What Happened In Arizona On December 7, 1998? Clues Both Above & Below Ground

1/2/99 RAY BILGER

Recently, on an unknown night-time radio talk-show on KDWN-AM out of Las Vegas, the host was heard to say that "the Internet will do for communications what the jet airliner did for transportation." That may be a bit of an understatement when we realize the magnitude and the diversity of the information available on the Internet. Indeed, Dr. Al Overholt has said that the information he can now get in just one day on the Internet would have taken him six years to acquire only a few short years ago.

Perhaps you may recall when Vice President Al Gore was actively promoting the Internet by calling it the "information super-highway". Little did he or the One-World Controllers know at the time that the Internet would play such a pivotal role in turning around the mess they have created. The Internet is contributing, in ways that we may not have realized before, in helping humanity to network together to overcome the efforts that have been made to divide and conquer us; and instead it allows us the opportunity to awaken to what is really happening in the world (if we can sift through the distractions).

No sooner had we reached and passed December the 7th than there were postings on the Internet to the general effect that, "Well, December the 7th has come and gone and nothing has happened!" Oh, really?

BANK REGULATORS ANNOYED OVER "KNOW YOUR CUSTOMER" OUTCRY

From the INTERNET, 1/2/99: [quoting]

Bank Regulators Annoyed

Federal Reserve representative is clearly miffed about all the Internet-generated letters of objection to his "Know Your Customer" regulation.

The following excerpt is from American Banker—The Financial Services Daily.

In it, regulators are quoted as saying that, in response to public outcry, they may change some of the terminology in their proposed regulations—presumably to make them "sound" less ominous. Words such as "profiling" may be eliminated, but the general attitude appears to be one of resolute intent to leave the substantive portions of the bank-snooping requirements unchanged.

The remarks made by a Mr. Richard A. Small, assistant director at the Federal Reserve Board (who drafted the know-your-customer proposal), reflect a tone of general disdain for the ignorant, "hyped up" public whose "shoot-from-the-hip" objections reflect a "total lack of understanding of the regulations" and have so far yielded not one single "substantive comment".

Thanks to Declan for forwarding along this important information along to us. —Scott [End quoting]

We can tell by the above response that they are going to do their best to pull this over on us because they are so adamant about what they are doing and insist we are a bunch of conspiracy-nuts when they are the worst ever on this planet. Please, Please respond to these gangsters!!

(Original Message)

RE: "Bank regulators annoyed over 'Know Your Customer' outcry"

Seems to me that if the purpose of a comment period is to find out what Americans think of a proposed regulation, then regulators should be sensitive to what the public thinks. That means not casually dismissing criticisms as the stuff of "conspiracies"—"It has become a big government conspiracy to learn everything you do with your money and what you eat for breakfast. That is not what we intended."

I've attached at the end the contact info to file comments. —Declan

BANKS TIGHTENING ON WITHDRAWALS ALREADY!

From FREE AMERICAN NEWSMAGAZINE, Jan. 1999: [quoting]

Because this policy has not yet been put into place, Y2KNEWSWIRE urges you to take out all the cash you might need for y2k right now, before the profiling is put in place. It looks like 1998 may be your last chance to access your OWN money without being interrogated for doing so. Banks are getting aggressive and the FDIC is now threatening to criminalize you if you take out cash after this profiling policy goes into place, so grab your money now while it's still legal. This is no longer just a name-calling game. The FDIC has upped the ante.

WE'RE AMAZED

We've been reporting on the banking industry for quite some time now. We knew they would begin the name-calling in an attempt to shame people into leaving their money in the banks. That began just last week when they started calling people "fools" for taking their money out. We even predicted the name-calling would heat up to where customers wanting their own money would be called "traitors". But we never thought the federal government would require the "monitoring" of the private banking activity of every person in the United States. This has gone too far.

The "good" news is that if enough people scream loudly enough about this, it won't be enacted right away. Your effort can make a difference.

TELL THE FDIC THIS IS UNAMERICAN

Tell the FDIC how much you dislike this policy, and forward this e-mail to your friends. The FDIC e-mail is: <Feldman.comments@fdic.gov> and the person in charge is Robert Feldman. Tell Mr. Feldman we live in America, not in Nazi Germany circa 1939. As Americans, we want our privacy, and we think government-monitored "profiling" of private banking behavior is outrageous. The FDIC needs to stop treating everybody like criminals and start treating us like valued customers. [End quoting]

It looks like we still have a very short time in which to make our voices heard. Please, please don't sit back and expect someone to do it for you!!

MORE INTERNET CONTROL?

From the INTERNET, 1/6/99: [quoting]

Ex-spooks take over Internet domain name registration

The press recently reported that the National Science Foundation has turned over Internet Domain Name registration to Network Solutions, Inc. (NSI) of Herndon, VA. The press failed to note some interesting connections.

NSI was purchased in May by Scientific Applications International Corporation (SAIC) of San Diego. SAIC is a $2-billion company indicted by the Justice Department on ten felony counts for fraud in managing a Superfund toxic cleanup site (SAIC pleaded guilty) and sued by the Justice Department for civil fraud on an F-15 fighter contract.

SAIC's board members include Admiral Bobby Inman, former NSA head and deputy director of the CIA; Melvin Laird, Nixon's defense secretary; and retired General Max Thurman, commander of the Panama Invasion.

Recently departed board members include Robert Gates, former CIA director; William Perry, current Secretary of Defense; and John Deutch, the current CIA director. Current SAIC government contracts include re-engineering information systems at the Pentagon, automation of the FBI's computerized fingerprint identification system, and building a national criminal history information system. [End quoting]

Well, now a bunch of ex-government employees and thieves have control of anybody being able to get an address on the net.

STORM SPARKS MAJOR NUCLEAR ALERT AT PLANT

From the INTERNET, <http://www.earthchangesTV.com>, 12/30/98: [quoting]

A FULL-SCALE emergency was declared at a Scots nuclear station when fierce winds knocked out the power to cool its reactors.

Last night, the plant remained shut after bosses pressed the alarm button on Sunday. They couldn't restart the back-up generators, vital to keep the reactors' two cores from overheating.

Frightened staff were called from their homes and battled for five hours to manually try to reset the safety systems before the cores went "critical". A boss was also rushed under police escort to Hunterston B, in Ayrshire, it was claimed. The astonishing situation—sparking fears of a Chernobyl-type reactor meltdown—happened after storms took out the national grid twice in the space of 12 hours. The first time—at 11pm on Saturday—the emergency back-up generators in the nuclear plant switched on automatically. But there were not enough staff on duty to manually reset them before the grid went down a second time at 11am on Sunday—leaving plant bosses helpless.

An investigation is being carried out by the Nuclear Installations Inspectorate. A spokeswoman said last night: "Two of our inspectors were called in as soon as the alarm was raised on Sunday and our investigations continue.

"There was no power to the system that cools the reactor for a number of hours and we do consider this a serious incident." It's a major embarrassment for Scottish Nuclear, who claim their safety systems cover all eventualities. [End quoting]

This is the most suspicious explanation we've seen in a long time. The only thing we can be sure about is that nuclear plants are dangerously susceptible to serious problems—despite any backup systems which may look good on paper.

"A VAST DELUSION OF DENIAL ABOUT CANCER"

From the INTERNET, <para-discuss@tje.net>, 1/5/99: [quoting]

RACHEL'S ENVIRONMENT & HEALTH WEEKLY #631, Fax (410) 263-8944; E-mail: <erf@rachel.org>

The National Cancer Institute (NCI) announced in March that the incidence of cancer (all types combined) decreased during the period 1990-1997 at an annual rate of 0.7%. The cancer death rate (all types combined) also declined during the period, NCI said. This was the first multi-year decline in cancer rates ever reported.

The NCI's upbeat report said incidence rates declined for both males and females and for most ethnic groups. Two exceptions to the trend were Black males and Asian and Pacific Islander females; in these two groups, the incidence of cancers (of all types) continued to increase.

Unfortunately all this good news was thrown into question by a study published in the JOURNAL OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION in October, showing that more than 40% of cancers are never diagnosed among people who die in hospitals. Thus, many cancers are never counted in the nation's cancer statistics.

The study, of 1105 autopsies (654 men and 451 women) over a 10-year period, found 250 malignant cancers in the 1105 cadavers but 103 of the 250 cancers (41%) had not been diagnosed prior to autopsy. Furthermore, of the 103 undiagnosed cancers, 57 (or 55%) were the immediate cause of death, so cancer incidence and cancer deaths are both seriously under-reported. The average age of the 1105 cadavers was 48.3 years; the average age of the people who died with an undiagnosed malignancy was 54.3 years.

This study examined autopsies completed during the period 1986-1996 at the Medical Center at New Orleans, a major teaching hospital for medical students at Tulane and Louisiana State universities.

Importantly, the study pointed out that autopsy rates have declined, nationwide, from an average of 50% in the mid-1960s to about 10% today in teaching hospitals and 5% in community hospitals. The "autopsy rate" means the percentage of people dying in a hospital who are autopsied.

If we accept that the average autopsy rate in the U.S. is now somewhere between 10% and 5% (say, 7.5%), then we can calculate that the autopsy rate has declined at an annual rate of 5.2 percent per year for the past 35 years. Since autopsies are needed to discover 40% of the cancers in those who die in hospitals, it seems entirely possible that the decline in the autopsy rate completely explains the recently-reported declines in both cancer incidence and cancer deaths in the U.S. Indeed, one might legitimately ask whether U.S. cancer rates are, in actual fact, continuing to climb steadily, with the trends hidden by misdiagnosis and the absence of autopsies. [End quoting]

I venture to say any discerning person knows that cancer is far more prevalent today than 10 years ago. Most everyone today is touched by friends or relatives who have or are being treated for cancer. Don't believe these massive lies. The crooks are trying to keep us from noticing their mass killing plans and their effects.

U.S. OFFICIALS COURT HEIR TO IRAQI THRONE

From THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 1/3/99: [quoting]

UNITED NATIONS—U.S. officials are casting their nets wide to find a credible opposition leader or perhaps a figurehead who might lead Iraq after Saddam Hussein, even meeting with a man who would be king.

During the U.S. and British bombing of Iraq, State Department and Pentagon officials met with Sharif Ali bin al-Hussein, the 42-year-old heir to the throne of a modern Iraqi monarchy that ended 40 years ago.

Ali, who leads the Constitutional Monarchy Movement, survived a revolution in 1958 that toppled his cousin, the last king, Faisal II. The king was killed, along with the crown prince, Abdullah. Ali, then 2 years old, was taken out of Iraq by his parents, both of whom, also were related to the royal families of Saudi Arabia and Jordan.

Ali's grandfather, the emir of Mecca, was the uncle of Iraq's first modern king, Faisal I, who had been handed the throne of Iraq by the British in 1921—Britain set about establishing a parliamentary system in Iraq and decided to crown it with a constitutional monarchy.

Ali, who lives in London, commands only a small movement. But he thinks the idea of a constitutional monarchy still has resonance in Iraq.

"The Iraqi monarchy would be a symbol around which all parts of Iraq would be able to rally because we're not based on any single constituency, nor are we a political party," Ali said recently. "What we look forward to is establishing democratic institutions that would guarantee that all players in politics would be able to participate as they wish." [End quoting]

Isn't this pathetic? Some more reason for the world to hate us and take any means to stop us, since we-the-people fail to stop these bastard rulers of the U.S.

