SOVEREIGN THIS OR THAT

"YOU" DO IT THE WAY
"THEY" DO IT!

How can we ever accomplish anything positive in this world of illusion? The same way the illusion was formed in the first place. Find out what is legal, lawful, and what is not, and stay within those guidelines as already established by the so-called "bad boys". Note the numbers of times politicians are caught doing something totally immoral and yet their innocent stance to the public is, "I did nothing illegal!" And surely enough, when "you" go after the nerds, you find that they did nothing illegal.

Ah, you shout and war over your "sovereign" rights as a person, a township, a county, a nation, and on and on. What exactly are you trying to say? Anyone or anything who says they are sovereign—are sovereign. The facts are, however, that nobody who is in power accepts such acclamations.

But what has happened with corporate sovereignty in the hands of the World Order Power Brokers? Wow, they don't even bother to incorporate! They write

5/31/97 DR. AL OVERHOLT

SYRIAN TANKS LEAVE LEBANON; TENSION ON SYRIA-TURKEY BORDER

From a FAX sent by a reader, 5/27/97, [quoting:]
Dozens of Syrian tanks and armored personnel carriers today left Eastern Lebanon for Syria in a move apparently linked to the Syrian-Turkish tension.

Witnesses said the tanks and armored personnel carriers passed through the Lebanese border point of Masnaa on trailers.

Security sources said the redeployment was linked to the growing tension on the Syrian-Turkish border.

Last week, a Syrian government spokesman denied Turkish reports that his country was massing troops along its border with northern Iraq, where 40,000 Turkish troops, tanks and fighter bombers have spent the past two weeks attacking bases of the separatist Kurdistan Workers Party or PKK.

The Syrian spokesman accused Turkey of "maximum provocation" through its incursion, which Syria has condemned as a violation of Iraqi sovereignty.

Syrian forces were "present on all borders...to face any outside emergency," the spokesman said.

Turkey, which has accused Syria of backing the PKK, said its forces have killed more than 1,800 PKK guerrillas since the incursion began.

In London, the Iraqi Broadcasting Corp. said about 1,000 PKK guerrillas crossed into Syria over the weekend.

Iraqi government forces allowed the guerrillas to enter Syria at the Sinjar crossing. [End quoting]

Don't be surprised if, in the near future, a big war erupts in the Middle East.

ANOTHER POSSIBLE HYDROGEN FUEL BREAKTHROUGH

Excerpted from the INTERNET, 5/97, [quoting:]

If Dr. Randell Mills is right, the way the world produces and uses energy is about to be radically transformed, along with science's understanding of the physics involved.

If he is wrong, he will join a long line of failed seekers for the holy grail of cheap, safe and non-polluting energy.

Mills has developed, and begun to demonstrate in laboratory tests, what he says is a very efficient and non-polluting means of producing energy from hydrogen. He says a fuel cell the size of a desk could in theory supply the electricity now produced by an eight-floor-high coal-fired boiler, and a 200-horsepower car engine the size of a suitcase could power a vehicle four times around the world on a single tank of water.

The technology, and Mills's private company, BlackLight Power Inc., have begun to attract investment from the electricity industry and the support of some energy experts. A leading organization of physicists, however, calls his idea groundless, while even some who support the technology say its practical application remains at least a few years away.

"Whoever has this technology can potentially dominate the energy industry," said Mills, a Harvard-trained medical doctor with additional education in engineering and chemistry.

The technology is based on a theory of quantum physics that challenges principles that have governed the science for decades. Mills says the theory has been supported by experiments and observation. It holds that hydrogen can exist at a lower energy state than its common "ground" state, and the heat energy released in the transition to the lower state can be captured.

FROM QUARKS TO THE COSMOS

Mills told Reuters the theory explains phenomena ranging in scale from "(sub-atomic) quarks to the cosmos". In using it to make power, the cost of hydrogen, easily obtainable from water, would be minimal compared with fossil fuels, and there is more than enough water to last until "the end of the Earth", he said.

The process takes place in a vacuum and instantly stops if the vacuum is breached, making it inherently safe, Mills said.

Some experts, including a former top Reagan Administration nuclear energy official, say Mills is on the right track. The electricity industry has begun to get involved, investing money in the company and negotiating licensing deals.

"I'm convinced that there is something of enormous impact here and it's only a question of time until we can garner the capital and infrastructure to take it into commercialization," said Shelby Brewer, assistant energy secretary under Reagan and former head of ABB Combustion Engineering, one of the world's largest makers of electrical generation equipment.

But a Penn State University test done for BlackLight of a small fuel cell designed by Mills recorded heat production 100 times greater than that produced by "burning" hydrogen, another technology being studied as an energy source.

More information on Mills' theory and power process can be found on BlackLight Power's World Wide Web site.

(BlackLight Power's World Wide Web site is at: <<http://www.blacklightpower.com/>>

Their intro and background page is, indeed, a good place to start.) [End quoting]

One of these days some maverick may get some hidden energy device on the market, but from past experiences it doesn't look very good until after the drastic changes that are coming.

PENTAGON'S NEW INFORMATION WAR

From the INTERNET, 5/97, [quoting:]

The March 31, 1997 Defense Week ran a story, "Air Force Organizes For Offensive Info War". According to the article, the US Air Force has created the position of deputy director for information operations. An "Offensive Information Warfare" division will be created under the new deputy director. The division will have the organizational code AF/XOIEW and will be headed by Lt. Col. Jimmy Miyamoto.

Offensive information warfare, which implies attacks on both military and civilian targets, is among the least discussed aspect of the Air Force's moves to organize, train, and equip the service for information dominance, the article admits.

The new Information Operations office will coordinate with the Pentagon's Joint Chiefs of Staff, National Security Agency, Defense Intelligence Agency, Central Intelligence Agency, National Reconnaissance Office, Defense Airborne Reconnaissance Office and the National Imagery and Mapping Agency.

New research efforts are underway to support this new program, including:

Lethal HPM munitions. The USAF Office of Scientific Research is working on developing a small affordable laser and high-powered microwave for unmanned aerial vehicles to perform a wide variety of missions, including enemy communications and computer systems.

Software viruses to be placed or injected into enemy weapons and information links. These viruses would remain dormant until activated by satellite, aircraft radar, or jamming equipment, etc. When activated, the virus would render the equipment useless, or better yet, "there could be a very subtle change for a finite period of time".

Holographic projection. The article describes a quasi-information warfare/psychological operations program that was first discussed in the Air Force after Desert Storm. Holographic projection involves projection of a three-dimensional holographic image in project decoys, or even an "angry god" above the battlefield.

The Pentagon had listed holographic projections openly as part of its "nonlethal" weapons program. But since 1994, the program has disappeared from view, evidently now a "black" effort, says Defense Week.

In conclusion, the Defense Week article states that the Army's JFK Special Warfare Center and School in late 1991 disclosed that it was looking to develop a PSYOPS Hologram System with a capability "to project persuasive messages and three-dimensional pictures of cloud, smoke, rain droplets, buildings...The use of holograms as a persuasive message will have worldwide application." [End quoting]

This looks like it will be a concentrated unit of soldiers armed with the very latest high-tech weapons systems.

EJUKASHUN NASHUN DEVELOPMENTS OF LATE ON THE SORRY STATE OF AMERICA'S CLASSROOMS

Excerpted from MEDIA BYPASS MAGAZINE, MAY 1997, [quoting:]

"I was in a Senate hearing room when one of Michigan's leading business people turned to me and said, 'There comes a time when somebody must say to this child, you go to college, and to this child, you go to work.' My concern is: Who is going to play God with the future of our children? What business person, educator, bureaucrat or politician will decide what will be the career path, the life calling of our children?" — Michigan state Rep. Harold J. Voorhees, decrying the "School to Work Opportunities Act" in a February speech before the U.S. Congress.

In Michigan, in fact anywhere people take notice of power-grabs at the expense of children, sometimes lonely voices arise to challenge the deafening roar of money talking. Add a few more for a chorus of opposition to federal usurpation of local educational control.

Michigan state Rep. Harold Voorhees, a Republican, has hit the road to publicize what he sees as an ominous, nationwide threat to "educate children for industry, not for life". He not only has testified before Congress, he's shown up in several states and expresses a continuing willingness to "go anywhere where a group of people want to know what's going on in education and the power-grab by industry".

Voorhees is fighting an uphill battle in his home state, where HB 4066 recently emerged from committee and is now under consideration by the full House. Per stipulations in the Goals 2000 "School to Work Opportunities Act" (passed in May 1994 by the Republican-controlled Congress), the state would wrest control from local school boards and elected state Board of Education, to be handed over to appointed "jobs commissions" (aka workforce development boards) which by law would feature a majority of industry leaders. Failure to pass the law would mean the loss of millions of dollars in federal funds.

"I know business people want students who are educated for their purposes, not necessarily the well-being of society," Voorhees said. "This board would have advocates for the governor, advocates for industry, advocates for unions—but nobody to advocate for the children." His proposed amendment to include a "children's advocate" was narrowly defeated in committee; he plans to resurrect the amendment on the House floor in hopes that a public outcry will be forthcoming.

Beginning in kindergarten, the workforce development board will be "deciding how many welders industry needs, how many drill press operators. They're not looking to educate, just to train," Voorhees said. "I say it's wrong and unconstitutional...to have workforce development boards at the national, state and regional level, with all getting their marching orders from the top down. It's central planning on education for a centrally planned economy."

The educational establishment, including the teacher's unions, have lined up in support of the bill, he said. "They can't see past the dollar signs," Voorhees said. At stake are millions of dollars in federal funds that will be withheld if the school-to-work provisions are not implemented.

Voorhees said he has requested an opinion from the state attorney general as to whether the proposal violates Michigan's Constitution, which states that the planning and oversight of education shall be vested in the elected state board of education, not a commission appointed by the governor. Voorhees further notes that "the word 'education' is not in the U.S. Constitution for a reason, it's by design. The 10th Amendment says those issues belong to the state and the people, and that's my fight."

Voorhees said that following expected House passage, the bill will be considered in the Michigan Senate. Gov. John Engler has indicated he will sign the bill; his office did not return a call for comment.

"If Americans only want their children to be the best in the world, ready to compete in a 'global economy', then they will do it through an old-fashioned American education, complete with the ability to read and write and add and subtract. And they will do it as free individuals, ready to make their own personal career choices, in their own time.

"The insanity ends now." [End quoting]

The Elite keep pushing harder and harder. Eventually, maybe, because of this hard push, enough people will wake up to stop them.

THE WAR ON THE INTERNET HAS BEGUN REVOLT BREWING AGAINST GOVERNMENT CONTROL

From the INTERNET, 5/97, [quoting:]

When the major defense and intelligence contractor SAIC in 1995 bought the small Herndon, VA company that has the government contract on name service for the entire Internet, alarm bells went off all over the Internet. The move would give the intelligence community complete control over the Internet. They could, in essence, black out the entire Internet with the flick of a switch. Or, they could subvert the Internet by falsifying information in the root level domain name servers.

A real-time, clandestine censorship of hosts with troublesome information.

Those fears came true last week when the SAIC-controlled servers started returning false information in response to automatic host lookup requests. For many hosts on the Internet, the name servers simply claimed that they did not exist.

Name servers are used every time a web browser or an e-mail program looks for a host on the Internet. The servers are the phone directory for the Internet, listing the Internet number for every host. The top level servers, that keep information about the structure of the entire directory, are run at Internic which is an operation of Network Solutions Inc., owned by SAIC Inc.

SAIC past and current board members include such intelligence community notoriety as Bobby Ray Inman, former director of the National Security Agency, deputy director of the CIA, director of national security contractor E-Systems, and Clinton defense secretary nominee; Robert Gates, the former CIA director under George Bush; current CIA director John Deutch; Anita Jones, Deutch's former Pentagon procurement officer, and William Perry, the former secretary of defense.

It is possible that a simple technical problem is the cause of the erroneous information currently supplied by Internic name servers, but it seems very unlikely. First, root name servers have run on the Internet for almost 30 years without problems. The server software is tried and tested. Second, Internic charges such exorbitant prices for its services, $50 per listing per year, that it can easily afford a completely fault-tolerant system that is infallible. Estimates for revenues of the Internic reach $60 million for just one year of running the root name server.

Operations staff at Internic did not respond to a Washington Weekly request for information on the nature of the problems.

The poor quality of service, the high prices that it charges from every host on the Internet, and the monopoly status of this government contractor has spawned outrage on the Internet, which is now in near revolt. Several groups have started offering alternative top level name servers that bypass the government registry completely.

These groups advocate a free market solution to Internet name directories, with system administrators choosing from a number of competing name servers on the Internet. One group is Alternic at <http://www.alternic.net/>, another is eDNS at <http://www.edns.net>. A press release from one of the groups behind these efforts is included in the Information section of this issue.

In China, the government last year required all Internet users to register with the police, facilitating government control of this potentially dangerous medium. In the U.S., the government instead requires Internet users to register with a government national security contractor. [End quoting]

If the Elite start censoring the Net severely, they know they'll remove a big thorn to their complete control of communications—and they are beginning.

LEFT LOSING PATIENCE WITH CLINTON

From MEDIA BYPASS MAGAZINE, May 1997, [quoting:]

Journalists at the London Sunday Telegraph, the American Spectator and other right-wingers (including Media Bypass) have somehow set in motion a Rube Goldberg contraption that's spewing out ghastly stories about Bill Clinton, according to both a 331-page White House report detailing a "Communication Stream of Conspiracy Commerce" and "The Clinton Haters" in the New York Times Magazine.

In those scenarios, the rising tide of scandals engulfing the president begins with right-wing nuts who make up stories. Conservative Clinton-detesting journalists then write scathing articles that are splashed all over the Internet and propagated by a ravenous "media food chain". It ends with 12 (at last count) of Mr. Clinton's key business partners, friends and employees being convicted of various crimes and a growing horde of otherwise ordinary citizens in the woods in camouflage, ready to blast a corrupt central government.

The chief culprit, claims Joe Conason, executive editor of the New York Observer, is zillionaire Richard Mellon Scaife, "the sun god of the right". With a fortune last estimated by Forbes magazine at about $870 million, reports Conason, Scaife bankrolls the Western Journalism Center, the American Spectator, the Media Research Center, National Empowerment Television and Accuracy in Media, "All gushing fonts of Foster murder-porn and other kinds of scandal smut".

In blaming right-wing benefactors and journalists for Bill Clinton's incessant calamities, the White House, Conason and The New York Times ignore not only the role of the president's shady patterns of department but also that America's top left-wing magazines are spewing out many of the same unpleasant judgements.

Thick clouds of corruption, criminal schemes and character flaws hang over Bill Clinton in the left-wing columns of The Progressive, The Nation, In These Times and Mother Jones, for everything from Paula Jones to crooked coffee klatches.

In The Nation, Christopher Hitchens takes Clinton to task for ducking responsibility in the Paula Jones Case: "He had hours to spare when it came time to make nice with bundle-artists from Indonesia. He had cons to spare when Dick Morris called. Why should he not make a deposition when sued by a possibly wronged citizen and former state employee? In her slightly lumpen and bedraggled fashion, poor Ms. Jones represents all the suckers who were used up then thrown aside along the way. As Big Bill smirks his way along Pennsylvania Avenue," declares Hitchens, "an admonishing voice will come from inside his head and it will be saying, 'Remember that somewhere in this great city, locked inside the safe of a courtroom, is a signed and sworn account of how you look with your pants down.'"

But along with getting help from scores of clever criminal defense lawyers and specious claims of executive privilege, the president has in the Jones case, obtained an "experienced defense" from "the fragrant Gennifer Flowers", Hitchens wrote. "A brisk pants-drop is 'not Bill's usual style', according to Ms. Flowers.

Bill Clinton and Newt Gingrich are a "shame-free double act", he continued. "Two bloated, Southern-strategizing, God-bothering, pot-smoking, self-pitying, draft-dodging, wife-cheating, unreadable-book-writing, money-scrounging bigmouths and pseudo-intellectuals."

At Mother Jones, editor-in-chief Jeffrey Klein regards Clinton as one of those "Southern politicians who tend to exhibit two broad characteristics: volubility in the name of populism and cold ambition in the service of the rich". It's a straight path of crooked politics from Judge Hale to John Huang.

"The Clinton administration," asserts an editorial in The Progressive, "has the ethical standards of a malnourished piranha." Of all the Clinton scandals, "The fund-raising schemes have left the most tooth marks... William Safire and The Wall Street Journal are not concocting this scandal. It's the real thing."

