The Person responsible for the transaction and his most immediate participants and partners. And, if there is some kind of a joint corporation involved—then I suggest that the most productive participants have their OWN PRIVATE CORPORATIONS AND THEY THEN DECIDE HOW MUCH GOES INTO THE JOINT OPERATION. If Mary or Carol Doe, instead of Simon, are responsible for the next funding—then Mary and Carol (separately) need their own private corporations and handle their contact returns better protected. Nothing like money turns man against man. If it is set forth in protection BEFORE the envy bursts all the balloons at the party, it is WISE ACTION INDEED.

And, regardless of circumstances, the funds from Simon's farming can be held in total asset protection until he can build his warehouse to house his harvest. At the same time it would behoove Mary and Carol to be doing immediately likewise. If you have corporations, or even individual industrially-minded parties involved here, work out a borrow circumstance—borrow your own assets and that places you "in debt" which protects your assets from the Wolves mentioned above. Pay for your loan up front so that usury is NOT A PART OF THE PROGRAM. Then keep your loan collateralized by a commodity in value which can grow and keep you protected as to holding both the venture capital for your projects AND in something the wolves won't confiscate—i.e., their own collateral, for allowing you to stay alive!

I agree, team, even parables are often HARD TO UNDERSTAND. Therefore, it is good to arrange, soon after ability to afford time and assets to do so—let us consider GETTING TOTALLY INFORMED.

Let me point out in parable format something of preference: Nobody wants to be showered with billions of anything, especially dollars, which can be stolen, confiscated, accounted to taxation, etc. What you want is use of value for building that which is pleasing and profitable, offers jobs even for the wolvettes and hyenas, and keeps you in a wonderful position of "alive" as useful slaves. So, what you want is to have access to billions of, say, drachmas or centavos, the Queen's gold, or the Smith's silver, to back each centavo, so that you can purchase the use of the funds while still protecting the centavo through banking collateral which they hold as cover for your loan. They are of the wolf pack so they will not want you to lose or the government or anyone else to steal that asset collateral. You, then are in debt so you owe not even taxes at this time. If your project thrives and blossoms and you succeed, then you need to pay proper taxes on commercial products like the CONSTITUTION says. Or, even then you may wish to keep investing in other projects under the same general plan of funding. But that comes later when you HAVE SOMETHING over which to plan.

Once you establish good business acumen you will find lenders who will understand your stability and plan of security and you will find abundance flowing. I didn't say a rain of money! I said abundance flowing—through the proper channels of protection and security and out to waiting projects of value and structuring to avoid as many pitfalls and wolf-pits as possible while producing BETTER WAYS, BETTER PRODUCTS, BETTER BOOKS, BETTER MOVIES AND BETTER MORAL INPUT TO THE NOW HAPLESS AND HOPELESS MASSES OF THE WORLD GONE INSANE. If YOU, our people, simply toss out the earned rewards upon the heads of unworthy "wanters", you err for you are paying for further demands of such "welfare". Many of you have exceptions wherein disagreeable people, family members, and friends, have simply stayed out of your business and allowed you to do your work. These merit high rewards for they have freed you to do your proper work. If their intent is incorrect then they may receive the reward for being out of your hair, even if disagreeable, and go their way, or come aboard—whichever is suitable. And THEN is when the personal choices become hardest. Why? Because the ones who dealt you the most misery won't want to take their winnings and go—they will want to stay and get the rest of bigger shares of your earnings. "TUFF!" HAD BETTER BE YOUR RESPONSE. GOD CHOOSES THOSE WHO ARE "FOR HIM" AND NOT AGAINST HIM. AND, WORSE, YOU OR ANYONE, IS EITHER FOR GOD OR AGAINST HIM—NO MIDDLE OF THE ROAD ROOSTERS.

Remember: GOD REWARDS SERVICE IN KIND. If you have served and worked in goodness—goodness will come back many, many fold. If you have doubted, then God will allow you to continue in your doubts while the abundance flows all about you except TO you. If you have worked against us, even if it be for a while, but no evidence of true change is apparent, you will end up in that negative position. If, for instance your spouse has hated you and badgered and belittled you—the best reward is to deliver that one from the pain of your presence!! When people don't like you, sue you, pester and drain you and still won't take leave of you—then you are going to have to arrange things so you can take leave OF THEM. If they steal from you—get back your assets or cause them to pay the damages. THAT is what the laws were originally for—to protect you in TRUTH. The LAW was originally FOR THE PEOPLE—not the judges and lawyers, criminals and thieves.

I use the term "wolf" and "wolves" so abstractly that my parables are less than perfect—BECAUSE WOLVES IN THEIR OWN SPACE, WITH YOU BUTTING OUT, ARE THE MOST GENTLE, ORGANIZED, PROTECTIVE, AND LOVING SPECIES OF ANIMAL ON YOUR GLOBE—BUT YOU KILL THEM JUST LIKE YOU KILL EVERYTHING ELSE.

So, my friends, consider your responsibilities, your labors, your deliverance (I did not say "salvation") and your capability of being good stewards and, better yet, good and honorable business colleagues, and let us see how best to handle possible venture capital if and when it comes. And remember to always "get your own house into order", get that snow off your own doorstep and realize that "charity" starts right at home wherever you ARE. Get stable, get organized and then, only then can you see further and into possible extensions of your work and better yet, evaluate people who would have your abundance for themselves and JUDGE the work they are apt to produce and products thereof which can allow you to flourish or is simply "down the drain" to feed some "beingness" of misinformed reality.

The main reason I am so confounded unpopular is that I am not going to pour milk and honey into your hair for just "being" less than my outright enemy but ignorant, none the less, of acceptance or consideration of the possibility of truth. I tell it like it is; I serve you who wish to find a way to better serve self and mankind about you, and who, frankly, at the least, believe me TO BE. And, you can BELIEVE me that you DO NOT want milk or honey in your hair for, unless you add peanut butter, you will never get the honey out and as it drips to the street and under your toadies, you will stick like glue forever more. Honey may well go well with bananas—but make very, very sure you use it carefully to protect the bananas from invasion of spoilage and not to ferment the fruit and lose it to the waiting ants who will intoxicate themselves and KILL AND BURY YOU.

Ah, yes indeed, the MASTER Teacher was a wise old soul even if presenting as a very young man. When you come to the realization of KNOWING, you have learned much about respecting OLD SOULS and interpreting parables and taking that tale within self for circumspect evaluation. This is true of growing bananas to reaping Gaia's abundance in Spelta. Taking it further: is there some reason you cannot go forth and develop a bee-farm and produce YOUR OWN abundant supply of honey? What about milk? Do you want cows, water buffalo, goats? Goats are excellent for they offer the least allergens in the milk and in the whey you have all the mineralization offered by their incredible diets—even tin from the tin-cans.

I am in FAVOR of worm farms and goat herds, cheese factories and goat whey products for sensitive tummies. But make sure you can offer food and shelter for each thing—that too, means from bananas to worms and goats. You cannot separate the idea from the conclusion of the project. The IDEA is the blueprint for every project—so the finished product is the only true measure of a project. However, you have to begin—AFTER THE BLUEPRINTING PHASE, don't you? Therefore, you take your natural things, such as seasons, and incorporate them into the start-up so that by time for sheltering you can afford to build the shelter—PROPER SEQUENCE IS NOT JUST FOR GOD, FRIENDS, IT IS FOR YOU!

And, if you want to raise worms or goats—LEARN HOW and then present it to a venture capital party with project laid forth and convince the "steward" of the capital—HOW AND WHY IT WILL WORK AND WHY YOU ARE THE ONE TO DO IT. Then and only THEN, do you have a capable co-Adventure worthy of notation by other business observers.

In every endeavor you must plan, and put to paper, the entirety of the project that COULD and WOULD be presented to the local banker and gain his wish to venture with you. Nobody is going to give anything to pre-determined FAILURES. Show me how your project is worthy of consideration, in other words of parable format.

I can go more explicitly into a picture presentation. Why should I produce a computer set-up for someone who studied to be a computer whiz—but that one goes off to build houses or tinker with soccer or whatever, and shows no intention or wish to go get a job using computers or otherwise. That is stupidity on my part to even become involved in such nonsense. Parents are often caught in these predicaments between the insecurities of children looking for their nests independent of the parents. But SOMETIMES, PARENTS—IT IS NECESSARY TO PHYSICALLY KICK THEM FROM YOUR NEST AND INTO FINDING ONE FOR THEMSELVES. THIS IS NOT MEAN—THIS IS LOGICAL LOVE AND RESPECT FOR THAT GROWING MINOR-BIRD. Self-esteem can only come from self-production and self-worth accomplishments—parents can only offer roots and lessons—hopefully which produce wings. However, no matter how wise or how bright or how much a failure—wings are there as gifted by GOD but each individual must use them if they wish to fly. The CHOICE is always with the individual with the wings of self.

Remember something very important, students: Abundance in Earthly consideration such as funding, money, business, etc., is a physical commodity of physical plane. It must be dealt with as such. Only THE WAY to accomplish is of Higher Power—so KNOW the difference and handle the assets in the most expeditious and secure manner you can conjure for you will also be utilizing it in a physical manifest world. How another uses THEIR assets is not really any of your business, so do not mix assets and you won't have quarrels in intended use of same. Next, shelter everything so that no brother is brought into distress by YOUR singular choices. Then go for it. The remainder is none of your business—money is not good or bad—MONEY IS. And, you can hope and even draw guidelines and rules for joint holdings—but butt out of the business of one handling his OWN share of earned gratuities.

The most important lesson right now, however, IS TO STAY OUT OF THE BUSINESS OF THE HIGHER LENDER LEST YOU BUTT INTO SOMETHING PURELY MISERABLE AND UNWANTED. WHAT THE PROVIDER DOES IS HIS BUSINESS AND YOU SIMPLY CAREFULLY DO NOT GET INVOLVED; HANDLE YOUR AFFAIRS AS IF YOU KNEW NOT ANYTHING AND MAKE IT SO. THE BANANA FARMER'S OTHER BUSINESSES ARE NONE OF YOUR AFFAIR AND, UNLESS YOU ARE GROWING BANANAS FOR THE FARMER—BANANAS ARE NONE OF YOUR AFFAIR. WHEN YOU UNDERSTAND THAT, PERHAPS THINGS CAN MOVE ALONG A BIT MORE SMOOTHLY. IF, IN FACT, THE PROVIDER FARMER HAS CONNECTIONS WITH YOUR WORST ENEMY'S BANK WHO SUPPLIES THE PLANTATION WITH ASSETS FOR EXPANSION OR RESEARCH POSSIBILITIES—ALL THE BETTER, AND IT IS WISER TO STAY OUT OF THE BUSINESS OF BOTH "OTHERS". YOUR WISHES AND CURIOSITY ARE NOT HIS DEMAND OR NEED TO PROVIDE. SO BE WISE AND DO NOT ASK, EXCEPT TO REMIND HIM THAT HE REALLY DOESN'T WANT ANYONE ELSE TO KNOW HIS BUSINESS, ESPECIALLY YOU WHERE ONLY BUSINESS IS INVOLVED. YOU CAN SHARE EVERYTHING AND ANYTHING IF YOU BECOME TRUSTED FRIENDS, BUT HIS OR YOUR DISCRETIONS ARE NOT ONE ANOTHER'S BUSINESS UNLESS EITHER GETS THE OTHER INTO UNLAWFUL CIRCUMSTANCES. TO PROTECT SELF IS, THEN, THE ONLY WAY TO ACCOMPLISH THIS FOR IN THIS WORLD OF CORRUPTION IT IS LIKELY THAT NEITHER YOU NOR HE WILL KNOW EVERYTHING. SO, METICULOUS ATTENTION TO DETAILS FOR SELF-PROTECTION NEEDS TO BE CAREFULLY ATTENDED ALL THE WAY ALONG THE LINES OF COMMUNICATION AND ACTIONS.

Now for those people who have been growing pretty good crops of bananas, say in Hong Kong: HARKEN UP. Things are going back to the dark ages of the Chinese control-shut-down, especially as regards monetary matters and business interactions. The Chinese have already announced they are going to wipe out the new rules and go back to the OLD Constitutional regulations of the Chinese as before Hong Kong was taken and developed by the English.

ZIGGY / By Tom Wilson,

I hope THIS PARABLE makes lots of sense—to the Banana farmer, for July is the deadline given by the Chinese land-owners for digging up the plantation and confiscating all the assets while shutting down banana farming altogether. It is time to pay attention and get your harvest into security. Make sure your Hong Kong offices and branches of operation are sheltered and that you do not fall to rhetoric, but to facts, and the facts are that it is already announced the Chinese are going to revert, confiscate and dismiss all interim regulations of Constitutional nature. If you have working relationships with the powers that be—fine, but consider this a FINAL WARNING-type of parable for international businessmen to pay attention. Shift and secure is probably the lesson here for if you shift and secure you will not be left to the looters. So, let us just allow this to be:

THE BIG ALERT TO HONG KONG BANANA DEALERS AND GROWERS!!!

And yes, you can form coalitions and get your assets into purchased security, and with the knowledge you now have about gold mines and takeovers, you can get those assets into a holding position—right in still the most secure place on your globe, the good old USA. And yes, indeed, I think even Mr. Bush and his Twigs will understand the VALUE of such a move—after all, he wants a market for his gold—doesn't he? Greedy old men, even, need to eat and have a market for their products—even to fence stolen goods. And no, do not "off hand" simply TRUST SOMEONE; use intelligence and deal always in such manner that you don't have to simply "trust" someone. Then, as friendship and actual abilities to assist one another grow—you can do all sorts of brotherly things without ruining a good friendship or relationship. And always abiding within and according to ALL LAWS of LAND AND GOD.

If you, for instance, have businesses in Hong Kong—get prepared for the worst—by JULY, 1997, and then any good will only be frosting on your cake—not the confiscation of your whole bakery.

So HOW does God serve? He serves in this manner—and you use your head and physical hands! And we all live happily ever after—in places of wondrous things and ideas and ideals, for we will have earned those wings with which we are allowed to fly across forever. And plantation owners, workers in the research fields, banana farmers, and banana extract insect repellent makers all live happily together forever and ever more.

Some of you only want good story tellers and revelators who do not use another's ideas or TRUTH in any manner lest they go to jail. IS THIS MODALITY BETTER SUITED TO SOME OF YOU? How about: "And God looked down and saw chaos and saw His people striving to overcome the chaos and save themselves that they might build anew and a better way. And He smiled and said, 'we shall serve you who will come forth and participate and listen to TRUTH'. But few came and some came only to gain abundance—but they serve so they receive great and greater rewards for the service—and God said, 'THIS IS GOOD—' and then they lived happily ever after!"

I hope you will treat this story as your morning reading instead of your bedtime put-you-to-sleep tale for your comfy further sleeping. It is WAKE-UP time, whatever time your clock might click off for your passage.

I am but your alarm clock which annoys you—but I hope you on the Hong Kong Circuit of clock watchers—consider that this alarm is sounding—LOUDLY.

And to the rest of you who sit with me or stand watch with me and labor in our vineyards—may our wine be sweet as you heed the warnings of the weather men and bankers who tattle and prattle and do false deeds unto you. Get our wine into secure barrels and make sure the pipelines from one vat into another are secure and without leakage and get ready, please, for the new crop of wine and the new variety of grapes which will surpass all sweetness of all species of grapes before offered unto you.

Have I gone nuts? Yes indeed. And next we will have a story about growing nuts. Good morning.

WOW! FOR PARABLES

I have never had such a sudden rush of inquiries regarding topics covered in my "Parables" writing. The method of illustrating circumstances and being heard is obviously the way to go. However, a whole bunch of stories may be more interesting if I happen to touch on something either in the news or in your personal lives. Certainly it would appear that it would keep poor Dharma out of trouble with the would-be controllers of truth and circumstance.

Could we do that? Yes, of course, and without doubt the resulting information would be far more quickly and easily understood. But would it be technical? Of course, but it would also probably appear to be what it is: too simple for most technically-minded people to appreciate.

Let us take a phrase that sits here on the desk in an article on Hong Kong and 1997. See, I had only referenced Hong Kong yesterday to, hopefully, parties who might well heed my warning of great changes and hard controls in that area, starting immediately in July. I have had a deluge of responses and it couldn't be Dharma because she thought Hong Kong was to revert to China in 1999. That is the year of our Lord, 1999. Surprisingly enough, to you who thought this to be the time of Satan, you can go right back and the signs and symbols of power and the beginnings of the endings would be represented in full Satanic outcropping from the upstart of 1666!

Can this be so? Of course, and it is simply that the Satanic influence of force, evil intent, and enslavement of humanity is all reflected in the Protocols of major entities of such intentions. The Plan 2000 is a good for-instance. But, remember God resurfaces with some big bangs in HIS own arsenal in 1999 and GOD ALSO HAS A PLAN 2000.

I haven't liked speaking in PARABLES when we have so much valid documentation to back up any statements, such as Lake as Head of the CIA, Hong Kong reverting to hard-line China and propaganda running rampant about all major players in this tie-up-the-world game of hard-line getcha.

NOSTRADAMUS

There was a well RECOGNIZED and honored prophet and seer by the name of Nostradamus. He predicted, and could somehow see, accurately, many things, but had to state them in such a way as to keep anybody from knowing what the heck he was talking about other than the ones who understood his cryptic codes.