OIL PRICES SURGE

From THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 12/17/98: [quoting]

Crude oil surged in after-hours trading on the New York Mercantile Exchange, as the United States launched a military strike against Iraq. Crude oil for January delivery rose as much as 30 cents, or 2.4 percent, to $12.62 a barrel on the New York Mercantile Exchange's Access trading system in the minutes after the attack began. Crude rose 7 percent during the trading day and has climbed 16 percent so far this week. Ministers from oil exporting countries met in Madrid Wednesday to discuss the next steps. [End quoting]

Well, the "elite" do believe in "killing two birds with one stone"—in this case a few hundred bombs and missiles! (Protect Clinton and gouge us with an oil-price increase.)

When there is a glut of oil they are getting away with this farce to raise prices again. Will we ever WAKE UP?

GLITCH GIVES $4.4 BILLION TO SOCIAL SECURITY

From THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 12/22/98: [quoting]

A computer glitch has resulted in Social Security's reserve account earning higher interest than it should be, an error that is gaining the retirement program billions of extra dollars from the federal treasury.

In a letter to key members of Congress last week, Treasury Secretary Robert Rubin said a fix is in the works. The correction, he said, won't take away money already unintentionally credited to Social Security—along with several other government programs similarly affected. But it would stop additional overpayments in the future.

"The existing balances of the trust funds, such as Social Security, will not be affected," Rubin wrote in the Dec. 18 letter.

Rubin's announcement came as lawmakers and Clinton administration officials are looking for a way to make up for a cash shortfall expected to face Social Security in 2032.

Treasury officials said the amount of money—an estimated $4.4 billion sounds like a lot, but isn't enough to make a significant difference in the program's long-term outlook. [End quoting]

If you believe this piece of trash I've still got that bridge for sale! Let's reason here a little: Why are they worried about 31 years from now when they know they'll not be around to gain any benefit from this?? How about if they get more money from you now they'll have more money of yours NOW to steal? Always remember they do not think of you when they pass laws or change them—only how it benefits them. KEEP THE PRESSURE ON THE GANGSTERS!

CHECKS IN THE MAIL

From THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 1/2/99: [quoting]

Today was a worrisome date for 32 million Americans, the day the government was to eliminate paper checks for federal benefit recipients.

Not to worry. The check is in the mail.

The federal Debt Collection Improvement Act, passed two years ago when balancing the budget preoccupied Congress, set today as the day when all benefit, payments were to be made through direct deposit.

Stung by complaints, the Treasury Department changed direction.

"It's a date without real significance," said Don Hammond, the Treasury Department's fiscal Secretary. "Nothing is going to happen except the regulation is in effect. Recipients won't see any changes." [End quoting]

And we still think we don't have any power to change things. They always will give if we apply enough pressure—remember the crooks are only 2% or less of the population, so don't give up!

A NOAH'S FLOOD COMING?

Have you ever heard of a place getting 31 inches of rain in 9 hours? I keep thinking how can it get worse—just give it time. This tops the record for the United States of anything I've heard of previously. As though this wasn't bad enough they had a bad tornado also.

This took place somewhere in Florida, according to the news item. Does this sound natural to you?

IS 2000 A LEAP YEAR??

Excerpted from the INTERNET, World Of The Strange, <the-strange-list-reply@prodigy.com>, 12/28/98: [quoting]

....Another is the leap-year problem (which 2000 is, but 1900 wasn't). A standard method of calculating a leap year is to divide the year by four—if it's a whole number, it's a leap year. There is a 'century clause' though—if the year is also divisible by 100, then it's not a leap year. Guess what? 2000 is our first 'exception to the exception', being divisible by 400 means that the 'century clause' does not apply—and not a lot of programs know that. Finally, 2000 starts with a Saturday—1900 didn't. Time locks? Ooops [Not only the date but the day is off.] [End quoting]

This article is referring to y2k problems.

ELIZABETH CLARE PROPHET RETIRES

Excerpted from THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 1/3/99: [quoting]

Corwin Springs, Mont.—Elizabeth Clare Prophet has announced she will retire as spiritual leader of the Church Universal and Triumphant, a New Age sect headquartered on a sprawling ranch next to Yellowstone National Park.

Prophet, diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease in November, said she will retire sometime this summer to deal with health concerns and to spend more time with her family, including a 4-year-old son.

The woman known as "Mother" to her followers said she will be 60 in April. She stepped down as church president in 1996. [End quoting]

She certainly has had an eventful life.

RUBBLE OF THE RUBLE

From THE MODESTO BEE, 1/1/99: [quoting]

The Russian government on Thursday pinned a number to the weakening ruble, announcing that its value had dropped almost 70 percent over the last four months in relation to the U.S. dollar. In another hit on the pocketbook, annual inflation, which appeared under control until the financial problems, reached 84.4 percent in 1998, the government reported. [End quoting]

Thanks to Soros and his gangsters—including the queen of England.

LIBYA CLAMPS DOWN

From THE MODESTO BEE, 1/1/99: [quoting]

Libya on Thursday ordered all foreign airlines to close their offices in the country, Egypt's official news agency reported. Government officials said the closure would last until the United States and Britain allow the World Court to settle the dispute arising from the indictment of two Libyans charged with blowing up a Pan Am airliner, the Middle East News Agency reported from the Libyan capital, Tripoli. U.N. sanctions prohibit foreign flights into Libya, but airline offices in Tripoli have been selling tickets to travelers who leave Libya by road and then take flights from neighboring countries. [End quoting]

The tide is turning for the worst for the U.S. all over the world.

CHICKEN SOUP AND THE "JEWISH" CONSPIRACY

Excerpted from FRANK LAMPLEY'S NEWSLETTER, 1998: [quoting]

....The tobacco companies are being asked for $570 billion to pay for the damage they have done. Since the drug companies have caused 2000 times that amount of health problems, why are we not asking them for 2000 times $570 billion, or $1,140,000,000,000,000.00? This would abolish ALL taxes for another 200 years, with hundreds of trillions of dollars left over for educational programs, homeless people, and assistance to single parents, etc., etc. Note that most antibiotics are in fact not made in the US, and also that the nation of Israel gets the lion's [part missing]...

...some of these take what they call "chicken soup" when they are sick, instead of antibiotics. In my community, "chicken soup" is referred to as "Jewish Penicillin". Israelis, by the way, don't use antibiotics.

I used to work at a place that made kosher "chicken soup"; the only chicken in the building was what I took to work in my lunch. There was NO chicken in the "chicken soup". It was my job to fill the mixing vat, and when the supervisor told me to put in 6 bags of cayenne pepper, 3 bags of echinacea, and 1 bag of goldenseal with some other herbs and flavoring, I at first thought it was a trick to rip somebody off by making it taste like chicken soup without adding any actual chicken.

Years later, while studying and reading how to heal the body through natural means, I learned these herbs were helpful in feeding the immune system and persuading the body to cure contagious diseases and infections without the use of antibiotics. That was my rude awakening, when I realized they were recommending the rest of us take antibiotics, which would eventually wipe out an entire Christian civilization, while they took the herbal cure. They kept it a secret from us by calling it "chicken soup".

When I found out about all this, I discovered there is another way to fight disease: by feeding the immune system. I picked up where they left off, did 20,000 to 30,000 feeding experiments over a 20-year period, and developed a product 20 to 50 times better than that "chicken soup", and 1000 times better than antibiotics. This product completely, totally made antibiotics obsolete forever. Whereupon an Israeli agent named David Kessler (then head of the FDA) sent four carloads of armed robbers with sawed-off shotguns to my research farm. They robbed my employees at gunpoint, stole my vitamins, and told the newspapers they'd had a "drug raid". Their claim that my vitamins were drugs was based solely on what I said about the vitamins, and had nothing at all to do with their chemical composition. Then the crooks had the audacity to turn around and sue me. THEY sued ME! And got a court order preventing me from telling anybody about the product that made antibiotics obsolete; without side effects, without a prescription, and at a fraction of the cost.

Instead of keeping it a secret, I wrote full-page ads telling my customers what had happened. Some 50,000 of my customers and their friends wrote to their Congress-people and Senators. Thanks to your help, Congressional investigators got warrants for the arrest of some of the FDA officials and subpoenaed Israeli agent David Kessler to testify before their investigating committee. Rather than testify before Congress, David Kessler (then head of the FDA) resigned and fled the country, going to Israel. Rumors have it that after the session of Congress adjourned, Kessler returned and some crook in the White House appointed him to another job.

After the above-mentioned Congressional investigation, Congress passed a law forbidding the FDA or any other governmental agency from labeling a product a drug just because of what is said about the product. This kept the Gestapo quiet for a while, but when the government got wind that we are writing a book about it, they tried to harass, threaten, and intimidate me into keeping quiet. Today I got a notice in the mail from Federal Court, stating that my products are drugs based solely, again, on what I had to say about them and having nothing to do with their chemical composition. This completely ignores the fact that Congress had passed a law saying they could not do that. The worst case of Contempt of Congress I've ever heard of! It's a criminal conspiracy to deny me every right guaranteed me by law and the Constitution. It's a criminal conspiracy to put me out of business, and it's a criminal conspiracy to keep me from telling you about the conspiracy to rob and murder an entire Christian civilization by bankrupting our farmers and causing starvation, by closing our health food stores and chiropractors' offices, thereby forcing us to accept conventional medicine which is calculated to cause more illness to keep us coming back for treatments, until they get our money and take our lives. Before you start to say nobody could be that evil, remember this is the same organization, the same mentality, and in fact the same conspiracy responsible for the most evil act ever committed anywhere on the face of the Earth by any human or humans at any time in the entire history of the world: they murdered Jesus Christ, knowing full well he was the Son of God. And anybody who would murder Jesus Christ is capable of anything.

I remember when an Israeli agent named Adolf Hitler, and another Israeli agent named Joe Stalin, and another Israeli agent named Franklin D. Roosevelt, gathered around the cash register and sang Onward Christian Soldiers! while 40 million Christians murdered each other. I had already known about Hitler and Stalin; I caught on to Roosevelt when I learned there is a Franklin D. Roosevelt Jewish Cemetery that wouldn't sell you a burial plot, 6 feet of real estate, for a million dollars or any amount of money, unless you are Jewish. Do you think they'd name it after somebody who is not Jewish? Why is there no John F. Kennedy Jewish Cemetery?

Which brings us to the Holocaust. There was nothing published about the Holocaust until 1954. Your local library should have the old newspapers on microfilm; look for yourself. The first news story about the Holocaust was in 1954. Who kept it a secret, and why? Were those actually 6 million Jews buried there, or were those 6 million Christians? Do you really want to know the truth? Do you think you can handle the truth? I'll tell you the truth. Why do you think Israel is trying to prevent this book from being published?.....

Pray for Bill Clinton! Al Gore is the Antichrist!!

Written and published by Frank Lampley, 199 Springton Rd., Glenmoore, PA 19343; 610-942-7833 Permission granted to photocopy this letter, but not to reset type, so as to avoid error. [End quoting]

This man has a lot of interesting information in his newsletter. Very, very interesting about the chicken soup and makes a lot of logical sense since the Jews are always talking about their chicken soup.

Can you imagine?! They've been hyping chicken soup for our health and selling tons of it to us, when their chicken soup has no chicken in it. This is just a small sample of what they've been doing to us all along and laughing their heads off at us. IT'S WAKE-UP TIME!!

REPLACEMENT FOR RITALIN

From U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT, 1/11/99: [quoting]

For some reason Americans have focused on severely addicting and damaging drugs (amphetamine and its relative, Ritalin) as the solution for persistent problems in many boys and some girls—hyperactivity and inattention. This is despite the fact that thousands of practitioners report that a simple, noninvasive, nonaddicting, non-poisonous, not harmful training method works splendidly: biofeedback (reading and monitoring electricity from the head as well as temperature, skin resistance, heart rate, and muscle tension). An inexpensive, rapid, harmless training method fixes ADHD [Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder], permanently and without harm. No need for therapy, no need for poisons, no need for drugs. —George Von Hilsheimer, Ph.D. Maitland, Fla. [End quoting]

This push toward drugs over safer solutions is due to how the doctors are trained to think and act.