The Progressive judges Bill Clinton guilty of violating campaign-finance laws, taking money from for-

"Nothing is in such a need of reforming as other people's habits."

—Mark Twain

eign sources, laundering funds, political hypocrisy, hawking access to the White House and selling participation in policy matters.

"Clinton cannot claim to be a naif in all this," contends The Progressive. "That game had one rule: If it's green, take it. There was no bottom to the bottom line. 'How low can you go?' is not a rhetorical question for Bill Clinton. The president is now in murky water, an appropriate environment for piranhas. It's hard to pity him."

Jennifer Washburn's article in The Progressive, "Oiling Slick Willie," underscored the duplicity that was "trademark Clintonism". On Aug. 12, Clinton went on TV to "save" Yellowstone National Park from gold mining. On Aug. 13, with the cameras gone, Clinton turned around and "granted the oil and gas industry special incentives to trash the nation's public lands", Washburn wrote. [End quoting]

How much lower can the U.S. sink than to allow this gangster madman a second term as president?

NASA TO SEND PROBE CARRYING PLUTONIUM TO SATURN

From the INTERNET, Gerald Naefkens, <gn@imagnet.fr>, 5/15/97, [quoting:]

Concerning: "Don't send Plutonium into Space."

In October, Nasa plans to send the Cassini Probe to Saturn carrying 72 pounds of lethal plutonium-238. Plutonium is lethal and is defined by scientists to be the most toxic substance known. While it is in route to Saturn, it will ride on top of a Lockheed Martin-built Titan IV rocket that has had a series of misfortunes in recent years. It will travel around the earth at 42,000 miles per hour, 312 miles above our planet. If there were to be an accident during the orbit...it would certainly be put into the category of a catastrophe because 5 billion people could be exposed to dangerous levels of radiation, according to Grossman.

Hi,

I refuse completely to believe this. However if anybody is able to confirm, positively (Nasa Checklist??) I will give this information to my neighbour who is in the government here.

Gerald, France [End quoting]

After what the Elite have done in the past this is not unthinkable for them to do—if we don't stop them.

PROTOCOLS OF THE LEARNED ELDERS OF ZION

From the INTERNET, <<http://www.padrak.com/alt/WEBSITES.html>>, 4/97, [quoting:]

The infamous Protocols. Not anti-Semitic, yet political dynamite.

"The book in which they are embodied was published by Sergyei Nilus in Russia in 1905. A copy of this is in the British Museum bearing the date of its reception, August 10, 1906. All copies that were known to exist in Russia were destroyed in the Kerensky regime, and under his successors the possession of a copy by anyone in Soviet land was a crime sufficient to ensure the owners' of being shot on sight. The fact is in itself sufficient proof of the genuineness of the Protocols. The Jewish journals, of course, say that they are a forgery, leaving it to be understood that Professor Nilus, who embodied them in a work of his own, had concocted them for his own purposes." [How could they be a forgery if there weren't any authentic original for them to be copied from? (Forgeries are copies of an authentic, original book, writing, etc.)] Contains all 24 of the Protocols, along with a "Preface", "Introduction", and "Who are the Elders?" summary files. Very interesting.

The "Elders" could refer to a number of political organizations that are active in the world today... A falsehood is better left in print—to be pointed out and referenced to, that it is indeed a falsehood. [End quoting]

This is like the Holocaust—the more the Khazarian Jews deny it, the more people wake up. I believe it was Shakespeare who said, "Thou protestest too much"—or some words to that effect.

EU UNHAPPY WITH BOEING MERGER

Excerpted from THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 5/24/97, [quoting:]

Highlighting the trans-Atlantic rift over the proposed Boeing-McDonnell Douglas merger, the European Union has voiced objections to just about everything in the plans to create a U.S. aviation colossus.

EU officials sent a statement of objections Wednesday to all parties involved and called for substantial revisions before it could approve the $15 billion deal. A combined Boeing-McDonnell would have one major competitor: Europe's Airbus Industrie.

The EU's executive agency, the European Commission, has extensive clout to block a merger between two U.S. companies. It can impose fines up to 10 percent of the combined companies revenues. [End quoting]

Even the major world players will get burnt with their own NWO rules and regulations. The wars among the Elite are just beginning to get hot over who is going to be King-of-the-World. They will end up doing themselves in. Greed knows no boundaries.

MEDICINE CRACKDOWN

From THE MODESTO BEE, 5/10/97, [quoting:]

An American tourist who bought $570 worth of medicine from a border pharmacy could end up spending 25 years in a Mexican prison on drug-trafficking charges. David Busch, 45, of Wauwatosa, Wis., awaits trial inside La Mesa State Penitentiary in Tijuana after being arrested March 15 at the Farmacia Familiar. [End quoting]

The American Medical Association (AMA) gangsters and their pharmaceutical friends in the U.S. will do anything to prevent anybody else getting into your pocketbook for your healthcare dollars.

REPORT ALARMS GENERAL

From THE MODESTO BEE, 5/10/97, [quoting:]

The commander of NATO and U.S. forces in Europe said Monday that he is checking a report which says recent malfunctions have switched Russian nuclear missiles to "combat mode" on several occasions. But, according to the Washington Times, the CIA report said switching the missiles to combat status "would not necessarily result in an unauthorized missile launch" because of safeguards, including codes that control locks on weapons and supply target data to the missile. U.S. Army Gen. George Joulwan spoke at the Pentagon on the eve of a visit by Russian Defense Minister Igor Rodionov, who sounded the alarm earlier this year about the state of Russia's nuclear weaponry, saying the system could fall apart unless the government boosted funding. [End quoting]

Is this some more propaganda for the Elite's terror tactics?

JUDGE BLOCKS CALIFORNIA ADS

From THE MODESTO BEE, 5/10/97, [quoting:]

A federal judge in New Jersey has barred California from broadcasting ads notifying consumers of their rights in an insurance fraud case involving Prudential Insurance Co. of America. The ads were designed to increase awareness of a settlement to resolve claims that Prudential bilked as many as 750,000 Californians in a nationwide scheme, U.S. District Judge Alfred M. Wolin ruled in Newark, N.J., Monday that the ads were "erroneous, defamatory (and in) conflict with the terms, language, and purpose" of Prudential's settlement. Californians face a June 1 deadline for filing claim forms to Prudential. [End quoting]

VIRTUE AND THE FREE SOCIETY BY JEB BUSH

Excerpted from IMPRIMUS newsletter, April 1997, [quoting:]

Business executive Jeb Bush describes the moral cancer eating away at America and suggests that instead of some new "miracle cure", we need some simple, old-fashion remedies that we can all apply to heal our nation. His remarks were delivered at Hillsdales's October 1996 Shavano Institute Seminar, "Educating for Virtue: The New Values Revolution", in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. [End quoting]

Doesn't this strike you as about the most hypocritical thing this man could ever say? Don't you think, of all people, he should practice what he teaches?

"The best way of teaching is by example," is the first lesson Jeb needs to learn.

GIGATRENDS FOR THE NEXT HALF-CENTURY

Excerpted from Visions Of The Future Contest for high school students.

From POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, June 1997, [quoting:]

IBM has just announced the invention of the PAN—Personal Area Network—a set of devices that use humans as conductors to relay detailed textual information from one person to another, simply by touch. It is a relatively small conceptual step from the PAN processor that relays a written message through one's body by a shake of the hand to a microcell sensory transmission system that relays ideas and sensations directly to and from the most powerful processor in the world, the human brain.

Within a few decades, PAN-type research will transform the Internet into the LifeNet, a comprehensive sensory environment for human habitation. Our minds will be afforded wireless direct sensory interfacing with other people and various databases. A dramatically enhanced version of what we now call virtual reality will become as common as air conditioning. Telephones, TVs, PCs, and other media will be replaced by wireless sensory feeds from and to communal microcells.

People return to the Internet each day not from addiction, but because they can craft a new identity for themselves—any identity they choose. Or they can participate in experiences that otherwise are beyond their reach. Consider the impact of a technology affording a lifestyle in which you can go wherever you want to go and be whoever you want to be.

"We have two ears and one mouth so that we can listen twice as much as we speak."

Fifty years ago, most workers were farmers or laborers. They were physically strong, ate more, but weighed less. Today's office workers have diminished physical capabilities, but are better educated. The LifeNet will accelerate this trend. The need to survive while spending weeks, months, or years on the Net would be drastically reduced.

Resource depletion resulting from overpopulation will cease to be a major issue when we are subsisting on 600 calories a day in a sensory reality where we can eat all we want. Our mansions will be built in our minds and our future Ferraris will be driven along the roads of our collective imaginations. Our minds will work and play in ways now beyond our conception...[End quoting]

Is this the type of world you are working to build or do you think your CREATOR had/has something far more meaningful for HIS creation of humans??

COURT RULES CLINTON CANNOT USE PRESIDENCY TO AVOID JONES SUIT

Excerpted from a FAX sent by L. Gersic & M. Backman, 5/27/97, [quoting:]

The Supreme Court, today, ruled President Clinton cannot use the presidency to delay Paula Jones' sexual harassment suit until after he leaves office.

In a unanimous decision, the high court said the President's arguments, despite their force, "must be rejected".

Justice John Paul Stevens, in an opinion joined by seven justices and concurred in by an eighth, said delaying Jones' suit until the end of Clinton's presidency is not constitutionally required.

Stevens said any claims to the contrary "cannot be sustained on the basis of (Supreme Court) precedent." [End quoting]

I heard Clinton give a statement on TV stating (paraphrasing) "he had time, in that the lawyers would be doing almost all the work."

Do you recall that he used the excuse that as president of the U.S. he wouldn't have time to take care of this matter?

Another one of his lies—I don't think he even has the capacity to tell the truth.

"STRIPTease" IN THE CLASSROOM

From THE MODESTO BEE, 5/17/97, [quoting:]

They came to class to study computers. Instead, fourth-graders were shown the R-rated movie "Striptease", featuring a topless Demi Moore. The 55-year-old public school teacher was removed from classroom duties pending an investigation. A parent walking by the class saw nudity on a television screen and told the principal, who shut off the video movie and called police and child welfare authorities. [End quoting]

One wonders what the real story is behind this one—teacher incompetence or purposeful misguidance.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

From GUIDEPOSTS, P.O. Box 1479, Carmel, NY 10512, [quoting:]

As a speaker for a Christian women's organization, I use the Good Shepherd and his sheep as my theme. At one luncheon, the singer's name was Lori Shepherd. I told a friend how envious I was. "Wouldn't it be perfect if my surname was Lamb, or Woolly?" I asked. "But I'm forever stuck with Kliewer."

Imagine my delight when she said, "Haven't you noticed the little ewe in there?" —Evelyn Kliewer, Calif.

It's amazing what we fail to notice even when it's before our eyes very frequently.

We got so much information and proof of conspiracy and RICO collaborations among the Green Brigade and all the Nevada attorneys. Half the $15,000 bill was for contact, review, and work DONE BY STEVEN HORN, ESQ. AND ON THE HORN-CLEARY DEPOSITION TWO OR THREE TIMES AND HOW NICE FOR THE NAMINGS—MARK WILLIAMS! Wow, what a service unto us they have done. The other involved parties were redacted but I'm sure they are not redacted in the court filings and we all knew the Abbott-Horton team would show up. Even charges for "America West" were included and thousands of dollars AFTER the case ended. Wow, and you thought legal aid was interesting? Half of the half of the billing was attributed to various review and revision on one after another of the deposition affidavits and declarations. If one didn't fit the needs it was simply revised and the billing now comes to the Ekkers! If something was the TRUTH in the first version—how then can there be revision after revision and from the top players yet, you know, Binder et al. Even Horn's statements were thrice or four times REVISED. Is ANYBODY ready to try Common Law on procedural merit and begin to at the least toss "sprags" into their spokes? My gosh, what do you have to lose? The attitudes around these parts are getting quite focused on irritation and "let's go get them back". Sounds good to me. Already Mr. Tips is threatening his own brother lawyer with malpractice because the dumb lawyer "considers the clients above the brother attorney". No, I don't jest, he said the same thing twice in the same letter. I suppose this proves beyond a doubt that Mr. Tips DID NOT CONSIDER HIS CLIENTS FIRST WHEN HE WAS EKKERS' LAWYER (???)! It is now established that this million-dollar case should never have cost a farthing more, at outrageous charges, than $50,000 from upstart to conclusion.

Well, let us just assume that there are some sharks out there even nastier than these with whom we have been chewed and shredded—who will enjoy earning a big whopping sum for getting the now-in-focus sharklets. There are always bigger fish than the one you landed—WAITING. Ugly? What in the deuce is wrong with you? Of course it is ugly—this is a very ugly world and you want God to lose every round because some idiot comes forth and opines that "God wouldn't do this or that thing". When are YOU going to give GOD EQUAL OPPORTUNITY? GOD AND YOU ARE LAUGHED AT IN YOUR INNOCENT RELIGIOUS-PIOUS STANCE ON TRUTH. YOU DON'T STAND ON TRUTH—YOU SELL IT OUT AT EVERY OPPORTUNITY.

Can you expect the one who "helped" so much up to now to suddenly do a good job for you? Perish the thought and use your brains! If they have sold you out for their own reasons prior to now—expect the BIG sell-out now.

A lot of cases should be filed prior to any signed settlement. Horn, for instance, wants a rapid settlement with prejudice so you can't come against him. No, go against him first, last, and always—alone, and with everyone else involved. Try all of these nit-wits (and the Judges) on procedural protocol FIRST and then go on according to the responses.

The gold diggers in Texas have already asked for a "pay-off" if they will tell truth. You are in a SICK world and it makes me ill to watch it. How can they get away with it? Because they CAN.

You keep on spitting and spitting about these things but you stand in the shadow with the wind in your face. Get yourself sorted out and move to have the LIGHT IN YOUR FACE and the WIND AT YOUR BACK before you spit at anything lest you drown yourself.

Do I need to go forth and explain how to do these things? Perhaps, but do you think that would really help any cause at all? Man has to do the work, meet the regulations and the laws, and invisible players aren't too acceptable lest the cohort ends up in prison. The word is out from the "top": "Keep Hatonn silent and all references buried as to the person." Yep, I am classified as a "person". I like to think of myself as a Private PARTY instead of a corporation or clone. And people, Congressmen are politicians—and they know less than any one group of people on the globe! Think about it very carefully.

I would like to close this now as we have other things to do today.

I would go with Dharma, however, who is so attentive these days as to keep that LIGHT ALL AROUND THY BEING, lest you not be able to tell from whence the knocks come—front or back. You are not given to recognize your enemy, so bend not your stance from TRUTH in all things, lawful actions in ALL circumstances, and have no hidden, clandestine compromises. If you compromise on something—make it right out in the open arena to keep you WITHIN THE LAW. You CAN PROTECT self if you but will do so. Salu.

The Four Horsemen Of The Apocalypse

Editor's note: The beginning of this series, Article I, Section 1, appeared in the 1/16/96 CONTACT on page 14. Here we conclude Nora's research on the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse.

The Foreseeable Aftermath Of The Four Horsemen Of The Apocalypse

Article VI—Section 2

The prophecies of the Four Horsemen are located in the biblical Book of Revelation, Chapter 6:1-8. They are revealed as each of four "seals" are opened by the "Lamb". Beginning with the opening of the fifth seal, the subject is changed, revealing what is happening to the souls of them who were slain as a result of their testimony. With the opening of the sixth seal we come to the prophecy about the "great earthquake". Since it appears, through the review of the events and history of the Four Horsemen, that these prophecies have already taken place or are in the process of their fulfillment, I believe it would be well to carefully consider the next prophecy on the agenda in Chapter 6:12-17. The time of the Earth changes is close at hand according to many warnings from the Hosts of God, and especially Commander Soltec, whose field is geophysics.

Book of Revelation, 6:12-17:

"And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and lo there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood.

"And the stars of heaven fell unto the Earth, even as a fig tree casteth her untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind.

"And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places.

"And the kings of the Earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bond man, and every free man, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains;

"And said to the mountains and rocks, fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb;

"For the great day of His wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?"