I could say, for instance, that in my crystal pencil I see a great and horrendous red cloud of intensive thermal energy bursting over the area surrounding Hong Kong. The Elite have prepared for the time of total immersion into toxic times. The merchants think they have agreements which protect this New World Order misfit [China] but they have not fully realized that the prophets of earlier times KNOW this to be the time of a great "warning" and terrible upheaval as this again strong nation rises to its feet to overshadow the entire world. It will come the moment when it is best to have currency upon the seas and out of ports, along with perishable merchandise. If you are in the fruit and plant redistribution or plantation growing business, i.e., citrus, plantains, cattle, etc., you will want to try to have a harvest of same onto portable transports and, at the least, parked off-shore.

Now, how many got the message? And how would I explain that I have, as example, just said that if you can work out a plan to get assets off-shore, that of course it means "you who have assets in the area". If I speak of currency what could I possibly mean? Well, many things, among which would be to shift assets to a more secure area while you watch and see what happens. With banks, etc., that would give an opportune time to be shipping all the currency that is regularly exchanged—back to headquarters and keep it in shipping or storage as long as is possible and to the greatest extent possible. It also could mean a great and simple opportunity to temporarily back other agreements, contracts and business opportunities while awaiting solutions to Hong Kong holdings. It could also mean to work out coverage with the very Chinese who will be watching and already are controlling great shifts in either currency or merchandise. Remember that Hong Kong has been one of the MAJOR commercial/banking centers of the world for a long time. Therefore it works out well that you work with the powers to be to allow for protective shipping and cover during the time of holding. How long will you need to hold? Perhaps forever, perhaps only six months or so until a working plan is instituted within the takeover regime. Protection would need to come through use of product lest the commodities simply be pirated or "Shanghaied".

Perhaps a lot of the crop products can be very quickly returned to their origins for Chinese need to eat also and they are already depleted in minerals and vitamin foods that are best provided, i.e., potassium through plantains, etc. These are examples but will help explain parables integrated with knowing or realization of current information which may well pass your attention as you move closer to deadlines. You have less than six months to finalize and move products.

I guess I am in appreciation to all of you who have rushed information to my attention although my intent has not been to write or speculate on Hong Kong's return to the Chinese. With that return also comes horrendous amounts of MISINFORMATION WHICH IS NONE OF MY BUSINESS, JUST AS IS THE RETURN OF HONG KONG TO CHINA ACTUALLY NONE OF MY BUSINESS.

There are MAJOR banks in Hong Kong that will be stuck in this changeover as in every national turnover there is always chaos of some sort. You will find, however, Federal Reserve banks and operations already in China general, as well as those in Hong Kong, along with British Banks, all now coming under the international type of Federal Reserve. They will be needing some attention to getting assets, which can be confiscated, off-shore some way under guise of replacement, recycling, etc. Things may well APPEAR stable for a while but the underlying restrictions will be coming into placement.

No, this doesn't mean that "Ah, he is a fortune teller after all!" No, I am not—I am intelligent and can SEE and HEAR and have experienced so that I KNOW WHAT HAPPENS. If you don't want to be caught with the dreaded "pants down" syndrome, you make sure your belt, suspenders and whatever else, like buttons and zippers, are in full functional operation and do it before you need them—well BEFORE you need them. And, like good insurance coverage—you won't have them falling down on you at the last and most crucial minute. Pack and prepare NOW, and ship out in May, say.

The Chinese and Russians really celebrate May Day (May 1st) and it would behoove all of you to consider May Day your important new holiday, in that April is a good month for handling and shipping off-season goods. It is past winter freeze and commodities ship well.

Who does Joe Blow, USA/Hong Kong deal with? Come on readers, I'm not going to tread on serpent toes. Look who is coming to power and use intelligence. Use whatever backup you have to show your capabilities and take it from there. I can give you writing after writing on the topic, and probably shall, since there are so many inquiring minds now surfacing from your own local political morass. Somebody, for instance, has already sent over a New American article on the subject from January 20, 1997 because it seemed to fit my writing on Parables.

Let's offer a bit on this topic and give appreciation to this publication for graciously sharing. Valid information? You are now grown enough to sort information into possible, probable and surely valid vs. garbage and mis-, dis-information.

If you are truly interested in Hong Kong circumstances, then get all the information from everywhere that you can, and study it carefully. The word is, I am told, that surely enough, Hong Kong would revert to "prior" rules, laws and regulations. That is a SERIOUS statement, readers—IF YOU LEARN WHAT WERE THE "PRIOR" REGULATIONS.

Where would one look to see what this current and modern rule might be or become? Well, look at, of course, the people being placed into power-slots right now to achieve the changeover.

Therefore, we need to look at Tung Chee Hwa, don't we? Stay with me, readers, DON'T WE? You say in response, "Well, I never heard of Tung Chee Hwa!"? Frightening all of a sudden, ISN'T IT? After all, silly people, it is the claim of great prophets and seers that IT WILL BE THE CHINESE WHO WILL MARCH ACROSS THE WORLD, TO THE NORTH, AND PUSH ISRAEL INTO TURKEY AFTER CROSSING THE "DRY" EUPHRATES RIVER. Remember?

So, let us concentrate on Hong Kong and Tung. And no, "Tung" is NOT his first name—you have to also understand Chinese.

[QUOTING:]

THE RED TIDE IS ALREADY FLOODING A FORSAKEN ISLAND OF FREEDOM

On December 11th, 59-year-old Tung Chee Hwa, a Shanghai-born and British-educated shipping magnate, was anointed to become the first Chief Executive of Hong Kong when the island is surrendered to Communist China next July. Tung was the overwhelming choice of the Selection Committee, a 400-member panel hand-picked by Beijing to choose a chief executive who will be the instrument of the Red Chinese regime's will. Tung's competition for the position consisted of two other officials, former Hong Kong Chief Justice Yang Ti-liang and tycoon Peter Woo. However, Tung's candidacy received the special attention of U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Winston Lord, who met with Tung—but not with the other candidates—in Hong Kong shortly before the election. [H: Oh my, that is overflowing with information and intrigue isn't it?]

Lord praised Tung as "a man of great integrity" [H: How in heck would Lord know??] and "a strong, independent-minded individual." [H: That latter description should scare the pants off anyone without a full commitment backed by military at ready to protect your agreements.] Hong Kong correspondent Linda Chong observed that "Lord ... noted that his family knew Mr. Tung well but would not elaborate on the nature of the relationship." [H: I bet not!] Lord was equally circumspect about another link between himself and Tung: Lord is a member of the secretive Council on Foreign Relations and was the body's president from 1977-85; Tung's biography proudly states that the Chief Executive-in-waiting is a "member of the INTERNATIONAL ADVISORY BOARD OF THE COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS..." Accordingly, Tung was the preferred candidate of globalist elites in both communistic China and the United States. [H: Still have questions about what is REALLY taking place here?]

NEW ORDER IN HONG KONG

[H: This might well be giving some hope of not being fatally wounded if you work for the New World Order but if there is not cement relationships with tickets in hand to the Bush, you might want to really consider, very carefully, preparations which protect your front side, back side, and all points in between. You can work within the situation and not become the situation but you really have to pay attention, don't you? By the way, your new director of the CIA, your Secretary of State and other new appointees are all VERY, VERY prominent in the New World Order Council on Foreign Relations—whether they be Republican or Democrats, British or whatever.]

[H: Here it comes:] Tung has promised that his government will "ensure a stable, equitable, compassionate and democratic society", one which produces a population "global in our outlook" and that enjoys "a life free from the anxiety of crime and disorder".

[H: Gosh, perhaps he should become king of the U.S. and Africa?] Chinese Foreign Minister Qian Qichen, who presided over the selection committee, hailed "Comrade Tung's victory" as a "new dawn for democracy" for Hong Kong. The new "democratic" order in Hong Kong announced its presence immediately after Tung's selection: the Christian Science Monitor noted that "Street protests against the selection of Mr. Tung by a Beijing-appointed committee resulted in police detaining dozens of pro-democracy advocates, including Emily Lau, a legislator recently elected by popular vote."

According to Newsweek, "Tung seems to share the mainland view that those who criticize Beijing's policies are unpatriotic." USA Today correspondent James Cox reports that during his candidacy Tung portrayed himself as a "consensus seeker" and "urged Hong Kong citizens to think less about their rights and more about their public 'obligation'". [H: Isn't this always the way it comes around?] He has declared that "groups supporting independence for Taiwan or Tibet MUST LEAVE HONG KONG." He has also hinted broadly that he will not countenance the expression of "anti-China" opinions or "personal attacks" upon political leaders in Hong Kong's media.

Tung's perspective on press freedom is apparently dictated by Chinese Foreign Minister Qian Qichen, who told the Selection Committee on November 10th that "rumors" and "personal attacks" would be banned under Hong Kong's new government. Qian has also informed the Asian Wall Street Journal that future commemorations of the Tiananmen Square massacre would be forbidden on the island after China assumes control in July.

Chinese foreign ministry spokesman Shen Guofang insists that concerns about the end of press freedom in Hong Kong have been exaggerated. In language that could have been adapted either from Joseph Stalin's Soviet Constitution or the UN's International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, Shen explained: "Hong Kong people will have full freedom of expression, but all freedoms must be within the limits allowed by law." Those limits will preclude criticism of Tung's background and politics.

Tung was born in Shanghai and educated at the University of Liverpool. He spent a decade working for General Electric in the United States before relocating to Hong Kong to work for his father's shipping business, Orient Overseas (International) Holding Ltd. [H: Wow—again!!!] Following the death of his father in 1982, Tung learned that Orient faced a financial crisis. Seeking to prevent the liquidation of the family business, Tung turned to Beijing, which put together a $120 million bailout package through government-controlled banking interests.

Tung kept silent about the communist-supported bailout of his shipping business, and, notes the New York Times, "even today he will reveal no details other than the size of the capital infusion from China. Mr. Tung declined repeated requests over the last two months to be interviewed." For many residents of Hong Kong, the implications of the bailout are obvious: They've been bought and sold for Beijing's GOLD. [H: Hummm-n-n. Whose gold? Indeed I would suggest that Mr. Bush's CFR-protected gold needs a market and some people may even need some collateral backup. And perish the thought of Mr. Bush not having access—after all, he has had Scowcroft, Eagleburger AND GOOD OLD KISSINGER working THAT market for years and years and years. By the way, please note that it was Kissinger Associates and GENERAL ELECTRIC who first made major business inroads IMMEDIATELY upon the end of Russia's cold war. Why, Mr. Gorbachev became, instantly, president of Kissinger Associates, Moscow. You see, you don't really need parables.] "Why on Earth would the Chinese want to lend so much money?" asks Emily Lau. "That mere fact speaks loudly."

COMMUNIST PARTY TO RULE

[H: REMEMBER: WHO ARE THE COMMUNISTS?]

According to Foreign Minister Qian, although the Chinese Communist Party "will not have a direct interference with the daily administration of Hong Kong," the Party "will set overall Chinese policy toward Hong Kong"—leaving Tung and the Beijing-appointed rubber-stamp legislature to work out the quotidian details. Qian has not explained what role Hong Kong's clandestine Communist Party—which had an estimated membership of 6,000 in the mid-1980s—will play in the management of the island. The Wall Street Journal notes that "the local, underground branch of China's Communist Party—a political force many fear—could be highly influential... In China, party secretaries outrank governors or mayors, and the Party's power is considered supreme, even above the nation's constitution."

Not surprisingly, Tung has displayed complete subservience to the Party. The December 12th New York Times reported that Tung has made no secret of his intention "to abolish the elected legislature and to enforce a more authoritarian executive government". China has already drafted a plan for the abolition of Hong Kong's Legislative Council and its replacement by a Beijing-appointed body, and Tung will put that plan into effect at the stroke of midnight on June 30th.

[END OF QUOTING]

Now, you ponder this confusion of spoon-fed garbage and you might well get upset. Not if you look at what it SAYS. You KNOW that the New World Order, in all its Satanic reversal-imaging, calls a duck an elephant and gets away with it. What did the Communists start to call the changing party in the Soviet Union? Right, Democratic. The lies are to cause you, especially business persons, to continue to work unafraid and carelessly while calling Communism Democracy, and Socialist Fascism is coming aboard with the changeover and nobody, in the world, will realize it! The Fed(s) and the Fed are all just sitting on time-bomb kegs waiting and this is WHY you are getting the dregs of an open society being placed into highest ranking placement. NOTHING is changed except the LABELS.

What does it matter to me? Well, a great deal. I have, actually, very little interest in the subject or, for that matter, in the New World Order. My JOB is to tell you what IS, not go and change a world FOR YOU. I do not, either, become a system to work within a system and maintain full integrity and Godliness.

When you people talk about capitalism, for instance, you now have a fully mis-defined "thing" abounding. Capitalism in its origin is simply a commodity in exchange for a commodity or service. A capitalistic system in its pure form works solely on exchange of goods balanced with return. If a product is poor in construction it SHOULD not sell well, as an example. Capitalism is best described as FREEDOM. That concept went from the U.S., say, many, many years ago. What you have is a controlled society calling itself a Democracy. WHEN YOU WERE BIRTHED YOUR CONSTITUTION WAS A REPUBLIC. Look around at the "Republics" and see if you can find even ONE remaining as a Republic. Even look to the Republic of South Africa or the Republic of China, Russia—or the U.S. So, if you have had a takeover and replacement by another form of government—WHO IS RESPONSIBLE? IF A REPUBLIC IS "REPLACED", WHO AND WHAT REPLACED IT AND CONTINUES TO FOOL YOU WITH NAMES?

Let us look at the election of Clinton as an example of how far DOWN you, even proclaiming a Democratic system, have sunk in order to place a puppet on the King's Throne. Less than 46% of eligible voters even bothered to go to the polls on election day. And of those, far less than 50% of those voters voted for Clinton. So did he have a run-away election of preference? Of course not—but how many of you give a damn? You are dazzled with hoopla, ball gowns, new president (in every way you can name), and the celebration is actually one of "we got in and can now protect all our criminal partners", even Newt. Do you think Mrs. Jones is actually going to reduce Clinton to a slobbering mass of admitted corruption? This is, after all, the "open" man who will even put a Republican into his high-cabinet places.

WHAT TO DO. WHAT TO BELIEVE

It certainly doesn't take rocket scientists to see that trouble is afoot and times are getting toward being very troubled. Do you readers remember Jacinta of Fatima? Do you know who is "Veronica" who speaks of Mother, etc?

Well, there are some pretty good recent things to consider if one believes God, or Mother speaks to you. Jacinta said, in Feb. 1920: "There is a secret of Heaven and another one of Earth, and the latter is terrifying. It will seem as though it were already the end of the world. And in this cataclysm everything will be separated from the sky, which will turn white as snow."

Could this actually coincide NOW with a prophecy of 1975 which was: "All who remain in the light of grace will have no fear. They will pass through this great period of warnings without suffering."? And could that last coincide with a statement in 1976: "There will be a tremendous explosion, and the sky shall roll back like a scroll. This force shall go within the very core of the human. He will understand his offenses to his God." After all, readers, it does fit 1973's description of: "...It's as though everything has exploded in the sky—the flash... very hot... very warm... It feels like a burning of everything. Now the sky is very white... colors... blues, purples... it's like a huge explosion... and then a warning: 'Your warning before Chastisement!' Flash, fire, and the voice within you. The final Warning before Chastisement!" And so, while we are on the subject we will share some more instructions from this resource and note that, as Timothy Binder referred to "Dharma's Photon Belt", PLEASE PAY ATTENTION AS WHEN THE RADIATION BELT AROUND YOUR GLOBE IS IGNITED, IT MAY BE THE VERY LAST THING YOU SEE FOR, EVEN IF YOU SURVIVE, IT WILL BE THAT WITHOUT "CARE" YOU WILL BE BLIND.

"...As the day follows night, so shall this warning follow soon. Beware of the sunrise! Do not look up to the sky—at that time of the flash! Beware of the sunrise! Do not look up to the sky—at the flash! Close your windows; draw your shades; remain inside. Do not venture outside your door, or you will not return. Pray! Prostrate yourselves upon your floors! Pray with arms outstretched, and beg for mercy of your God the Father..."

"Keep blessed candles, water, blankets, food within your homes. The candles of those who have remained in the state of grace shall not be extinguished, but the candles in the homes of those who have given themselves to Satan shall not burn!"

OK? So, am I the ONLY doomer and gloomer around? I suggest you who seem to want to "out smart-ass" (as I have been described by some) ME, I suggest you look around about yourselves and study your circumstances.

I am going to write more on the China mess because I don't think you understand at all: They are POWERFUL and they have armed the parts of the world that the U.S. condemns—you know, Iran, BIG BUNCHES OF EVERYTHING TO IRAN, Syria, Libya and, being of equal opportunity players, even a bunch to the USA—to what the New World Order calls its "enemies of freedom, Domestic Terrorists". And brethren, you haven't seen anything to compare with the Chinese Mafia. These Chinese haven't been under restrictions for they have ignored you and your sanctions. They have produced fighters, anti-ship missiles, submarines to the Middle East "terrorist" states, weapons, chemicals, biologicals and you name it... And here is a nice picture: "The Chinese have also provided Iran with 400 tons of chemical agents—some of which could be placed in warheads atop Chinese-made surface-to-surface missiles that Iran has placed along the Strait of Hormuz, THROUGH WHICH ONE-FIFTH OF THE WORLD'S OIL SUPPLY FLOWS."

Laughing yet? Let us suppose you succumb to my "stupid" interpretations and actually got some dark shades for your windows and eyes. Then pay a little bit more attention—and while you are on the floor passing that first blasting impact and are praying—keep those eyes covered, shaded, and wrap your head, in addition, in your arms and STAY THAT WAY until things cool off and darken up a bit. Then expect it to be REALLY DARK in a while. You will have blown out the electricity systems and probably will have no means of heat and, while the Sun is covered—IT WILL BE COLD AS THE DAY HELL FREEZES. Is this truly a JOKE to be laughed at, Mr. Binder? Your friend George Green even believed it to the extent of running thousands of extra editions of the discussion. Dark welder's goggles remain pretty intelligent for many things but to have handy is a pretty inexpensive item and, who knows, you may need to do some serious welding after this nice explosive event.