CHECK YOUR PET FOODS!

Excerpted from the INTERNET, <HEOT@onelist.com>, 12/29/98: [quoting] (Taken from Nexus magazine:)

Commercial pet food and stock feed contain a cocktail of dead domestic animals and deadly environmental toxins. Warning: these four short articles will make you rethink what you feed to your pets, and even what you and your family eat.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CATS AND DOGS

by Ann Martin

The pet food industry, a billion-dollar, unregulated operation, feeds on the garbage that otherwise would wind up in landfills or be transformed into fertilizer. The hidden ingredients in a can of commercial pet food may include roadkill and the rendered remains of cats and dogs. The pet food industry claims that its products constitute a "complete and balanced diet" but, in reality, commercial pet food is unfit for human or animal consumption.

"Vegetable protein", the mainstay of dry dog foods, includes ground yellow corn, wheat shorts and middlings, soybean meal, rice husks, peanut meal and peanut shells (identified as "cellulose" on pet food labels). These often are little more than the sweepings from milling room floors. Stripped of their oil, germ and bran, these "proteins" are deficient in essential fatty acids, fat-soluble vitamins and antioxidants. "Animal protein" in commercial pet foods can include diseased meat, roadkill, contaminated material from slaughterhouses, fecal matter, rendered cats and dogs and poultry feathers. The major source of animal protein comes from dead-stock removal operations that supply so-called dead, diseased, dying or disabled to "receiving plants" for hide, fat and meat removal. The meat (after being doused with charcoal and marked "unfit for human consumption") may then be sold for pet food.

Rendering plants process decomposing animal carcasses, large roadkill and euthanised dogs and cats into a dry protein product that is sold to the pet food industry. One small plant in Quebec, Ontario, renders 10 tons (22,000 pounds) of dogs and cats per week. The Quebec Ministry of Agriculture states that "the fur is not removed from dogs and cats" and that "dead animals are cooked together with viscera, bones and fat at 115° C (235° F)—for 20 minutes".

The US Food and Drug Administration's Center for Veterinary Medicine (CVM) is aware of the use of rendered dogs and cats in pet foods, but has stated: "CVM has not acted to specifically prohibit the rendering of pets.

However, that is not to say that the practice of using this material in pet food is condoned by the CVM."

In both the US and Canada, the pet food industry is virtually self-regulated. In the US, the Association of American Feed Control Officials (AAFCO) sets guidelines and definitions for animal feed, including pet foods. In Canada, the most prominent control is the "Labeling Act", simply requiring product labels to state the name and address of the manufacturer, the weight of the product and whether it is dog or cat food. The Canadian Veterinary Medical Association (CVMA) and the Pet Food Association of Canada (PFAC) are voluntary organizations that, for the most part, rely on the integrity of the companies they certify to assure that product ingredients do not fall below minimum standards.

The majority, 85 to 90 per cent, of the pet food sold in Canada is manufactured by US-based multinationals.

Under the terms of the US-Canada Free Trade Agreement, neither the CVMA nor PFAC exercises any control over the ingredients in cans of US pet food.

Pet food industry advertising promotes the idea that, to keep pets healthy, one must feed them commercially formulated pet foods. But such a diet contributes to cancer, skin problems, allergies, hypertension, kidney and liver failure, heart disease and dental problems. One more item should be added to pet food labels: a skull-and-crossbones insignia!

You really ought to do more research on this topic if you have pets because this is just a sampling of what you are doing to your pets with commercial foods. Imagine what the crooks are doing to OUR foods when they are getting away with this.

RADIOACTIVE TUMBLEWEEDS ON RISE AT NUCLEAR FACILITY

From THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 12/31/9: [quoting]

First, radioactive ants, flies and gnats were found at the Hanford nuclear complex. Now, a government report says the number of radioactive tumbleweeds found blowing around the site has increased dramatically. The Department of Energy found 20 contaminated tumbleweeds in the first six months of 1998, compared with 11 during all of 1995, an increase likely stemming from stepped-up efforts to search the area. Hanford stopped producing plutonium in the 1980s, but some areas remain highly radioactive. [End quoting]

Didn't we all believe the "elite" when they said nuclear energy was clean and cheap?

A CIVIL AUTHORITY HAS ORDERED TESTING OF TV

From the INTERNET, <<http://www.earthchangesTV.com>>, 1/4/98: [quoting]

Hi Folks, something just happened that I have NEVER seen before (3:10 PM PST). A warning came across all television channels of which sound was cut OFF. On some channels, the whole screen was shut down except for the message. The message reads as follows:

"A CIVIL AUTHORITY HAS ISSUED A REQUIRED MONTHLY TEST FOR THE FOLLOWING COUNTIES/AREAS: ALL WASHINGTON AT 3:05 PM ON JAN. 4, 1999 EFFECTIVE UNTIL 3:35 PM."

Could this be related to y2k and civil unrest, or is it more about earthquakes and volcanos. I will try to interview someone at the local CBS, NBC, ABC affiliates. Also I will contact the Emergency Management office.

Please report if this has happened in your area.

Sincerely, Mitch Battros, Producer—Earth Changes TV. [End quoting]

The crooks are just getting the system tuned-up and ready for action!

BOBBY'S CHRISTMAS DAY

From THE COMMUNICATION LINE, 12/22/95: [quoting]

Bobby's Christmas Story (author unknown)

Bobby was getting cold sitting out in his back yard in the snow. Bobby didn't wear boots; he didn't like them, and anyway he didn't own any. The thin sneakers he wore had a few holes in them and they did a poor job of keeping out the cold. Bobby had been in his back yard for about an hour already. And, try as he might, he could not come up with an idea for his mother's Christmas gift. He shook his head as he thought, "This is useless, even if I do come up with an idea, I don't have any money to spend."

Ever since his father had passed away three years ago, the family of five had struggled. It wasn't because his mother didn't care, or try, there just never seemed to be enough. She worked nights at the hospital, but the small wage that she was earning could only be stretched so far. What the family lacked in money and material things, they more than made up for in love and family unity. Bobby had two older and one younger sister, who ran the household in their mother's absence. All three of his sisters had already made beautiful gifts for their mother. Somehow it just wasn't fair. Here it was Christmas Eve already, and he had nothing. Wiping a tear from his eye, Bobby kicked the snow and started to walk down to the street where the shops and stores were. It wasn't easy being six without a father, especially when he needed a man to talk to.

Bobby walked from shop to shop, looking into each decorated window. Everything seemed so beautiful and so out of reach. It was starting to get dark and Bobby reluctantly turned to walk home when suddenly his eyes caught the glimmer of the setting Sun's rays reflecting off of something along the curb.

He reached down and discovered a shiny dime. Never before had anyone felt so wealthy as Bobby felt at that moment. As he held his new-found treasure, a warmth spread throughout his entire body and he walked into the first store he saw. His excitement quickly turned cold when salesperson after salesperson told him that he could not buy anything with only a dime. He saw a flower shop and went inside to wait in line.

When the shop owner asked if he could help him. Bobby presented the dime and asked if he could buy one flower for his mother's Christmas gift. The shop owner looked at Bobby and his ten-cent offering. Then he put his hand on Bobby's shoulder and said to him, "You just wait here and I'll see what I can do for you."

As Bobby waited, he looked at the beautiful flowers and even though he was a boy, he could see why mothers and girls liked flowers. The sound of the door closing as the last customer left, jolted Bobby back to reality. All alone in the shop, Bobby began to feel alone and afraid. Suddenly the shop owner came out and moved to the counter. There, before Bobby's eyes, lay twelve long stemmed, red roses, with leaves of green and tiny white flowers and all tied together with a big silver bow. Bobby's heart sank as the owner picked them up and placed them gently into a long white box. "That will be ten cents young man," the shop owner said reaching out his hand for the dime. Slowly, Bobby moved his hand to give the man his dime. Could this be true? No one else would give him a thing for his dime! Sensing the boy's reluctance, the shop owner added, "I just happened to have some roses on sale for ten cents a dozen. Would you like them?"

This time Bobby did not hesitate, and when the man placed the long box into his hands, he knew it was true. Walking out the door that the owner was holding for Bobby, he heard the shopkeeper say, "Merry Christmas, son."

As he returned inside, the shopkeeper's wife walked out. "Who were you talking to back there and where are the roses you were fixing?" Staring out the window, and blinking the tears from his own eyes, he replied, "A strange thing happened to me this morning. While I was setting up things to open the shop, I thought I heard a voice telling me to set aside a dozen of my best roses for a special gift. I wasn't sure at the time whether I had lost my mind but I set them aside anyway. Then just a few minutes ago, a little boy came into the shop and wanted to buy a flower for his mother with one small dime. When I looked at him, I saw myself, many years ago. I, too, was a poor boy with nothing to buy my mother a Christmas gift. A bearded man, whom I never knew, stopped me on the street and told me that he wanted to give me ten dollars. When I saw that little boy tonight, I knew who that voice was, and I put together a dozen of my very best roses." The shop owner and his wife hugged each other tightly, and as they stepped out into the bitter cold air, they somehow didn't feel cold at all. [End quoting]

What a lovely story. It's enough to put the warmth back in Christmas.

What Happened In Arizona On December 7, 1998?

Friday, December 4th, 1998, made it very clear that he never said there would be any kind of landing on Dec. 7th in Arizona. What he said was that if it doesn't appear as though anything happened on Dec. 7th, it doesn't mean that nothing happened, it only means that we didn't see it or hear about it because things are done in such secrecy when the secret government does an operation.

A 1961 report prepared by the Brookings Institution (a think-tank that is part of the Tavistock Network for mind-control programming) for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (N.A.S.A.) may shed important light on why we are not told the truth about what is really going on in space, and why we have been told for the past 37 years such things as that the Space Shuttle is being used to study the breeding of salamanders in space.

Anyone who has read my book The Untold History of America, and regular readers of CONTACT, should be well aware of the fact that the Space Shuttle has been used for, among other things, weather modification (weather control).

The 1961 Brookings Report (see inset on next page) was 300 pages (the full report is available from The Enterprise Mission, P.O. Box 1130, Placitas, New Mexico 87043, fax [505] 771-0820) and dealt with, among other things, the "implications of the discovery of extraterrestrial life". Page 216 of the report specifically discussed the "consequences of discovering intelligent extraterrestrial Life", and contemplated the question of "how might such information... be presented to or withheld from the public...". Richard Hoagland pointed out that the Brookings Report "seems to have played a crucial role in determining official N.A.S.A. policy (if not that of other branches of the Federal government)... for more than thirty years." So much for honest government agencies. We would be foolish to expect any truth from N.A.S.A.

Doesn't it seem a bit likely that since 1961 there have been numerous sightings, both civilian and military, of real extraterrestrial craft? But no matter how much these incidents are reported in the civilian sector there is never any official acknowledgement of them whatsoever from military sources, including from N.A.S.A. Is it that N.A.S.A. has never investigated or been made aware of any of these U.F.O. incidents, or are they just following the same old policy of denial since 1961? So much for your tax dollars paying for honest government!

Now that Dec. 7th has passed and Mr. Hoagland has been able to put some pieces of the puzzle together, what happened on Dec. 7th appears to be quite amazing to say the least.

To go back for just a moment, you will recall it was a man named Paul Dore, in England, who was the first person to reveal publicly that an interstellar signal was being picked up from the direction of the Pegasus constellation. Shortly after that Mr. Dore issued a statement on the Internet denying any knowledge about the E Q Pegasi signal.