The prophecies are condensed and also partly revealed in other sections of the Bible making it difficult to recognize a sequence in them. In fact, Esu/Jmmanuel said that no one but

God knows the time or the hour for these events (Ref: Matthew, 25:36). Nevertheless, he also advised that, when we saw the prophecies beginning to happen, we would know that the time is near. (Ref: "Parable of the fig tree", Matthew, 24:32-33)

From Revelation 6:12-17 we are made fully aware that God is not pleased with events happening on our Earth. Additional reading in the Book of Revelation shows the people of the Earth being admonished to keep God's Commandments and do good that they might have a place in the new Heaven and new Earth, following the tribulations of the end of this cycle. With these things in mind let us look at some prophecies concerning the City of Jerusalem and the Middle East, knowing from my previous article that there are great plans and there is currently great provocation for war in that area, and that God's Commandments have been abandoned by those perpetrating these provocations (i.e., Thou shall not covet thy neighbor's property or anything that is thy neighbor's; Thou shall not steal; Thou shall not bear false witness; Thou shall not kill; Thou shall love God with all your heart, mind and soul; and Thou shall love thy neighbor as thyself.)

In Chapter 11 of the Book of Revelation we are given an account of two witnesses who are sent by God to Jerusalem as a warning to its inhabitants. We know that Jerusalem is the city in this prophecy because it is described as the place "our Lord was crucified", and is spiritually called "Sodom and Egypt". These two witnesses will prophesy 1,260 days and then be killed. Until that time they will have power over their enemies and will be able to cause it not to rain, etc. As a result they will be hated. When they are killed their dead bodies will be left in the street for three-and-one-half days. After that time the Spirit of Life from God enters them and they "are taken up to heaven in a cloud" (a space ship?). At the same hour there is a "great earthquake", and a "tenth part of the City will fall". (Very interestingly, several months ago news commentator Peter Jennings gave a report on events in Jerusalem. I am told he showed a very determined and almost wild-appearing man in the crowd who was, in effect, exhorting the people to "repent, for the end is near". If anyone has additional information about this person and a possible second "witness", I would appreciate hearing from you. Write to me in care of the CONTACT newspaper address.)

The earthquake wherein the tenth part of the City of Jerusalem falls will destroy the Islamic Mosque called the Dome of the Rock, according to Nostradamus. This is not yet the "great earthquake". However, it is a forerunner of that event.

The Israelis are now using a tunnel under the Dome of the Rock, a circumstance causing additional friction with the Arabs; and the Israelis refuse to close the tunnel. A tunnel could conceivably weaken the stability of the land above it, becoming a factor in any damage caused by an earthquake and hence a factor in the predicted destruction of the Mosque. It is also an insufferable encroachment on the religious property of the Arabs. I do not know the stated purpose of the tunnel or its history. However, according to the Copper Scroll, which was found among the Dead Sea Scrolls, part of Solomon's Temple treasure was buried underneath the Temple. The Israelis believe that the Dome of the Rock occupies the former site of Solomon's Temple, although this has not been confirmed through archeological findings (Ref: The Dead Sea Scrolls De- ception). The circumstance of the tunnel may or may not be related to the treasure or to archeological concerns. The fact that the Israelis refuse to close the tunnel is not reassuring about their intent, whatever it is. It appears that under the present political situation in Jerusalem, the rights and dignity of the Arabs and their culture are denied (Ref: "Democracy" in Israel). The Dome of the Rock in Jerusalem is the third most important sacred site of Islam.

According to Nostradamus, following the earthquake and the destruction of the Islamic Mosque, and before the Arabs have a chance to gather funds and rebuild, the Israelis will clear the site and quickly build their Temple of Solomon upon it. When the Temple is completed, five Moslems posing as Israelis will enter the temple and commit ritual suicide, desecrating the site for both Arabs and Jews, and starting events leading to the battle of Armageddon. (Ref: Conversations with Nostradamus, Vol. II) We know from Israeli Prime Minister Netanyahu's current activities and declared intent to build Jewish settlements on Arab lands (Ref: Middle East Policy, 1/97 issue) that, should the opportunity present itself, he would not hesitate to take over the site now occupied by the Moslem Mosque following an earthquake. We also know that the numbers and frequencies of earthquakes are escalating world-wide, making the early fulfillment of this prophecy a strong possibility.

A biblical prophecy which foretells part of the events of Armageddon and the great earthquake wherein Jerusalem falls is Revelation 16:16-20. This earthquake appears to be the same as that described in the last verses of Revelation Chapter 6, although one cannot be certain:

"And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon. And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, It is done.

"And there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the Earth, so mighty an earthquake and so great.

"And the great city [Jerusalem] was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell; and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give her the cup of the wine of fierceness of His wrath.

"And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found."

In other words, the eventual end of the quarrel over Jerusalem and its religious sites is the end of Jerusalem and death of most of its inhabitants, and many of the other inhabitants of the Earth.

Armageddon (Harmageddon in Hebrew, aka Megiddo) sits on the Plain of Esdraelon between the coast and the great rift valley of Jordan, inland from Haifa. Jerusalem also sits between the coast and the Jordan Valley. If you have been following the CONTACT newspaper and Commander Soltec's messages about Earth changes, you know that rift valleys are very vulnerable during these changes. When you add a major battle in the vicinity where nuclear weapons, laser beams, pulse beams, earthquake-creating machines, etc., could be used, you realize the potential for such a great earthquake in which this rift valley is cracked wide open. This rift starts at the Gulf of Aqaba and extends through the Dead Sea and the Sea of Gallilee. Hatonn has said that, when the great earthquake happens, the split in this rift will extend to the Black Sea.

On March 6, 1995, a group of Christian Church leaders sent a letter to President Clinton regarding their concerns over "Jerusalem: City of Peace". This letter was sent during earlier "peace negotiations" and printed in the Middle East Policy journal of April 1995. It is quoted below as an example of some citizens' concerns that have gone unnoticed in the current "peace negotiations", [quoting:]

Jerusalem, sacred to Jews, Christians and Muslims, is the spiritual heritage of all the children of Abraham, and all believers share the longing for the time when nations find it truly the City of Peace.

The story of Jerusalem is a tragic one, and in the web of history members of the three faiths are not innocent of one another's blood. Today, however, we stand at a special point in history where the future of Jerusalem is open to peaceful negotiation. The three communities of faith must have a part in those deliberations.

Mr. President, we appeal to you as representatives of Christian communions and organizations in the United States with strong ties to the Middle East. We ask that in its role as facilitator to the Middle East peace process, the United States government place the question of Jerusalem higher on its agenda.

Above all we ask that the Administration use its influence to prevent this vital issue from being settled by force of events or the creation of facts on the ground. We fear that if issues centering on Jerusalem are not dealt with openly and directly by all affected parties, they have the potential to derail the peace process.

At the same time, we believe that making Jerusalem a subject for open negotiation between Israelis and Palestinians is essential for reaching an accord on the question of Jerusalem. Representatives of the three Abrahamic religions must also have a role in shaping the ultimate resolution of issues affecting historical Jerusalem and the commitment of the international community to guaranteeing the living presence of the three religious communities in the Holy City.

We come to you because developments on the ground in the Jerusalem area leave less and less for negotiation in the last phase of the peace process.

—In contravention of international law, more and more land is taken out of Palestinian hands and placed under Israeli control by annexation, expropriation, and private purchases, often coercive or of questionable legality;

—Israeli planning for "Greater Jerusalem" is an open secret; and —Israel's assertion that Jerusalem will remain the "eternal and undivided capital of Israel" is widely interpreted as a claim of exclusive Israeli sovereignty over the city that preempts genuine negotiation.

We are concerned:

—that the Administration is backing away from the long-term United States policy that East Jerusalem is subject to U.N. Security Council Resolution 242 regarding territories occupied by Israeli armed forces in 1967;

—that the Administration is failing to recognize and support Palestinian rights and interests in Jerusalem;

—that the Administration is not using its considerable influence to halt Israeli construction in East Jerusalem and continued expansion into Palestinian areas.

It is our conviction, Mr. President, that a resolution of the question of Jerusalem has the potential for advancing cooperation between the three Abrahamic faiths or sowing the seeds of new religious conflicts between Muslims, Jews and Christians. The future of Jerusalem must not be preempted by the actions of any one party. Only a negotiated agreement that respects the human and political rights of Palestinians and Israelis as well as the three religious communities can lead to a lasting peace. The goal of "a warm peace" between Israel and its Arab neighbors can only be achieved in the context of a shared city where the interests of all parties are respected.

In view of the deteriorating conditions on the ground and the central importance of this issue to the peace process, we urge you to use your good offices to see that the negotiators take up the question of Jerusalem as soon as possible and that the position of the United States fully reflects the concerns expressed in this statement.

Book of Revelation and its description therein, which is far from "peaceful". Further, they are representatives, perhaps unwittingly, of groups which are part of the world-wide ecumenical movement which was spawned in order to bring all religions under the New World Order—the Beast of the Apocalypse. They may have thought the movement would bring "peace" to the world, but look at the actual results. They have no "Christian" voice strong enough to make a difference—they are ignored! In my opinion, after much reading on the subject, this long, drawn-out, hypocritical farce of "peace negotiations", in which President Clinton and others are involved with the Arabs and Israelis, has intentionally furthered the plans for a World Government Federation and brought us to the brink of Armageddon (World War III), as planned long ago by the secret government—those at the head of Freemasonry, Israel, the Committee of 300, the Communists, International Bankers, and the Military Industrial Complex. (For confirmation and support of the above please review the prior articles in this series, also Dr. John Coleman's manuscript, titled One-World Government Church Reviewed, with its attached chart showing some of the diverse and even antagonistic organizations included in the "Fellowship of Faiths".) Key words used to seduce unsuspecting groups into the world church movement and one-world government are: "peace", "brotherhood", "sharing", "communities of faith", "international community", "interdependence", "cooperation", "planetary citizens", "one-Earth", "ecology", etc.

As stated by Dr. Coleman in his manuscript, One-World Church Reviewed, [quoting:]

The same Madison Avenue propagandists who sold the American public the idea that Gorbachev is quite different from his predecessors, have almost completed their draft of how the media will handle the onslaught against Christianity.

Just as the American people were sold the idea that it was better to let Lithuania go to the wall rather than upset the good relation between Moscow and Washington, so too will we be sold the idea that it is better to sacrifice Christian principles, if it means peace will descend on the world. [End quote.]

To confirm some of the above and its ramification through biblical prophecy, I resort again to the Book of Daniel, Chapter 8:23-25. Daniel had been given a vision of the major world governments up until the rise of the Anti-Christ, [quoting:]

And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up.

And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power; and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practice, and shall destroy the mighty and holy people.

And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and by peace shall destroy many; he shall also stand up against the Prince of princes, but he shall be broken without hand. [End quote.]

I believe the "king of fierce countenance" is the Anti-Christ (against Christ) who is supported by the transgressors—a very strong organization with worldwide military and financial power (the hidden government), which is now pretending a policy of "peace" that has already started to "destroy many". According to Nostradamus, the Anti-Christ is the "man in the blue turban". According to Hatonn, this "blue turban" represents the United Nations "peacekeeping" forces who wear blue helmets. There appears to be a conflict here, but we do not have all the facts.

The Anti-Christ will have his roots in the Middle East. His ancestry will be kept hidden for obvious reasons. However, if he is descended from Mohammed, he could wear a blue turban according to Islamic practices in Persia (Iran). According to Nostradamus, Iran will be the first country he takes over, through deceit and trickery.

On the other hand, there is another person who is the real power behind the United Nations and their "peacekeeping forces"—Satan or Lucifer himself, the primary adversary of Esu/Jmmanuel and the Christed way. It is this person (Lucifer will be in incarnation during the time of troubles, if he is not already) who is the head-honcho Anti-Christ behind all of the wars—instigating and supporting both sides of any conflict.

Further, according to Nostradamus in Quatrain Century II-18, there is a cabal of seven men, financiers and bankers, the powers behind the military pulling the strings, who have been secretly supporting the Anti-Christ and his opposition. These men (members of certain on-going families) have been instigating the warfare that has been going on through the decades and centuries. It appears that these men head-up the secret government under Satan/Lucifer. Therefore, we could have more than one Anti-Christ, and/or, at the time of the Quatrain where the blue turban is mentioned, the Anti-Christ from the Middle East will take over the United Nations forces. According to Nostradamus, this Anti-Christ is out to rule the world.

These seven men are not known to the Anti-Christ from the Middle East, even though they support him. According to Nostradamus, somehow through the espionage powers of the Anti-Christ, these seven men will be discovered and killed. This marks the beginning of the end for the Anti-Christ, who is after all, like Hitler, a figure used and made large by the hidden government for their own purposes of world control. (Pg. 268, Vol. I, Conversations with Nostradamus)

There is an account of Islamic predictions about the Anti-Christ and Esu (Isa)/Jmmanuel's encounter with him in the Shorter Encyclopedia of Islam, and also in my book, The Garden of Aton. Even though this person has his roots in the Middle East, he will try to destroy the Islamic religion just as he tries to destroy the Christian religion. He will have worked out his own "philosophy" based on his access to secret Nazi documents and his studies in Communism, etc. He will use whatever methods are necessary to gain his ends.

Of course, at this point the identity of this person is unknown. Nevertheless, it would be a good idea to be aware of Nostradamus' predictions regarding him in order to be on the alert. It appears his time is close at hand. Briefly, Nostradamus' descriptions of the Anti-Christ's early rise to power are:

1. He will arise in the area around the Arabian and Red Seas.
2. He will start his political career on a local level, and will not be taken seriously in the beginning.
3. He will receive training in Egypt.
4. He will be working behind the scenes on an international level for many years, supposedly for the "benefit of the world", which is actually a scheme for world control and domination.
5. He will be accompanied by an "evil priest" who wields a great influence over him.
6. He will be about 29-30 years old when he begins his career, acting as a "humanitarian with a golden tongue".
7. He will be a person obsessed with power, dictatorian in outlook. The root meaning of his name will give an indication of what he is capable of. One of these names is the next-to-last name of Mohammed and very likely is "Abdallah" (aka Abdullah). Therefore, the Anti-Christ has some potential for good (Abdallah means "servant of God").

8. He will take advantage of the Earth changes to further his rule.

9. The first area of his activity will be the Eastern Mediterranean.

10. His first power takeover will be Persia (Iran).

11. His European takeover will start in Southern Europe, Italy.

12. He will have strong ties to Libya and Syria.

13. The beginning of his coming to power, using conventional warfare, will be [or was] in 1992.

14. According to the Anti-Christ's horoscope, as given by Nostradamus in Conversations with Nostradamus, Vol. II, it is possible the Anti-Christ will begin using nuclear weapons on January 23, 1998.

15. The Anti-Christ's predicted activities will last for 27 years.

Regarding the above, most CONTACT readers may have caught the possible importance of the name "Abdallah" in the 3/25/97 issue of CONTACT article titled: "Approaching the New Cycle of Arab-Israeli Fighting", which was a reprint of the U.S. House of Representative's Report dated 12/10/96. There is information in this report, as well as in Dr. John Coleman's manuscript, "Year of Crisis" Bulletin: Urgent Advisory (1996), which outlines some past and present activities of Prince Abdallah of the ruling house in Saudi Arabia. From the U.S. House of Representatives' report of 12/10/96, [quoting:]

The succession struggle in Saudi Arabia is peaking. The Abdallah faction is determined to seize power through the eviction of the U.S. from the region, the solution of Saudi Arabia's shortage of cash, by accepting more lucrative contracts with East Asia at the expense of the West, and by establishing close relations with the radical states as a guarantee against Islamist subversion. The very close Abdallah-Assad relations constitute the key to Prince Abdallah's rise to power. These relations have already initiated the bombing in Dahrán. Prince Abdallah has already promised Damascus to deliver a comprehensive oil embargo against the West in case of a major crisis with Israel. [End quote.]

You may recall that the above-named report outlined the Islamic military forces building in the Middle East which is intent on a first strike against Israel. Israel no longer has a nuclear advantage due to the joining together of Islamic states. Iran and Pakistan both have nuclear arsenals.

According to Dr. John Coleman in his "Year in Crisis" Bulletin: Urgent Advisory (1996), [quoting:]

What is dangerous for the American petroleum industry is that Abdullah [aka Abdallah] and his great friend, Sheik Yamani, were the architects of the highly successful Gulf oil crisis and the subsequent 1973 Arab oil embargo, an event that shocked the world and booted gasoline prices through the ceiling. At the conclusion of their master strategy, Abdullah's jealous brothers arranged for him to be moved out of the limelight and they urged a more pro-United States stance upon the Saudi government....The turning point came when the world oil prices plunged and Saudi oil revenues were further depleted by Bush's war against President Saddam Hussein of the nation of Iraq.