I'm out of time, space and patience. Thank you for your attention. We will get back to China and what is happening in that arena.

Good morning.

Now, I need to turn back to the subject of China. A lot of what we will share we share because we always agree to take all articles IN TOTAL CONTEXT and the one we will use is from The New American, Jan. 20, 1997. Much is superfluous and extraneous but, all together, it paints a very interesting picture. Always the facts remain, however, WHAT IS THE U.S. AND NEW WORLD ORDER DOING IN EVERYONE ELSE'S BUSINESS? Do YOU really think your government is so good as to demand that all nations of the world have the same kind of enslavement? The American citizens have become the most blind populace on the globe as to knowing what REALLY is going on in your world. You will note, please, that U.S. politicians run all the way through this paper.

HONORING THE BUTCHER OF BEIJING

CLINTON SHAKES A HAND STAINED WITH THE BLOOD OF 4,000 INNOCENT LIVES. [H: Well, it seems he also sits atop a PUPPET throne ruling 265 million U.S. citizens destined for and already in a state of slavery.]

By William Norman Grigg.

Standing at an honor cordon outside the Pentagon on December 9th, Secretary of Defense William Perry introduced Communist China's defense minister as "my colleague, General Chi". Perry did not refer to Chi Haotian, a 67-year-old leader of the People's Liberation Army (PLA) who killed American troops in Korea and ordered tanks into Tiananmen Square, as "my counterpart", but specifically chose to describe him in collegial terms. This introduction was an apt grace note to Chi's tour of diplomatic and defense sites in Washington and across the country, which included a 19-gun salute [H: A gun-salute is NOT an honorable thing—it is a total salute to WAR and recognition of power. For instance a 19-gun salute designates less salute value than does a 21-gun salute and thus and so.] at the Pentagon and a 20-minute White House meeting with President Clinton. General Chi's visit is a compelling illustration that the Clinton Administration's China policy has moved beyond appeasement and toward interdependence.

Ever sensitive to public relations concerns, the Administration re-scheduled Chi's White House visit from December 9th to December 10th, apparently to avoid the irony of playing host to the military official who carried out the Tiananmen Square massacre on "International Human Rights Day". [H: Was that Tiananmen Square incident REALLY any worse than holocausting WACO's church of Davidians, the Oklahoma City Bombing and inclusive incidents such as the Weavers at Ruby Ridge, Idaho? Oh yes indeed, sleeping people, those were done by YOUR own so-called protective forces. At least the Chinese just came right out and said they were going to get control and did it. Yours sneak around while blaming the innocent, crucifying the innocent, and generally acting like Satan-heads.] However, the Administration's corps of truth-twisters had failed to coordinate their efforts. An unclassified CIA biography of Chi made available just before the general's visit neglected to mention his role in the mass-murders at Tiananmen Square; if the historical record of this monstrous crime against humanity is to be put down an Orwellian memory hole, why was the White House visit rescheduled?

An intelligence official attempted to minimize the omission by explaining that the CIA biographical sketch didn't reflect "classified knowledge". However, Gen. Chi's role in the massacre is hardly privileged information: Time magazine reported in 1989 that "As chief of staff, Chi bears major responsibility for the violence unleashed upon Beijing's citizenry by his troops." [H: Now, who is THIS person? No, give me his whole NAME! And who was the man we spoke of in relationship to Hong Kong, yesterday? Ah indeed, you can't remember from yesterday—do you REALLY remember anything from 1989? The POINT is to trick your minds, not inform you.]

Perhaps the Clinton Administration's eagerness to indulge in Orwellian truth-twisting emboldened the Red Chinese general to embellish the falsehood even further. [H: No, there is an ongoing SECRET coalition of New World Order-level tactics working with China and being worked all around the change-out of Honk Cong, among other more serious things.] During a forum for military and diplomatic officials at the National Defense University (NDU) in Maryland, General Chi brazenly declared that "not a single person lost his life in Tiananmen Square." Eyewitness accounts of the event document that at least 4,000 innocent people were slaughtered when the tanks rolled in June 1989. [H: Ah, but WHICH is correct? You don't get any other accurate news, do you?] Furthermore, General Chi himself has justified the bloodbath as a proportionate measure to beat down the "small minority of people with evil ambition" who supposedly "instigated the turmoil and spread rumors to provoke the masses". [H: Ah yes, of course, your approach is ever so much more humane and appropriate—just shoot them dead, children and all, and/or burn them alive, children and all—especially if they call themselves CHRISTIANS.] But Chi's audience at the NDU was satisfied to allow the Communist's self-serving falsehood to go unchallenged.

[H: Pay attention, readers, to what is being offered here and then very carefully consider possibilities of intent of such as The New American. There is something pretty creepy about the presentations of some of their articles so that you can't tell if you have patriots or traitors in the journalistic/editorial hierarchy. No, I am NOT saying anything other than exactly what I suggest always: PAY ATTENTION, lest you just tumble off into deeper yogurt than from the establishment media.]

STRATEGIC RELATIONSHIP

During Gen. Chi's December 9th White House visit, President Clinton spoke hopefully of developing a new "strategic relationship" between the U.S. and Communist China. General Chi, for his part spoke of "the good momentum that has emerged in the development of relations between the two armed forces and between the two countries", and the general's visit was intended as the inauguration of a series of military contacts.

Joseph Nye (CFR), dean of Harvard's Kennedy School of Government and former Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security, is helping to facilitate an exchange of military officers between the U.S. and China. [H: See how insanity runs in the family?] Next spring, a group of Communist Chinese colonels will visit Harvard and the Pentagon. Joint Chiefs Chairman John Shalikashvili [H: Keep in mind Shalikashvili is no longer IN POWER (HURUMPTH).] (CFR) will pay a visit to China in 1997, [H: See how you don't even NOTICE the takeover?] and a series of "MILITARY consultations at the vice-minister level" involving Walt Slocombe (CFR), Undersecretary of Defense for Policy, will begin next year as well. In addition, preliminary planning is underway for joint training exercises between American and Communist Chinese military forces. [H: Wow, and who do you think merits this kind of coalition? This is no small potatoes, readers.]

This ambitious program to forge a U.S.-Red Chinese "strategic partnership" proceeds despite abundant indications that Red China remains committed to conventional Marxist strategic goals and to the use of any necessary means to achieve those goals. [H: And where did you tell me Kissinger is?] During a May 1994 visit by a Republican delegation to Beijing, an American official inquired of Mo Xiusong, the vice chairman of the Chinese Communist Party: "Is the long-term aim of the Chinese Communist Party still world Communism?" Mo responded, "Yes, of course. That is why we exist." [H: Lenin also said that they would take the U.S. and never have to fire a shot, in fact the Americans will give us the rope to HANG THEM.] General Chi did not make a similarly sweeping pronouncement during his visit. However, in remarks at the National Defense University he bluntly reiterated Red China's determination to use any necessary means—including armed force—to conquer the free Chinese society on Taiwan.

General Chi's credentials as a Maoist, anti-American hardliner are impeccable. During the Korean War, Chi was a battalion political instructor in the 27th Army of the "Chinese People's Volunteers". During the 1970s, he exercised military control over Chinese propaganda outlets. Shortly after the Tiananmen Square massacre, Chi gave an interview to the Chinese publication Qiushi (Seeking Truth) in which he defended the PLA's role as the military instrument of the Chinese Communist Party and rejected the idea that the PLA could evolve into a non-politicized, professional military.

William C. Triplett II, former chief Republican counsel to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, points out. "In the fall of 1993, General Chi and several other military officers initiated an extraordinary petition to President Jiang Zemin, demanding a tougher line against the United States." That petition asserted, "Neither the Chinese people nor the People's Liberation Army will ever forget the interference and bullying of U.S. hegemonists China has suffered in the 1990s." It even claimed that the United States had "threatened and invaded China with warships and sold advanced naval and aeronautical weapons to Taiwan to obstruct the peace and unification cause across the Taiwan Straits."

Even more ominously, in June 1993—shortly after Chi received his appointment as Red China's Defense Minister—the PLA High Command issued a textbook entitled Can the Chinese Army Win the Next War? which identified the United States not as a "strategic partner", but rather as "the principal adversary". [H: Never forget for one second that the game is POLITICAL and you are NOT going to be given any notion as to what is actually taking place. All I can remind you about, is to get PREPARED appropriately to whatever your status or involvement in ANY way whatsoever and remember that the things are happening INTERNATIONALLY and simultaneously ALL AROUND THE GLOBE. If YOU don't have business in Hong Kong, then don't try to wear Chinese shoes or English shoes. If you do have business in any place from SOUTH AFRICA TO HONG KONG, YOU ARE NOW IN COUNTDOWN MODE AND THE COUNTDOWN IS FAR AHEAD, LIKE SOME 3 TO 4 MONTHS, IN AFRICA. The major shutdown and sift-out measures, however, will NOT wait for June 30! April is the best month for adequate coverage for after May 1st is simply clean-up time—in Hong Kong. Less time is allowed in South Africa for the shift-out is already underway as you have been reading from our Bush writings. Please, friends, look and act carefully lest you be caught short.]

TOWARD WORLD HEGEMONY

Chi's visit was not without its detractors. Among them was Senator Larry Craig (R-ID), who declared that "the Clinton Administration could not have found a more odious, anti-American ... figure in the Communist Chinese leadership on whom to lavish American hospitality." Recalling Bill Clinton's utter abandonment of his 1992 campaign promises to take a less conciliatory posture toward China than that taken by the Bush Administration, Senator Craig continued: "[W]ith the red carpet being rolled out for General Chi, the Clinton Administration is dropping the other shoe, moving from surrendering its pretense of supporting human rights to actively courting the most detestable elements of the Beijing ruling circles. Making matters worse, this latest capitulation comes at a time when the PLA is stepping up its activities to acquire sophisticated technology with military application."

Michael Ledeen of the American Enterprise Institute points out that "just as we opened the floodgates of American technology to the Soviets, thereby enabling them to achieve a quantum leap in military power ... so today we are selling China some of our most sensitive technology, at bargain-basement prices. We have recently permitted the PRC to obtain the technology to manufacture its own Global Positioning System, which is the key to the most accurate targeting systems for cruise missiles and other advanced weapons. We have permitted the Chinese to buy technology used to build 'stealth' aircraft, and we are permitting them to buy, at auction, entire defense factories, until very recently used to manufacture state-of-the-art military components, from advanced lasers to exotic missile skins."

The December 6th Washington Times observed that "China has a small nuclear arsenal and conducted a nuclear test in late July before pledging to abide by a moratorium on testing." (The Red Chinese have not pledged a unilateral moratorium on threats like the one issued in November 1995 to the effect that they would nuke Los Angeles in the event of a conflict over Taiwan.) By the year 2000, according to the Times, the PLA will have laid the foundation of a modernized military; by 2029 China would become the dominant power in Asia, and by the centenary of the PLA's conquest of China in 2049 [H: Try 1997!], the Red Chinese regime would be in a position to make a bid for world military hegemony.

However, from China's perspective, this time line may be altogether too modest: In 1994, computerized war games conducted by the Defense Department's Office of Net Assessment suggested that within a quarter of a century a modern, technologically sophisticated PLA would be able to defeat the U.S. military. This is an outcome eagerly sought by General Chi, who is presiding over the PLA modernization campaign.

RED WEAPONS MAGNATE

As the Washington Times pointed out, the PLA is also "a multi-billion-dollar international business empire". A significant element of that business empire is dedicated to producing and supplying weaponry to anti-American governments in the Middle East.

While Chi was in Washington mouthing scripted sound bites about "strategic cooperation" with the United States, China and Iran were nearing completion of a $4.5 billion arms deal which would send Xian FB-7 strike aircraft, Shenyang F-811M and Chengdu F-7 fighters, anti-ship missiles, and submarines to the Middle Eastern terrorist state. Mark Yost of the Wall Street Journal—Europe noted that "China has sold Iran approximately $3 BILLION in weapons over the past few years and has transferred weapons technologies as well, helping Iran to build domestic industries for producing missiles, helicopters and artillery."

China has agreed to build two 300-megawatt nuclear reactors in Iran which could be used to produce bomb-grade material. The Chinese have also provided Iran with 400 tons of chemical agents—some of which, Yost warned, "could be placed in warheads atop Chinese-made surface-to-surface missiles that Iran has placed along the Strait of Hormuz, through which one-fifth of the world's oil supply flows."

The Syrian terror regime has also been a regular customer for Chinese weaponry. In June 1996, U.S. intelligence sources discovered a Syria-bound shipment of Chinese military hardware that included guidance equipment for the Chinese-made M-11 surface-to-surface missile. Yost reported that "Chinese equipment may be involved in ... an underground chemical/biological weapons factory outside Damascus" similar to a facility under construction IN LIBYA. The Clinton Administration has been sanguine about China's arms sales to anti-American regimes. When the subject was brought up during Secretary of State Warren Christopher's visit to China in November, State Department spokesman Nicholas Burns blithely replied, "We cannot allow single issues to cancel diplomatic contacts."

Nor has the Administration's ardor for a "strategic partnership" with Communist China been diminished by the red regime's arms sales to domestic gangs in this country. In May 1996, a Customs Service sting (code-named "Operations Dragon Fire") uncovered a Chinese arms-smuggling ring that had supplied at least 2,000 Chinese-made AK-47s to street gangs in Northern California. At the center of the arms ring were three companies operated by the Chinese Government: Norinco and Poly Technologies, which are operated by the PLA, and China Jingan, which is run by the "People's Armed Police". The corporate leadership of Poly Technologies includes Col. He Ping, Communist Party head Deng Xiaoping's son-in-law.

According to arms broker Hammon Ku, who figured prominently in the ring, the Chinese Government was completely supportive of the arms shipments to American "gangs". The AK-47 deal, according to Ku, resulted in the promotion of Norinco plant Vice President Guo Cheng Kun. Ku also offered agents posing as arms buyers for American crime groups a variety of high-tech weapons, including tanks, anti-tank rockets, 57-millimeter recoilless rifles, various types of machine guns, and Chinese-made replicas of Uzis and M-16s.

Most chilling was Ku's suggestion that the Chinese arms network could provide criminal groups and domestic terrorists with hand-held rocket launchers and surface-to-air missiles, known as "Red Parakeets", "so powerful that they could bring down a jumbo jet..." [H: And have!] According to a criminal complaint filed with the Customs Service, "Ku said that they could take out a 747, that they were very hard to get and that they were very effective." [H: And so they HAVE, taken out 747s that is.] This statement has an ominous resonance in the wake of the yet-unsolved explosion of TWA 800 last July.

In 1994, Bill Clinton supposedly banned the import of Chinese guns and ammunition manufactured by the PLA-run arms companies. However, in the aftermath of Operation Dragon Fire, Clinton Administration spokesmen took pains to downplay the involvement of Red Chinese officials in the smuggling ring. When asked by a reporter if China has been "a big source of smuggled arms into the United States", Deputy Attorney General Jamie Gorelick responded: "All I'm going to say is that we consider this to be a very serious case." The State Department's Nicholas Burns also dismissed the significance of the PLA arms-smuggling operation: "I don't see why this needs to complicate U.S.-China relations at all."

Apparently, neither Chinese collaboration with rogue states nor PLA contacts with domestic criminals can significantly "complicate" the new "strategic partnership" between the U.S. and Communist China. The intimacy of that partnership was illustrated on February 6th of last year when Poly Group chairman Wang Jun attended a reception in the White House. The December 21st Washington Times reported that three months after Wang's White House visit, the Customs Service investigation "was compromised by a media leak [and] shut down prematurely". [H: Hummmmm—Washington Times?? Is THIS the "Moonie" paper so closely aligned in business with Mr. Bush? Watch out, readers, you are about to be short-sheeted again!]

APPEASEMENT ARCHITECT

Retiring Defense Secretary William Perry, who has cultivated contacts with China's military for two decades, is a major architect of the new "strategic partnership", and General Chi is not the first Red Chinese military official whom Perry has taken to his bosom. In August 1994, Perry invited General Xu Huizi to make a discreet visit to the Pentagon's War Room. It was Xu who issued the order to massacre the Tiananmen Square protesters that General Chi so competently carried out, and—as with Chi's visit last December—Xu's visit was timed to coincide with a congressional recess.

Just two months later, according to investigative reporter Kenneth R. Timmerman, Perry "signed a ground-breaking military cooperation agreement with Lt. Gen. Ding Henggao, chairman of COSTIND, China's Commission on Science Technology and Industry for National Defense." COSTIND is in charge of testing and development of all weapons for the PLA, as well as industrial and military espionage. As Timmerman writes, "Gen. Ding is China's top weapons scientist and he commands China's best spies." It was Ding, Timmerman continues, who "proposed to Perry that they establish the U.S.-China Defense Conversion Commission to facilitate technology transfers from the U.S. to China". The October 1994 agreement established that commission, although it has yet to be fully funded.

Perry's penchant for General Ding created some tensions within the Clinton Administration—not because it has compromised our national security, but because it forced the State Department to affect a harder line toward the Red Chinese. A congressional staffer informed Timmerman that by May 1993 "we began getting these calls from State, complaining about [the Defense Department] and China. State was really upset, because they were the ones who were supposed to be squishy on China, and now they were forced to take a harder line.... State said Perry was the problem, because he had a relationship with a Chinese general—that is, General Ding.