Perhaps due in part to prompting by others, Richard Hoagland looked more closely at Paul Dore's statement and realized it was a very carefully and cleverly coded message. Further study and investigation has led Richard to believe that Mr. Dore is in fact a double agent with British Intelligence. Mr. Dore appears to be part of a growing number of others around the world who want to get the truth out to the public about what is really coming down on us quickly now. When he was essentially forced to make a retraction, he made it in such a way that others would hopefully be able to read between the lines and figure out what he really meant.

One of the more interesting things in Mr. Dore's statement was a reference to the weather: "I am a bit depressed now, though that could have as much to do with the weather." Richard believes this is "a deliberate and highly pointed weather reference which... clearly [means] something else."

Something that was not mentioned by this reporter in the first part of this story, found in the Nov. 17, 1998 issue of CONTACT at page 9, was the work being done by Reverse Speech analyst and pioneer David Oates. Mr. Oates has appeared on Art Bell's show many times, and although some believe that what he has done may only be coincidental, it does appear that there are some very revealing things to be found when normal speech is reversed. Sometimes there is more truth to be found in reverse speech than what the person speaking is letting on!

Mr. Oates has reversed Secretary of Defense William Cohen's August 20th, 1998 press briefing concerning the U.S. cruise missile "anti-terrorist strikes" made in Afghanistan and Sudan. One of the things Mr. Cohen said in reverse was "Bring in NASA with December Seven." This was a confirmation to Mr. Hoagland of information he had already received earlier from his own intelligence sources.

On the evening of November 21st, Mr. Oates discovered something he had originally missed in William Cohen's August 20th statement which was associated directly with the December 7th

by Ray Bilger

This book shatters the image that has traditionally been portrayed as American History, by exposing the high-level corruption that passes for business as usual in the Halls of Congress, the White House and throughout our entire Judicial system.

The Untold History of America* was written for the specific purpose of providing a high school textbook for all American schools that would educate students into the real nature of our national situation. With a clear understanding of things as they exist in reality, students will then be in a much better position to go on in life and do something to correct our current downhill course.

This book is for those who want to know why America is the way it is today, where we went wrong, who are the responsible parties, and what we can do to bring back the American Dream our forefathers and mothers fought so hard to establish and gave their very lives to defend.

Special emphasis is placed throughout the book on the original inhabitants of America, the Native Americans. They lived for thousands of years on this continent in complete harmony and balance with the Earth. With their help we may yet be able to turn things around so that our tomorrows will be something we will all be honored to pass on to the children who are our future generations.

The first 16 parts of Ray Bilger's ongoing series,

The Untold History Of America, have finally been compiled into a book, reference. Mr. Cohen clearly says in reverse speech, "Plan evil weather". This is another obvious mention of weather, but we had to wait until Dec. 6th to see what it meant.

Anyone who watched the weather over the weekend of Dec. 5th & 6th in Arizona witnessed an incredible snow storm apparently unprecedented in that State's history. Heavy snow and cold temperatures reached as far south as Phoenix.

One of the other things Mr. Hoagland revealed on Art's program on Dec. 4th was the location of the possible landing site in Arizona which had been given to him by his intelligence sources as far back as June of 1998. That location was a mountain called Turret Peak, which is in the exact geographical center of the State of Arizona. Richard stated that he felt it might not be safe to go there, but at the same time he felt Art's audience consisted of intelligent adults who could decide for themselves if they wished to be witnesses to events that might take place.

As it turned out, the snow storm on Dec. 6th was so heavy and blinding that it caused the closure of Interstate 17, the major north-south route through the middle of Arizona. The storm prevented people from doing much of anything outdoors and kept almost everyone away from Turret Peak.

On Sunday, December 6, 1998, this reporter was in communication with Lorraine Gersic in New River, Arizona (about 28 miles south of Turret Peak), and with Francis Emma Barwood in Dewey, Arizona (about 28 miles northwest of Turret Peak). Both of these contacts confirmed that there was a blinding snow storm on Sunday, December 6th, and that there was heavy fog.

Francis Barwood said the cloud base was at 4,000 feet. The elevation of Turret Peak is 5,840 feet. Given this set of facts it is quite conceivable that a secret operation could be conducted on Turret Peak, and no one below 4,000 feet elevation would know anything about it.

Also, prior to December 4th a NOTAMS (Notices To Airmen) was put out that can be verified by the F.A.A. (Federal Aviation Agency) in Phoenix. The content of the NOTAMS was that there would be temporary flight restrictions over a large area of the State of Arizona, from the ground surface on up, from Dec. 5th to the 7th.

On Tuesday night, Dec. 8th, Art Bell had Richard Hoagland

as a guest along with a man named Terry Major. Mr. Major happened to be on Turret Peak on the afternoon of Sunday, Dec. 6th, during the height of the snow storm, and he observed that there was bright, clear sky opened up in a large, perfect circle centered directly over the mountain.

Richard has obtained radar data of the weather from NEXRAD for the afternoon of Dec. 6th and it clearly shows a large, perfect circle in the snow storm half the size of the State of Arizona, centered over Turret Peak. At the same time this was recorded on radar an extremely powerful E.M.P. (electromagnetic pulse) in the form of an E.L.F. (Extremely Low Frequency) signal (in the range of the human brain waves) was generated from under Turret Peak, and it was felt as far away as the East Coast. This reporter felt it in Tehachapi, California.

Richard has also obtained data from H.A.A.R.P. (High-frequency Active Auroral Research Project) which shows that H.A.A.R.P. was very active on the afternoon of Sun., Dec. 6th. Richard believes that H.A.A.R.P. made the heavy snow storm by weather modification and that whatever made the E.M.P. beneath Turret Peak caused a large circle in the snow storm that was recorded on NEXRAD radar. Even Art Bell, who is usually reluctant to believe the weather is controlled, could not deny the volume of coincidental data Richard presented. Please check out Richard's website for the impressive details on this and more at www.enterprisemission.com.

The Dec. 16, 1997 issue of CONTACT ran a front-page article by this reporter about the situation in New River, Arizona, just 28 miles south of Turret Peak. The ongoing New River story involves the property of Chuck Byers, a former explosives contractor for the C.I.A. The B.A.T.F. seized Mr. Byers' property in Sept. of 1997, ostensibly because of a few dangerous chemicals, and has had heavy equipment and trucks going in and out of the property since then.

This reporter has just spoken with Mr. Byers in Arizona and he does not know why these heavy trucks would be going in and out of his property (he, as well as everyone else, is banned from the place—armed federal agents are ordered to shoot trespassers). He said he only had a few 50-gallon drums which would not require even one large truck to move them. He also says (and it is now common knowledge) that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has been involved in assessing the situation since the summer of 1998. Over 2.5 million dollars has been spent by the government agencies so far. For what?

The Army Corps of Engineers was involved with, among other things, the construction of the NORAD underground facility under Cheyenne Mountain in Wyoming in the 1960s. What are they doing on (or under) the Byers property? According to Byers, "To date (Dec. 9, 1998), the BATF/EPA/Corps of Engineers has wasted upwards of THREE MILLION DOLLARS (and counting) of U.S. taxpayers funds for a 'problem' that never existed in the first place."

The Army Corps of Engineers was supposedly brought in because the Corps is now involved in hazardous waste management, yet they know nothing about this and had to hire a consulting firm, Tetra Tech, to do the evaluation of Byers' property. It is of more important interest to note that the Corps is and has been involved in serious underground construction. For example, in 1985 the Corps issued a Report on Underground Construction Methods, and in 1987, Lloyd Duscha, Deputy Director of Engineering Construction for the Corps, gave a speech on construction of underground facilities. In his opening remarks he said, "several of the most interesting facilities that have been designed and constructed by the Corps are classified." Does the Byers property in New River fall into this category?

Byers claims to know nothing about any tunneling under the New River property. He still contends "the C.I.A. wants the contents of the bunker destroyed because there are things in there that would implicate the C.I.A. in the deaths of American Citizens." That may be only part of the reason for being there. Something still smells fishy about all this.

Richard Hoagland believes that there has been tunneling going on under the Byers property and that it may go all the way up to Turret Peak. Richard is of the opinion that something very powerful was being tested on Dec. 6th under Turret Peak and some inside intelligence sources wanted him to know about it.

Richard's research has led him to believe that there may be a lot more going on underground in Arizona than we are being told about. Regular readers of CONTACT know that there is a lot going on underground practically everywhere. The August 5, 1997 issue of CONTACT had an important article (with pictures) of secret underground bases. The March 5, 1996 issue of CONTACT, and the August 11, 1998 issue, had articles about ancient underground caverns under the Grand Canyon in northern Arizona. And the Dec. 22, 1998 issue of CONTACT had an article about WingMakers, which involves a series of ancient underground chambers in New Mexico with incredible artifacts and futuristic technology and information.

It appears that there may be a vast ancient underground complex covering a large area of the American Southwest. It is a known historical fact that the city of Phoenix is built on top of an ancient city that was occupied from 700 A.D. to 1400 A.D. Mr. Rob Meyer of Sedona, Arizona has put together some interesting information about things under Arizona and he puts it out on the Internet through his e-mail address robmeyer@sedona.net. It is rumored there is a large ancient underground complex that runs from the Andes Mountains in South America all the way up to Canada.

An Apache Elder related that his people would enter the underground near Boynton (near Cottonwood, Arizona—not far from Sedona) and ride for about five days and come out near Bisbee, Arizona on the border with Mexico. The Apache said that when he was young, he was warned "NEVER to go into any of the side tunnels along the way". He said that one time he stopped near one and he could "hear way off in the distance a sound like machines".

Richard Hoagland believes that the Phoenix area may be sitting on top of an ancient city that goes back 200,000 to 300,000 years—a time period when there may have been an active civilization on Mars in the region of Cydonia. He notes the similarity of the name Sedona and feels there is some connection. It is the Cydonia region where a face and pyramids and other non-natural structures have been observed on Mars.

It does seem quite possible that there might be an ancient city under Phoenix. There is a series of books titled Life and Teaching of the Masters of the Far East, in five volumes, by Baird T. Spalding (DeVorss & Co. Publishers, Marina Del Rey, California, phone [323] 870-7478) which discusses Mr. Spalding's extensive journeys through the Far East where he was shown incredible things by spiritual Masters.

Mr. Spalding was taken to an area in the Gobi Desert in Mongolia (see Vol. II) to visit three ancient cities that were reached by digging down about 90 feet below the Earth's surface. A direct descendant of the inhabitants of one of the cities stated that they were populated 230,000 years ago and "it was quite common to find men and women thousands of years old." They did not have rulers. "All governing was entrusted to advisory bodies selected by the people themselves... Each person lived by the universal laws. There were no soldiers, paupers or beggars." This information has been handed down for the past 75,000 years that he knows of.

Also, there is information on the Internet about a secret underground United Nations military base under Arizona. Check out www.nebonet.com/headhome/dadmisc/sedona.htm.

In addition, Native Americans in Arizona have long had contact with visitors from outer space, including from the Pleiades! Lorraine Gersic heard a Native American girl from northern Arizona discussing the subject, who said the Indians see the (space) craft all the time.

A Native American named Speaking Wind just spoke on Art Bell's radio program on Dec. 9, 1998. He discussed Earth Changes and spoke extensively on H.A.A.R.P. and weather control. Thirteen days later, on Dec. 22nd, he was found dead from a "heart attack".(??) Was he intentionally deaded for saying too much?

On Wednesday night, Dec. 30, 1998, Art did a show with Richard Hoagland and two other guests who thoroughly chastised what Mr. Hoagland is doing and saying. Richard was called a liar, and worse. It appears unmistakable that he is on to something that the Elite do not want you and I to know about, AT ANY COST!