...There is ample evidence that Abdullah was the master mind behind large shipments of arms to the Bosnian Muslims...

...Why did [the ailing] King Fahd appoint Abdullah as his successor (an act which cannot be revoked or reversed)? One reason is the strong antipathy other Muslim nations feel toward him for joining the war against Iraq and allowing American armed forces to establish a base in the land where the Prophet Muhammed is buried.

Appointing Abdullah as his successor is King Fahd's way of making atonement for his past errors.

...In the three months that Abdullah has been in charge, crude oil prices have risen 20 percent... [End quote.]

All of us know when the oil prices jumped last year and did not decline again, even though the oil dealers said the jump was due only to increased summer usage. This is a small indication of Abdullah's power. When you add the fact that our government is selling our Alaskan oil to China—you get even a greater indication of the head honcho Anti-Christ, who is obviously in charge of our government. (Ref: CONTACT newspaper, 5/20/97 issue—headline: "China's Alaskan Connection Thru ARCO & BP; Major Oil's Audacious Daylight Robbery")

Take the information above which describes the activities of the Anti-Christ according to Nostradamus, and the other reports which describe some of the recent activities in the Middle East, and your interest level will rise.

I was not able to locate more information on Sheik Yamani, who is "Abdullah's" "great friend". The title "Sheik" means either a head of a tribe or family, or a religious leader. If Sheik Yamani is a religious leader, then "Sheik" means the same as "priest" in the English language.

Not all of the information provided about Prince Abdullah agrees with the information about the Anti-Christ in the books Conversations with Nostradamus, Vol. I & Vol. II. One of the major questions is his age, which is unknown to me. In Vol. II, Nostradamus gives the Anti-Christ's birth date as 2/14/62. If Prince Abdullah were the expected one, he would have been only eleven-years-old at the time of the 1973 Gulf Oil embargo, and hardly in a position to bring about such an event unless he were supported by many others. Therefore, keep alert and await further developments in the Middle East problems. However, it is very interesting that the reign of the Anti-Christ originating in the Middle East is said to be 27 years. When you add 27 years to the year 1973 (when the Gulf Oil Embargo went into effect), you arrive at the year. (Hatonn does not agree with all of the findings in Vol. II of Conversations with Nostradamus.)

There is another leader that will arise in the Middle East, according to Nostradamus's Quatrain, Century III-60, who is a forerunner of the Anti-Christ. This leader will make it easier for the Anti-Christ to take over that part of the world by joining all the Islamic nations together in one cohesive and supporting bloc. Therefore, while the situation in Saudi Arabia bears watching, no conclusions can be drawn except that the "West" is in trouble in a big way, and that Prince Abdullah appears to be capable of drastically changing trends of events in the Middle East. He could emerge as a powerful leader. Our government's handling of these changes is of critical importance. Unfortunately, President Clinton is apparently going to continue to support the present policies of Prime Minister Netanyahu in Israel, whatever the cost to the Arabs, to the citizens of the United States and ultimately to the Israelis.

This concludes this series of articles on the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse.

5/31/97 DR. AL OVERHOLT

ON THE DAY I DIE

by Deborah Marie Pulaski
(as told to Claire Wolf)

From a FAX, 5/13/97, [quoting:]

This week I learned I'm dying. Of course I've always known, in the everyday, human sense, that I was going to die. But this week I learned I am going to die soon. In a year or so at most, I won't be on this planet. No more breathing. No more Zinfandel or chocolate cake. No hugs. No sorrows. I won't ever again have to worry whether there's a run in n.y stocking when I go to a meeting with the boss, or whether I remembered to send a birthday card to my best friend's husband. It's a peculiar thought, looking at my own death, so close. But you know, it isn't a bad thought, all things considered.

I'm 53 years old. That isn't old. I might have had another 30 years, if one little cell hadn't decided to start mutating out of control a while back. But 53 is old enough to have lived a good life. It's long enough to have become a full person, without all those "who am I's" and "what do I want to do with my life's" that make youth so over-rated.

It's enough time to have loved—both in the frantic, desperate way of being young, and in the comfortable way of being an adult. That's been an amazing, and a very happy, transition.

But I don't want to talk about love. I want to talk about freedom.

Well, I guess that means I do want to talk about love. Because I love freedom more than I love anything. Really, more than I ever loved my husband. Even more than I love my kids—and I think they'll understand and forgive me for saying so, even though that statement might require a little more explaining for strangers who might be reading this.

I have to say it again. I love freedom more than I love anything. More than I ever loved anything. And that's what makes the thought of dying so bitter, and at the same time, so welcome.

I guess that idea is going to take some explaining, too. Claire, tell them about me. I've never been able to write, or even talk all that well about things that matter to me. So you tell people what kind of person I am. Make them understand.

I've always been a political junky. You know me. Like some women shop, I do politics. No, that isn't putting it right. Not at all. I do politics...

I guess I'd better say I used to do politics...because I couldn't stand still and let "them" take away our world. You know, the types who aren't happy unless they're running other people's lives.

When I ran into a neighbor, co-worker or family member like that, I could just say, "Sayonara, Baby" and avoid them. But the people who really got to me were the ones who wanted to make endless rules for the whole country, the whole world, and make everybody else obey them. Just obey, all the time.

I swear, you know, that these people don't even care what the particular rules are. They just like making and enforcing rules because. For the power. For the control. For their other powerful, controlling friends. So they can all feel important and be in charge.

So I always had to try to stop those people. But there wasn't any stopping them. I found that out.

God, I wish I were a writer like you or a great orator or a wizard about the law or something like that. I wish I could have done something big during my life. But you know me, I was never anything but a little precinct worker, a drone, a little deputy voter registrar, doorbeller, meeting attender, envelope licker. One of those women you see in every campaign and every organization, never getting noticed and never particularly wanting to be. Just wanting to make the world freer—or at least keep a little bit of the world away from the people who want to make it less free.

It was really kind of stupid, looking back on it, because nearly all of the people who said they believed in freedom turned around and, once they got in office, acted exactly like the other guys. They didn't really want less government and more freedom. They just wanted to be the ones in control.

But I just had to try, didn't I? Anyway, I did try. Just about all my life.

That expression "just about all my life" has a different ring all of a sudden. It really has been just about all my life. Will be just about all my life.

I wanted freedom so much. I wanted it just so that I and my kids could live an ordinary life. Making a living. Paying our way.

Doing what we wanted to do, within the bounds of polite behavior to our neighbors. Just to live, without being ordered around, threatened or tangled up in red tape every time we tried to do something. I didn't have any spectacular ambitions. I just wanted to be let alone to live a peaceful life.

I have two daughters, you know. They're both in their early 20s right now. The youngest one, Edyie, was always a dreamer. She had all the ideas and ambitions

I didn't dare to have. I remember, as a little kid, she swore she was going to go live on Venus someday. Then, when she learned Venus was really this awful place, she pouted for about two days, then switched to Mars. She figured we could colonize Mars. I don't know whether that's realistic or not, but I always wanted to see Edyie get the chance to try, if that's what she wanted to do. I wanted her to have the chance to try anything her wild little imagination could dream up. Maybe she'd fail. But maybe she'd succeed. And isn't that what keeps the human race moving? Edyie, impossible though she can be at times, is the kind of person who keeps the human race from sitting on its dead butt, getting nowhere.

But Edyie isn't going to have the chance, unless something comes out of the blue to turn things around. Edyie's never going to get to Mars. Heck, she isn't even going to get a chance to build a little earthbound business because she's too independent to jump through all the hoops the government requires. Yeah, I can just see my Edyie filling out forms in triplicate, collecting taxes from her employees and begging for government licenses—NOT! She isn't going to get a chance to make many personal choices—beyond what brand of soap or TV to buy—because our choices are being limited day by day, and everywhere you turn, you run into something illegal. Maybe even something that was legal yesterday, but is illegal today, thanks to some regulation nobody ever heard of. She just won't put up with that—but I don't know what she'll do instead.

I used to dream, as I worked on all those campaigns, that someday I'd win back the right for Edyie to have the risky, but hope-filled future she craved. When I thought about dying, someday, it was with regret that I might not live to see Edyie go to Mars or to accomplish whatever other big thing she wanted to do.

But now I don't have any of those regrets, because it isn't going to happen.

Even three years ago, I wouldn't have said that. I'd still have said, "Darnit, there's hope. Freedom is just common sense. We'll win." But some of the things that have happened in the last couple of years make that all different. No, don't say "things that have happened". They didn't just happen. People in government did them to us. On purpose.

In the last couple of years, they finally did what they'd been moving toward for a long time. They

Even three years ago, I wouldn't have said that. I'd still have said, "Darnit, there's hope. Freedom is just common sense. We'll win." But some of the things that have happened in the last couple of years make that all different. No, don't say "things that have happened". They didn't just happen. People in government did them to us. On purpose.

In the last couple of years, they finally did what they'd been moving toward for a long time. They passed the laws that just plain make us slaves.

passed the laws that just plain make us slaves.

They did it, and hardly anybody's even talking about it. That's what amazes me. For one thing, they passed a law that makes our driver's licenses into national ID cards. They're doing it right now, while we sit here talking.

A year or two after I'm gone, all you people who are left are all going to have to carry around cards with all your numbers and fingerprints and retinal scans and "personal data" coded on them. The law says so. you won't be able to cash a check or get a passport without supplying your "biometric data" to the government or the bank. I thought it was some big conspiracy story when I first heard it. But it's true and it's happening. And where are all the people screaming to stop it?

And they've now got this database that everybody who gets a job gets put into. Some national database in some big stone building in Washington where they'll know where everybody works, all the time. They said it was to track "deadbeat dads". Yeah. Then why are they going to put Edyie and my other daughter Pat and everybody else into it? Since when are they, or you, or I "deadbeat dads"?

Along these same lines, they've even got what they call "pilot programs" to make people get permission from the federal government before they can get jobs. Employers in these "pilot programs" have to get scanners to let the federal government check people's Social Security numbers before they can hire anybody. Isn't that just great? Some bureaucrat in the Social Security Administration or someplace gets to decide whether you can work or not.

And this other database. All your medical records are going to go into some other big, stone building in Washington. That's going to be on line about the time I go, too. Any old bureaucrat who wants to look at them can see them. You can't, of course. But they can.

All this stuff is real. It's not in some novel about the future or in some right-wing pamphlet. It's in the law. It's in America. Right now. They did it all in the last couple of years. Mostly by sneaking a paragraph or a page into bigger laws when nobody was looking.

And what's all this about? Is it really to help "welfare moms" or to keep illegal immigrants from taking other people's jobs? Oh, come on! This is about one thing. It's about slavery.

They give you a citizen registration number shortly after birth. As soon as you get old enough to start moving around, doing things and making decisions on your own, they make sure that they're in a position to know every move you make, to record every transaction, to examine your whole life's record any time some bureaucrat gets curious. They not only want to know where you are at any given moment—where you're working and living and banking—but to make sure you can't work someplace if they don't want you to.

And they even want to be able to check up on your health. That one seems especially silly. I mean, why should some bureaucrat in Washington give a hoot about how some woman's pregnancy is going, or whether some man is boozing it up a bit more than he should? Or whether a middle-aged lady is dying of cancer or not? What business is it of theirs, and why should they even want to bother? But it makes sense when you realize what they're really doing. After all, if you own animals, of course you want to make sure your property has got all its vaccinations, is producing healthy offspring, and isn't being overfed or something.

It's just like a modern-day farmer, keeping track of his cows or pigs on his computer. You want to know they're healthy and whether they're producing as much as they can for you. So you track them. Track everything about them. They belong to you, after all. If you're a kindly, efficient farmer, of course you want to watch over your livestock.

There've been a lot of bad laws passed in my lifetime, Claire. Sometimes I thought, "This is just the worst, the worst. It can't get any more horrible than this." But these laws, that authorized all this tracking, are really the final thing. They're the declaration that the people in Washington own us. That's all. They're plain and simply saying we're their property.

There are going to be a lot more bad laws; yeah. Really bad ones that will follow these and will be possible because of these. But before this, the bad laws were passed against free people. After this, the laws are passed to control slaves.

Neither of my girls has children yet. Like every mother, I always wanted them to get going and do it, you know. I wanted my grandbabies! Now! Believe me, I had to bite my lip a lot to keep from nagging them about it, like some mothers do.

But to be absolutely honest, now I wish neither one of them would have children. I don't think Edyie will. We've talked about this. She's a lot like me in some ways, and I think she won't bring a child into a country like this one is becoming.

Now my other daughter—we always called her Practical Patty—probably will have children someday. I've kind of given Patty short shrift in talking about all this. She was the sort of daughter who never gave any trouble and was more interested in doing well in band and glee club than in thinking about all the heavy things. Her big dreams were just of having a nice little job someday, then getting married to a decent sort of guy, having a nice house and, yeah, children. So all this won't affect Patty as much as it will Edyie, or as much as it would have affected me if I'd have lived to see it all come to fruition. To Patty's mind, it isn't "sensible" to worry about things like this.

So Patty will have children, and I can only hope that at least their lives will be comfortable, if they can't be free. Maybe they'll be well-fed, well-cared-for little citizens. And maybe I should hope they turn out to be the kind of people who don't think or question too much. Because if they're the other kind—like me or Edyie—their lives will be miserable.

The next step, you know, after getting ownership of your slaves or cows is to cull out the ones that don't fit the mold—that make trouble, or that don't produce the way you want them to. If you aren't "nice", the Social Security Administration can just "lose" your records, or the health care people can just fiddle your medical history around so you look like a mental case. Then they can "help" you to death. So I guess for that reason, I should hope those grandbabies I won't live to see are quiet, obedient sheep.

But damnit, if there are grandbabies, I hope they'll be as stubborn and freethinking as their Aunt Edyie, and that they'll find a better way of fighting for freedom than their Grandma Deb ever could. Let their lives be worth something deep and true, not just the "worth" of good livestock or laborers. If they fight, maybe they won't live happily or long. But if they have to live at all, I hope those little kids live bravely, in spite of all the odds against them. The poor souls.

Do you remember the hymn, The Old Rugged Cross? It's been on my mind a lot since I got the verdict. When I was little, I thought it was such a beautiful song. I knew it was partly about dying, and about being at peace in dying because of the singer's beliefs, but I didn't completely understand it.

There was this line, "Till my trophies at last I lay down". I knew it meant "when I die". But since I didn't have any "trophies" and couldn't figure out what giving up awards had to do with dying, I put my own little-girl interpretation on it. I figured the word had to be "trophis", and that it was some fancy, adult word meaning "body". Well, Claire, I'll tell you. In a year or so, when I lay this middle-aged "trophis" down for the last time, I won't have any regrets for myself. On the day I die, I'll be able to say I've done all I could. I tried, even though most of what I did turned out to be misguided and ineffective. And even though I'd try something different—and a lot less "nice"—if I could do it over again, I won't regret leaving the world the politicians just created. I don't want to see it. I don't want to live in it.

But my grandbabies will be born as slaves. And oh God, I regret that. And I regret not being around to protect them.

Oh Lord, let the fire of your Holy Spirit sweep across this land, for fallen, fallen is America! Come, Lord, reveal Yourself in power and holiness to a Church that has forgotten Who You are, and to a People who have chosen to live in great darkness. Empower your children to walk in these last days in the fulness of the knowledge of Your Glory. Amen. [End quoting]

Messing With Your Mind

The Super-High-Tech Way

5/26/97 #1 HATONN

YES, THE BIG BOYS CAN

When the body is out of balance and ill, what do YOU do? I am petitioned every second by the ones asking what to do for their sick bodies, their dizziness, their nausea, their shortness of breath, and on and on. I have told you what to do for those symptoms to hopefully pull you back into some kind of physical balance—but do you follow through?

I am caused to speak on this topic a bit more often as the circus continues and the games get bigger and rougher while testings go on with lasers, grid pulses and other physically disrupting processes.

We write and you read about such as HAARP and other systems operated by government or covert operatives but, I wonder if you ever actually comprehend the magnitude of the assaults or the technology available to those who would-be-kings while you would-be-slaves.