Although Perry will not be at the helm of the Pentagon in the Clinton Administration's second term, he has handed off the appeasement baton to incoming Secretary William S. Cohen (CFR). Cohen was briefed about every aspect of General Chi's Washington visit. Furthermore, any concerns that Chi might have had regarding the "stability" of U.S.-China relations were probably allayed during a December 8th dinner at the National Defense University during which Chi and Perry enjoyed the company of FORMER SECRETARY OF STATE AL HAIG (CFR), FORMER NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISER BRENT SCOWCROFT (CFR), JOSEPH NYE (CFR), and other GOP architects of America's pro-Red China policy.

STEPPED-UP CRACKDOWN

Although apologists for the Establishment's pro-China "consensus" insist that the regime is moderating its behavior, the evidence suggests just the opposite. Kathy Chen reported in a September 13th Wall Street Journal dispatch from Beijing that Chinese President Jiang is seeking "to appoint himself as Mao's titular heir". To that end, Jiang has engaged in an ideological campaign intended to crack down on street crime and political nonconformity. Reports Chen, "To quell dissent in the minority-dominated regions of Xinjiang and Tibet, the government has cracked down on illicit religious activities and rounded up people considered to be troublemakers." Additionally, "The government has begun choking China's increasingly open channels of information. [In early September] it blocked access to as many as 100 sites on the Internet, including those sponsored by major U.S. media."

The Red Chinese regime also continues its persecution of Christians who eschew state-controlled churches in favor of authentic congregations. Stan De Boe, legislative assistant to Representative Christopher Smit (R-NJ), told The New American, "In the last year, the Chinese Government has cracked down on the underground churches. Hundreds of clergy and laity have been arrested and sentenced to 'reeducation through labor'. Hundreds more have been beaten and tortured. Their properties have been destroyed or confiscated."

Notwithstanding all of this, Establishment "experts" on U.S.-China relations insist that the Chinese regime has abandoned Communism. Karen Elliot House (CFR), president of Dow Jones, insists that "China is not motivated any longer by a messianic ideology or by dreams of territorial conquest... China is no enemy in economic terms. Rather, it is an apolitically authoritarian society that has chosen to adopt something like America's free-enterprise model—what Beijing calls a 'market economy with socialist characteristics'."

Similar sentiments were expressed by Harvard's Joseph Nye during an address at the April 1996 meeting of the Trilateral Commission in Vancouver. According to Nye, now that "Communism is essentially dead" in the People's Republic of China, the U.S. posture "ought to be the one the Clinton Administration is trying to express ... which is the idea of constructive engagement.... "After all," stated Nye, "We could not develop the diplomatic coalition to contain China even if we tried. There is only one country that can produce containment of China, and that's China."

"CONSTRUCTIVE ENGAGEMENT"

It was in the interest of "constructive engagement" with China that the Clintonites played host to General Chi, compelling American troops to salute Chi during his Pentagon visit and to endure an address from him at West Point. It is in the interest of that policy that the Administration facilitates the modernization of the PLA, reacts with indifference to the PLA's efforts to create a fifth column within this country, and ignores the Red Chinese Government's persecution of Christians.

All of this is necessary, according to Warren Christopher, in order to advance "our common hopes and interests". It is because the American political elite shares "common hopes and interests" with the Red Chinese thugocracy that Secretary Perry felt no compunctions about introducing the bloodstained Chi as "my colleague".

[END OF QUOTING]

We have gone a long way past convenient space limitations but let us consider a couple of things in closing: (1) The bunch of thugs are already in total cahoots; and (2) when Gen. Chi announces that there were no Deaths at Tiananmen Square, he may be counting LIKE YOU AMERICANS DO. Remember the Panama incident in which ONLY 19 PEOPLE WERE KILLED? Oh, but everybody forgot to count the THOUSANDS of Panamanians killed. Same thing in the Gulf War debacle where only some 120 or so Americans were killed so nobody in the U.S. considered it even a war. Nobody seemed to remember that hundreds of thousands of people were killed. And most of YOURS killed were BY YOUR OWN HANDS.

Indeed, readers, the final major confrontations are surely at hand, and if you are not prepared for this circumstance, you will NOT make it through.

Thank you for a long morning. Salu.

The Four Horsemen Of The Apocalypse The Fourth (Green) Horseman

Article V, Section 3

The Fourth World Wilderness Conference

The Fourth World Wilderness Conference was advertised as a world wide meeting to address global environmental concerns, and took place September 11 through 18, 1987, at Denver, Colorado. There were about 1,500 in attendance, enthusiastic "greenies" such as Forest Service Personnel (Smokies), the Findhorn group, New Agers, etc. However, the conference was intended to set up a world conservation bank, an idea far over the heads of most of the "greenies", giving the event the appearance of having been purposely staged to suggest that it had overwhelming support. Speakers at the conference were David Rockefeller, Edmond de Rothschild, James Baker III, I. Michael Sweatman, Maurice Strong, and Gro Harlan Brundtland. Ms. Brundtland presented a report she had been requested to make by the United Nations on the "conditions in the world". She reported the conditions were terrible and that what was needed was a conservation bank. Her report also set the stage for unlimited enactments to take over ecology, environmental and pollution laws throughout the world. In the opinion of George Hunt, a business consultant who happened to attend as a volunteer driver for the speakers at the conference, the Brundtland Report is the precipitating event for putting the entire scheme into effect. Her report was not distributed at the conference and Mr. Hunt was unable to obtain a copy. As he said, the report "went underground" (Ref.: Bulletin to Restore the Constitution, 2/88 issue). It should be remembered here that over the years since the 1960s many laws, lies, promotions and conferences had preceded this one and prepared the way for it. Not surprisingly the same names keep popping up.

Mr. Hunt became alarmed at the proceedings and gave two interviews to talk show host Allan Dale of KRNN, San Antonio, Texas, October 1987. The interviews were a week apart, during which time KRNN received a threatening phone call saying that, "if you bring George Hunt on the air again, you'll live to regret it." Two weeks after the second interview, the station was bought out and Allan Dale lost his job.

The following is taken from material provided to me by George Hunt. It is several excerpts from his interview with Charles Wheeling regarding the Fourth World Wilderness Conference. Quote:

Part I, The World Conservation Bank

Hunt: I was uniquely suited to understand the nature of the business transactions being discussed at this conservation congress because I have taught accounting at a college level; I have taught business management at a college level; I have 25 years of business experience, and for the last 19 years, I have been engaged as an entrepreneur of my own business, called Medical Resources.

I go into businesses, analyze their operations and deduce what is wrong with them. I take all of the variables into account that I see in a business and come out with a diagnosis that is correct for their business in order to save their business. In other words, I'm a business doctor.

When I heard the undertones and the nuances and the double entendres that were going on in the speeches at this congress, I knew that there was a conspiracy, where others might have just had the words pass over their head. Some things were being said at this congress which were not true, because conservation is antipathy to growth and development. Treasury Secretary James Baker said that "conservation required growth and development." Conservation and economics are mutually exclusive, as we have unfortunately learned.

Then when I saw the World Bankers at the Congress, and a UN Undersecretary General and a Secretary General, with whom I had dinner one night, and the Rothschilds and David Rockefeller, and the Secretary of the Treasury and so on, I said to myself, "Why are they suddenly interested in conservation? The World Bankers are among the ones who have destroyed the rainforests down in Brazil." If you look at the history of the World Bank under Robert S. MacNamara (he's the one who designed the Vietnam War), he left the Vietnam War in 1967 and went over to World Bankdom where he eventually became the President of the World Bank. MacNamara set up massive loans that were given without the permission of the American people. Yes, there was a token rubber stamp by Congress for these massive loans to go through our World Bank system into the hands of Brazil and Mexico and the other Latin American and African countries, but we don't really know how those monies were spent, and to whom they were paid and for what projects.

One project that the monies were spent on in Brazil was a highway connecting the inner parts of Brazil with the coast. That highway still does not function properly from what I understand. It was designed poorly, and it floods when the rains come. It is not dependable. Billions of money were spent on that. Billions were spent on dams that don't work. Rainforests were lashed down and ruined, and our oxygen-generating areas of the world were decimated by the very people who were saying that they wanted to "save our ecology, save our biospheres and keep the world safe for mankind."

* * * * *

Hunt: Back to the World Bank. Well, under Robert S. MacNamara's leadership in the 1960s, an amassing of, today, $1.1 trillion dollars in debt and accrued interest, most of which cannot be paid back by these poor little Third World countries, has accumulated.

Four-hundred-billion dollars of this, according to David Rockefeller, who says that "nearly four hundred billion in debt is owed to a number of commercial banks," including his own bank, Chase Manhattan—according to a Brazilian with whom I spoke and who confided with me on the true Brazilian situation, there is no way that Brazil can pay these back. These loans are uncollectible.

Now most of this money is owed to the United States' banking system. I understand that we have $150 billion in equity in our banks that can absorb the shock of the first $150 billion dollars that is written off. But after that first $150 billion dollars is written off, Charles, the next $750 billion dollars, or whatever the true figure is, will come out of the depositors' hands in the banks because their bank equity cushions cannot sustain those losses.

We have been propelled by the World Bank, in our United States economy here, so that either way we lose. If we do not have a World Conservation Bank established as a result of this congress that I attended, to "take out" this debt and refinance it, using the world's wilderness lands as collateral, our U.S. (and world) economies will collapse.

We are at the point of collapse now. The banking authorities who investigate banks are hammering our United States banks right now and saying, "You have to write off this debt. This is uncollectible. The loans have gone into non-accrual, and the countries have already admitted that they cannot repay, and you have to write this debt off." They cannot write the debt off, or we will go into financial collapse. The bank is evil, but we have to have it. Either way we lose.

They plan to create a super-super World Bank which will absorb all the debts that the World Bank has created. Every bank has to have a capital base. It might be the equity that shareholders who start the bank pump into the bank and say, "Here's a hundred thousand from me and a hundred thousand for this guy, and let's loan it out and get this bank going."

Well, the collateral in this bank is going to be 34% of the Earth's land surface! Michael Sweatman, who is designated the World Conservation Bank President, and I had lunch together with the Rothschilds. I said, "Michael, I have analyzed what I've heard in this congress up to this point and, at this point, I cannot see how this bank can survive. I, an accountant, always look for an "earnings engine" in the capital statement of the bank's balance sheet. Something has to produce interest, dividends, and other earnings to keep the bank running and pay the employees and so on, and I don't see it in this bank. I see collateralization for the capital basis coming from worthless wilderness lands (and that's why they are wilderness lands, because nobody can get any economic order out of it). What's going on Michael?"

Sweatman said, "We're working on that." I said, "You don't have an answer as to how this bank is going to survive and you're going to the IMF-World Bank Congress at the end of this month?"

I laid out my fears to Sweatman in earshot of the others at the table where we were sitting, and I received confirmation from a person—I cannot say their name, but they confirmed that my suspicions were correct.

* * * * *

Hunt: "We have the only dollar that's worth anything," is what Rothschild is going to tell the United States economists. "The World Conservation dollar is the only dollar that's worth anything because it's the only one that's capitalized and has value behind it."

But you people know as of this meeting that there's no value in wilderness lands. And you also know as of this meeting that there is no earnings engine in the World Conservation Bank. In other words, it is a fraudulent bank.

Remember when Esau said to Jacob, "I'm really hungry and I want some of that pottage that you have there." And Jacob said, "Will you give me your birthright for it?" That was the first known asset swap. That was a countertrade transaction, and through "countertrade" (swapping debts and liabilities), Rothschild and his bevy of bankers are going to debt-swap and countertrade against the United States citizens. Every one of us, every city, every town, every state, every bit of wealth is going to be countertraded (anonymously) out of the country and into the Royal Bank of Canada, which is the collection basin for the American [Continent] swapping activities.

They are going to come around and say, "You can't pay your mortgage and you're down on your knees, and you're going to lose your farm? Here, take a World Conservation Bank loan. Five years before the first payment. The payments are low; it's only 3% interest, and you'll be helping Mother Earth." And that's another aspect of this thing—a "religious pride" thing. Hitler came around touting "The Fatherland". Well, we are going to hear something even bigger than that. These guys are going to sell this World Conservation Bank as something that is helping Gaia, Mother Earth, because there's a Mother Earth religious cult coming out of this thing too.

Wheeling: You went to a "wilderness congress" and suddenly discovered James Baker, who is the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States of America; Mr. David Rockefeller, who has been rather out of the news for the last two or three years, but suddenly appears at a "Wilderness Congress"; Mr. Edmond de Rothschild, one of the foremost bankers of the world, appears there?

What I hear you saying is that it's a Big Cover for a plan to "save the wealth of the wealthy." Is that what's going on here?

Is it that the powerful people in the world, beyond any philanthropic feelings or motives they might have, is it that the powerful, wealthy people of the world have designed a plan that will save their wealth and power? Is that what I hear you saying?

Hunt: Yes. The World Conservation Bank is going to be the "Decoupling Mechanism" for the wealthy to disengage themselves from capitalism and "go to the back of the bank", so to speak, become the creditors of the bank, and then wind up as the world's Dictators.

PART II—CURRENCY MATTERS

Hunt: "Soft currencies can be created by this bank, and converted into hard currencies. That is, we can be debt-swapped (soft currency for hard assets) by the people who control the World Conservation Bank and the finances of Brazil against what the U.S. has left in its treasuries (which isn't very much). They can take soft currency, created by an enactment, and trade it for goods and services from the United States. They will pay us in the soft currency, and the soft currency will become "de facto" hard currency in the United States, creating terrific inflation for us."

We will have a world-currency dollar that's under the manipulation of the Rothschilds because, as you probably know, the Rothschild family sets the price of gold in London. And now the price of gold will be a determinant on the value of the currencies, as of the June 1988 economic summit in Canada.

The Rothschild family also owns the Eastern oil, and the Rockefellers own the Western oil, and oil [prices] will be a determinant in this basket of goods in the new currency system.

So we now have families that are directly controlling our currency. The Rothschilds said 150 years ago, "Whoever controls the currency of the country, controls the wealth of the people and, therefore, controls the people."

Wheeling: The economy here will collapse. It's only a matter of time and it's a matter of design.

A gentleman with whom I was talking a few weeks ago, after some lengthy discussion said, "I'm Canadian. I'm on assignment over here on your side of the border. I work for the Canadian Treasury. There's new money, you know. We have it all printed. It's in the vaults and in warehouses in Canada."

Hunt: Hmmm, Canada. The Royal Bank of Canada?

Wheeling: I'm trying to put all of this conversation together with what I'm hearing you say this evening. This gentleman said that "Americans did not have the expertise or the experience to print colored currency and that it was being printed by contract in Canada, had been printed, and is presently being held in large warehouses, awaiting the proper time for distribution."

Hunt: The next thing we are going to listen to is Baron Edmond de Rothschild. This is going to be called the New Magna Carta—this World Bank program. According to a slide presentation at the conference, these enactments are going to be given the title of "The New Magna Carta". The "Old Magna Carta" gave Baronial land rights to Barons in England; The New Magna Carta will give Baronial land rights to the world for Baron Edmond de Rothschild, or so it was implied.

We're going to now hear Baron Edmond de Rothschild, owner of "Banque Privee Edmond de Rothschild" of Geneva, Switzerland, announce the creation of the International World Conservation Bank. It will include a Second Marshall Plan (that's going to bail us out here in the United States); it's going to include a Third World Debt Relief refinance program, and it's going to include a new world currency system. Let's hear Baron Edmond de Rothschild...

Baron Edmond de Rothschild: Perhaps this might be the keynote of what you have heard today and what, perhaps, you might like in some, perhaps, amended form to help put forward: "At this Conference, recognizing the needs to protect our ecological and environmental heritage within the concept of the World Wilderness Congress, World Wildlife Fund and all other bodies involved in the preservation of life on our planet. We ask the Prime Minister of Norway, Gro Harlem Brundtland, as one of the world's leaders of a Greatly Respected Community [ed.: the Elite], to be the promoter of this International Conservation Bank. I have a report which has been widely circulated to World Leaders. She could follow up this report with the recommendations to promote a Second Marshall Plan, a Third World Debt Relief and Finance (currency and loans) for a stable development."

Hunt: That's it, folks. Those three pronouncements have set in motion a one-world economic system with the United Nations becoming the legislative congress; the Royal Bank of Canada being the banker, the Federal Reserve, of the world; and the Dictators of the world being that hub of people in London. London is the creator of the ills of mankind, I have learned, and the Commonwealth countries are the ones that have done us in.

Comment from the audience: Some people might wonder, if it's a matter of public record, why people don't catch on to what's going on. The problem is that the finances that were involved in all these balance sheets are so astronomical that people don't understand. Newspaper reporters sit through these sessions and don't catch on. Rothschild speaks and he says, "This must be the best for us." The average listener does not understand what's involved in these financial transactions. And by the time we do understand, it will be too late. That's why they can make it a matter of public record and still get away with things like this. (Yes.)

Wheeling: Have any of the American businessmen in the United States caught on to this? Or is there nothing they can do? Or are they just pawns under the Rockefeller system?

Hunt: They're pawns under the Rockefeller system. As it says in The Denver Post, David Rockefeller addressed the Council on Foreign Relations of Denver on Monday. He spoke on Sunday at the congress and addressed the Council on Foreign Relations on Monday. Most of the U.S. industrial leaders are represented on the Council on Foreign Relations. It is a group of individuals and corporations that have sworn allegiance to the Babylonian money system that we have in the U.S. They'll go along with anything that happens. Unquestionably.

Wheeling: There are very close ties between the CFR (the Council on Foreign Relations) and the Trilateral Commission?

Hunt: Yes.

Wheeling: And the historic plans and ideals of the Illuminati. These are facts. (Hunt nods his head in agreement.)