Art also read a fax from a scientist, who wished to remain anonymous, who has appeared on the show before. This man, a personal friend of Mr. Hoagland, has been put on notice that if he speaks any further about weather control or things that are about to come down on the people in the very near future, HE WILL BE DEAD WITHIN 48 HOURS! The man said in the fax that he agreed with Richard and went on to say, "It's this simple—if I wish to live for even 48 hours, I cannot go into that [weather control] or other things... Nothing you or I or anyone else can do can change what's coming down now." Could this be Tom Bearden, who appeared on Art's show on September 21, 1998? Check the website for a very enlightening article by Tom on "Scalar Electromagnetics and Weather Control", at www.tricountyi.net/~randerse/weather.htm. Perhaps exposure can change those evil plans.

Remember, Dr. Peter Beter, Intelligence Specialist, was finally killed on March 14, 1987, because he would not shut-up regarding his extensive knowledge about the ongoing U.S. and Russian weather wars (see The Untold History of America, page 115).

Phoenix definitely appears to be a special place that has some very significant meaning with, and connection to, the concept of the Phoenix rising from the ashes.

Commander Hatonn said at a meeting on July 23, 1998 that "The Phoenix Project, as we recognize it, is this time in historical evolution, if you will, where the Phoenix Bird or that which has basically disintegrated into the ashes of a society, or a thing, begins to rebirth itself. Up from the ashes comes the Phoenix, which is the symbol of the highest bird of the Bird Tribes of God—the Universal Man of God. And the symbol of the Phoenix birthing itself from its own ashes is the point."

What does all of this mean? Must we experience some measure of destruction for the people to wake up enough for the Kingdom of God to be rebirthed on Earth? Or will we wake up sooner and change the script? We are the ones who must figure out the cosmic play we are in, and much more will be revealed to all of us in this important year of 1999. Discernment will be a great virtue, as deceiving us is the name of the game of the Elite rulers of the New World Order. Stay tuned!

Note To Our Readers

As you all know, CONTACT has had to reduce its size (number of pages) in recent months in order to remain financially balanced. According to the feedback of you readers, this size works well. You are thankful to be able to finally "get through" the paper in a week, before the next one arrives, and you appreciate the balanced presentation of different materials.

Where the smaller paper size does not work so well is when, as in this week, we have a lot of Commander Hatonn (plus other) material from our away-team in the Philippines which "has to run" in the paper this week. On top of that there is the added constraint of one of those writings being called a Public Notice, which will, for legal reasons, consume space for four consecutive weeks of newspaper real estate.

Thus, those of you who are looking for material such as would include the next promised installment of Korton, or the other Master Teachers, or Dr. John Coleman on y2k, or Nora's Research Corner, plus a backlog of other information, will have to be patient with the constraints which necessarily delay publication of that material at this time.

Make Time For God Or Get Lost In The Play

1/3/99 #1 HATONN

LET'S TALK ABOUT "TIME"

Every human being has the same amount of "time". Whether you are on the Moon for a day or on a vacation for a day, it is important to realize that you have the SAME amount of "time". Therefore, it is obvious that the differences in people and circumstances are very much related to how you USE your time allotment.

Since Dharma is my secretary here, we will center much of our writing around what is taking place today in the Philippines, and specifically, Manila. It is no different here except for a few remaining customs but mostly the hap-hazard living styles are now patterned after Anytown, U.S.A.—except with no "order". Fortunately, most of the people are easily kept in line by police with automatic weapons.

What was witnessed on New Year night? A WAR ZONE! I believe that if you bothered to look up the traditions of the country, you would find a lot of incredible beliefs in ghosts and goblins, evil spirits and other such invisible manufacture of the wishes of man.

The bigger the firecracker equals the bigger displacement of BAD SPIRITS. It is believed that the noise is what keeps the evil spirits away, and once or twice a year they are driven OUT by NOISE in a concerted effort to really clear them away. Then, they are supposedly KEPT OUT by ongoing public chaos and NOISE. This goes with the rhythmic beat of DRUMS and the nearest thing the local chaps can find is the rock and roll hard metal beat of your CURRENT PRIMITIVE SOCIETY. Well, all you do is enhance the evil-spirit-lodge club but certainly every thinking mind is driven OUT and away and if that doesn't fully work—get the bottle of booze or local tree-sap ferment.

A little beer? A little beer is not only OK, it is good for you to some extent—if you are thin and frail. However, the additions to beer, you must realize, are addicting and intoxicating and one leads to as many as the belly can hold—usually. Check it out! Wine and hard liquor are the same even if perceived as only a bit less subtle.

But when will YOU, whoever you are, attend the responsibility of SELF and allow others to do likewise? YOU KNOW WHEN YOU ARE PUSHING THE LIMITS OF ANOTHER—TO SUIT YOUR NEEDS. That, however, is YOUR BUSINESS, NOT MINE. Only when that slops over onto others and me, do I butt into the game. It comes right down to, "If you don't care enough about others and MY requests, then so be it, for I will not care for many of YOUR personal desires."

And, how do you shop? Do you go buy one for another and one for yourself? Oh, this is the usual way of doing things for what you do is actually choose something for another that YOU REALLY WANT FOR SELF. The shop owners LOVE it, and YOU, because you end up buying TWO of everything regardless of circumstances and inconvenience involved in actually "having" the item.

Is this about time or the consistent inconsistencies of man? DOES IT MATTER? Yes, for you use up so much "time" in these games of inconsequential self-pleasing that you then just don't have "time" for proper attention to the task toward successful conclusion of any worthy mission.

Do I mean that you should not do anything bordering on being human? No, I am telling you how it is and not with demand or pushing for your life is your life, and SELF-LOVE is NOT the same thing as SELF-WILL or IN-LOVE WITH SELF.

But, directly relating to very second-by-second passage of clock time and calendar time—you are thrust into a world of focus on WRONG THINGS. Mostly, if wrong deeds are done, you must face the consequences and you are pulled in by the trappings of a given Season of Customs to act a bit foolishly; you will dread the Season (which is wrong) rather than simply take responsibility and ENJOY the privilege of participation.

What, for instance, will you do with that silly THING you got because you simply "wanted it", after the Season is past? Will you now have to hide it when others come who will tease you about it? Will you never dare "wear" something lest someone see you in it? It is much as with stolen goods where you could not dare be discovered holding the item taken. This is called "short-term thinking".

All the jewelry brought on this journey to Asia by Ekkers goes unworn and unpacked. Jewelry? Yes, even the Sav-On pieces. If you go anywhere in the so-called "better part of town" you may get by with a TINY little ring or chain and a watch that is cheap and has a very good clasp. In the "not so great" parts of the place, YOU WEAR NOTHING EXTRA OR IT MEANS MUGGING OR WORSE.

Now that the U.S. is THE hated Satan around the globe, the more an American dresses DOWN, in rather dowdy coverings, and is generous with fellow travelers of the citizenry, the more he will be accepted and included. The Elite are hated, and that includes both foreigners and the politically-economically Elite. Oh, they may be applauded because they are so Big in notability—but they are hated with passions beyond what you see. There are not ten firecracker shooters, for instance, who wouldn't just love to shoot them within Mr. Estrada's car or in a U.S. delegation.

Philippine president, Mr. Estrada, for instance, just gave his "little politicians" in his administration and legislature a P (Peso) 100,000 ($2500) bonus for Christmas. Well, some of them (but perhaps not all?) got it for we also have selective gift-giving. How does that make the man feel whose family was deprived of even shanty status and squatting rights by a typhoon which also has now deprived some of food? The anger runs deep and the solutions are "give the squatters a meal on Christmas" and pat them on the head while promising other false things "next year". Welfare is worse for this further lowers the Self-respect of the receiver who can't care for himself and/or his family.

And time? We find irritation and impatience as time is an issue in our own daily expectations. We will hear something on Tuesday or we have an appointment on Wednesday, or whatever. BUT, to a Mr. Echegaray who is due to be executed SOMETIME on the 4th of January (tomorrow) and who has a brand new bride of a week, he isn't too happy about that passage of TIME.

No time is given to the man because "they don't want any inconvenience from the people against the death penalty". Moreover, Mr. Estrada has already said he is God, in this instance, and he "can't" or "won't" forgive for the crime involved. Oh my! When will the murdering stop? Obviously not today on Mr. Estrada's watch. Being God is too important.

Mr. Estrada, the movie actor and comedian, has said he will "pray for the man in point—if he has time". And, oh yes, this was a major headline in the paper so it must be so.

What did the man do? Oh he just raped and ravaged his stepdaughter over and over again for several years—UNTIL CAUGHT. But he promises not to do it again, and after all, he was just allowed to marry his live-in lover and have conjugal visits (because, I suppose, he likely also deals in Viagra) through these last days of his death-row sentence.

Was this the only crime of this man? No, he is also "up" for drug pushing to children, drug use and selling, abuse of other parties, rape and murder (he claims self-defense). Wow, how would YOU like to be president, in line to decide about such things? THERE IS A DEATH PENALTY UNDER THE LAW.

There is actually a problem with lethal injection (the method of execution here) and that is that the man in point is a DRUG USER and “they” fear the veins are so bad that the lethal drug will not work and/or a vein cannot be found to inject the drugs into the system. In Prison? A DRUG ADDICT IN PRISON—ON DEATH ROW? Indeed, the drug-in-prison industry is the most lucrative business around these parts.

“Time”, however, is a very serious consideration for this man, and all those touched by him, good or bad.

WHAT IS YOUR “TIME” CONSIDERATION? I note that you are all so concerned with “things” that you never cut back on that which is luxurious or convenient TO YOU while filling up whatever “time” you perceive is dogging your movements or wishes. FILL THAT TIME WITH WRITING AND YOU WILL BECOME INFORMED. TALK TO GOD AND GET SOME BALANCE! DO SOMETHING BESIDES DRIFT IN NEVER-NEVER LAND! MAKE “PLANS” AND REARRANGE POSSIBILITIES FROM HOW TO PAY FOR SOMETHING, LIKE THE RENT, OR PUT DOWN IDEAS FOR RUNNING A NEW WORLD DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM. USE THOSE COMPUTERS FOR WHAT THEY WERE ORIGINALLY MADE TO DO—HELP IN THE ACCOUNTING, WORKING PROGRAMS, BUILDING OF SYSTEMS, ETC.

People now run to the Internet for entertainment, movies, whatever. How many of you REALLY DIG UP HISTORICAL INFORMATION, for instance, to see whether or not SADDAM might actually be some sort of “mad-man” or is it the U.S. who is filled with “mad-men”? Or both?? BOTH NATIONS ARE FILLED WITH HUMAN PEOPLE, PLANTS, ANIMALS—GOD’S GREATEST CREATIONS—THAT YOU ARE BLOWING AWAY! DO YOU THINK THERE WILL BE NO CONSEQUENCES?

“Time will pass” and “this too shall pass” is the fact of the matter, and with it so too will go your attention, if in fact you ever paid much attention to facts rather than riddles and distraction lies.

What can YOU DO? CHANGE THE WORLD, AND INDEED, YOU! “ME?” you ask in shock, “what can ‘I’ do?” Get off your assets, pour in your help, get informed and change things—starting in this moment in time as if you are THE ONE CHOSEN BY GOD TO DO THIS JOB! YOU ARE, YOU MUST KNOW, BUT YOU HAVE REFUSED TO PARTICIPATE.