Are there things you can do to help you withstand the assaults and impacts? Yes, but mostly you are caught within the network of whatever is being done on any given day or hour. You will find that many over-the-counter substances work for, say, allergies and other ongoing debilitating annoyances—from severe and life threatening in magnitude, to simply irritating. However, it is often that the very thing that makes one symptom back off produces other things popping up from 'side effects', i.e., antihistamines may make the hay-fever quiet a bit but the vision, sharpness of mental reasoning, and rather dangerous dizziness can accompany that "better" feeling. Look and consider your symptoms and do what is best at any given moment in time. If you can't breathe and you are short of oxygen, then you must attend the oxygen intake and never mind the dizzy drowsiness. Take your colloids so that you KNOW you are in control of microbes—and then you have to treat the symptoms.

As to pulses and light rays that damage, you must attend with the same kind of attention. Use sun-blockers, shades, keep to shade as much as is possible, and finally, just pull God's Light about you and build your shielding. There is no frequency higher than that of GOD, so don't be bullied into believing otherwise. Many things can kill a body, but if you shield yourself with the LIGHT OF GOD, you are going to come out pretty well in the end confrontation.

All of you as a "general population" are under widespread and notable attack while others of you are the FOCUS of increased and varying assaults. Those of you who disbelieve that there are things in use by such as your governments, think again. Most people who have tried every method available to get public attention to these things often can't make a dent in the minds of the people, so they will go one last step before "throwing in the towel" and, if possible, they will enter legal suits against the culprits. A suit filed in a court of law has at least one thing going for it—it must contain truth to the best of the participant's (filing entity's) ability to glean truth.

In the superb article's offered by Mr. Martin on the Inter-American Investment Corporation and other Elite-associated businesses [See last week's Front Page story] there is mention over and over again of "NSA" and it is pointed out that it is a major operation of this corporation and the Bush people, and technology is such that individual technologies can be used to target and monitor individual citizens—like even YOU. There is, in fact, a terrifying array of technologies and programs designed to do nothing except keep tabs on individuals. So, if YOU think you might be hiding something or other—forget it, you are not.

Since the international publicity regarding myself and my scribe/speaker in this location, I have to be even more careful to find things which back what I say and do so in such a way as to simply wipe out all prospects of some kind of silly "revelation" exercise. You don't need revelation, you need to know what is going on and who is doing it.

Rather than prattle about it before the fact, let us look at a document which comprises evidence for a lawsuit filed at the US Courthouse in Washington, DC, by John St. Clair Akwei against the National Security Agency, Ft. George G. Meade, Maryland (Civil Action 92-0449), and constitutes his knowledge of the NSA's structure, national security activities, proprietary technologies, and covert operations to monitor individual citizens.

You must understand that I personally enjoy the ease of communications facilitated through this type of surveillance and espionage because I can get my messages back to the culprits who are my adversaries as quickly as tapping on this particular keyboard. We don't do anything that we need to hide—especially from these BIG BOYS! They have made agreements with me and with my own team-mates and, although they seldom keep their word or agreements, they are never far from the sounding board. And, for you who still think that Hatonn doesn't exist, I urge you to again go check the level of Security Top Secret A-6 for my MASSIVE file. You won't be able to access it, but you can find those who know it is there, and high-level people who set up the outrageous funding operations of such as the Inter-American Investment Corporation and sister companies—KNOW.

You have become mind-robots and march to whatever tune is piped to you in instructions over the waves of TV and radio transmitters and receivers, and believe whatever you are TOLD to believe. Then, you are watched for results just like research laboratory animals, and the next fling at you will be based on the success of that which came prior. With this in mind, I will simply share the information:

[QUOTING, NEXUS, April-May 1996;

John St. Clair Akwei vs. National Security Agency, Ft. George G. Meade, MD, USA (Civil Action 92-0449):]

[Editor's note: You readers with good memories will remember that we first presented this lawsuit as the Front Page story of the 7/2/96 issue of CONTACT, entitled "Talk About Fancy Gadgetry! Covert Operations Of The National Security Agency".]

COVERT OPERATIONS OF THE US NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY

1. THE NSA'S MISSION AND DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE OPERATION

* Communications Intelligence (COMINT)

Blanket coverage of all electronic communications in the US and the world to ensure national security. The NSA at Ft. Meade, Maryland has had the most advanced computers in the world since the early 1960s. NSA technology is developed and implemented in secret from private corporations, academia and the general public.

* Signals Intelligence (SIGINT)

The Signals Intelligence mission of the NSA has evolved into a program of decoding EMF waves in the environment for wirelessly tapping into computers and tracking persons with the electrical currents in their bodies. Signals Intelligence is based on the fact that everything in the environment with an electric current in it has a magnetic flux around it which gives off EMF waves. The NSA/DoD [Department of Defense] has developed proprietary advanced digital equipment which can remotely analyze all objects, whether manmade or organic, that have electrical activity.

* Domestic Intelligence (DOMINT)

The NSA has records on all US citizens. The NSA gathers information on US citizens who might be of interest to any of the over 50,000 NSA agents (HUMINT). These agents are authorized by executive order to spy on anyone. The NSA has a permanent national security anti-terrorist surveillance network in place. This surveillance network is completely disguised and hidden from the public.

Tracking individuals in the US is easily and cost-effectively implemented with the NSA's electronic surveillance network. This network (DOMINT) covers the entire US, involves tens of thousands of NSA personnel, and tracks millions of persons simultaneously. Cost-effective implementation of operations is assured by NSA computer technology designed to minimize operations costs.

NSA personnel serve in quasi-public positions in their communities and run covert business and legitimate businesses that can inform the intelligence community of persons they would want to track. NSA personnel in the community usually have cover identities such as social workers, lawyers and business owners.

[H: I would remind all of you that this is not just whistling in the dark—this is REAL STUFF. Right in this town of Tehachapi you will find that ex-Judge Jason Brent has full capability of instant communication with these groups of surveillance people. He uses it to get banking information, fight his personal battles, and inform on unsuspecting clients and citizens. He is quite typical in that he changed his name to better conceal his identity, is active in Jewish leagues, etc., and is generally a prominent and demanding player in the society. These people, however, are not desirable to the operation or "Company" attached to the CIA because they do such stupid things in their own behalf where they get caught and make the other players on their team look even more stupid.

We write and you read about such as HAARP and other systems operated by government or covert operatives but, I wonder if you ever actually comprehend the magnitude of the assaults or the technology available to those who would-be-kings while you would-be-slaves.

These are corporations and they make their own LAWS—please reread the bylaws of the Inter-American Investment Corporation. Those were printed NOT to bore you but to show you how well insulated the organization makes its participants—even to negating ability for suits without permission from the culprit itself. Oh yes indeed, THIS IS FULLY LEGAL! What it is not, is lawful. A citizen can't get to the dirty bounders within the heart of the little "cartels", but if you pay attention, you who are the brunt of their tactics against you, you can form bigger and better and more carefully protective shells around yourselves that THEY can't break without breaking their own cocoon. No, I jest not—why would only the evil mongers be able to use the perfectly good and legal laws structured for the bandits and robber-barons? I expect to see some pretty comprehensive bylaws, etc., in any new corporation structures which involve any of my input. Keep always within every law and NEVER break the LAWS OF GOD and you will find that you have a lot of protection, also, as you walk around in full surveillance of the watchers. In this way THEY have to pull down their own pants to get into yours!

"But," you ask, "won't that make them even more capable of damage to this group?" THIS WHAT? There is no group here and certainly such as EXTRA in INTERNATIONAL VIEWING proved it as we could never prove it ourselves. They have even gone further and proved that "I" (Hatonn) am exactly who I say I am and they have been ORDERED to lay off anyone connected to my "wings". Keep your noses and intentions, while performing any actions, clean, clear, and open, and you won't have anything other than HELP from your so-called enemies. They will, in addition, give you ammunition to turn back upon them—EVERY TIME.

Use the tools available for you. The Evil Empire raiders won't be changing those laws for corporate protection for they would be cutting their own throats far more intensively than they can even begin to scratch yours for you are acting in Truth under the LAW and they are using the shelter to hide their guilty criminal tracks. YOU DO NOT HAVE TO BECOME YOUR ENEMY TO BE AMONG YOUR ENEMIES.]

* Individual Citizens Occasionally Targeted for Surveillance by Independently-Operating NSA Personnel

NSA personnel can control the lives of hundreds of thousands of individuals in the US by using the NSA's domestic intelligence network and cover businesses. The operations independently run by them can sometimes go beyond the bounds of law. Long-term control and sabotage of tens of thousands of unwitting citizens by NSA operatives is likely to happen. NSA DOMINT has the ability to assassinate US citizens covertly or run covert psychological control operations to cause subjects to be diagnosed with ill mental health.

2. NSA'S DOMESTIC ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE NETWORK

As of the early 1960s, the most advanced computers in the world were at the NSA, Ft. Meade. Research breakthroughs with these computers were kept for the NSA. At the present time the NSA has nanotechnology computers that are 15 years ahead of present computer technology. [H: Read that again, please, because surely you are aware of the magnitude of effective computer output already in everyday operations.]

The NSA obtains blanket coverage of information in the US by using advanced computers that use artificial intelligence to screen all communications, regardless of medium, for key words that should be brought to the attention of NSA agents/cryptologists. These computers monitor all communications at the transmitting and receiving ends. This blanket coverage of the US is a result of the NSA's Signals Intelligence (SIGINT) mission.

The NSA's EMF equipment can tune in RF emissions from personal computer circuit boards (while filtering out emissions from monitors and power supplies). The RF emission from PC circuit boards contains digital information in the PC. Coded RF waves from the NSA's equipment can resonate PC circuits and change data in the PCs. Thus the NSA can gain wireless modem-style entry into any computer in the country for surveillance or anti-terrorist electronic warfare.

* Detecting EMF Fields in Humans for Surveillance

A subject's bioelectric field can be remotely detected, so subjects can be monitored anywhere they are. With special EMF equipment NSA cryptologists can remotely read evoked potentials (from EEGs). These can be decoded into a person's brain-states and thoughts. The subject is then perfectly monitored from a distance.

NSA personnel can dial up any individual in the country on the Signals Intelligence EMF scanning network and the NSA's computers will then pinpoint and track that person 24 hours a day. The NSA can pick out and track anyone in the US.

3. NSA SIGNALS INTELLIGENCE USE OF EMF BRAIN STIMULATION

NSA Signals Intelligence uses EMF Brain Stimulation for Remote Neural Monitoring (RNM) and Electronic Brain Link (EBL). EMF Brain Stimulation has been in development since the MK-ULTRA program of the early 1950s, which included neurological research into radiation (non-ionizing EMF) and bioelectric research and development. The resulting secret technology is categorized at the National Security Archives as "Radiation Intelligence", defined as "information from unintentionally emanated electromagnetic waves in the environment, not including radioactivity or nuclear detonation".

Signals Intelligence implemented and kept this technology secret in the same manner as other electronic warfare programs of the US Government. The NSA monitors available information about this technology and withholds scientific research from the public. There are also international intelligence agreements to keep this technology secret.

The NSA has proprietary electronic equipment that analyzes electrical activity in humans from a distance. NSA computer-generated brain mapping can continuously monitor all of the electrical activity in the brain continuously. The NSA records and decodes individual maps (of hundreds of thousands of persons) for national security purposes. EMF Brain Stimulation is also secretly used by the military for brain-to-computer link (in military fighter aircraft, for example).

[H: While you are on the point just made above, let us consider Dharma's brain surveillance. We do not object to her mind being monitored because it is the most secure one thing around. She is not given information beyond her own capability to "think" and "reason". She is protected from input flow and the fact is that all the adversary has to do to find out TRUTH in our presentation is to monitor what goes through her brain as informational data. There is no point in assaulting her to get more for there simply is no clandestine game afoot in our team's work or intentions. The enemy can likewise KNOW that we keep our agreements and will demand that agreements with us be honored, no more and no less. If you are a "Godly" functioning and intending person, you will be doing that which is RIGHT AT EVERY OPPORTUNITY and that is protection in itself for it becomes evident to the adversary that you are not going to take up arms, subvert, overthrow, or any other stupid or disastrous effort. You cannot change a world to the better when all you use are the negative and force-field methods that are already surpassed by the enemy's capability.]

For electronic surveillance purposes, electrical activity in the speech center of the brain can be translated into the subject's verbal thoughts. RNM can send encoded signals to the brain's auditory cortex, thus allowing audio communications direct to the brain (bypassing the ears). NSA operatives can use this covertly to debilitate subjects by simulating auditory hallucinations characteristic of paranoid schizophrenia.

Without any contact with the subject, Remote Neural Monitoring can map out electrical activity from the visual cortex of a subject's brain and show images from the subject's brain on a video monitor. NSA operatives see what the surveillance subject's eyes are seeing. Visual memory can also be seen. RNM can send images direct to the visual cortex, bypassing the eyes and optical nerves. NSA operatives can use this surreptitiously to put images into a surveillance subject's brain while they are in REM sleep for brain-programming purposes.

* Capabilities of NSA Operatives Using RNM

There has been a Signals Intelligence Network in the US since the 1940s. The NSA, Ft. Meade has in place a vast two-way wireless RNM system which is used to track subjects and non-invasively monitor audiovisual information in their brains. This is all done with no physical contact with the subject. RNM is the ultimate method of surveillance and domestic intelligence. Speech, 3D sound and subliminal audio can be sent to the auditory cortex of the subject's brain (bypassing the ears), and images can be sent into the visual cortex. RNM can alter a subject's perceptions, moods and motor control.

Speech cortex-auditory cortex link has become the ultimate communications system for the intelligence community. RNM allows for a complete audiovisual brain-to-brain link or brain-to-computer link.

4. NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY SIGNALS INTELLIGENCE ELECTRONIC BRAIN LINK TECHNOLOGY

NSA SIGINT can remotely detect, identify and monitor a person's bioelectric fields.

The NSA's Signals Intelligence has the proprietary ability to monitor remotely and non-invasively information in the human brain by digitally decoding the evoked potentials in the 30-50 Hz, 5 milliwatt electromagnetic emissions from the brain.

Neuronal activity in the brain creates a shifting electrical pattern that has a shifting magnetic flux. This magnetic flux puts out a constant 30-50 Hz, 5 milliwatt electromagnetic (EMF) wave. Contained in the electromagnetic emission from the brain are spikes and patterns called "evoked potentials".

Every thought, reaction, motor command, auditory event and visual image in the brain has a corresponding "evoked potential" or set of "evoked potentials". The EMF emission from the brain can be decoded into the current thoughts, images and sounds in the subject's brain.

NSA SIGINT uses EMF-transmitted Brain Stimulation as a communications system to transmit information (as well as nervous system messages) to intelligence agents and also to transmit to the brains of covert operations subjects (on a non-perceptible level).

EMF Brain Stimulation works by sending a complexly coded and pulsed electromagnetic signal to trigger evoked potentials (events) in the brain, thereby forming sound and visual images in the brain's neural circuits. EMF Brain Stimulation can also change a person's brain-states and affect motor control.

Two-way electronic Brain Link is done by remotely monitoring neural audiovisual information while transmitting sound to the auditory cortex (bypassing the ears) and transmitting faint images to the visual cortex (bypassing the optic nerves and eyes). The images appear as floating 2D screens in the brain.

Two-way electronic Brain Link neural monitoring (RNM, remotely monitoring bioelectric information in the human brain) has become the ultimate surveillance system. It is used by a limited number of agents in the US Intelligence Community.

5. (NO HEADING IN ORIGINAL DOCUMENT)

RNM requires decoding the resonance frequency of each specific brain area. That frequency is then modulated in order to impose information in that specific brain area.

The frequency to which the various brain areas respond varies from 3 Hz to 50 Hz. Only NSA Signals Intelligence modulates signals in this frequency band.

Table 1: An example of EMF Brain Stimulation

Brain Area	Bioelectric Resonance Frequency	Information Induced Through Modulation
Motor Control Cortex	10 Hz	Motor impulse coordination
Auditory Cortex	15 Hz	Sound which bypasses the ears
Visual Cortex	25 Hz	Images in the brain bypassing the eyes
Somatosensory	9 Hz	Phantom touch sense
Thought Center	20 Hz	Imposed subconscious thoughts

(See Table 1)

This modulated information can be put into the brain at varying intensities from subliminal to perceptible.

Each person's brain has a unique set of bioelectric resonance/entrainment frequencies. Sending audio information to a person's brain at the frequency of another person's auditory cortex would result in the audio information not being perceived.

The Plaintiff learned of RNM by being in two-way RNM contact with the Kinnecome group at the NSA, Ft. Meade.