Hunt: What I personally believe is that the old money system that we have, that we carry around right now in our billfold and in our pockets and purses, is going to be recalled, as they recalled the French Francs after World War II. They recalled the old money and issued new money.

A re-issuance of currency will shake out a lot of cocaine dealers that are stashing money aside. The only way that they can get the new currency will be to turn in all of their old money and get it converted into new money. Old money would become "verboten".

* * * * *

Hunt: The Bank really isn't going to be receiving real money from Brazil and the other debtor countries, as we will hear from the David Lang tape, but they'll have the appearance of being solvent. When the bank goes bankrupt, most of the mortgages of the world will have been secretly countertraded and debt-swapped into the World Conservation Bank.

People who haven't been able to make the mortgages on their Alabama Savings & Loan mortgage, for example, will debt-swap their Alabama Savings & Loan mortgage for a World Conservation Bank mortgage.

The World Conservation Bank, to put it succinctly, is going to own mortgages on all of the wealth of nations throughout the whole world. And when the bank goes bankrupt, which I believe it will, the Creditors of the Bank, as is done in international law, will move into the bank, take over its operation and seize all notes and accounts receivable owed to that Bank, which are your mortgages and my mortgage and the wealth of nations.

The cities won't be able to pay their debts. They are going to get deeper and deeper into debt to the World Conservation Bank, so the Creditors of the Bank will own New York City; they'll own Boulder, Colorado; they'll own Birmingham, Alabama. The Creditors will move in and take over all those mortgages. The very wealthy, the Wealthy Elite of the World, will countertrade bad World Conservation dollars in for the claims on the real wealth of nations. And when the bank goes bankrupt, we (the Debtors) will wind up serving the ex-Capitalists today.

Wheeling: The people who pull the strings.

Hunt: Yes, the people who pull the strings. The World Conservation Bank will be used as a decoupling mechanism for the [Elite]Capitalists to become Socialists. It's a dirty trick.

We've now got the weird experience of listening to David Lang, personal friend of I. Michael Sweatman, who according to his comments considers himself to be an Elitist. He says that the "cannon fodder which unfortunately populates the Earth doesn't really need to get involved in this Bank. It's an Elitist matter." Let's play that:

Lang: "...when the auditor finally gets his hands into the balance sheet. I suggest, therefore, that this be sold not through a democratic process. That would take too long and devour far too much of the fun to educate the 'cannon fodder', unfortunately which populates the Earth. We have to take almost an Elitist Program that we can see beyond the swollen bellies, and look to the future in time frames, and in results, which are not easily understood or which can be, with intellectual honesty, be reduced down to some simplistic definition..."

Hunt: Okay? Next, we will hear David Lang again. He wants to set up the fraudulent situation to create additional currency to help the developed countries seem to be paying off their loans. Go ahead.

Lang: "I suggest that we create an additional capital base so that the income in local currencies, from that capital base, could be used without encroaching on other capital. Those obviously are very high ideals, and maybe they're not realizable. But I fear that, if you don't strive for that as your objective, that all the good will, all the good wishes, and all the good money will very quickly come to nothing. Thank you."

Hunt: What I hear him saying is this: The Bank has a lendable capital base. It has derived its value from all the world wilderness lands. The lands are the "capital basis" for the countries to use for their currency and working capital to get the countries running again. And then Lang suggests that additional currency, beyond the capital base, be created in the amount of the interest and loans that is to be paid off by these countries (Note: (presently $1.1 trillion), to give the Bank an appearance of profitability.

But the Bank won't be profitable. It's a scam, a "Ponzi scheme". I know it's obscure and esoteric—difficult to comprehend—but I was able to catch on to that.

It seemed to me that the outsiders and conservationists there did not comprehend what was truly being enacted. I spoke to one of the reporters of a large newspaper. And while I was sitting with him, I said, "Have you caught on yet to what's really going on at this congress?" He said, "What do you mean?" I said, "Don't you realize that there is a one-world dollar that is being set up right in front of us?" He said, "No, I missed it." So I explained to him, using accounting "T" accounts, how the capitalization of the bank and how currencies are going to be created, and he said, "Is that really going on?" Well, I saw him a few weeks ago, and he still really couldn't figure it out...so... (End quoting.)

A map showing the designated Wilderness Areas marked for takeover is attached [See map below]. It was taken from the Bulletin, Committee to Restore the Constitution, February 1988 issue.

Please note the heavy plans for Siberia, the Sahara Desert, South America, Central Australia and Northern Canada. Do not let the lack of "circles, loops and shaded areas" in the U.S. part of the map fool you. There are other means now in place for confiscating Wilderness Areas in the United States. (Ref.: The Greening, by Larry Abraham with Franklin Sanders, Soundview Publications, Atlanta, Georgia, 1993.)

George Hunt has prepared a video tape on his interview with Mr. Wheeling which includes slides taken at the Fourth Wilderness Conference and much more information on the nature-cult religion, which is a part of the plans. He has also collected important material on the environmental movement and is available for some public lectures. Write to him at 95 Camino Bosque, Salina Star Route, Boulder, CO 80502. # Hilarion: Focusing Your Emotional (Heart) Desires

Editor's note: The following writing is by the Ascended Master known as Hilarion of the Fifth Ray, the Emerald (green) Ray of Healing, among the seven great "Rainbow Masters" communicating at this time to help us through Earth-Shan's planetary transition and rebalancing.

In Journal #7, called THE RAINBOW MASTERS, Hilarion says:

"Man needs the example of imperfection, that he can relate to perfection. Do not suddenly sit on thy pedestal and proclaim achieved perfection. Seek, rather, to be perfected by that Wondrous Energy that comes from Perfection. As you are perfected within, the Light will radiate without. Know perfection as the graces of the Great Spirit, and seek them.

"Judge not how far thy brother has progressed; look within at thy own degree of progress and move ever forward. Wrap thyself in the Protection of that Perfection, that the evil brotherhood is kept without. Darkness cannot invade thy presence in Light, unless thee allow of it.

"Do you not see that if it were possible to be humanly perfect, there would be no need for Divine Perfection? If it were possible to contain God on Earth, outside of thee, there would be no need to pursue Heaven."

1/25/97 HILARION

Good afternoon, my friend. It is I, Hilarion, of the Emerald Ray of Creator's Spectrum of Light-Thought projection. I have come this day that a needed message be penned for there are many in need of THE TRUTH regarding the nature of their current condition.

Many are faced with the bombardments of the physical environment at this time. One major way of distracting a person is to get them focused on the physical body in which they are housed. You are being bombarded from every direction imaginable at this time and, for some, these directions are UN-imaginable. Let us simply list a few of these serious distractions:

(1) Your food supplies are depleted of the necessary nutrients.

(2) You are being attacked with various lethal viruses that, on top of the physical dangers and discomforts, cause further mental anxiety (FEAR!) of the possibilities that you or a loved one "might" contract such a disease.

(3) Your medical doctors lack true healing knowledge, and thus the treatments lack depth and understanding, and thus fail in most cases.

(4) You are being heavily attacked with electronic "pulse" weapons that cause disrupted sleep, so that no matter how much sleep you get, you never seem quite rested.

Throughout all of this, you ones attracted to these messages are trying to maintain a focus on the spiritual aspect of "why" you might be there.

I have been asked to assist in the understanding of who you are and the purpose of the physical experience. I am known as the Healer because the frequency and wavelength of my energy field most often will cause a triggering within others of the Heart Energy Center. I only CAUSE the triggering; the person or entity will do the rest if it is to be done at all.

The GREATEST killer of mankind is the inner mental programming of the mind. Put in other terms for clarification: Man creates and holds onto the past pains, and allows them to grow until they literally manifest in the physical. For example: Ones will hold onto the pain of past emotional trauma that resulted from the "lost" love that they felt for another. They continue to grind on this past emotional trauma until it manifests in the physical domain as an "incurable" cancer. The condition may even respond—at first—to treatments, but it will come back stronger than ever, for you have decided that you do not want to get better and that you, somehow, need to punish self.

The only way for this type of condition to be healed is from the inside (inner mind) out.

Treating the body in this case is of little-to-no value unless and until the MIND is in a balanced mental state AND the HEART is in a balanced emotional state. There is an important distinction to be emphasized here: Ones can MENTALLY tell themselves to heal—BUT—if the HEART is in conflict, the healing shall not occur. IT IS POSSIBLE FOR ONES TO HEAL ANY CONDITION THAT AILS THEM IF THERE IS TRUE HEART DESIRE TO DO SO!

Many will simply say that they do not wish to die—yet they will, in actuality, create a condition in which they will suffer for years and be a burden for others as they fight with a mental desire (USUALLY FEAR OF DEATH) to live and an emotional desire to escape the pain.

When these ones can learn to forgive themselves with the heart, and not with the mouth, they will begin to turn around the condition in which they find themselves, and the miraculous healing will have begun!

This condition is becoming a plague on your planet at this time and will continue to grow in the coming years due to the impact of that which is to come—from the process of the cleansing of the planet herself.

You live on a Sentient, Living Being who has a right to mentally and emotionally heal herself of the "cancers" that have been allowed to fester and grow. She will not be denied this right, and those who cannot withstand the cleansing process (a frequency shift into a higher dimensional existence) shall be the ones who will not survive the impact of this shift!

This will, in effect, be a lot like what your biological scientists call Natural Selection, wherein only the strongest survive. In this case it will be only the strongest emotionally and mentally—those who have their heart and mind in balance enough to keep up with the frequency shifts. The chaos of unbalance will not be tolerated. Those who refuse to pursue the personal responsibility of BALANCING their thoughts and actions, and thereby maintain the emotional wattage (power) that they give these unbalanced thoughts, will simply weed themselves from the play!

The choice is always left up to the individual in these cases. Each must make their own choice as to what is the more important heart desire:

(1) to grow beyond what you are this day and explore further your potential as a souled being; or

(2) to succumb, as you are, without knowing what you could have accomplished if you had chosen to overcome the limitations that you have placed upon self.

Keep in mind that the journeys of the soul are infinite and that you will again be faced with the same choice, again, in upcoming experiences and you will have to face the inner battle, again and again, until you can find a deeper purpose in making a more daring choice.

This same general phenomena applies to ALL your choices in life, regardless of whether or not it is a terminal disease or going through abusive relationships, one after another. Unless and until you decide that you have punished self enough, you will continue to subject self to these tortures.

WHO, exactly, might you think would help you to stay in this state of self punishment? The adversary (that which is in opposition to Creator God) knows that he cannot be victorious and behaves somewhat like an immature child in that, if he cannot win, then he will make the game as difficult for everyone as possible.

What causes you to hold on to these past pains and traumas? Why is it that you can MENTALLY see the absurdity of doing so, yet you cannot seem to EMOTIONALLY break free?

Could it be that you are lying to self and holding onto a fallacy that only exists in your mind—or heart? You must get honest with yourself! This is done by looking within and seeing yourself as you REALLY are, and NOT how you “think” that you are.

For example, we see those who will run around loudly complaining about others, such as how this or that person gossips too much, etc. Yet, all the while, these complainers do not ever stop to notice that they do the same EXACT thing which they claim to despise in these others.

If you are not willing to confront your SELF, then you are insuring that you will be repeating the same unbalanced conditions over and over again. These experiences are for SELF discovery! God knows your inner potential. It is YOU who do not realize it, for you are too busy with your emotional guilt and mental anxieties to realize that these are the challenges that you have to face in order to grow into the responsibility of the position as a Co-Creator in the infinite expanse of everything that is.

HEALING BEGINS WITH THE HEART DESIRE TO DO SO! This is the emotional feeling that precedes the mental desire. This brings us to a most important point: What comes first: the thought or the emotion?

EMOTION IS ENERGY!

Emotion is the energy that precipitates the thought! Emotion has potential that is focused with the thoughts. Thus, you will have greater success in healing if you can become impassioned about the healing. When you feel “down and depressed” over your condition, you are utilizing very basic (low frequency) emotional energy. This energy is NOT very conducive to healing!

Returning now to the point I was introducing at the beginning of this writing: the ones who are trying to control your societies are aware that if they can keep you in an off-balanced condition, with great mental distractions which precipitate these lower emotional states, then they will keep you sick, mentally stressed, and thus in a drained condition that is most conducive to the suggestive nature of their mind-control techniques.

You can override these traps when you realize that you do not have to dwell long in these lower emotional states. DO allow the honest emotional reactions to a situation to play out, but DO NOT dwell, for very long, down in those low frequency depressions.

For instance, you ones have heard that “laughter is the best medicine!” Why can this be quite true?

When you laugh, you are altering (raising) the frequency of not just your brain waves, but of every cell in your body! This, in turn, will allow for better, more efficient communication among ALL of the various parts and systems in the body.

The body will begin to operate more efficiently and you will begin to eliminate the toxins, poisons, and other foreign agents that will otherwise accumulate due to poor communication between the various organ-coordinating energy centers of the body.

It is like revving up an internal combustion engine (like your automobile motor) and blowing out the carbon deposits that will otherwise just sit there and accumulate around the cylinder walls and exhaust ports, to the continual detriment of engine performance. In a mechanical sense, you can think of the revving-up process as akin to “raising the frequency” of the engine.

There shall come a time when you ones will not feel much like laughing about anything. You must effort to keep in mind that the upcoming, massive cleansing cycle is as natural as sneezing. When your planet sneezes, coughs, and otherwise shakes with the tremors of a fever, she is doing this out of a NATURAL healing cycle that will lead her back into balance. YOU may perceive this as a very destructive occurrence, but let me assure you that it is quite necessary and quite beneficial in the long run.

When you are sick and trying to rid yourselves of a viral infection, do you give consideration to the very germs or conditions that allow for this sickness to persist? If the raising of your body temperature a few degrees, for a short period of time, will burn out the viral infestation, is it not acceptable to do so without regard for the well-being of the life forms (viruses) causing the conditions that allow for the disease to grow?

Your planet shall have the balance that she seeks, for she is entering a high-frequency light field (what you ones have named “The Photon Belt”) that will help facilitate this healing and transformation. In the process, those who are adding to the problem (by not putting their houses in order) shall be “out of sync” with the cleansing and will, in effect, remove themselves from the playing field.

Remaining in ignorance will not be acceptable, either, because the emotional frequency and vibration of “fear that is borne out of ignorance” shall likewise cause these ones to remove themselves from the playing field.

Under the purging conditions of this high-frequency light field, holding onto ANY lower-frequency emotions will cause a very rapid deterioration in the physical body. Thus ones will have to deal with these lower emotions in short order. Noticeable deterioration will take place in a matter of weeks instead of years!

Please know that you CAN survive the upcoming changes. You will have to learn to release the garbage (the emotional baggage) that you hold onto so closely.

You will need to be more consciously aware of how YOUR emotional state affects your health—as well as affecting the health of others AND the very planet upon which you live. These emotional energies are focused with the mind and can add to or subtract from those around you.

The general, overall result is a collective frequency or tonal vibration of the planet and her occupants. You EACH contribute to this overall average and you EACH have a choice in whether you add to or subtract from this average.

Find something that you can be thankful for and happy about, and you will have taken the first steps toward healing. Get impassioned about something worth living for, and you will almost undoubtedly heal. Keep up the “woe is me” attitude, and you will almost certainly create a condition that is most unpleasant.

Choose wisely that upon which you focus your emotional energies for you will ALWAYS manifest your HEART’S desire! Your actions will always reflect this desire.

I am the Cohan of the Emerald Ray. I am Hilarion, teacher and wayshower. I come in the Radiance of Creator’s One Light, which is Infinite and Eternal. Blessings to you all, from my heart to yours! Salu.

New World Disorder On Superbowl Sunday

1/26/97 #1 HATONN

SUPER BOWL, SUPER SUNDAY,
SUPER DISTRACTION

MANIPULATION OF A SPECIES

Watch what you do! Watch and listen to what you think! If you are honest with self, we can get our jobs done to perfection. Ah, but what do I mean? What is there about a world in chaos that can hold our shattered attention on one singular thing? These are all things you might well ask as you try to sort the myriads of topics in a NEW WORLD DISORDER. Check out your "importance" ratios and see if you fill your task or does the task give use and excuse for self. Now, you must be honest with self or the exercise won't work.

Super Bowl Sunday and how do you feel about kicking a ball around a football field? Do you even know who is playing in this "Super Bowl"? While the distractors are playing a game of "gladiator pool", the REAL players are dividing up Nations, grasping control of the last shreds of free-information flow, and on and on down to whatever YOU are doing today. And, yes, of course we can example right from under your noses wherever you might be. We might also be able to show you why we write on so many different people (yet always, it seems, they come from within the same groupies) and on so many subjects.

Even here, where the work looms over everyone, especially little Claudia, until it must be frightening, and all the staff who, regardless of the massive piles of work, manage to get a paper to print every week. And, Margie sees to it that the products in her oversee are ready, and others go about their tasks to see who may be getting by with doing less but perhaps getting more attention. But even here all are coming under the control and enslavement of the New World Order British Israeli takeover of even the most tiny particle of freedom. Why, readers, you in this day and age are even given "basic" language limitations. You are required to limit the scope of even your vocabularies if you are to comprehend the "Newspeak" dumped on you every day. Well, Dr. Young is devoted to seeing to it that you have an exception in YOUR PAPER evolving as a voice in the wilderness. Twice lately he has been offered incredibly important scientific focus change and he has declined on the basis of needing to attend the paper. Therefore we can assume, better than with words of yea or nay, that he is doing what he best wishes to do. Sometimes we simply have to interject choices and your responses tell more than you are willing to tell about self. I believe that there is NOTHING more important than a paper bearing truth, other than, perhaps, having people remaining to read it.

As I write and call your attention to varied and many different topics, we have to suggest you get information to those who would best USE the information.