I don’t think you want to hear more about “time” perceptions or actual “space” presentations. You don’t want, actually, to be brought out of your stupor. You want the way, the money and the success to be dumped on you at your convenience in your own luxury lack of deprived notation and serve up the world on YOUR PLATTER for your management and direction. What makes YOU worthy? GOD MAKES YOU WORTHY—but most never learn that because you can’t even abide your co-workers enough to share a day in the same room much less the time and space consequential to getting a job done. Usually this is because “someone” else pays the bills. A lot of people get more and more flexible about their circumstances when they don’t have dinner or a bed. God will provide? Does GOD provide in these human circumstances or DOES SOMEONE ELSE HAVE TO ATTEND YOU, YOUR POSITION, YOUR SALARY, WHILE YOU JUST SIT AROUND AND “DESERVE IT” SOMEHOW? Do “you” make beggars of others to supply YOUR wishes and desires?

I want all of you, EACH OF YOU, to ponder these things, and then take control of your life for the use of GOD and stop the selfish response to anything and everything. If you are unwilling to “cut corners” for “Me” then I shall not respond to your druthers as to space or timing, chelas. And no, DO NOT TELL ME YOU ARE DOING IT FOR YOUR MENTAL ATTITUDE AND STABILITY—FOR IF YOU ARE SO UNSTABLE AS TO LACK ABILITY TO TEND SELF IN INTELLIGENT SAVINGS, THEN YOU ARE NOT WORKING “FOR” ME—YOU ARE STILL HUNG-UP ON SELF.

Mother Theresa slept in the gutter with her children in need. Diana slept in a palace in designer nighties (usually with “another” man) and yet, who is best remembered? Ah, but for HOW LONG?

These are THE THINGS to think on as you enter this year, the YEAR OF GOD (999), for until you realize that the mission is more important than YOU, you aren’t going to get much done, are you?

But what can you do, say, in ANGOLA? You can’t go line-up for a handout of rice? Well, perhaps you could go dish out the rice until the people can do it for self. Or you could contribute some of the rice. Or, you could help build a program for feeding those people AND THEN PUTTING THEM TO WORK SO THAT THEY BECOME SELF-SUFFICIENT. AND, YOU COULD STOP GIVING THEM VIAGRA SO THAT YOU HAVE MACHO INFECTED MEN AND MORE BABIES TO KILL.

Am I hard on you? Indeed! I WARNED YOU. I told you early, early on that I am considered the most impossible person you will find flying around the Universe. You just didn’t quite believe me because you also KNEW I wouldn’t DO ANYTHING to you. Ah, you do that unto self; I don’t have to do anything TO you—but neither do I have to do anything FOR YOU.

I find even my little crew has found ONE player who actually thinks they “may” want to risk a hand at the table. (???) How many nations and people are there in the WORLD, dear ones? How many nations who could use the same plan? How many have you flooded with information? Oh? How did you expect them to “find out” in the super-secret society of the Elite?

I find all over everywhere that people just “don’t feel good”? Was your journey about “feeling good” or accomplishment? Why do you think there are so many tinkering addicts around? Of course, because they want to FEEL GOOD. Ah, but what doesn’t show is that they are dying, yea killing selves, because they think they want to “feel good”. Actually, they simply have a demand and craving, beyond all other things, TO FEEL GOOD ABOUT THEMSELVES. And no, you don’t even fool one another and you certainly do NOT fool me.

LOSING SUBSCRIBERS

I always note that on these particular topics I find everyone involved, say, with THE paper, wondering whether or not to RUN THE WRITINGS. It will usually be accepted that “The Guy” is after his Team again. No, I’m not. You just don’t want to annoy or REALLY wake up anyone to TRUTH. SO THE BIG QUANDARY—DOES IT RUN? Nobody wants to lose subscribers but you made that choice when you went on the Internet where people can get the information FOR FREE. FREE INFORMATION IS VERY OFTEN EXACTLY WHAT IT IS WORTH IN PRICE—FREE USUALLY MEANS WORTHLESS. Should “we” get off the Internet? NO. Make more income properly and let the information be FREE to everyone—period. And yes indeed, we are working on it as hard as we can paddle. We will move even more quickly when the row-team gets more paddlers and more paddles in the water.

I am somewhat amused, even if none others might be, that it seems “up to the big boy” to find a way to pay the bills and manage the show hither and yon while individuals mete out such as “I won’t work with” that one or this one or that other one! Who asked you to do such a thing? When YOU think you can decide WHO I AM GOING TO WORK WITH you might wish to think a second time. I will work with those who WANT to work with me for the RIGHT REASONS. I need not a bunch of people telling me who is right and who is wrong. I like input, not demand or refusals IF...

And, for those who inquire about such as changing positions and stations: If changes are made for the correct and right reasons (not necessarily the same thing) I will tell you now that you will be moving into a much better interchange and position where your REAL talents can be presented and utilized. It is a wise man or woman who sees these opportunities and seizes the moment to risk change. Just always be SURE you act for the RIGHT REASONS and that you can honor yourself INSTEAD OF DENYING SELF for Self-WILL instead of Self-LOVE. Sometimes it takes a few mis-steps to recognize the correct response to each action. Youngsters, by the way, are given a bit more patience in these areas than you “old folk”. They are having to search their way because YOU didn’t give them that wondrous realization of Self-Esteem and recognition of Love vs. Will.

The input I look for is the sincere prayer and realization of: I am doing the right thing and therefore God will help me see and find that which is suitable for me—BECAUSE I HAVE ASKED HIM TO DO SO AND INVITED HIM WITHIN MY LIFE. This is quite different from: “I’m going to do God’s will, but by God I am going to do it MY WAY.” No, we are not going to do THIS JOB “your way” for you have failed miserably THUS FAR in YOUR WAY. We are going to do it GOD’S WAY OR NO WAY AT ALL.

PEOPLE AND PLACES

Yes, we will get around to some of the people and places who are important, or even unimportant (of which there is no one) as we move along. We will, oh indeed, speak of such as Imelda, but more important are the other players AROUND dear Imelda. She is trying to remain THE big focus but it isn't longer working—for each flower has its time of bloom and then fades and, alas, GOES. We will use lots of examples along the way—but more importantly, we will use examples that you recognize in your own experience. I am hard on my TEAM and CREW because you are the MOST IMPORTANT ELEMENTS IN THIS GAME AT HAND. Until YOU recognize your own importance and respond in GODLY ways, we can't attract that which we need. This is NOT because the other players are so "Godly", it is just that in most instances a slip of your "show and tell" will cast you into the throngs of other "con" people and criminal elements falsely presenting their wares. If YOU are terribly "flawed" and you are somehow "in charge" you are under the microscope of COSMIC SIZE. And, none of you are perfection and, therefore, unsuitable in most instances to represent GOD at the cocktail party and that is just the way it IS.

Oh dear ones, we have such a magnificent PLAY that we must not get all the directors who have yet to succeed in such outstanding capabilities to ruin our presentation. And no, it won't be the ones who drift through—it will be you who can or do allow the drifters to enter the play in the Director's chair. We meet whatever needs we can, for the playwrights and presentation players—but we do not displace either THIS DIRECTOR or place other enterprises above what is our mandate for content of THIS PLAY.

No, you won't always KNOW what those people and activities might be—and THAT IS WHY YOU HAVE YOUR DIRECTOR FOR THIS PLAY ALREADY IN PLACE AND YOU AS PLAYERS WERE CHOSEN FROM ALL THE OTHER ENTITIES. THIS MEANS THAT PLAYERS WERE CAREFULLY SCREENED AS TO ABILITY, CAPABILITY AND DESIRE FOR SUCCESS OF "THIS" PLAY. YOU ARE NOT GIVEN TO KNOW, AND THAT IS THE INTRIGUE AND CHALLENGE OF THE SCRIPT ITSELF. YOU CAN, HOWEVER, HANDLE WHATEVER TASK IS SET BEFORE YOU TO ACCOMPLISH—FROM SHIPPING TO PUTTING OUR WORK TO TAPE FROM THE MYRIAD WRITINGS. ALONG WITH THE TASK AT HAND, YOU WILL ALSO NEED TO CONTRIBUTE SELF AS A PUZZLE PIECE TO INSURE THAT THE TAPESTRY OF THIS PLAY IS COMPLETED IN PERFECTION. SO, BE CAREFUL HOW YOU REACT AND RESPOND TO OTHERS FOR YOU ARE GOING TO BE ONE WITH THAT OTHER IN THE FINAL CURTAIN CALL WHETHER OR NOT YOU LIKE IT. AND THE FACTS ARE, IF YOU DON'T LIKE IT, YOU WILL NOT MAKE IT TO THAT FINAL CURTAIN AS A MAIN CHARACTER ON THE STAGE WITHIN THIS PLAY.

GOD will not compromise one iota of the Truth of Himself to suit your wishes, kids. This is just the way of it. THIS IS THE WAY IT IS. If you don't like it—you may go, for we are not going anywhere to suit your selfish whims. Set your limitations and you may well find you have set the fences in such a way as to note that you are on the OUTSIDE with no gate back into the action.

I note everyone is lining up in his or her assumed pecking order. I hope you aren't going to bleed too much when you find it will be OTHERWISE ARRANGED. This is a testing of soul intent of each and all of humanity along with the activities of your individual schedule of daily experience. I am interested in your SOUL and what you do to the souls of every other man you contact or ignore. NEVER BE RESPONSIBLE FOR DRIVING ANOTHER FROM TRUTH—EVEN IF THE TRUTH IS NOT TO YOUR LIKING. How much do YOU set yourself at inconvenience to assist another in his "soul" pain of decisions which might just involve YOU? Are you relieved when that party goes away? Or, are you quick to see what adjustments you can make to an honorable meeting of that "other's" needs. Every being has NEEDS; are yours more important than his? ONLY TO YOU.

I tell you to get, and be, CREATIVE for you are the CREATORS within CREATION. Ah, what a worthy position—but, do you use it rightly or do you just assume your position to maintain "YOUR WAY". Sinatra might have done it "his way" but his life as such was a total LOSS and BORE. I repeat, we are going to have to do this mission GOD's way, and our hope and prayer is that YOU WILL BE WITH US, FOR ULTIMATELY THE LEAST OF THOSE YOU ASSUME AS BEINGS WILL BE ONE WITH US ON THAT FINAL DAY OF CONFRONTATION AND INTEGRATION—WHETHER IT BE WITH GOD OR APART FROM GOD. So be it.

I shall have to have many writings such as this, readers, for unless you get WITH SELF, we are not worthy to run ANYTHING, even the town garbage dump. In fact, the ones who run the garbage dump ARE AMONG THE MOST IMPORTANT PEOPLE ON YOUR GLOBE. You had better give SERIOUS thought to this fact and get with the program instead of your wishes for self for the day. A wise prayer for each day is: "God, please allow in your grace to let me do your will in your perfect way." Aho, DAD.

MORE ON "TIME"

Having run out of "time" and "space" in the prior writing of this morning, I ask you to indulge me a bit that I might point out some rather interesting things regarding "time".

I have said you are in error regarding the passage and accounting of "time". Some get truly angry, others don't give a damn, and perhaps the latter parties are the wiser of the lot. However, for you sticklers who have to be "shown", try this upcoming information on for size. I do not pretend to do a better job of this than would Nora from her "corner" but it will prove sufficient for thought provoking I suspect.

From a "Special Report" by Rudy A. Fernandez, and is the last of a three-part series comes a dealing with the calendars in your recognition—if you have recognition at all about such matters.

Perhaps you will also come to see WHY I am quite confident that you have no authority upon which to base an argument with me about the "possibility of" inaccuracy.

[QUOTING:]

THE PARADOX AND STORY OF THE CALENDAR.

The early Roman calendar originated as a local calendar in Rome, supposedly drawn up by Romulus some seven or eight centuries BC. [H: And what of all those years prior to Romulus?]