They used RNM 3D sound direct to the brain to harass the Plaintiff from 10/90 to 5/91.

As of 5/91 they have had two-way RNM communications with the Plaintiff and have used RNM to attempt to incapacitate the Plaintiff and hinder the Plaintiff from going to the authorities about their activities against the Plaintiff in the last 12 years.

The Kinnecome group has about 100 persons working 24 hours a day at Ft. Meade. They have also brain-tapped persons the Plaintiff is in contact with to keep the Plaintiff isolated. This is the first time ever that a private citizen has been harassed with RNM and has been able to bring a lawsuit against NSA personnel misusing this intelligence operations method. [H: Don't for one minute believe this is the first time the system has been used, however.]

6. NSA TECHNIQUES AND RESOURCES

Remote monitoring/tracking of individuals in any location, inside any building, continuously, anywhere in the country.

A system for inexpensive implementation of these operations allows for thousands of persons in every community to be spied on constantly by the NSA.

* Remote RNM Devices

NSA's RNM equipment remotely reads the evoked potentials (EEGs) of the human brain for tracking individuals, and can send messages through the nervous systems to affect their performance.

RNM can electronically identify individuals and track them anywhere in the US. [H: Or throughout the world and what you recognize as "space".] This equipment is on a network and is used for domestic intelligence operations, government security and military base security, and in case of bioelectric warfare.

* Spotters and Walk-Byes in Metropolitan Areas

Tens of thousands of persons in each area working as spotters and neighborhood/businessplace spies (sometimes unwittingly) following and checking on subjects who have been identified for covert control by NSA personnel.

Agents working out of offices can be in constant communication with spotters who are keeping track of the NSA's thousands of subjects in public.

NSA agents in remote offices can instantly identify (using RNM) any individual spotted in public who is in contact with a surveillance subject.

* Chemicals and Drugs into Residential Buildings with Hidden NSA Installed and Maintained Plastic Plumbing Lines

The NSA has kits for running lines into residential tap water and air ducts of subjects for the delivery of drugs (such as sleeping gas or brainwashing-aiding drugs). This is an outgrowth of CIA pharmapsychology (psychopharmacology).

[END OF QUOTING]

Mr. Akwei has asked, emphatically, that his contact information NOT BE GIVEN as he already has his hands overfilled with the thugs in the game. I would hope that any further information would be shared but it is the content and information which I wanted you to have and perhaps you can become more AWARE of what is coming down around your proverbial ears.

There is a list of "resources" offered and I will ask that the information be likewise printed for your research interests. [See resource lists on pgs. 13 & 14.] These are factual technologies in this current world in which you "think" you are experiencing. It is serious and it is big business along with being the final method of control of the masses. This is "beyond" brainwashing, readers; it is the control already in place and available to the One World Order.

Do you perceive that perhaps you are already living in an environment that has such controls in place? Look around you! You are controlled by everything from diet products to religious instructions. You are totally BOUND by these dogmas and instructions and have now been taught to feed on violence and moved that into the reality of the mind, far beyond the influence of the brain's conceptual functioning.

Will there be "enough" who do not succumb to this onslaught of controllers' mind-warps? Yes, but let us just note that to find 144,000 as the Bible suggests may be a bit difficult. So, can we accomplish our own mission? Of course, for as the adversaries of freedom realize they don't have to take us out to bid for non-interference, they will eventually see the merit in helping us achieve our quite-limited intentions. Now, if this doesn't mesh with your "concepts", I feel sorry for your misperceptions for we have never stated otherwise—than we serve God and we are NOT HERE TO "SAVE" ANYTHING. IF YOU WANT SALVATION

THEN I CERTAINLY SUGGEST YOU GET ON WITH GETTING ON AND BECOMING TRUTHFULLY AND RIGHTLY INFORMED. KNOWLEDGE IN TRUTH IS LIGHT AND LIGHT IS GOD—AND THE WORD IS GOD; THEREFORE, YOU NEED KNOWLEDGE, TRUTH, LIGHT AND FINALLY YOU CAN RECOGNIZE THE INTENTS AND PURPOSES OF GOD. GOD HAS NOT SENT ME OR YOU TO INTERFERE WITH THE PROCESSES OF MANKIND OTHER THAN TO OFFER TRUTH AND "THE WAY" TO CHANGE. YOU HAVE NO RIGHT TO PUSH YOUR "RATHERS" OR OPINIONS OFF ON ANYONE SO THINK ABOUT IT CAREFULLY AND SEE WHERE YOU ARE IN THIS GAME. GOD GAVE FREE-WILL CHOICES AND REASON UNTO MANKIND AS THE GIFT ABOVE ALL GIFTS—AND YOU ARE STUCK WITH YOURSELF IN THAT ARENA. Daddy can't do it for you; Mommy can't do it for you; no family member or friend can do it for you—so you may as well get on with doing for self. We can only hope to help you see and know as we move along and, in turn, understand what is often taking place within your very beings. When you understand and KNOW, you can take care of self for no negative energy can overcome the positive charges of self-GOD-power. You might well want to negatively charge those cells that transfer fuel to energy—but you want that mind only charged with positive thoughts. Recognize the negative aspects so that you KNOW what is going on, but keep the positive knowledge ever in front of all other thoughts. In THIS MANNER we will create that which we want and need, and it need not wait longer while you "get ready".

Never mind the ones who drop away or can't get the hang of it for that is THEIR problem and none of your business. We have a job to do and the elements are now ready and available if you will simply step forth and receive them. The distractors will forever try to tempt you away as they focus on their own narrow missions or views. You who will find THE WAY for the multitudes—must keep a very wide perspective and never drop the ball for a single moment. Let the others do that which they will in dallying, diddling, and piddling—for we have not the luxury of such indulgences. If you, for instance, are serious about the desire for travel, then I suggest you get on with getting the task at hand accomplished, and then go travel!! God's delays are not God's denials—but your delays are a cop-out. Salu.

WHEN THE STORMS SEEM GREAT

What do we do when the storms seem great and we cannot see that which is upon us? We do exactly what we must do at every other time—praise and thank God for His vigilance and His ability to see all that needs be seen.

Often we must look within our own beings to discern that which might cause and then bring effect to our senses, be it in health (bad or good), a need to focus on that which is elusive to the moment, and/or be still and listen. If you can't walk from the bedroom to the kitchen without having the head swim and then faint—it is time to consider alternatives and see WHAT GOD MIGHT HAVE IN MIND—or, attend self that you do not fall or do-in self.

A lot of you will be having almost the same symptoms that Dharma is undergoing and yes indeed, it is serious business for sometimes the body simply becomes overwhelmed and the "illness" as such remains elusive.

Now you have something upon which to base your understanding. You have a minstrel called Bob Dylan who just succumbed to hospital care, cancellation of a whole season of concerts—who has exactly what Dharma has, and many of you have, totally debilitating you.

The cause is a fungus, now crossed with a cocci of the pneumonia variety and it settles in the lungs, infests the sack (myocardium) surrounding the heart muscle, causes swelling, and compromises the heart function. The little buggers can work themselves right into heart valves, and if left to their own devices, will kill the body, purely and simply put. Signs and symptoms are only a visible and physical warning to TAKE EXCEPTIONAL CARE OF SELF.

The "news reports" say that Mr. Dylan is suffering from a fungal infection called Histoplasmosis, which is a potentially fatal disease. However, with proper treatment, rest, and recovery, it can be treated, even if not cured. If lungs are compromised, as also happens to be the case from childhood insult with Mr. Dylan, the process is quite miserable and debilitating. Forced breathing to get enough oxygen in spite of the ongoing problems will only cause further and far more extensive damage to the heart and to the lungs. Then mucous and fibrous strands will form on the linings of the bronchial passages and seal the passages necessary for the carrying of oxygen and other nutrients to the body general.

We have gotten the disease organism, in Dharma, under control with colloids; however, the symptoms remain and there are toxic responses as the body tries to heal itself. Moreover, we have new hatchings of spores/microbes which break out every time the levels of colloids are lessened. The fungus spores move within cells to keep from being attacked.

Is this a hospitalization misfortune? Yes, but NOT where you have the things going on that are taking place in your nice dirty hospitals. There are the drug-resistant strains of bacteria which eat you alive and have no acceptable treatment. Two infections of this magnitude will disallow the body to properly gain strength enough to heal. Further, however, the spores get loose in a house so that reinfection is constant. If you can "smell" mold or moldy atmosphere—you have loose molds and fungi flying around. If you have air cleaners, to not run them all the time is foolish because the adventures of the flying microbes never stop once begun and they have a perfect host circumstance in compromised lungs. If you have not done anything to clear out the culprits, then KNOW THAT REINFESTATION IS CONSTANTLY TAKING PLACE.

I would turn now to discussing the disease at the farm. This is introduced deliberately and is a cross between a mold and rust—appearing like a smut. When your enemies said they would run you out of town, they certainly meant that they were going to make every effort to accomplish that job. Never mind them for they have gone too far and it is obvious what has happened and you will begin to get help from the legal eagles—for this kind of crop tampering is unacceptable at all levels as it affects all of the people all of the time—including the law enforcement personnel.

You will notice that the problem is one which affects grain heads and disallows formation of seeds. This is pretty common in other parts of the country and certainly is destructive to areas of the grain belt farms. You can know, however, that it is not native nor happenstance in this area for you had an exceptionally nice wet Winter, but a very, very dry Spring. This problem usually shows up where the Spring season is wetter than normal. But, it is extremely easy to tamper and infect fields and this is what has happened. I know that you don't wish to believe there are insane people out there doing this stuff, but truth is stranger than what it is you tend to wish to believe. You can KNOW from the place of infestation that it has been intentionally introduced.

By whom? Come now—be reasonable in your innocence for you KNOW who. You know who lies, cheats and steals—so don't act like you just awakened from fairyland.

By the way, check out the area of Prell's farm very, very carefully. Ence/Enz put a lot of appliances and farm equipment, from potato diggers to harvester headers, over with Prell and swore the man to secrecy—go check and go check CAREFULLY. The header is some of Hamilton's original equipment and yet you will find that Ence/Enz SOLD off such as Turner's disc equipment.

Now, nice people, you are never going to have an end to this garbage until you put a stop to it. By the time the infestation has, however, spread to the Organic Farms there will be hell to pay and the SUSPECTED ENTITIES are going to have to answer for their mischief. This is NOT the variety of smut to which spelta has resistance particularly, but it comes as a localized pest to "general" grain fields.

What to do? Well, you can let it go and it will contain itself pretty much when you stop watering. However, my suggestion is to stop irrigation totally, let dry, and then BURN the field. You can keep a close watch on the stuff as you dry the field, and because spelta is a strong dry-crop, you may well get some grain, but do not use it for seed lest you replant the demons. You will find that most people who are allergic to such as wheat or grains are NOT allergic to the grain BUT ARE ALLERGIC TO WHATEVER IS ATTACHED TO THE GRAIN SEED.

This seems terrible? Of course but has mankind ever been different? Is it not better to nip these things in the proverbial bud BEFORE you have great fields to attend?

As for Ence/Enz, you will find that he or his relations are seen in the area EVERY DAY. And, if this kind of behavior is suitable to those who would have us beg and grovel to get good graces—pay close attention to who they are and act accordingly. People like Hamiltons MUST KNOW ABOUT THESE THINGS FOR A LOT OF PEOPLE WALK AROUND IN THEIR SLEEP AND PLUG THEIR EARS.

The harvester has sat for over a year now, in the way, without any working capability, as with no headers, no keys, and no way to move the stuff even out of the way. Is THIS what we work for in goodness? No, but isn't it always the way with the losers of your world?

MITES THAT MAKE A DIFFERENCE

While we are on the topic of bugs and infestations I would like to share with you some information brought to our attention regarding African "mites". Since many of you are interested in crop protection and organic purity, you may well want to push this little critter with powers that be—and I don't mean on a local spelta field. You will find that ability to flourish of fungi, etc., is dependent upon the food chain for insects and organisms. Any mold or fungus must have various foods upon which to gain footholds.

I will offer this article and hope that you will share with county agents, farmers and others who have a problem with any kinds of mites or aphids or other attackers of crops.

SCIENCE LAB, The Washington Post National Weekly Edition, May 26, 1997:]

WHERE A MITE MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE

In Africa, a microscopic critter is striking a mighty blow against hunger. By Joby Warrick, Washington Post Staff Writer.

Some call it the "Bug that Saved Africa", though technically it's not an insect but a lowly mite. A cousin to the tick, it's a plump green gumdrop with eight legs and a fearsome habit of sucking out the innards of other mites.

It prefers to dine on the run. After scarfing down a meal it waddles to the top of a plant stalk, hoists its back legs and sails on the breeze until it finds its next victim. In just four years, the mite has chomped and sailed its way across 11 countries—and into the annals of international horticulture.

Today the microscopic marauder is being credited with turning back one of the most serious threats to West Africa's food supply in years. With astonishing speed, it checked, then reversed, the damage caused by a harmful mite that has decimated cassava crops across an area 1-1/2 times the size of the United States.

The feat was accomplished without chemical pesticides and with mostly passive participation by native farmers. In fact, because the mite is too small to be seen with the naked eye, some rural growers have never quite grasped the reason their cassava plants suddenly went from naked stalks to healthy green shrubs.

"The farmers say, 'God has helped us'," says Symphorien Saizonou, an agricultural officer for the West African country of Benin.

"They still don't know exactly what happened to cause this result."

What actually happened was a rare collaboration between scientists on two continents to stem the destruction of cassava, the starchy tuber that serves as a dietary staple for a half-billion people, including 200 million Africans. Their apparent success, announced two weeks ago, is being hailed as a victory against world hunger and a milestone in the search for chemical-free solutions to agricultural pests.

Proponents of natural or "sustainable" pest control argue that such solutions are better for the environment and more effective in the long run. In the developing countries that make up Africa's vast cassava belt, it's often the only kind of pesticide farmers can afford.

"Cassava sells for pennies a kilo, so there's no way farmers can use pesticides," says Donald Roberts, an insect pathologist at the Boyce Thompson Institute for Plant Research in Ithaca, N.Y. "To have something that is effective, self-replicating and free is the best of all possible worlds."

The quest for a natural pest-killer brought scientists to Brazil's northern Amazon Basin. Cassava was first cultivated in the jungles of South America, which is also the native turf of the cassava green mite, Mononychellus tanajoa, a relative of the common spider mites that menace gardens and house plants in the United States.

Both plant and pest migrated to Africa in separate waves. First came the cassava shrubs, which were imported by Portuguese sailors in the 16th century and thrived pestilence-free for 400 years. Natives quickly came to appreciate the plant's extraordinary heartiness and versatility, and soon cassava groves were flourishing from the Ivory Coast to Madagascar.

Unlike maize or wheat, cassava plants can survive droughts and blistering hot tropical weather. The leaves are edible, but the plant's starchy, yam-like root is the staff of life for millions of Africans. Westerners may recognize it as the thickening ingredient in tapioca pudding, but in Africa cassava is prepared and eaten a thousand different ways. An old African saying—"Where there is cassava there is no hunger"—is a testament to the plant's role as a hedge against starvation in some of the world's poorest countries.

[QUOTING, From

INTERNATIONAL CENTER FOR TROPICAL AGRICULTURE

Since 1970, a microscopic mite from South America has wreaked havoc on African cassava crops, a major nutrition source for a half-billion people. A predator mite, top, devouring a victim, has beaten back the mite along a front that extends to 11 countries.

Enter the cassava green mite. After apparently hitchhiking across the Atlantic on farm machinery in 1970, the pest landed in a Ugandan cassava patch and began its epicurean tour of the continent. With no natural enemies, the green mites had spread throughout the cassava belt by 1985 and threatened to gnaw Africa's slender nutritional lifeline in two. Despite experiments with chemical pesticides and pest-resistant strains, crop losses ran as high as 50 percent.

"This pest got loose and had a free lunch," says Steve Yaninek, an American entomologist at the Nigeria-based International Institute of Tropical Agriculture. "It literally spread like wildfire."

YANINEK'S INSTITUTE

In 1983, Yaninek's Institute joined forces with a sister agency, the Columbia, Md.-based International Center for Tropical Agriculture, in a search for natural enemies of the green mite in its native turf in Latin America. The 14-year $700,000 effort was funded by a consortium of international aid organizations, including the United Nations Development Programme and the governments of Germany and Denmark.