Let us example this one a bit. O.J. Simpson is certainly going to be more interested in something that gets him clear of this infernal and seemingly eternal torment in Los Angeles, California. But Dr. Okilo would be far more interested in, and have ability to impact, that which is of Nigerian (Africa) central focus. ALL OF EVERYONE NEEDS TO KNOW THE CONNECTIONS OF THE BRITISH INTELLIGENCE

TAVISTOCK INSTITUTE, BROOKINGS INSTITUTE, THE CONTROLLED MEDIA, AND A MYRIAD OF OTHER LESS-FOCUSED ITEMS.

However, always realize that a basically UNKNOWN AND UNKNOWN player will always be set forth in places of show but without insight and/or power to actually CHANGE anything until it is too late. Here I refer to such as Kofi Annon, the new Secretary General of the U.N. (pushed into the slot by the U.S.). "Yes," you might say, "but he is African!" Oh, I ask you—but who is Maurice Strong, his right-hand man on reform of the United Nations? Yes; we certainly have written about him in the past few weeks. Kofi Annon was educated in the United States, attended McAllister college/university in Minnesota and has become an advocate for making the United Nations WORK. But with such as Maurice Strong in the real POWER SPOT, how do you think he will accomplish this task? Further, without the U.S. paying its dues, along with Russia who is also far behind, HOW CAN YOU HAVE A FUNCTIONING BODY? And further, why don't people who know these players get information as to alternative financing possibilities TO THESE MEN? And no, I certainly DO NOT mean to Maurice Strong.

Where better to utilize a Grandfathered "Grandma" contract than at the United Nations? They (the U.N.) wouldn't even have to come against the U.S. Treasury. They could get the thing backed by a consortium of all countries and utilized quite nicely through the Federal Reserve Banking system. Just one contract would be more than abundant cover of the U.S. outstanding debt and give the next years of problems, relief. I fail to see your problem as to offering some good advice to that which allows a way THROUGH the maze of problems because everyone IN THE WORLD does not want Total demise of a world—it is actually only a tiny, tiny handful of political aspirants. And, further, the only thing that will destroy them more quickly than you—is to collapse everything, including the economy. This kind of communication, however, has to be shared with such as Mr. Annon from someone disconnected to his current restrictive process that he recognizes all too well, even as he is being further locked within the trap of this spider's den.

The same with Nigeria. Dr. Okilo actually did have access to one of these "contracts" and guess what? He gave it on to others in his organization, like Timothy Binder, et al. Well, these are only copies and, without attention and cooperation, they are worthless, as the Treasury will tell you. Ah, but how do the players gain privatization of such products as is the Bonus Contract when it is already totally and securely privatized? Well, as with the taking of three corporations, they try to divert the corporations which may be involved—for themselves, and try, as well, other tricks when there would be plenty if no tricks were played AT ALL. Where do you think Bush came by all the "silent funding" to buy up the world's gold reserves?

It goes far deeper than this, however, for you will find before we are through outlaying information that the BANKS around the world are the major shape-shifter money thieves. Moreover, it becomes important to get some collateral back into the banks to JUST PAY PEOPLE WHO HAVE PLACED ASSETS WITH THE BANKS. ALL AROUND THE WORLD—TRILLIONS OF DOLLARS ARE MISSING FROM BANKS. Oh yes indeed, we can even publish, AND WILL DO SO, account numbers. I suggest you not think the local banker will confirm such "misplaced" accounts—but they are there, they exist, and the banks are in real big trouble as are the politicians and controllers who ripped off you-the-people. So who has control? The World Bank, of course, as a facade for the dirty tricks and bad-faith dealings. [Please see Nora's Research Corner related article, on p. 23.] So? But what would you say about Nigeria, for example? Lots, but I would start with the World Bank's DEMANDS to Nigeria if Nigeria would survive. Will the leadership of Nigeria "sell-out" all resources? Well, of course that is a, probably decided already, eventuality.

But you still might ask what we would offer Dr. Okilo who is headed back to Nigeria, THROUGH ENGLAND? He has already been "offered" and he passed on the offer. This was met by a stone-wall attack by the George Green Brigade, so where are we today? What difference does it make? NONE, as to the court cases, but LOTS to the people of Nigeria, Africa.

with a contact at EIR who works diligently to make available, for further distribution, information on all these interesting international topics. I spend hours, in your counting, a day, just doing comparison of information resources so that you can consider what we offer to be the best basic information available.

Does this mean that I totally back Coleman, Patterson, Carto, LaRouche or bunches of other of the information brotherhood trying to get out quality information and investigation? No, it means I have looked at the INFORMATION and see that some is better than others. Since I'm not trying to SELL ANYTHING, I don't have any commercial hopes or intents and there are not enough subscribers to do more than stay hopelessly in debt at CONTACT, so I'm told. I will suggest and name one person who, if he speaks, you had better listen and that is Eustace Mullins.

That all aside and back to Nigeria, we would need to talk about the World Bank and the Political and Economic future of the country. We would have to talk about money, loans, resources, oil and raw material wealth. I would have to speak about Isaac Sam of the World Bank and focus on the status of help from the World Bank, et al.

I would offer a report, indeed, from EIR, January 3, 1997 from whence came so much of the African information—which points out the overlapping integration of a WORLD—not just a slice off here in America or there in Africa.

[QUOTING:]

WILL NIGERIA ACCEPT WORLD BANK'S DEMANDS?

by Lawrence K. Freeman.

At a symposium in Washington, D.C. on Dec. 13, 1996, sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, entitled "Nigeria's Political and Economic Future", a propaganda barrage was launched to justify the privatization of Nigeria's telephone and power companies, with the prime target being Nigeria's multibillion-dollar oil industry. While the global economy is threatened with financial disintegration, many financial insiders think that, through their control of oil and other raw materials, they will be able to survive the financial blowout. With Nigeria's oil industry generating approximately $16 billion a year and with its oil reserves ranked fifth in the world, it is no wonder that the financial oligarchy is drooling over the opportunity to get their hands on Nigeria's raw material wealth.

Leading off the first panel of the symposium, "Economic Adjustment, Reform, Privatization, and Investment in Nigeria", was Isaac Sam of the World Bank. Sam stated that the World Bank has not lent any money to Nigeria in three-and-a-half years, and is not interested in lending any more money, but rather wants (1) to advise Nigeria to develop the proper framework to attract investment from the private sector, and (2) to help Nigeria negotiate its debt with the Paris Club of lenders. After acknowledging the modest success by Nigeria in reducing inflation, reducing the budget deficit, and creating jobs in the manufacturing sector, he attacked the government for "wasting money" on public investment. Sam insisted that unless Nigeria allowed its gigantic state-run oil industry to be privatized, Nigeria would not develop, and would not get any help from the world financial community. He said that the oil industry has to be privatized, to get it "into the market structure". He threatened that, to continue to receive "assistance" from the World Bank, there would have to be "transparency and credibility" on the part of the Nigerian Government.

Sam was followed by a couple of academics, including Dr. Pat Utomi from the Lagos Business School, who whined that "only the free enterprise system" will help Nigeria. Utomi avowed that the problem with Nigeria was not the International Monetary Fund-dictated structural adjustment programs (SAPs) from 1985 to 1993 (which, in fact, destroyed the country), but rather, that Gen. Ibrahim Babangida, who was then head of state, had not had a strong enough commitment to the IMF's free market reforms.

During the question and answer period, Sam made explicit the demands of the World Bank: Nigeria must remove the cap on its interest rates—in other words, full deregulation; Nigeria must not centrally allocate funds to any individual sectors for economic development; Nigeria must end all subsidies on petroleum fuel and fertilizers; Nigeria must eliminate its dual exchange rate.

Concerning Nigeria's $34 billion debt, Sam made clear that for Nigeria to get investments from the private sector, it must pay the debt: "Nobody forced Nigeria to contract these debts.... You cannot continue to have trade with other countries without paying the debt."

'DEMOCRACY' MOVE- MENT IS FIZZLING

After Sam's presentation went unchallenged, except by this author, the participants emotionally engaged themselves in what is by now a worn-out, empty discussion, regarding the annulment of the June 12, 1993 election and the imprisonment of Chief Moshood Abiola. The second panel, on Nigeria's transition to democracy, began with David Peterson from the National Endowment of Democracy (NED). He presented a relatively mild attack on the current government of Gen. Sani Abacha. He told the audience of almost 70 people that he had just returned from Nigeria the night before after visiting friends in the "democracy movement" who, he emphasized, "were not demoralized". He then felt obligated to acknowledge that Abacha had done some good things. Peterson said that he was told by his friends that they expected it would take a generation for the "democracy movement" to build up enough grassroots strength to challenge the government.

Peterson revealed that last year, the NED gave over $400,000 to non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and anti-Abacha "pro-democracy groups". Chief Tony Anenih, a respected political leader in Nigeria, who formerly headed the Social Democratic Party of Chief Abiola, asked: If the United States recognizes and maintains relations with the Abacha Government, how can it at the same time be funding groups that are trying to overthrow the Abacha Government?

Dr. Jean Herskovitz, a well-known Nigerian expert, brought some reality into the discussion, pointing out that "without economic stability, political stability can't be bright".

Adonis Hoffman, who convened the symposium on behalf of the Carnegie Institute, questioned the U.S. focus on "punitive measures", such as sanctions, while not even recognizing the nature of the transition process at all.

WILL NIGERIA BE MANIPULATED?

The danger for Nigeria is that the current government would allow itself to be manipulated into buying into the financial oligarchy's privatization schemes. General Abacha's Government is now being praised for dropping its opposition to the IMF "reforms," which he inherited from General Babangida, and adopting a successful pragmatic return to the reform of previous governments. At the same time, the Western press has departed from its normal shrill complaints about human rights violations in Nigeria, and has been relatively quiet of late. There are also reports from Nigeria indicating that General Abacha is being pressured to give major support to privatization in his 1997 budget. Unfortunately, at times Nigerians have shown a weakness in occupying themselves in endless debate over Chief Abiola and the June 1993 election, while ignoring the real culprits responsible for destabilizing Nigeria: the British oligarchy. This was disturbingly evident at the Carnegie symposium, when none of the Nigerians present even raised a challenge to the plans by Shell, Chevron, Mobil, et al., to loot Nigeria's oil resources. If this lack of response reflects the prevailing attitude of the nation's leadership, then the future bodes ill for the Nigerian nation and its people.

After Nigeria's long period of compromise with the World Bank and IMF, which has led to nothing but suffering and hardship for the Nigerian people, one hopes that there are enough sane, patriotic forces in the capital city of Abuja to reject these schemes.

[END OF QUOTING]

But what would this have to do with someone who was simply a "chief" of one of the Nigerian States? Wow, what a question! If you can get the "chiefs" all under control through some guise or another, you will have the plum ripe for picking off the tree. This just becomes another simple task of Media presentation of demanded ideas and mind control which moves right into total control over the people by this hierarchy/oligarchy. Further, if you can get a man steeped in religious doctrines within limitation and without freedom of expression other than as ordered by the censors—you have locked a man into a prison of containment. And, furthermore, these are all through simple CHOICES. Get a man focused onto what is perceived as God or doctrine, and you have a trained person who is then deleted from information flow otherwise.

Remember that the Church of the Crown of England set up a WHOLE mandatory RELIGION and they call it the Church of England. So where does TRUTH IN GOD present itself in all this maze of misinformation? NOWHERE! The POINT then becomes to KEEP THE TRUTH FROM SURFACING AT ALL COSTS. But you can't copyright TRUTH—you can only present cases in such a way that the judiciary persons in charge of settling disputes, rule through lack of information.

EVERYBODY, including the Judge, has to realize that in the US&P case against Green, Ekkers, et al., there WAS NEVER EVEN A HEARING. Books got placed into a state of injunction—without effective dispute, and certainly the injunction would have never stood in court had a hearing or TRIAL ever been accomplished. This is why there was a settlement agreement, not because of justice or injustice. Green had sold out HIMSELF, HIS WIFE, AND HIS CORPORATIONS. Ekkers never even remotely agreed that there was anything remiss or amiss, except the sell-out as "partner, director and officer" of Phoenix Institute—because of the idiocy of his team-mates, Mark Williams, et al., who were misleading at best, deliberately destroying at worst, everything THEY HAD CLAIMED TO STAND FOR IN TRUTH AND INFORMATION FLOW.

This case with US&P is NOT an argument of or over the rights of God or information flow—it is over greed, cover the assets, and hide from truth at all costs. How do you KNOW THIS? Because not ONE CENT has been gleaned by Ekkers' side of the dispute—and the writer herself who works for me has gained nothing but a hell of a headache over the entire thing. US&P demands an "accounting of all funds gained through use of their material." Well, that one is easy indeed: NONE, NOTHING, ZIPPO, ZERO AND NEGATIVE. What did Green gain? Who knows but we do know of at least $18,000 he sidetracked from everyone and into his pocket while breaking the injunction which is now in another quarrel because of HIM.

Gosh, you would think that if you held a possibility of funding a Bonus Contract someday, you would play with the players who could help pay off the insidiously gained suit projections. Obviously, if the contract copies are still floating around—they haven't been paid on—now have they? So, bribery, threats, payoffs, blackmail or any other means of entrapment are, by sheer logic, impossible. Also, Ekkers don't even KNOW the players involved. Nobody ever shows up in court in ANY case in which they are involved—EVER, and this includes the lead player, George Green. George Green, in addition, is THE one who works with, has the ear of, and has a profound impact on one Timothy Binder, who apparently believes the garbage. However, since Mr. Green has NOT met his own agreement contracts—how is it that the belief continues even into another foolish suit in Federal Court? Not the least of which now includes input and conspiracy of one Father Ed Cleary and Steven Horn? Do you NEVER get tired of the cheats and liars, readers?

It would behoove all players to go back and LOOK at the original case in point. Why would Ekkers settle if they were actually winning? Well, easy—we didn't care if the books were banned because TRUTH will OUT one way or another. And, it was obvious that a "win" would simply cost another $50,000 in legal fees and since the opposition was willing to end the thing for a $42,000 agreement which would only be a "judgment" in lieu of payment, it was the right thing to do. It was OK then and it would be OK now—except that George Green, et al., have misled, again, the Court and the players. And readers, you might well look at some facts: SOMETIMES IT IS BETTER TO BE RULED AGAINST AND HAVE THE ABILITY TO COME BACK IN THROUGH A DIFFERENT DOOR OR WINDOW WHERE YOU CAN WIN. In every case so far that becomes easy because of the CONSPIRACY and PLAYER COALITIONS. You have Civil Rights Violations and RICO, just to name two major opportunities available. And moreover, these focus on the REAL CULPRITS ALONG WITH BRINGING BACK IN ALL OF THE ORIGINAL PLAYERS AS WELL. I think your enemies have outsmarted themselves and they are not going to be thanking Mr. Green, Ms. Beam, et al., for very much longer. This drags back into the picture some pretty tough circumstances for several ATTORNEYS involved. Mr. Green claims that one or two of these attorneys STILL work with his operations—especially overseas, TRUST operations. Other attorneys then try to protect the culprits from the Bar Association and further notice of indiscretions and that, too, is "malpractice", not to be confused with poor judicial knowledge.

So what do we hope to gain? Well, the cockroaches do their work in the dark and we are simply watching the scattering as we turn on the lights.

By the way, readers, did you know that you can SUE THE BAR ASSOCIATION IN NEVADA? It is not a "Board" of quality assurance; it is a mere PRIVATE CLUB. I would think that the Club in Nevada is perpetrating some rather infamous malpractice tactics on YOU-the-people while protecting the inane and criminal activities of such as Horton and Abbott.

As I close this writing I am reminded that we began this writing with Super Bowl chili-dogs and "Newspeak". It is all part of the same mind-control program with the balloons being run past you to study progress.

I am always reminded by some of you that "Orwell said it would be like this." Like what, exactly?? Have you even noticed that EBONICS, this silly new language of the street-Blacks, is a major example of exactly what is "Newspeak"? Everything has to be reduced to the BASIC programming words and there is no real ability to do this until you can get rid of ALL CULTURAL integration lest the uneducated not ever understanding enough to GET THEIR PROGRAMMING. And, readers, those who do not get their proper programming are destined to be "gotten rid of".

How do you think "Basic" computer language came about? How is it that the vocabulary of WORDS gets more and more simplified and accepted? What do you know about "Basic English" and simply that which is called, referring to English, "BASIC"? WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT MINIFORM? MINITRUE? Just food for thought through a paragraph worthy of your attention:

"Some historians have claimed that Orwell's "Newspeak", in his 1984, is a simple parody of Basic. To the contrary: Orwell was one of the most avid supporters of the Basic concept of reduced language. What appealed to him most was its simplicity and its apparent ability to abolish "jargon". He also thought that anything without real meaning, when reduced to its Basic translation, would be easily seen to be absurd. A utopian, Orwell, in his letters, expressed concern over the power of the Ministry of Information (Miniform, as it was known) to control and manage the news. It was that aspect of the process, not Basic's degrading of the English language, that he parodied in 1984 with his "Newspeak", controlled by Minitrue, the Ministry of Truth."

Perhaps we can get to this short subject next time and fill in the blanks.

Thank you and good morning.

The Story Behind The Ekker House Case

Doris and EJ received their copy of this foreclosure notice they were, understandably, alarmed! EJ then found out that Zack Haynes had never signed nor mailed in his portion of the extension agreement, therefore, there was no extension!

When you file a Notice of Default, there is an automatic grace period or delay of 90 days. Then there is an additional three weeks to publish the Notice of Public Sale. In the Ekkers case the Notice was published by the California Newspaper Bureau, since renamed. The sale was set to be held at 10:00 A.M., May 24, 1988 at "the East Front Entrance of the Bakersfield City Hall at 1501 Truxton Ave."