The year began in March and consisted of 10 months, six of 30 days and four of 31 days, making a total of 304 days; it ended in December, to be followed by what seems to have been an unaccounted winter gap. [H: Is this, do you suppose, similar to leaving out the 13th floor of a building wherein the elevators, etc., only show ...11, 12, 14...?]

Numa Pompilius, traditionally Rome's second king (715-673 BC) [H: How many knew about old Pompus Numa? And, what did he do to merit being given full authority and expertise over your calendar?], supposedly added two extra months, January and February, to fill the gap and to have increased the total number of days by 50, making 354. [H: It seems to me the world would have been better off had this nut taken up fiddling like Caesar.]

To obtain sufficient days for his new months, he deducted one day from the 30-day months, thus having 56 days to divide between January and February.

But since the Romans had, or had developed, a superstitious dread of even numbers, January was given an extra day; February was still left with an even number of days, but as that month was given over to the infernal gods, this was considered appropriate. The system allowed the year of 12 months to have 355 days, an uneven number.

Etruscan Tarquinius Priscus (616-579 BC), traditionally Rome's fifth king, supposedly introduced the so-called Republican calendar. He wanted the year to begin in January since it contained the festival of the god of gates (later the god of all beginnings), but this particular reform was dropped with the expulsion of the Etruscan dynasty in 510 BC. [H: Isn't this the usual way man handles that which he doesn't like?]

The Roman Republican calendar still contained only 355 days, with February having 28 days; March, May, Quintilis (July), and October having 31 days each; January, April, June, Sextilis (August), September, November, and December 29 days each.

It was basically a lunar calendar and short by 10.25 days of a 365.25-day tropical (yep) year. To prevent it from becoming too far out of step with the seasons, an intercalary month, Intercalans, or Mercedonius (from merces meaning wages, since workmen were paid at this time of the year), was inserted between February 23 and 24.

It consisted of 27 or 28 days and was added once every two years; and in historical times at least, the remaining five days of February were omitted.

[H: And you guys think you have a y2k problem?]

In the middle of the first century BC Julius Caesar invited Sosigenes [H: WHO?], an Alexandrian astronomer [H: Oh, OK.], to advise him about the reform of the calendar. Sosigenes decided that the only practical step was to abandon the lunar calendar altogether. [H: Now, that's somewhat logical but "somewhat" is almost like "nearly".]

Months must be arranged on a seasonal basis, and a tropical (solar) year used, as in the Egyptian calendar, but with its length taken as 365.25 days, a value more accurate than the Egyptians' 365.

The months of the Julian [H: Who? What do you KNOW about this dude, Julian?] calendar apparently were taken over from the Roman Republican calendar but were slightly modified to give a more even pattern of numbering.

The Republican calendar of March, May, and Quintilis (July), which has each possessed 31 days, were retained unaltered. Although there is doubt about the details, changes seem probably to have occurred as follows: [H: Now keep up with this, readers, because you are so quick to discount my numbering as to disclaim me as well. Let's just see who might actually be confused and off, just a little bit.]

Except for October, all the months that had previously had 29 days had either one or two days added. January, September, and November retained two days, bringing their totals to 31, while April, June, Sextilis (August), and December received one day each, bringing their total of 30. October was reduced by one day to a total of 30 days [H: Which makes Dharma born on Halloween instead of the day before—except of course there was no Halloween after all?], and February increased to 29 days, or 30 in a bissextile year. [H: Hummmn, this bissextile must mean something important like perhaps a year on Viagra?]

With the exception of February, the scheme resulted in months having 30 or 31 days alternately throughout the year. And to help farmers, Caesar issued an almanac showing on which dates of his new calendar various seasonal astronomical phenomena would occur.

But the arrangements did not last long.

In 44 BC, the second year of the Julian calendar, the Senate decided to change Quintilis to Julius (July), in honor of Julius Caesar. In 8 BC Augustus prevailed upon them to change Sextilis to Augustus (August), in his honor.

Moreover, Augustus felt that his month must have at least as many days as Julius Caesar's. Thus, February was reduced to 28 days and August increased to 31.

But because this made three 31 day months (July, August, and September) appear in succession, Augustus reduced September to 30 days, added a day to October to make it 31 days, reduced November by one day to 30 days, and increased December from 30 to 31 days, giving the months the lengths they have today. [H: Oh my, what all DO you people "render unto Caesar", and call it LAW?]

[END OF QUOTING]

So, how did we come along then and base our counting? Oh easy to say: We picked up with a new system when the ANCIENTS ran out of counting on their calendars. Is it accurate? NO, of course not. It can't be accurate because in REALITY—there is NO TIME, only sequence. Therefore, one counting cycle is about as foolish as any other. BUT, IF WE ALL SET OUR TIME CLOCKS TO THE SAME TIME NOW, WE WILL AT THE LEAST KNOW EXPLICITLY WHAT WE MIGHT MEAN IF WE USE A TERM. AT LEAST YOU CAN LOOK IT UP.

And so, is today actually the 4th of January or the 3rd? Neither, in Southeast Asia it is the 3rd—in California it is the 2nd. Who is on first and what is on second? And if that is true, who is under over and therefore over is under who? Why don't we all come to dead standstill, get out our fiddles and play a stupid tune? It matters not a whit in Hell, readers, for it is this year and YOU ARE IN TROUBLE.

So, let us turn to another interesting presentation from Alejandro R. Roces:

[QUOTING:]

NINE, A MYSTIC NUMBER

The number nine has a characteristic that no other number has. If multiplied by the eight other digits each answer will enigmatically (look it up) add up to nine. To illustrate:

1 x 9 = 9
2 x 9 = 18;	1 + 8 = 9
3 x 9 = 27;	2 + 7 = 9
4 x 9 = 36;	3 + 6 = 9
5 x 9 = 45;	4 + 5 = 9
6 x 9 = 54;	5 + 4 = 9
7 x 9 = 63;	6 + 3 = 9
8 x 9 = 72;	7 + 2 = 9
9 x 9 = 81;	8 + 1 = 9

That is only one of the characteristics of the number nine. Nine consists of the trinities. Three is supposed to symbolize the perfect unity; twice three, the perfect dual; thrice three, the perfect plural. [H: I bet you all knew this, didn't you?]

We want to make it clear that we do not believe in numerology, all we are saying is that certain numbers have acquired a mystique because of a series of things associated with the particular number. In Greek mythology, there were nine Muses who were the goddesses of memory but later came to be identified with individual arts and sciences. By coincidence, there are also nine choirs of angels. Was this pure coincidence or was it a conscious attempt by the early Church authorities to replace all things pagan with Christian equivalents. All our major feasts start with a novena, which is a cycle of prayers spanning nine days. The devotion of receiving Holy Communion on consecutive first Fridays is also for nine months. The human gestation period is nine months.

In contrast, the number six has been designated the number of sin in Revelation, where it states: "Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast — for it is the number of man; and his number is six hundred three scores and six." In short, the figure six resembles the number nine upside-down. By that analogy, nine is the opposite of sin.

For the rest of this year, we will be writing the figure nine three times, every time we write the date. Next year, we will be substituting three zeros for three nines, for it will be the year 2000. Usually, we change only one or two digits.

Yesterday was the start of the New Year, tomorrow is the Epiphany, the last day after Christmas. The feast of the Three Kings (Los Reyes Mayos) used to be the highlight of our Christmas celebration. That is when people exchange gifts to commemorate the very first gifts that the child Jesus received from the Three Wise Men from the East. [H: And please note that the three THINGS brought were gold, frankenstein and mirth. Oops, I meant frankincense and myrrh (most people can't spell this one well enough to look it up. To most it might well better have been frankfurters and mush.)] The American [H: Pay attention.] Santa Claus upstaged the Three Kings. Today, only the Casino Espanol commemorates the event. The English carol "The Twelve Days of Christmas" is also passe. This year there were only NINE days after Christmas. Christmas degenerated from a religious holy day to a commercial holiday during the American regime [H: In the Philippines.] That was when Santa Claus replaced the Three Kings [H: And effectively REPLACED CHRIST.]

[END OF QUOTING]

And that, visitors to Manila, is WHY you had a repeat of fireworks in the Christmas colors last night!

And what other things do you Anti-Christ Christians from the U.S. and Britain do at Christmas? You go over and bomb the ones whose true religion was birthed and based on the teachings of the Christ. Do they practice what they preach in the land of Islam? DO YOU? You just bomb them anyway, on their holiest of holy days, and you somehow believe God will more greatly bless you who kill, maim and destroy? I don't think so, foolish chilluns.

You are so all-fired willing to CLAIM or disclaim GOD? I wonder how many of you are aware that your claim on GOD IS OF NO IMPORTANCE? DOES GOD CLAIM YOU? Now, THAT might be important.

I want you to go back and read about upon what the Phoenix built its nest and upon what it fed, and you will find that it used frankincense and myrrh. Let us just say that the flames might well represent the "gold" in this little play—just to keep it interesting.

And by the way, I repeat: THIS IS THE YEAR OF THE LORD—999—WHATEVER YOU PREFER. And, will the sugar in a cupcake hurt the Billy-birds? Well, it won't rot their teeth!

WHAT WILL YOU DO THIS YEAR?

SO BE IT FOR IT WILL COME TO PASS—ON YOUR WATCH!

I suggest you STAND IN THE LIGHT so God's troops don't miss you!

Dad.

Note From Doris And The Road Show

1/6/99 #3 DORIS EKKER

I, Doris, ask that it be understood that "I" am writing this note and asking that it be put into the paper. It is very personal and supportive of Al's choices of writings. I am embarrassed to say I have hardly thanked Al for his above-and-beyond service in his many different roles since he first came to Tehachapi in early winter, 1988. He has quietly done so much and asked so little that we don't often enough note his total dedication.

I do not claim to fame and mostly shy away from great wisdom—but I think this is worthy of sharing. Most of you know that I have had a bad few years with congestive heart failure and lungs so compromised it is such an effort just to breathe, and my whole body generally just spiraling downhill. Some days would be MUCH better than others but steadily health deteriorated.

Sure, EJ and I both have stress—probably no more than we should be able to handle, though. No, the stresses have not passed and neither have some of these long-term physical compromises.

We came to the Philippines and subsequently blamed everything that happened to us on that old saw of being away from home, strange food, strange people, and thus and so.

We ate what people eat and drank what people drink, but I really got sick and my cough got so annoying and "productive" that I was frightened that I wouldn't get to finish my work. After all, THAT had been getting increasingly worse all along the way. Well, let's just say that the condition of my lungs is better than in at least three years. Almost all of the rattle and rasp is gone from the lower lobes and this is, I KNOW, due to constant attention with colloids and Oxysol through the nose, etc., many times a day. This was to conserve use of great quantities of solution because over here we have a hard time not giving them away, and extremely expensive shipping, etc.

We haven't had Gaiandriana since we left, and that is notably missing, along with the colloidal vitamins and minerals—but that is not my reason for sharing.

Day before yesterday E.J. and I were both blown up like a couple of hot-air balloons and enough was enough already. Sure, we were eating too much and obviously too much of the wrong things—BUT, I noted that my feet and legs, eyes and general body were not only bloated but I really could hardly walk and I mean seriously in trouble.

I would start across the street and perhaps with three aspirin in me I could make it across and back but boy, I hurt. I blamed everything, including a demand to get some of the fat off, and thus a couple of days ago I announced to Rick and Charles that they were on their own—we were going to eat nothing that might be other than protein or product of my choosing—in other words, the fat was going in the fire.

This still is not my story so please bear with me.

The last week's paper had come but had not yet made it to us. But, for our usual "exercise" program we went to the mall across the street, ate simple "bald" roast chicken and generally felt better than I dared believe. Along with the chicken, and nothing else, was a diet coke.