Several potential foes were identified and ruled out. A few species of predator mites were even brought to Africa for field tests, but they either died or spread very slowly. The top performer could manage only a few hundred yards per year. But after a decade of work, the two institutes stumbled upon the perfect mite-eating machine. In October 1993, scientists stood in a cassava field near the village of Ikipinle, Benin, and introduced Africa to Typhlodromalus aripo. Though tiny—40 of them, end to end, would fit across a man's thumbnail—the T. aripo is a ferocious predator that can reduce a cassava green mite to a dried-up shell within minutes. Even more impressive is its unusual brand of sky-diving that enables it to travel a mile or more on the wind.

"We were absolutely astonished," Yaninek says of the early results. The first colonies spread over a radius of seven miles the first year, and an additional 12 miles the second. By early this year, after dozens of subsequent releases in other countries, the predator mite had advanced over a 150,000-square-mile area that encompasses 11 countries.

For scientists, it was the most ambitious and most successful attempt to control a pest mite on a continent-wide scale using what Yaninek calls a "classic biological approach". The key, he says, was using "nature's own equilibrium" to human advantage. "It's easier and less energy-consuming if we work with nature and not against it."

Farmers are less philosophical but equally amazed by the achievement. Crop yields have improved by an average 30 percent, according to field samples. In West Africa alone, the predator mite is being credited for a $60 million increase in cassava profits last year.

With those kinds of results, farmers no longer have to see the mite to believe in it. Still, scientists couldn't resist bringing along a few magnifying glasses recently when they returned to the Benin village where T. aripo was first launched.

"We showed the farmers how to use the lenses to make the mites visible," says Saizonou, the Benin civil servant. "For the first time they saw that something very inconspicuous was there on the leaves to keep the bad mites away. And they were very surprised."

[END OF QUOTING]

I would suggest that this is just one more example of the fact that just because you can't see a thing, it does NOT mean it does not exist.

So, what happened in the tale above? A collaboration of scientists on two continents to stem the destruction of cassava, the starchy tuber that serves as a dietary staple for a half-billion people, including 200 million Africans. If it can be done with green mites, it can be done with anything which has outgrown its boundaries and presents plagues and causes famines. It is always best to go with NATURAL species to counter all invaders, i.e. smut, rust and molds, for beneath the destruction will always be the microbes which intentionally destroy.

As with the massive fields now infected with incurable smut in your growing belts, the disease is easily contained in this same manner—if you get on with it. There are microbes that eat any kind of other microbe—all you have to do is isolate it and introduce it properly. You even have microbes that thrive on radioactivity and petroleum products, so don't look wide-eyed and silly—find the proper feeder. Ladybugs like aphids, so get some microbes that like whatever is annoying you. Famines are going to be great as you move along. That is the promise of the Revelation. You can accept that stance if you so-choose, but it is NOT of God; it is of Man's edicts.

I will close this writing lest it get too lengthy, but I really must discuss the boundaries which are being dissolved as your NAFTA gets further underway. I think you people who understand Bonus contracts, etc., might well see some relationships and possibilities. There must be funding for such major takeovers and wipeouts, so that means there are TWO SIDES involved EVERY time. Just remember that everything SOUNDS really good until you get it into operation and find that you have again been "had".

Thank you for your attention, Dharma, but you must mind your business lest I put you to bed, and let's get well and get on, please.

their own private laws, fund their own illegal banks, and set up more, and it is ALL QUITE LEGAL! And, no, I am not going to explain anything further about it. The banks they establish have so much "value" involved as to not find it necessary to even follow the international banking laws, rules and regulations. You seem to think there is something Holy (as in Church) about banks and bankers. No, there is everything non-holy about them, but banking was and is a convenient way to hold and pass MONEY. Anymore there doesn't even have to be any money, only established "value" of some kind which is far easier to utilize than any form of currency.

The BEAUTY of this fact is that any nations can form a coalition and hold collateral of whatever they desire the value to be, have rich nations or men fund the "value" so that credit and transfers are valid, and hold established value (gold and/or oil being the most readily apparent, other than the established drug dealings), and you have founded an international bank apart and aside from any established entities. These coalitions can operate according to their own set of Bylaws and "Articles of Incorporation" and become strong and untouchable. Oh, indeed, George Bush and all his buddies have done this and established EXACTLY what they wanted to establish, and nobody comes against it because nobody realizes the extent of the deceptions. They did it with the Inter-American Investment Corporation of which we have written much lately [See Front Page story in last week's CONTACT]. They set up their own banks in places and nations belonging to the IIC "corporation" and formed their own intelligence "corporations", i.e. such as CI Ltd. (but never quite got around to doing more than forming SOVEREIGN entities using the guise of legal incorporation, but establishing the power-pods without benefit of law, international or national).

The same thing is happening thanks to your allowing of NAFTA, GATT, etc. You have turned over all law and power to the very destroyers. The evidence is so blatant along the U.S. Southern Border with Mexico as to be shocking that nobody has seemed to notice what has happened. The same thing is taking place all over the world, however, so don't act shocked and bewildered; all that drug money had to be cleaned up somewhere between the tip of South America and the top of Canada. The end result is a semi-legal trail of entities which finally can "legally" accomplish what otherwise would be heinous criminal practices. The problems come, then, from the power brokers who get greedy and ego-controlled.

Let us look at this NAFTA phenomenon.

[QUOTING, THE SPOTLIGHT, June 2, 1997. Andrew Arnold and T.J. O'Connor:]

NAFTA ABSORBS BOUNDARIES

Millions Affected as U.S., Mexico Create International Border Region.

Bureaucrats ignore the question of sovereignty in race to eliminate the border.

Without voting on it, all Americans living between Brownsville, Texas and San Diego, California, have had their communities placed under control of an international body.

This is neither hype nor rumor, it's NAFTA. Actually it's the Agreement on Cooperation for the Protection and Improvement in the Border Area (La Paz Agreement) signed in 1983. The giveaway "entered into force with the NAFTA trade agreement", says the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in the U.S./Mexico Border XXI Framework Document. La Paz went into effect in January.

Other US cities affected include McAllen, Laredo and El Paso, Texas, and Yuma, Arizona.

La Paz replaces the U.S./Mexico 1,933-mile border with a 62.5-mile strip north and south of the traditional border to be an open zone called Border Region XXI. About 10 million people in America and Mexico live within the zone.

This agreement created the Border Environment Cooperation Project and the North American Development Bank [H: Wow, and where have we heard this one lately?] to provide US funding. More cash will come from the World Bank and Mexico.

Investigative reporter Karen-Lee Bixman warns the road to a New World Order is paved Environmental Green and Border Region XXI is the first step on that road.

"Traditionally, Americans have looked to their representatives to stand in the gap between freedom and tyranny," she added. "Under the auspices of saving the environment, our nation's borders will be dissolved."

INTERNATIONALISM

Mexican agencies are expected to join US bodies in regulating the environment in Border Region XXI. This means water rights for Americans in the Southwest have been ceded to an international body.

For example, EPA and Mexico's Secretariat for Environment, Natural Resources and Fisheries (SEMARNAP) and Secretariat for Social Development (SEDESOL) have been merged to police environmental matters within Border Region XXI.

Natural resources management is slated to fall under a newly created body including the Department of Interior, the Department of Agriculture and SEMARNAP.

Border Water Resources fall under the US and Mexican Sections of the International Boundary and Water Commission, Interior, EPA and SEMARNAP.

The Department of Health and Human Services will team with Mexico's

Land from the Gulf Coast to the Pacific Ocean has been lumped together to form Border Region XXI—an internationalist attempt at "protecting the environment."

Secretariat of Health to manage environmental health.

According to the EPA, one of the goals of Border Region XXI is to improve binational law enforcement capabilities. "This allows for the creation of binational law enforcement teams consisting of US law enforcement, firefighters and emergency response teams," says Miss Bixman, "Stationed on the Mexican side of the border, they would respond to emergencies."

Critics say these international bodies will tell landowners what they can and cannot do on their property. Compliance with land-use regulations will be monitored by US Geological Survey infrared aerial photos. [H: A nice PRIVATE corporation.]

"The US Congress must take action on behalf of the American people and our national sovereignty to uphold our national borders and free our people from their resources being controlled by the [EPA]," said James Thorsen, president of the New Mexico Citizens Action Association.

"Resources like water, air, land [are] all under the supervision of [non-governmental organizations] without any legal authority except through treaty," he added. "Treaties are the new way to go around the people and their rights under the US Constitution and our national sovereignty."

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

The guiding force behind the La Paz Agreement is the UN principle of so-called "sustainable development", according to critics.

In 1992, 179 countries met in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, at the UN Conference on World Environment. The so-called Rio conference developed a global plan for "sustainable development".

The United States did not sign on to the agreement, but President Bill Clinton has adopted Rio principles for his administration.

"He wants a domestic policy that can be integrated to achieve 'economic progress, environmental protection, and social equality'," says Luther Broaddus III, a newspaper columnist in the Southwest. Clinton's sustainable development "covers everything from the need for abortion, to septic systems, to removal of subsidies on overgrazed public lands."

"Controlling these principles: economy, environment and social equality, are the three legs of Clinton's policy he calls 'sustainable development'," he added. "It is apparent he means to force compliance by our people to the international standards."

Broaddus said the country officials in New Mexico and Arizona whom he had talked to had never heard of the agreement. In addition, they had no idea how taxes, law enforcement, etc., will be affected. [H: Do you now see how simple it is to simply form organizations, corporations—whatever, and establish the idea that they exist, thrust forth papers making some treaties and agreements, and you establish the entity without any validity whatsoever. Then you move on to calling it by "letters" of the alphabet so that the confusion is so great as to stagger even clerical record-keepers. They call the titles something "Federal" or "corporation" or whatever sells the people on the false information and there you have it—control of a world without half trying.]

Congressional staffs were even less helpful, he said. For instance, when Rep. Joe Skeen's (R-N.M.) office contacted the Congressional Research Service, on Broaddus' behalf, the office was told, "The La Paz Agreement is unrelated to NAFTA."

As noted above, the bureaucrats of the EPA disagree.

[END OF QUOTING]

I ask that the geographic diagram be added for viewing, please [see pg. 19]. The whole method of operations is like a creeping fungus that finally takes over everything.

Rep. Ron Paul's House Bill To Get The U.S. Out of The U.N.

6/1/97 RAY BILGER

The ever-resourceful V.K. Durham has recently forwarded to CONTACT a copy of U.S. Rep. Ron Paul's (R-TX) House Resolution 1146 (H.R. 1146), introduced on March 20, 1997. Anyone familiar with the ongoing actions of those forces who work unwaveringly to control the world knows that the creation of the United Nations in 1945 was a bold move to establish a One World Government. As those One World Controllers foment endless wars and international unrest and tensions, there stands the U.N. to ostensibly provide the parameters within which peaceful resolution of disputes can be achieved.

It has become painfully obvious, however, that the real intent of our Controllers is to make the world a more and more chaotic and unstable place where it becomes increasingly necessary to use a One World Police Force, the U.N. Peacekeeping Forces, to supposedly maintain peace. And their real purpose, of course, is to be the military enforcers of the New World Order agenda.

Within this bleak picture, H.R. 1146 stands as a refreshing breath of fresh air, designed to remove the United States of America from any support, participation or affiliation whatsoever with the United Nations.

Rep. Ron Paul needs all the support and encouragement he can get in this matter, both from his congressional colleagues and especially from we individual Citizens. The passage of this act could be the necessary first step to reestablishing American Sovereignty, and could pave the way toward abolishing the corrupt U.N., with a concurrent recognition that only a real community of nations (the Citizens) working together can achieve a truly just world. Ron Paul's phone number in Washington, D.C. is (202) 225-3121.

Without further introduction, here is H.R. 1146.

BLATANT STUPIDITY OR CLEVER SHENANIGANS?

In the never-ending soggies of legal encounters, even to the objection to the Supreme Court of a lower Nevada Court's ruling to change venue from northern Nevada to Las Vegas (where all the parties to the case are either located or are comfortably close), the foolishness goes on—and on—and on—while Mr. Fort will have to pick up the costs of now well over $100,000 in Abbott's-Horton's legal fees. WELL OVER.

Not only do these lawyers continue the foolishness in the face of the court's rulings, but they do so with such blatant and incorrect filings as to be laughable if not totally sordid. They make no "bones" about the circumstance as this has to do with receivership of the Institute. In their case, one of the Plaintiffs (their side) is STILL offered as Schroeffer, who is dead now some six or so months. How interesting.

The filing paper is wrong in every procedural application of ANY law, current or common. It goes like this [quoting]:

ELEANOR E. SCHROEPFER, for the ELEANOR E. SCHROEPFER FAMILY TRUST; and for TEHA, INC., a Nevada corporation; and LEON FORT, for himself; and for INFINITE BALANCE INC., a Nevada corporation,

Appellants,

and
GEORGE GREEN,

Intervenor,

vs.

PHOENIX INSTITUTE FOR RESEARCH & EDUCATION, LTD., a Nevada corporation; CARSON CAPITAL CORPORATION, a Nevada corporation, et al.

Respondents.

Case No. 29559

[end of quoting]

Now, after many years the Appellants argue that "time" was not quite correct in the Institute's venue change application. What an interesting concept. I wish now to just share from the last two pages of the documents filed by Abbott-Horton in this very paperwork. This will be from the faxed copies, pages 10 and 11 regarding the filing of this particular paper with the Supreme Court [Nevada] from whence these dudes have been tossed OUT twice, and once from the U.S. Supreme Court:

Page 10 [quoting]: I hereby certify that I have read this... I further certify that this brief complies with... I understand that I may be subject to sanctions in the event that the accompanying brief is not in conformity with the requirements of the Nevada Rules of Appellate Procedure.

Then at the bottom of THAT SAME PAGE IS [quoting]:

[end of quoting]

Well, it appears to me that possibly Mr.

Green was correct when he called his own attorney, Horton, "so stupid I have to tell him everything to do..."

Now note that they will get this paper and rush forth and beg the court for "mercy" that somehow their "computer" and "fax" were broken, etc. (It happens every filing.) Well, how in the hell are people supposed to even respond sanely to this kind of stupid or intentional confusion and cocksmanhip? Is this a POINT OF LAW being broken OR A GAME FOR ATTORNEYS TO CLEAN UP EVERYTHING IN THEIR CLIENT'S POCKETS, NOW OR EVER? Abbott said before many witnesses, including the Ekkers and Mr. Dixon, that he "intends to retire on THIS CASE". Sorry, Leon! You, Leon, do not have enough in the Institute to pay half the damned Abbott billing and if you think he will forgive it to you nice people—THINK AGAIN. HE KEEPS ENTERING HIS BILLS IN COURT AND PROBABLY YOU NICE UNWATCHING PEOPLE DON'T EVEN KNOW IT AS HE SAYS HE HAS YOUR POWER OF ATTORNEY AND DOESN'T HAVE TO TELL YOU ANYTHING! Is this a jest? Come now, sleepy people.

Schroeffer is dead while Guden and other attorneys snatched his assets and Eleanor is in a senile center and doesn't know her ears from her fingers. Is this RIGHT BEHAVIOR from Officers of the Court? And Leon: Mr. Abbott would not allow you to be dismissed from the case until the court ordered him to accept it and asked him to leave the courtroom after running up unlimited more bills in the interim. Now you come to be used in this profane manner and you don't even seem to take notice. Ann Beam controls your corporation, Infinite Balance, and she is the one who continues this relationship openly with Green, Horn, Abbott and Horton. Use little old ladies like Esther? WHO USES THEM? Do YOU have any idea AT ALL what is going on—and on—and on—and on? Does this have anything to do with your search for God? THIS, SIR, HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH GOD, I CAN CERTAINLY PROMISE YOU!

Do you not realize further, good friends, that ANYONE SUING A CORPORATION IS, BY LAW, PRECLUDED FROM SETTLEMENT UNTIL ALL LEGAL BILLINGS ARE SETTLED IN THE MATTER? How, explain to me, do YOU NICE PEOPLE expect to have ANYTHING when the billings are already twice as high as the loans? And yes indeed, these were LOANS, not investments of any kind at all. And you hide the side agreements! Why? Betty Tuten has incriminated herself internationally by hiding the side agreements because it is the side agreements that pertain to interest, etc., and SHE GOT THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS IN REGULAR INTEREST PAYMENTS!