By this time, Doris and EJ were determined not to vacate their newly acquired retirement home, but rather, they would go to the public sale and purchase their home outright! They were able to secure a loan through a close friend, and went to the auction early. Being a wise real estate investor, the only condition their friend placed on the loan was that, since it was a public auction, they open the bidding low.

Between the hours of 9:50 A.M. until 10:30 A.M., either Doris or EJ Ekker had the entire lobby and entrance area of the Bakersfield City Hall in full view every minute. No one stopped in the area and only two people entered the lobby, and only one exited in that time period. One of the people was a man who went into a side room upon entering the building. As it turns out, this person was Larry Mitchell of the California Service Bureau, Inc. Larry entered the building, stepped into a phone booth and made a call, then exited the building without saying a word to anyone. There was NO SALE!

During the forty minutes at City Hall, Doris and EJ had witnesses to "the sale that never was". The witnesses were both very credible; namely, the Bakersfield City Treasurer, William Descary and the City Clerk, Carol Williams.

Since there was no sale, there was nothing left for the Ekkers to do but go home.

The next day, on May 25, 1988, EJ wrote a letter to Financial Corporation of Santa Barbara at 3040 State Street and said, [quoting:]

Your Notice of Trustee's Sale, copy enclosed, announces that you would auction the property at 21512 Adam Drive, Tehachapi, California at 10:00 A.M. on May 24, 1988 at "the East front entrance to the City Hall, 1501 Truxton Ave., Bakersfield, California."

We were present at the appointed time and place and no representative from your company or Specialized, Inc. or Santa Barbara Savings & Loan appeared. Several City employees were witnesses to that fact.

The Hayneses sold the property to us on a Land Contract and your foreclosure is a result of that clause in their contract with Santa Barbara Savings giving SBS the "right to accelerate". We have delayed legal action in expectation that a successful bid at the Public Auction would be the most expeditious route to a clear land sale contract. Santa Barbara Savings & Loan, held the mortgage on the $170,000, under the name of Haynes. The Ekkers would make their payments directly to Haynes, who in turn made payments to Santa Barbara Savings & Loan. Part of the verbal agreement upon signing the land sale contract concerned the possibility that some payments might not be timely. In fact, the price was increased to compensate for the "condition" of possible late payments. Zack Haynes did agree. They had sufficient funds to cover the mortgage payment for an interim period, should such a situation arise. The Hayneses, as it turned out, were also particularly sensitive about their credit rating. Immediately upon closing the sale, the Ekkers had the land sale contract properly recorded, as required by law. This was done on July 7, 1987.

During September Haynes was passing through Tehachapi and EJ met with Zack. Contrary to the verbal agreement made prior to the sale, upon being informed that the October payment would be late, Zack said he just might have to foreclose to protect his interests and, "Payments need to be timely".

Sometime during the month of October, Ekkers did, in fact, receive a Foreclosure Notice from Zack Haynes for the late house payments. Immediately following on the heels of this notice was a letter dated October 22, 1987 from Susan Zuback with the loan department of Santa Barbara Savings & Loan, addressed to the Ekkers. This letter was a Default Notice giving them until November 22, 1987 to pay off the note. EJ, of course, responded and then received a letter from Santa Barbara Savings & Loan dated December 3, 1987, requiring EJ's signature on a 160-day extension agreement. After some discussion about the signatures back and forth, EJ ultimately did sign the document and returned it to Santa Barbara Savings & Loan. He assumed the extension to be in effect.

On November 18, 1987, the Haynes received a letter from Santa Barbara Savings & Loan granting a 160-day extension on the "acceleration proceedings". Acceleration proceedings (foreclosure) were to begin on approximately April 2, 1988 if full payment was not made.

The Ekkers had until mid-January to pay the outstanding balance owed to Haynes. Doris and EJ were fortunate enough to secure a loan to cover the outstanding amount. The money was paid to the Haynes. Haynes then sent the funds to Santa Barbara Savings & Loan; however, they were not accepted. Immediately following this, Haynes received a Notice of Default from Santa Barbara Savings & Loan, with a copy also going to Ekkers. Santa Barbara Savings & Loan had not accepted the payment from Haynes, using the rationale that Haynes had sold the property without notifying SBS. They were, therefore, justified in not accepting it and accelerating the $170,000 note. When

Editor's note: We are reprinting Rick Martin's excellent research on this subject due to the number of inquires about the history of the matter as a result of the Ekkers' recent court challenges. This was originally published in CONTACT as Part 1 of a series called: "The Valley Of Radiance".

The story you are about to read is stranger than fiction. Truth usually is. The names are real and have not been changed out of concern for the honorable and the innocent—and to expose all others to the clear light of Truth.

On June 16, 1987, Doris and EJ moved to Tehachapi, located in Kern County, California off Highway 58. Tehachapi, considered "high desert", sits at an altitude of 4,000' with higher peaks surrounding it. Its population at that time was approximately 5,000. Tehachapi means land of plenty acorns and water, and offered promise to EJ as he further explored possibilities in the wind business.

Doris and EJ's home was nestled against the mountain, overlooking the valley. It was purchased in May, 1987 for $215,000 with a down payment of $23,500 cash, $15,000 second trust deed, $6,500 to the broker, still owed, and a land sale contract of $170,000. The property was purchased from Zack T. and Mary Ann Haynes, who have subsequently moved to Texas. At the time of the purchase, there was an outstanding encumbrance (mortgage) on the property with Santa Barbara Savings and Loan Association in the amount of $170,000.

The property located at 21512 Adam Drive and is "legally" described as:

"Lot 130 of Tract No. 3224, in the unincorporated area of the County of Kern, State of California, as per map recorded May 9, 1969, in Book 17, Page 151, of Maps in the office of the Recorder of said county."

Tehachapi is in a beautiful valley and they looked forward to peacefully enjoying their home in semi-retirement. Doris and EJ were by now comfortably settled into their "retirement" home and life was joyful. The Tehachapi valley was quiet and beautiful. Little did they know of the events that were about to take place to disrupt the stillness and throw their lives into chaos.

At the time the Ekkers purchased their home from Zack and Mary Haynes in the summer of 1987, for a purchase price of $215,000, Zack agreed to a $170,000 title to the property.

Since you failed to appear for the Public Auction or provide notification of any change of time or place, it is our understanding that you are obliged to accept our opening bid. Since there is also an "investor" in the Haynes loan it would seem you have committed a serious breach of your fiduciary duty by failing to appear.

Before we take any further action that might result in the long delays attendant to litigation in this matter, we offer you an opportunity to respond to this statement of our position. [End quoting.]

With letters about to cross in the mail, EJ wrote a letter to the President of Santa Barbara Savings & Loan, Mr. Clyde Wagoner, dated June 23, 1988 explaining that they had not received a reply to their May 25 letter concerning the no sale and, therefore, invalid Trustee's Deed.

With EJ's letter to Mr. Wagoner just mailed, a letter arrived, addressed to Doris and EJ, dated June 17, 1988. In her letter Donna Yencer, Foreclosure Clerk with Santa Barbara Savings & Loan states, [quoting:]

On May 24, 1988, a trustee's sale was held on behalf of Santa Barbara Savings & Loan. The auctioneer advised us he did cry the sale and that three women from the California Republic Bank were present at the sale as witnesses. Also at the sale that day was a Realtor. Our Association is in receipt of a Certificate of Sale stating that the trustee sale was held at the scheduled time and place. [End quoting.]

In a state of shock and total disbelief, Doris and EJ began to further discuss their situation and their options.

Then, on July 17, Doris and EJ were served with a Notice To Quit dated July 12, signed by Steven J. Berg, Litigation Administrator for Santa Barbara Savings & Loan.

Upon receipt of the Notice To Quit, EJ telephoned Mr. Berg and advised him to review the file prior to initiating further action on the Notice. On August 2, Steven Berg wrote a response to Doris and EJ, [quoting:]

I have contacted the service that conducted the trustee's sale concerning the property you continue to occupy and they have provided me with the auctioneer's Certificate of Sale concerning said sale. A copy of the certificate is enclosed. In light of this sworn certificate the Association hereby makes final demand on you to peacefully vacate the premises. This matter is being referred to local counsel to take the appropriate measures to regain possession of our property and place it on the market for sale. [End quoting.]

On August 11, 1988, EJ responded in writing to Steven Berg's letter, [quoting:]

Thank you for your letter of August 1, 1988. We returned yesterday from a business trip and are answering you as timely as possible.

It appears that the service that was supposed to conduct the trustee's sale is going to "stonewall" the situation. They have perjured themselves and are acting in a fraudulent manner which will injure us if we allow it. If we take it to court it will injure SBS because our action will have to be against you.

We have too much invested in this home to meekly walk away. You have a choice of two courses of action apparent to us. You can pursue the legal eviction procedure and become a party to a lawsuit which may take a long time to settle with very little chance of winning. Or you can join with us in placing the responsibility where it belongs so that the damages are borne by the guilty party.

To help you decide where to place your bet we will enclose photocopies of statements signed by two Bakersfield City officials, the Treasurer and Clerk, indicating they saw us in their building at the time and on the day in question and that there was no sale held. We arrived at the building at approximately 9:45 A.M. and inquired of the Clerk where the sale would be held. She, and others in her office, took the notice, checked the time and date and directed us to the East front entrance to the lobby. We waited there till approximately 10:15 and, because no one came, I entered the Treasurer's office to again confirm that we had the correct address. Most of the employees were on a break so Mr. Descary helped me himself. After verifying the time and place on the notice he instructed an employee to make some telephone calls to see if anyone at the County might know if the time or place had been changed.

While those calls were being made I walked the few steps to the Lobby where Mrs. Ekker was waiting. She then returned to the Clerk's office where they also placed some calls while I waited in the lobby. When she returned without any new information, I went back to the Treasurer's office where I was informed they were also unable to locate any information. At that point Mr. Descary walked with me to the lobby to point the direction to the local office of Santa Barbara Savings & Loan, suggesting that perhaps they might help us. We started in that direction, but, due to the heat, decided to drive and then decided we should get some legal advice. We had come prepared to bid on the property, no sale was held at the place advertised and we were not sure what we should do.

We were advised to write to SBS and inform you of the situation so that you would have an opportunity to investigate. From that point you have the file and can reconstruct the events. Your investigation, as demonstrated by the recorded deed and the auctioneer's Certificate, has uncovered perjury on the part of more than one person. We hope you share our outrage and will work with us to shift the damage to the responsible parties. If you do not we must promise you a long and serious litigation. [End quoting.]

Once Doris and EJ had been served a 3-Day Notice To Quit on their "retirement" home, things began to feel very uneasy. There was an uncertainty in the air and while there was no intention to give up "possession", there also wasn't any direct knowledge about legal procedure. Liz Kerzner, new to the area, had a close friend from Los Angeles named Jodi who was also in the employment management business. Jodi and her husband Steve would often come to Tehachapi to enjoy the valley, see Liz and meet frequently at Doris and EJ's house. Steve specialized in the eviction business. Upon receiving the Notice To Quit, Steve was immediately consulted. Doris and EJ were informed that the next step would be receipt of a Complaint For Unlawful Detainer—which must be responded to in order to keep possession of the house.

They were informed that to receive a 3-Day Notice To Quit was serious business and that if an Unlawful Detainer was served, they could delay the eviction, but for all intents and purposes, they were out of that house.

At 5:30 P.M. on October 6, 1988, EJ was "served" with a Summons and Complaint for Unlawful Detainer. The woman who delivered it apologized for interrupting the meeting which was taking place and for coming so late in the day. She commented that she was specifically requested to deliver this one last.

One of the guests present, a real estate broker, read the Complaint and commented, "This looks very serious to me. It appears that you only have five days to answer it in legal form and typewritten. This is Thursday and I doubt if you can get an attorney here on such short notice. But if you don't answer they'll have a default which will cost you the house and twelve, maybe sixteen thousand dollars."

After the guests left it occurred to Doris and EJ that Monday was a holiday and Tuesday was the deadline to respond! How would they find a lawyer to represent them, become informed about the case and write a response in one day? What kind of cruel joke was being played on them and by whom?

After several hours of discussing business projects, the guests were settled in and comfortable on the living room sofa at Doris and EJ's house. This was a business meeting, and it was now early evening. All of a sudden there was a knock at the front door. A Complaint for Unlawful Detainer [an eviction notice!] was served on Doris and EJ on this day, October 6, 1988. The woman serving the Notice apologized for the lateness of the hour, but explained that—get this—she had been asked to deliver this one last, that it would purposely be delivered late in the day. When the meeting dispersed, EJ quickly shuffled through the lawsuit to the last page and there, standing out in bold black ink, appeared the name Steven J. Horn, Attorney for Santa Barbara Savings & Loan (SBS). But who was Steven Horn? Little did they know, they would soon find out, in no uncertain terms. How would they find a lawyer on such short notice? After all, it had to be answered in five days, and coming up was a long holiday weekend. And then, if all else failed, where would they move to?

Pressure was beginning to mount, emotions were high. The odds of finding legal help in time seemed impossible. Would they be evicted? When the Ekkers got to court, would the case be heard on its obvious merits? Would the fact that their house had been put up for public auction with no sale taking place cause a ruling on their behalf? They just didn't know. But in the meantime the scramble was on to find a lawyer.

And now we find ourselves in the year 1997. The legal battle between the Ekkers, their attorneys, and all the parties involved in this property case, has continued unceasingly. The legal documentation on this case is now the largest in Kern County history. And to this very day, the Ekkers have not had their day in court, and no jury has been allowed to hear the evidence to reach the inevitable conclusion that THERE WAS NO SALE!

The Treason Of "Our" Representatives

1/6/97 V.K. DURHAM

"Old age and treachery will overcome youth and skill" is a sign which hung in my doctor's office for many years. Many are the times Doc and I talked about this old adage. On one of those days I said to Doc, "that is one Hell of a statement and quite frankly I do not know whether to be offended, or just how I am supposed to take that statement." To which he replied "Well, I keep that there because it tells me why those bastards stay in the Congress and the Senate until they seemingly grow moss. Didn't you ever wonder why they stay in office until they are near Death's door?" I said, "No, I just thought it was because they had done such a great job, they were continually being voted back into their respective Offices of Public Trust." He countered, "I took you for a half-way bright woman, do not disappoint me in this fashion. They have to stay in office to keep on covering up all that crap they did in their tenure. Then they train their aides, and the aides run for office when those old farts are ready to retire, and the aides continue on with the cover-up." Well, I said, "How does that constitute treachery?" He said, "The better word is treason, but treachery is a kinder and gentler word. The treachery is when these elected congressmen, senators, etc., know the aides are young and impressionable and they also know those youngins don't know sickem about the Constitution, because during that old fart's tenure, the Constitution was taken out of the schools and replaced with Political Science. Therein comes the treachery. The youngins see how the old guys are doing it and they automatically think it is the way to go. So the game of treachery is perpetuated by the continuation of the young ones keeping on with what they learned from the old guys in the political power seats. It's sort of a protection racket for treacherous political corruption."

Somewhere there is a message in that statement. However, we must take into consideration that what has become the accepted is not acceptable, for it is destroying this nation. There is a remedy. The remedy lies in the intestinal fortitude of the U.S. Congress' faithfulness to this nation and to their Oaths of Office, for indeed they have the power to rescind all repugnant acts.

Our troubles began when the final signatures to the contract for the Reorganization of Europe was acknowledged in 1947 (Bretton Woods Agreement, International Monetary Fund Agreement, General Agreement on Tariffs and Trades). This in turn was never ratified by Congress as mandated by the Constitution for the United States, in two (2) years after the agreement was signed by all parties. Then the National Security Act of 1947 was implemented in order to accommodate the after reorganization plan no. 1 of 1958 (ten years later—72 Stat. 1799). Subsequently, methodically, step-by-step, the powers of the Office of President were increased. That power increase is a repugnancy to the Constitution. It allows power which the Constitution restrains. Even the U.S. Congress is restrained from giving such at libitum (at liberty) power to the President of the United States. The Congress and Senate, including the President, are restrained from misconstruing and abusing those constitutional powers.

Let's go to the Federal Advisory Committee Act (1972). Bit-by-bit, sound old laws were set aside (not done away with, but set aside and replaced). Our President (through the collusive acts of American Bar Association members) was given the powers which are only bestowed upon kings and dictators.

Now, let's go back to the Nixon Presidency. (Go to your library and pull up Title 3, the President, Executive Order 11490—F.R. Doc. 69-13005; filed Oct. 28, 1969, 2:19 p.m.) Take a good look at Sec. 3015's revoked Orders. There are 23 in all. Especially, take a close look at the revocation of the defense mobilization orders.

Mr. Nixon's Executive Order, Sec. 3011, Emergency Actions, states:

"This order does not confer authority to put into effect any emergency plan, procedure, policy, program, or course of action prepared or developed pursuant to this order. Plans so developed may be effectuated only in the event that authority for such effectuation is provided by a law enacted by the Congress or by an order or directive issued by the President pursuant to statutes or the Constitution of the United States."

Mr. Nixon was no dummy. He realized, as evidenced by his statement, what he did or was desirous of doing must be pursuant to the Constitution for the United States. Then, along came the Federal Advisory Committee Act in 1972, which contained Sec. 6, an escape clause for political misconstruction and abuse of powers of the Office of the President. This has actually abused the civil governments of the states and the civil government of the United States.

For some reason, no politician wants to acknowledge that treaties are in existence between the civil governments of the territorial sovereign states and the civil government of the United States. Look at it this way: The original states, in the realization of the need to protect commerce, have a common defense and a method to pay a central government for its services for those protections, did enter into a contractual treaty agreement called a constitution. Each sovereign state retained their own constitution. The civil government of the United States was forbidden access to the powers of the laws of those constitutions retained by the states. Those rights were retained by the civil government of the original states. When subsequent territories decided they wanted to be included into the union, the sovereign territorial civil governments put into effect enabling acts. These enabling acts were then submitted to the original states. The original states civil government for their own collective civil government of the United States then entered agreements (treaties) with the subsequent territorial sovereign civil governments of those territorial states. At that time stipulations for those territorial sovereign civil governments (see messages and papers of the President) were agreed to in writing, with terms and conditions just like any other contract of treaty or of purchase, etc. For that purpose, Article VI of the Constitution for the United States was ratified. Those treaty provisions as contained therein apply to the territorial sovereign civil governments of the states. Further extending into international treaty law (in the XXXs section): "No treaty can be entered into which infringes or impedes Article X of the Bill of Rights." In more specifics, no treaty on an international basis can impair, impede, dissuade or discourage those rights retained by the people (Bill of Rights, Constitution for the United States). For this purpose, Article I, Sec. 10 was ratified.

Let's use Illinois as an example. The Enabling Act of 1818, before it could be acted upon, had to conform with the laws pursuant to the Constitution for the United States, Article VI (debts and engagement provisions). Illinois, by law, pursuant to the Constitution for the United States, VIth Article, invoked the Act of 1787 (the Northwest Ordinance law), which itself was predicated upon the 3rd Clause of the VIth Article; the laws of the confederation of the original states which invoked the Constitution for the United States. There are those in political offices who are desirous of leading you to believe the Articles of Confederation do not exist. Check it out, it's still there in the VIth Article, Clause 1, last word.

Perhaps there is a reason for attempting to make one think it no longer exists. The Articles of Confederation, at Article II states "each state retains its sovereignty, freedom, and independence, and every power, jurisdiction and right, which is not by this confederation expressly delegated to the United States, in Congress assembled." (The Vth Article, expressly shows the intent "for the more convenient management of the general interests of the United States," stated in defined specifics.)

Constitutional confederation stipulations are stated at Article VI, Clause 1. Articles of Confederation, Article IX, Clause 6: "The United States in Congress assembled shall never engage in a war, nor grant letter of marque and reprisal in time of peace, nor enter into any treaties or alliances, nor coin money, nor regulate the value thereof, nor ascertain the sums and expenses necessary for the defence and welfare of the United States, or any of them, nor emit bills, nor borrow money on the credit of the United States, nor appropriate money, nor agree upon the number of vessels of war, to be built or purchased, or the number of land or sea forces to be raised, nor appoint a commander in chief of the army or navy, unless nine states assent to the same, nor shall a question on any other point, except for adjourning from day to day be determined, unless by the votes of a majority of the United States in Congress assembled."

The nine states referenced are the original nine who united under a common cause, for a common civil government, for management purposes of (a) protection of commerce, manufacturing and production of goods, (b) to provide for a common defence, and (c) to pay for these services by imposing (1) taxes, (2) duties on imports, (3) post roads, (4) naval depots and warehouses,

The illegal we do immediately. The unconstitutional takes a little longer.

— Henry Kissinger

With all these laws supported by the Constitution for the United States, treaties with the territorial sovereign civil governments of the states with the caveat of being "on equal footing with the original states when entering the treaty for union of the republic firmly in place", so stated in the Articles of Confederation (which is still in force even though amended), we must ask ourselves: How in the hey did we get into this present mess?! Well, the answer is relatively simple. There are various causes which brought forth this current effect of a constitutional monarchy; (1) de-education of the masses by years of not teaching the Constitution of the United States and of the constitutions of our respective states, (2) de-education of the masses by not teaching American History as it occurred, (3) the allowance of the Bar Association Members to make laws which usurp the rights retained by the people to make all laws necessary for the common man in a common community (state) of civil government, (4) misconstruction and abuse of powers of Offices of Public Trust, (5) Roosevelt's Enabling Act which by law can only exist for a period of four (4) years, which federalized and set aside our constitutions of territorial civil governments of the states, setting aside our constitutional common laws of the land, (6) ignoring and setting aside our treaty with the civil government of the United States, whereupon (7) the civil government of the United States was set aside and became the Federal Government of the United States.

What occurred here, in this time frame between 1916 and 1997, is that our constitutional civil common laws which are counteracted to us were overpowered by federal law (Maritime Law) which according to Rhodian law can and will take every thing in its path way unless there are laws to stop it.

These are the old Aechean and Amphictomy leagues that the original states were so concerned about while deciding on a central government.

Consequently, by and through misconstruction and abuse of powers of Offices of Public Trust, albeit knowingly (de-education), this once great nation has been overthrown from within. Nikita Khrushkhev stated that to J.F.K. in his famous meeting with Mr. Kennedy.

Those perpetual, inviolable, inherent rights, liberties, and freedoms so hard sought, so hard fought for, and as intended by the founding fathers, were overthrown by the very persons with whom we have a treaty/contract: to uphold, protect and defend us and our constitutions.

Historically, every great nation, its constitution and its people, has been systematically overthrown due to ignorance or dumbing down of the peoples. Educated populaces do not allow this sort of thing to occur. De-education or dumbing down creates a mass hysteria attitude; people re-act by the inability of reasoning thought. Psychology calls it the self-defense mechanism.

Recently, I was browsing the U.S.C.'s disarmament treaties. Curiously, these treaties call for the disarming of nations (super powers), not the disarming of the populace of a nation. How simple would it all be if our government would cease and desist the manufacturing, selling, and giving away of armaments for alleged good behavior, such as evidenced in Mr. Clinton's instances. As stated in an earlier writing by me, "that's like giving Lizzie Borden a smack on the hand with one hand, and giving her an axe in the other." By such acts, one must surely ask themselves: How in the world can a sensible person do such a thing?

Also, recently, we watched as Peru and other nations went through a hostage crisis. Those nations now, at this time, are under martial law, their constitutions having been set aside.

Concurrently, we here in the United States are experiencing letter bombs. Allegedly, these letter bombs are sent through the mail, with all the security systems in place in our national and international airports. This is highly dubious and doubtful, leading to the thought of these alleged letter bombs being brought in, in diplomat immunity pouches, by special couriers.

Of course, the American people are going to cry for more laws and more security, failing at each turn to recognize a ruse being deployed at their constitutional expense. Bill Clinton did not get his Executive Order 13010 passed, which contained his intent of Martial Law in Sec. 5 (c). It was stated therein that the powers of the Office of President would be turned over to the Department of Defense. Good Heavens! Has the whole Congress and Senate been dumbed down to the point where they can not read the intent stated in these executive orders which are allowed by the Federal Advisory Committee Act?! Perhaps it is time our duly elected civil state governments uphold their Oaths of Public Trust, adhere to 18 U.S.C., Public Policies, Nos. 1, 2 and 3 (in the front of the book, boys and girls), and challenge the Federal Advisory Committee Act, carefully scrutinizing Sec. 1 and 2 of that act, to the point of repealing the act based on Sec. 6. Sec. 6 is the escape clause for underhanded, undermining, dirty, covert activities which extends the powers of the Office of the President beyond those powers conferred, enumerated and granted by the Constitution for the United States, allowing for excessive misconstruction and abuse of powers of the executive in violation of the VIth Article's treaty provisions as enumerated to the sovereign civil governments of the states by their own enabling act and by treaty with the civil government of the United States. This is also a breach of the Xth Article of the Bill of Rights, with full intent to sorely test the Bill of Rights entirely.

We sit today without jobs, industry, manufacturing, and the ability to house and feed ourselves and our loved ones, watching our courts function in conflict of interest and in opposition to the Constitution for the United States, denying the Laws of the Land to the people who beg, cry and plead for their constitutional common laws in order that their rights and properties be protected per the treaty/contract of the Constitution (law), only to be turned away at every court, suffering the indignities imposed upon them by the courts refusal to employ the [state] civil laws of the people. While the people stand helplessly by, their equities in the United States are being undermined by a government foreign to the [state] civil governments' treaty with the civil government of the United States.

In the United States today no attorney general of our respective states will uphold, protect and defend the rights of the people. It is their contention (evidenced on AG [Attorney General] letterhead, from AGs across the nation): "We do not prosecute criminal matters, or get involved in public matters, etc., our jurisdiction is to protect and advise other state agencies." This is an outrage! We pay for their services by and through the taxation process!

Over 80% (eighty percent) of equity (American land) is foreign owned! Americans have systematically become displaced persons in their own land. This is an outrage!

Especially outrageous: These foreign aliens do not conform nor comply with the treated Alien Act! Our President, and our duly elected, would rather take the moneys from these aliens and sell this nation out than to live by the Oath of Office to which they are bound. There is no difference between those declared injuries cited in the Declaration of Independence and those suffered by Americans today in 1997; the only changes would be changing the wording from King and He to the President of the United States and the House and Senate (we have gone full circle back to the beginning).

UPDATE

1/27/97 CLC STAFF

This update could be categorized as the good, the bad and the ugly!

THE GOOD: George Green, Betty Tuten and their attorney, David Horton, received another blow in Court this past week when their counter-claim attempts against Mr. Brad Elley, attorney, were denied by a fair, no-nonsense judge.

With all the examples of lack of justice in the courts, this is a fine example of justice and with the hope that we all can continue to see justice.

THE BAD: Kern County Superior Court Judge Sidney P. Chapin denied the Motion for Reconsideration of his Order denying the Ekkers the ability to discuss anything that had to do with the "non-sale" of their residence on May 24, 1988, at their up-coming trial.

The hearing on the motion was well attended on January 7, 1997 and it was believed that the strong points of law, as ably brought forth by the Ekkers attorney, would cause Judge Chapin to change his mind, but he did not and that is being studied.

THE UGLY: The same Kern County Judge Chapin has just been publicly censured by the California Commission on Judicial Performance for his failure to timely perform and render judgment on a one-day bench trial he heard in September of 1993 in Ventura County. Please refer to accompanying article by Bakersfield Californian staff writer, Tamara Koehler, as published January 23, 1997 in the Bakersfield Cali-

What is ugly is that, in the Ekker case, the matter was set for a jury trial after years of prosecution and on the day it was assigned for trial before Judge Chapin, and with a jury panel waiting to be selected, the Judge heard a previously denied motion and then granted judgment to the defendants and denied the Ekkers their jury trial, basically. It would be all but impossible to have a fair trial without the ability to discuss the day that the alleged sale took place.

And even more ugly, Judge Gamble of Nevada, who is known in Nevada to make rash decisions and self-satisfying judgments, did it again!

On this particular occasion, Judge Gamble Ordered a mother to bring her 12-year-old son before the Court and in his courtroom Ordered the mother to spank the child. Then after the spanking, the Judge ordered the boy to turn and face the audience. When asked how he (the boy) felt, the boy responded, "embarrassed."

Please refer to the accompanying article by Tim Anderson as published in the Reno Gazette-Journal on January 23, 1997.

This is the same Judge Gamble who unilaterally took it upon himself to categorize the parties in that case (Phoenix Institute v. George Green, et al.), as being basically anti-Christian and "...have perverted the Gospel of Jesus Christ and I won't have that in my Courtroom."

That's it for now!
More updates to come.

Editor's note: The following two articles are pasted up as received and accompany the article on the previous page as explained in the CLC Update column:

Judge clobbered for ordering mother to spank son in court

By Tim Anderson
RENO GAZETTE-JOURNAL

Douglas District Judge David Gamble came under fire Wednesday from parents and teachers for ordering a 12-year-old boy to be spanked in his courtroom during a juvenile detention hearing.

Gamble defended his decision, saying he believes there's a good chance it will make a difference to the juvenile and to his mother. The mother applied the corporal punishment to her son Tuesday in Gamble's Minden courtroom.

"It was what I felt the boy and his mother needed," Gamble said. "The results won't be known for a while, but I'm hopeful it will change things for them."

He said the mother was appreciative.

The youth, who has appeared before Gamble for previous offenses including stealing, was in court on a complaint of being involved in a snowball-throwing contest at Scarselli Elementary School, using foul language and making obscene gestures to a schoolyard attendant.

Gamble said his action was aimed at telling the youth that he needs to respect authority.

"He needs to know that someone's in charge, and that it's not him," Gamble said.

But public humiliation is not the answer, said Jim Keegan, co-chair of Scarselli's Parent-Teacher Organization.

"This isn't the appropriate way to deal with this kind of situation," Keegan said. "The boy is deserving of some kind of disciplinary action. But spanking in public isn't an effective method."

Keegan, father of eight children, said he's never heard of this kind of punishment. Others in Douglas County said they are also unaware of a judge taking this kind of action.

Gamble said it was a first for him. "But I had been thinking about it for awhile" for certain cases, Gamble said.

He also said he anticipated a negative reaction from those who question the appropriateness and effectiveness of such action.

"Corporal punishment can't force a student to respect teachers," said Marty Cronin, Douglas High School history and speech teacher and president of the Douglas County Professional Education Association.

Gardnerville parent Cindi Otto concurred.

"I guess the judge was trying to make a point, but I don't know that public humiliation teaches respect," Otto said.

In fact, such actions could backfire and make the youth even more rebellious, said Brian Wilcox, executive director of the Center on Children, Families and the Law at the University of Nebraska.

"We oppose corporal punishment generally because it's ineffective," Wilcox said. "As often as not, it is counter-productive."

But a representative of the Children's Cabinet in Reno said those opposed to the ruling should also think of the times they notice children being spanked in public places such as supermarkets.

"What makes a court that much different," asked Pam Becker, special projects coordinator.

She emphasized the organization teaches alternatives to spanking in an extensive network of parenting classes.

The 12-year-old previously appeared before Gamble for allegedly breaking into and stealing candy and a compact disc player from Pau-Wa-Lu Middle School. The boy and some friends were also accused of throwing rocks through windows at Scarselli Elementary.

The boy was suspended from school Friday and taken to juvenile detention.

The youth's mother told the judge Tuesday she wanted her son to remain in detention because she felt she couldn't control him or look out for his welfare.

The judge left his seat on the bench and approached the mother and son at the defense table. Gamble told the boy to lay across his mother's lap, and directed the woman to hit her son with an open hand across the buttocks.

"Make sure you do it hard," Gamble said.

After about five blows, the boy was allowed to stand up.

"That's what happens when you flip people off and act rude to teachers," Gamble told the boy.

The judge turned the youth around to face lawyers, reporters and other courtroom spectators and asked him how it felt to be spanked in front of people. The boy said he was embarrassed.

He was then taken back to the Carson City detention center.

With wire service reports.

State panel admonishes Kern judge

By TAMARA KOEHLER
California staff writer

The Commission on Judicial Performance issued a rare public admonishment Wednesday against a Kern County judge, chastising him for causing delays of more than two years in a high-profile civil trial in Ventura.

Superior Court Judge Sidney P. Chapin received the public rebuke in writing Wednesday.

He declined comment, saying he is still assigned to matters related to the civil suit.

The commission, a state policing agency for judges made up of six public members, three judges and two attorneys, criticized Chapin for taking an "inordinate" amount of time to decide a matter that was of great public concern and took just one day in court.

In a public statement issued late Wednesday, the commission said it "took into account the length of the delays and the fact that the decision in question would affect the rights of numerous individuals in two cases."

The commission found that Chapin's delays in one case involving a group of homeowners' challenge to the validity of a tax assessment district also caused delays in a related case in Ventura County assigned to Chapin. Chapin was given the cases because all Ventura County judges had recused themselves.

On Sept. 17, 1993, Chapin presided over the one-day bench trial in the case of Aggen vs. city of Ventura. The case created such high public interest that hundreds attended the trial.

To make accommodations for the exceptionally large audience, the case was moved to the Ventura County Board of Supervisors meeting room.

At the close of the day, the case was submitted to Chapin.

Three months later, on Dec. 13, 1993, Chapin issued a tentative decision and by January 1994 had received all objections and motions from attorneys, according to the commission.

But no more action was taken on the case by Chapin for more than a year, the commission's admonishment states.

Chapin finally ordered another hearing in June 1995. After that proceeding, he stated he would issue a ruling in 30 days, the commission states. But another 10 months passed. On April 30, 1996, more than two years after the case was heard by Chapin, he issued a final decision.

Kern County Superior Court Executive Officer Terry McNally on Wednesday described Chapin as a hard-working judge who juggles more than 500 civil cases a year in the Kern County Superior Court's civil trial fast-track system.

"In this (Ventura) case, the issues were very complex and volatile," McNally said. "The delays were due more to the complexity of the case than anything else."

The commission cited the Code of Judicial Conduct in support of its admonishment of Chapin, quoting a section which states: "A judge should monitor and supervise cases so as to reduce or eliminate ... avoidable delays," and that judges must be "expeditious in determining matters under submission."

The vote of the commission on whether to publicly admonish Chapin was six in favor and two opposed.

Three members were absent.

Two other Kern County judges have been censured publicly by the commission in recent years — former Municipal Court Judge Alan Klein and Superior Court Judge Gary T. Friedman.

Klein resigned from the bench in 1995 during an investigation by the commission into his admitted invitation to a stripper to meet with him in his chambers on a Sunday. The commission issued a public statement saying it had turned the matter over to the State Bar for further investigation into whether Klein should be disbarred. He was not.

Friedman was publicly criticized for "unacceptable" humor in jokes played on two prison inmate defendants during a 1987 trial.

The jokes involved showing a rattlesnake head enclosed in a plastic ball outside the prison window of an inmate who admitted to a fear of snakes, and providing a photograph of former CBS News anchor Connie Chung to an inmate who had a "bizarre fixation" on the television personality.