You nice people out there [Fort, Tuten, etc.] had best pray hard that Ekkers don't bring charges against Extra, THE TABLOID INTERNATIONAL TV "MAGAZINE" because Extra is waiting, after having been told to bury the [latest] day of shooting here, which they found so interesting and filled with information, to see if they'll have to criminally charge Tuten and Fort, along with Beam and Ence, with supplying false information. Ence is at the very top of their list of "let's hang them". But you keep right on planning and scheming and DOING NASTY LITTLE THINGS, DON'T YOU?

Well, I just keep tabs on the happenings and we find Horn, Jason Brent, Green, and all of you nice little coven of actors playing in what you think is a big political game of "get control of Nevada" and THEN pull down Hatonn and his motley crew! (???) Come now, do you REALLY think you little crooks and hoods are going to destroy the professional criminals of Nevada and Sin City(ies)?

We aren't going to fight you nerds any longer. We are simply going back to our original work of "write" and you can get the rewards of the damage you have brought forth. We don't need it and destruction should be reaped by the offending effects of thoughtless self-mutilation. And Green goes right on in his stupid role of Patriot? THIS IS WHAT IS WRONG WITH YOUR COUNTRY, READERS—AND YOU ALLOW IT! And when your tummies are empty—please do feel free to come to us for food for we have some very tasty smut to offer back to you—if you can get the stashed equipment for harvest from your hiding places at the neighbor's farm junk yard.

Charles brought back HIS potato digger and I just wonder WHAT you, Ence, and kids who helped this transfer, will tell Hamilton about his harvester equipment? Already you sold off or outright stole Turner's disc apparatus. These are not NICE things, people.

But no, we do not need this garbage. Why would anyone longer put up with this type of trashing, day after day? You don't need Tehachapi, and our people here don't, certainly, need to be anywhere else to read and write.

Well, it appears you are about ready to REAP YOUR ATTORNEY(S)' HARVEST OF ROT AND SCUM. We here just don't give a damn how long you string this out because there is no funding here for your pleasure and you simply KEEP THE STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS GOING AND GOING AND GOING! For this, alone, we are grateful for the new methods of struggle within the courts are becoming very effective and the people are getting VERY PROFICIENT.

We know that you are "after" Dixon now that the CLC is closed temporarily—but what will HE do? Who knows? If he joins your criminal crew, then he reveals himself. He already can't effectively do anything involving Tips, so it appears unwise for him to serve any more of my adversaries.

Mr. Dixon received and used over $60,000 per year for (his count) over six years in which he claims to have "given" us his life focus. That seems to be over $360,000 with not one cent return on anything. The fringes were often exceeding this figure because, in addition, he was supplied with staff, office arrangements, phones with bills paid, including rent on dwellings, along with an automobile. This doesn't seem terribly bad to the rest of us who have received almost nothing, or nothing. Green always claimed he had control over this man—well, that came from and through Mr. Tips, so perhaps he was, and is, right. So be it. If shoes fit, wear them—but don't expect endless reward for your bastardly services—FROM ME. Further, let us have gratitude for all services, great or small, for we needed to GET TO RIGHT HERE. You could not have purchased university courses with such lessons and have the entire array of possibilities laid before you on silver trays. You have now had the opposition list themselves, in the billings yet, of the opponent's camp. All you have to do is go after these thugs properly and get some justice back into the system—because they are not going to let you win rightful cases in the system. Why? Because the dirt goes all the way to the White House of three PRESIDENTS! Obviously, after ten years of revealing the entire game and showing every outcome of some 15 judges involved, it proves that people will do NOTHING to clean up this mess, and so the merry-go-round continues its squeaking and clanging, and the endless tunes keep drowning out the small voices of truth and justice. You will now have to counter with use of procedural malfunctions because you can't get at any type of misdeeds or issues of fact. It is the starting point and will perhaps be "the ending point".

My suggestion to you? Get some rightful things filed BEFORE you find the cupboard bare! After the door is opened, the horse gone, and the waiting is but to be suffered—you will have lots going in your favor which will grow and grow and grow as the rats reveal themselves for they have made the entire circle with billings yet reflecting the coalition of conspiracy. So, you are impatient? I understand, but patience pays when you wait upon God. Will righteousness prevail? Yes, although perhaps you may not live in this lifetime long enough to really revel in it—but if you do the right things—you certainly will. YOU DO NOT HAVE TO WAIT TO BRING MAJOR CHARGES AGAINST THE PERPER-TRAITORS, any or all of them, singularly or all together. I suggest you use the ones under your noses and move on outward to get them all. It means you need help, but I think help will be cheaper than anything you have had thus far.

You "have" to have an attorney for a corporation? Who says? Especially if the opposing attorneys have always listed Ekker-Ekker-Phoenix in a single breath. What keeps you from rebutting? You had attorneys attending your needs? Well, too bad for you, for you have spent zillions and gotten nothing save ongoing and endless filings and confusion. You have nothing to lose and EVERYTHING to gain. Get someone HERE to get on with this properly, for the costs will be CHEAP in any kind of comparison and it is time to give the adversary some real hard spots upon which to sit his fannies. I suggest you get Glenn right down here for a lengthy stay until YOU KNOW WHAT YOU ARE DOING—AND GO DO IT BECAUSE YOU HAVE AT LEAST 30 CASES JUST WAITING YOUR ATTENTION. THESE WILL PROBABLY BE SETTLED RIGHT AT PAPERWORK STAGE, BUT YOU HAVE GOOD CASES IN EVERY INSTANCE IF THE GOOD FOLK AT COURT WANT TO PURSUE TRIALS. THEY WON'T WANT TO, COUNT ON IT. BUT GET IT STARTED PRIOR TO SETTLEMENT.

Will I give Doris time off to attend this? Of course, it IS part of THE LESSONS. But you don't need her—you need Truth and proper procedures. You just have to read EVERYTHING from the opposite perception and even attend the very verbiage presented. You will always find the exact opposite meaning and even paperwork will reflect the "opposite reality". If "they", for instance, use capital letters for something on the paper—you use lower case and YOU WILL BE CORRECT for they have usurped all the laws and procedures in every instance.

If you have to go to subject matter—you have all the backup needed just in this last document from Abbott et al., offering three separate years instead of one accurate date! Topic probably, and unfortunately, will never be at issue. But, E.J., you need help—so GET IT. Work your way through this and, yes, I think Glenn and Bob can accomplish the paperwork format and back it up with Dave. In this manner—YOU ARE THE PLAINTIFF AND THAT GIVES GREAT ADVANTAGE IN EVERY INSTANCE.

Mr. Dixon also said weeks ago that he needed nothing more from the Institute or anyone around these parts—on tape for witnesses from France to Australia. He said that he and Mr. Leinthall were going forth and do seminars, raise money, and do wonders out there as of "that afternoon". Strange thing, however, we haven't heard a word from Leinthall and Gene only petitions for money because he is in such bad financial shape. Is there something WRONG with this picture?

We don't need meetings to share with you "out there" for you never had the benefit of meetings other than tapings anyway. Most of the ones here don't bother to hear the tapes or read the writings, so who exactly do we serve? We will simply go back to our original business and hold the game. You of the adversary go right ahead and destroy all you can—but you people with loans might well consider the continuing game of these people against YOUR BUSINESS. Banks are perfunctory organizations and take what they need or want without consideration to you or the adversary.

Mr. Dixon stated that he knew that none of our plans would bring in a cent, and there you have it—from an authority who never read a full writing OR THE PAPER. Well, perhaps he is right for I doubt that anything BROUGHT IN will serve his or your adversaries' pockets or bank accounts. We let anyone who demands same—lose or go without reward when they flow back unto us for our services.

Do we have anything going? Yes, bigger than ever you could have imagined. Legally? ALL THE WAY!

But, we have LEARNED that most do not want to serve truth, nation, or fellow-man. They want to serve themselves and destroy everything else coming along the pathway. They just want riches in their pockets and to hell with anything else. So be it. Sorting comes hard, but as surely as the morning Sun on a beautiful day.

Will "Ekkers" have anything? Of course NOT! It is now set forth by the adversaries to attach anything and everything they would ever have. So, the parties around them may well have much—BUT THEY WILL HAVE NOTHING—EVER AGAIN. And with the assaults by the thieves and robbers against the Institute—neither can it have anything save massive debts! IT HAS MASSIVE DEBTS AND PERHAPS FORT, ABBOTT, HORTON, HORN, GREEN AND TUNE WOULD LIKE TO SIMPLY PAY OFF THOSE DEBTS? I THINK IT SUITABLE IN EVERY MEASURE. Can't be done? Perish the thought; I am not stupid, but the clones serving the Green Brigade seem to be as they can't seem to see or understand a single thing about business or its structures. And people, a "loan" is never an "investment" simply because you want to change the name on your whim. You also must realize, whether or not you LIKE IT, corporate laws hold at the assaulting of any corporation(s). If you didn't understand it when Mr. Green explained it to you—go look again at HIS PLAN. You are functioning under the requirements of Mr. Green WHILE HE WAS AN OFFICER AND DIRECTOR OF THE PHOENIX INSTITUTE.

Mr. Green not only thinks of you as stupid but tells "everybody" that you are so. Fine, if that is the kind of goodly leader you want—you got it. He turns around and tells everybody (his favorite term) that he has plans all in place to use YOUR MONEY for development and gold roll-overs in his offshore network. Fine again—he certainly has buried his assets in Desirée's coffers and offshore, and buried gold in his backyard after thieving it from you in the first place. If you had a loan with the Institute, then HE STOLE THE GOLD DIRECTLY FROM YOU! Did he share THAT gold with you? No, after he was required by law to turn it over to the court (after being ordered to dig it up from his backyard). He CLAIMED he just planned to use it to pay off some debts, etc. DID HE? NOT A CENTAVO!

Why am I speaking about this today? Because we don't need any more of this rubbish and are hereby changing our attitudes and work to suit what IS instead of trying more to somehow salvage your life-source. Everybody is going to do whatever they are going to do anyway and that is fine with us. We are NOT YOUR KEEPERS; we are your friends and family in service to God and none other. If you have smut in your grain bins—so be it; how much of the grain did YOU put into the bins in the first place? And, moreover, the bins reside on Mr. Turner's farm property so, in afterthought, Mr. Turner has quite a lot of Spelt, Adzuki beans, and lentils, plus some nice granaries. His property has been enhanced greatly and note I said: "HIS PROPERTY HAS..."

Anyone around here sees the ongoing guff and notes the Goff being almost empty of goodly souls. Others can realize that man is imperfect and unable to physically struggle against all odds. Who needs it? Well, we do NOT.

We don't have any such thing as even resembling a "cult" here so we have nothing to KEEP GOING. We see no need for martyrs or suiciding. You who are continuing in your association, thank you, for neither are we "going" anywhere. We simply are going to STOP struggling against the wind.

You who have stayed in touch, please continue to do so—for your rewards have only just begun to start. However, you who would rush to this place to find work and placement—you must now confront the fact that there will be nothing here of that nature other than large companies doing their business ventures. If spiritual guidance is all you want—fine, but you will find groups, of which there are none here, who may better fill your need for participation, or certainly, communal fulfillment. And to you who may feel shocked and bewildered: the cup has to be emptied before it can be filled with the good wine of the harvest. This is NOT, nor never has it been, a "destination" for "seekers" and never has it been expressed otherwise.

Will we find a way to save the world? No, don't intend any such undertaking. We will manage to do the best we can with what has come upon us, measure out the results to the best of our ability, again, against all odds—and keep on keeping on. We fight no government or entity. If man desires TRUTH, he shall now find it—but he will be responsible for self-finding and understanding. If you come to this place, it will be as a friend who simply wishes to see us and share a bit of tea and conversation. As of now there are no jobs to be offered, no communal anything to be shared, and no focus on anything which is now here—although structuring of other things may well come later. Ekkers volunteered for service but THEY DID NOT OFFER TO LEAD ANYTHING OR SAVE ANYTHING. Mr. Green was going to do wonders but Ekkers never planned to do anything save write and serve MY NEEDS. And that, not as UFO buffs, but as helpers for the Hosts of God.

And what of the paper crew? Well, the paper manages to continue in publication with incredible insightful writings and participation by totally adept writers and receivers. We will keep it going as long as is possible, but remember that subscriptions are low and never cover more than half the costs—so we may well have to have "half" the papers. I can't control that, but I WILL NO LONGER ASK SUCH BLOOD-LETTING FROM MY PEOPLE AND WILL CONTINUE TO PROTECT WHAT HAS ALREADY BEEN PLACED FOR OUR USE.

Yes, we may well need some help in the now-closing legal cases so that we can regain some of the costs. We have incredibly good cases already predetermined as the settlements now get OUT of open court and into "save your butts" time for attorneys and businesses who have managed to manipulate and bury the truth to protect the guilty. We won't need more than that so help will be appreciated.

We must now, however, go OUTSIDE the loop of legal eagles of "look how hard I seem to have tried" while the cases have never neared settling nor any attorney held responsible, even to paralegals. It is OVER NOW. We will come back on procedural misrepresentations and find out if there is a hope of change in the judicial system—but on those arguments and nothing more—right after the closure of a couple of circumstances hanging in the wind.

I am actually writing this today in order to save Dharma's lungs tomorrow. We have a visitor who has come a distance to share with us and we must make it clear that there is nothing here with which to come or to make life changes in order to "join" someone or some-thing. E.J., since Doris is still contagious I ask that she come only at the last minute, take up the meeting immediately—so no one is huggy-kissy lest they feel pretty intensely ill for several weeks. Don't think, any one of you, that somehow YOU are not vulnerable. YOU ARE VULNERABLE AND UNLESS YOU HAVE EXCELLENT HEALTH CARE BENEFITS, I SUGGEST YOU NOT PUSH THIS RIVER.

ask that we have the meeting and get her away so that anyone who didn't understand the circumstances is not put into jeopardy by her presence.

Does this mean that we will stop having meetings? No, it does NOT. We may well even begin to have more meetings, but certainly not until health is better able to withstand the speaking without setback. We have several other receivers who can do as good a job and it is perhaps time we begin to ask their participation as well. You think you have one scrawny compatriot "out there somewhere"? No, you have an ARMY of teachers and guides, brothers and those awaiting your needs. And, yes, as we do our work in the vineyards, your special needs will be top-most on our support ladder. Just keep doing your fine work and God's rewards will be in abundant measure. Life has happened while we tried other plans so that MANY could be included, but those plans have been attacked, broken, and nullified by the attackers and bewitchers and that is called LIFE. Fine, let them go their way for when they no longer have our bodies upon which to serve or eat—there is nothing for them to continue in their silly little piddling annoyances. Don't you see that if "those terrible Ekkers" are removed from the equation—there is nothing left for any of the Green Brigade to concern about? Therefore, we will, for all practical living purposes, TAKE AWAY THE EKKERS and go back to our original services as writer, speaker and "mind your own business" venturers.

You who have shared for this decade of intensive lessons will have ever more strength and realization as things unfold and, actually, you see nothing in change in your daily perceptions. We just don't need any more of the adversarial trashing, I repeat. They have sold out to the Devil; let them wallow in that realization and let's see just how MUCH they get from their leaders and abusers. What do you expect to get from the bloodless ones, and whose blood has fed the parasites of the Green Bunch? Well, YOU HAVE—not Ekkers—YOU WHO CLAIM THEIR SERVICES TO YOU TO DESTROY OTHERS' PROPERTY AND WORK. Horton and Abbott, and Green now claim to be bankrupt, so that means YOU HAVE PROVIDED THEM WITH WHATEVER THEY HAVE HAD UPON WHICH TO CONTINUE THE EATING WHILE BAD JUDICIAL ACTIONS HAVE BEEN ENDLESS. May you always get exactly what you deserve, but you will come to realize YOUR ENEMIES, for God never breaks HIS word unless you change the game.

Will you or anyone ever find JUSTICE in the courts? Are you kidding? Does a bear barf in the woods? JUSTICE has become a thing only of GOD. And you can depend on your JUST REWARDS FROM GOD! EVERY TIME!!

TELEPHONE HOTLINE

This is a service for our dedicated readers. Today's Watch telephone hotline carries the latest news and comments from Commander Hatonn's most recent writings. This is our way of keeping you informed about fast-breaking news and events.

The message machine will answer after 2 rings if there are any new messages for that day, and after 4 rings if not. Thus daily callers can hang up after 2 rings and save toll charges if no new message has been recorded. If the hotline does not answer your call then that means that there is currently no hotline message.