We went and kissed the BILLY BIRD and came back to the room. I knew I was in trouble on the way up the elevator so we hurried a bit faster and I got into the room. E.J. went to Rick's room to exchange papers and I said I would lie down. Well, I didn't make it to the bed but hit everything in that corner of the room with everything of me. When I roused enough to look around, I couldn't lift my head or either hand—I mean I had no ability to move and everything hurt. I was pouring sweat to the point my clothes were soaked and a puddle of water had formed by dripping off my face.

EJ found me like that and got me to the bed where I began to cool down a bit but I was so wiped out that I simply couldn't get around and I said, "God, is this it?" I got a resounding, "NO, now get with the program and read your messages." Since I couldn't do anything else I picked up the latest CONTACT. [Editor's note: Doris is referring to the 12/29/98 issue of CONTACT.]

I read the Aspartame article Al put in. I realized EJ and I HAD every symptom. Worse, I've been harboring the fear that especially E.J. might just have ALZHEIMER'S and senility had also crept into my own memory programs. I was stopped, stunned, and it finally made it through, Al. You and Ed had told us about Aspartame and other bad products but I couldn't hear because I wanted to always conserve calories on such as drinks, etc.

That very morning I had changed FROM a mixture of coffee or tea with sugar and cream already mixed. About the only way to have anything in the room at reasonable expense—and guess what, went out of my way to get NutraSweet and Equal.

But perhaps just as important for us was the addition of the reminder about MSG. Wow, and by golly, in this place and all through Asia you don't buy MSG in little shaker containers—it is sold in the market in 5 and 10 pound BAGS. It is a staple for the cooking over here.

Now that was yesterday morning. Cutting out EVERYTHING with Aspartame and MSG, and getting some of the sweetener recommended (Stevia, couldn't find saccharine) the swelling in my feet and legs is almost GONE. I feel GOOD and that is without ANYTHING, including an antihistamine. Is this a miracle? I don't know. I can see in E.J.'s face that the bloat is going so what have we here?

My assumption is that after being hit over the head with a dresser, bedstead, hardwood floor across both knees, and a chair, that perhaps I could PAY ATTENTION now that God "GOT MY ATTENTION".

I actually WALKED through what is probably the largest aviary in the world, among thousands of big birds, etc., for two hours and my feet never even twinged me. Distracted by something I love? Perhaps, but I don't think so! My shoes are now too big and my feet and toes actually bend like other people's along with both ankles moving almost like they are supposed to move.

Are we all killing ourselves? I think so.

I am reminded of something, though, as I have a drink which I don't like. But then I realize that I probably was tasting the coffee for the first time in years—and frankly I never did, and still don't, like coffee.

I remember, as we would have things without all the dressings, chemicals and other enhancements to the food, that I didn't like most of the vegetables or much of anything else without a lot of flavoring.

I wanted to share this because if I can save one person even a day of misery, please use this information. It surely won't hurt to try your world without these two additives.

THAT is difficult over here because we have such restrictions but we do have a burner that works and I just scrambled some eggs with onion this morning and even if it is not my choice meal—we feel good and the day is now late.

Are we busy? Indeed. We are now moved off into such incredible things of which to tell when we get home (and the projects are not jeopardized) as to shock even we "believers".

Things are changing and it truly is the TIME OF GOD and I don't mean in the Pretender category. "Pretenders" are probably going to end up on their assets out in the cold. Except in Southeast Asia it IS NEVER COLD. Perhaps we here have to deal with out-in-the-Hot which is too close to you-know-what to want to spend much time there.

We have not advertised our activities much in the paper to protect the activities. We have plenty of enemies and that won't get better. But we are getting a good scatter in the fan of Light and Truth and I can actually have PITY for some who have pulled the rope too taught. Father has said that there is no longer a MIDDLE LINE and we have an opportunity here to be objective and watch and experience things happening.

Can we stick it out? Of course. If we can't handle the circumstances back home—surely someone else can fill in. We are only a part of this play and we are weary of hogging the parts unto ourselves. We are “there” with so many things taking place that if 99 fall through there are another 99 waiting to conclude. If the rent isn't paid I suggest sending me an eviction notice and I will show you that you can't get me out in less than 30 days. And, Gunther, Jackson, Granny and Cleary cost us our credit cards so there really was no way to go but UP. Now, WATCH US FLY—UP.

You have taken the paper to ever-new heights and it is truly a joy and filled with information we need. Princeton, hang on to the revealings of the caves—we are getting to the story unfolding about them. There are many of those stashings over here also, but I don't know if we will take time to investigate them before we come home for at least a visit. We can't afford any trippings so we have to wait. And, actually, Dad didn't say we had to go dig up the things. Many of the most important information resources are in our own dooryard or backyard as the case may be. The El Dorado-type stuff is scattered about all around so we must find it and use it as it is already presented. Once we have a substantial banking route we have gold all over the place waiting for some way to use it.

I also think that Mr. Soros is going to help us get rid of some of the buggers such as the IMF as it now functions but, of course, worse will be replacing it. We don't need much of a shift to just go our way and let them hang one another.

The Christmas Season here was a total delight. Even if I don't buy into the “trappings” and rituals, it has been a fully wonderful experience and fairylands of lights and beauty.

We laughed at “Manny”, our person in Mindanao, when he was asked if he wouldn't “convert” [to Muslim]. Well, as nearly as we can tell Manny isn't much of anything special—just a nice guy who can get things done. Where he is they are Islamic as are the Brunei connections. He just laughed and said, “No, I don't think so for why would I do that?” I totally agree, if you respect and work with GOD and a Christ consciousness ALREADY, why turn to other rituals to clutter the interim? This doesn't mean, however, that we couldn't enjoy the wondrous lights and friendships of the people here, or for that matter in Malaysia, where the same thing holds true. Malaysia is also Islamic—CHRIST-BELIEVING MUSLIMS. Ramadan is simply a march, in thought or otherwise, to Mecca, the central location or focus of their Christ leaders. And, I'll tell you something: I have no intention of ever judging anyone again on these grounds for I come from the most Evil of all Empires any way we try to make it otherwise.

I don't know what in soup Egypt and Saudi Arabia are doing condemning Saddam along with the US; I'm sure there are some bloody Muslims—after all they all went with Lawrence of Arabia, didn't they? Watch that movie again and SEE EVIL at its best performance. I'm going to sort all this when I have time and that is not today.

Love and our very best love and wishes are with you. Doris and the Road Show.

View From Philippines

Clues From The Past As New Year Unfolds

1/11/99 #2 HATONN

MERRILY WE ROLL ALONG,
ROLL ALONG, ROLL ALONG

It is finally becoming a bit more clear as to why the Team has had to be so long away and it has not been an easy stint of duty for them. It is all but impossible to have four people in the same suitcase for half a year and they need a few Purple Hearts for the effort. They not only have NOT had hazardous duty pay—but no pay at all! So, we have to spend a little time on the foreign correspondents. Surely we may not be the “odd couple” but this is pretty odd. Fortunately we don't have all four wanting to quit at the same time. They feel more like the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse than the Four White Knights. That's OK, I have them all down with Gombouie which are the hardest, most miserable Philippine National “colds” known to man. They don't “feel” like going anywhere.

Disease germs don't have any place to go and die over here—the atmosphere and climate are perfect for the thriving in the year-around air for any escaping organism—except man, of course. Foreign visitors don't stand a chance, so for all your future pre-planning I suggest you take this into consideration.

I think I can also point out that months without Gaiandriana has left them open for Immune System breakdown. These are just good lessons for your observation.

We truly, Team, had to get out of Malaysia, where the scenery was a bit better and the walking a bit safer, but you can't have those Yellow Fever “shots”—don't even go there or think about it. At least for now, DO NOT EVEN CONSIDER IT.

Things are taking place outside your view and so what else is new? Surely you knew that I would not abandon you on some island in the middle of Wacky-Wacky, or is that Wai Kai Kai or, oh well, you know what I mean—surely. You certainly didn't want to be in South Mindanao with yesterday's tidal wave, did you? Sometimes you simply have to use a bit of patience and FAITH.

HOLY ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH

The title itself is a major oxy-moron so let's not dwell there for long. However, please realize that, even in THAT Church, this is recognized AS THE YEAR OF THE LORD GOD. Wow, we finally have something in common.

There is an interesting discourse on this topic, inclusive of prophecies, that appears in the Manila Standard, page 16, Sunday, 1-10-98. I will offer the major part of the printing:

[QUOTING:]

WHO'S AFRAID OF 1999?

ST. MALACHY'S PAPAL PROPHECIES

[H: Look, readers, this is as good as any prophecies, so don't huff and puff and ignore important information come in strange ways.]

When will the world end?

Most of the prophecies start off with calculating the age of the Earth and then projecting its end, based on the estimated length of its life.

* Nostradamus, Edgar Cayce and the Seventh-Day Adventists prophesied the end of the world to be the Year 2000. However, there are sources that have come up with Nostradamus saying that 1999 would bring about change but the world would last up to 3797. Nostradamus dated creation back to 4000 B.C. [H: Gee whiz.]

* The Septuagint put the creation of the world at 5960 B.C. Josephus at 3952 B.C., the Venerable Bede at 3949 B.C. [H: And who would ever argue with a Venerable?], Abraham Judaeus [H: This one sounds impressive.] at 3761 B.C., and the Bishop Ussher at 6:00 in the afternoon of October 4004 B.C.

* St. Vincent Ferrier noted that the book of Psalms should provide the key, so the Millennium would be in 2537.

* Scholars who've measured the chambers of the pyramid very carefully, assigning a polar inch to every year of life on Earth, put the end at 2915, dating the beginning of the world to 4128 B.C. But other pyramidology scholars put the date of “Restitution” as 2874 A.D. Another scholar, Max Toth, puts society's rebirth after a transition period from 1995-2025; he says the Messiah's appearance in the sky will be in 2934 [H: But not considering Operation “Blue Beam”.], followed by physical reincarnation in 2040. The Messiah reincarnates again in 2135 and in 2265. The last date indicated in the pyramid, according to him, was 2979.

* This is supposed to be the end of the 432,000-year Kali Yuga (Darkness, Chaos), as preached by the Hindus. The Great Cycle of Maha Yuga is thought to total 4,320,000 years. One set of calculations puts Dawn of the present phase of the Kali Yuga at 3606 B.C., the twilight at A.D. 1939, and the end at A.D. 2442.

* The Hopis and Mayans recognize that we are approaching the end of a World Age. The Mayans have a calendar system whose Thirteen Baktun cycle will end either on December 24, 2011 [H: Oh MY! PAY ATTENTION, PLEASE.] OR June 6, 2012.

* The Greeks recognized what was called the PHOENIX CYCLE, derived from Egyptian legends of the BENNU bird that rose from its own ashes every 500 years. The Phoenix Cycle was considered to be so important that in the first century A.D., early Egyptian Christian mystics under St. Mark combined forces with the Alexandrine Greeks to develop a calendral system that would be considered with the Phoenix Cycle's rhythm, past and future. It was not fully accepted into Europe until one Cycle later in A.D. 525, when it was introduced by the Roman theologian and mathematician Dionysus Exiguus, who "christianized" the Cycle and was the first to apply to it the term ANNO DOMINI. Scholars who have studied the cycle find it amazingly precise. With it, the year 2000 is indeed very significant.

THE PAPAL PROPHECIES OF MALACHY

Malachy O'Morgair was born in the eleventh century. He was considered to be a holy man, having performed miracles, including healing the sick, levitating and making prophecies. When he died in 1184, while on a visit to St. Bernard of Clairvaux, he left among his effects a series of short enigmatic statements regarding the identity of the sequence of popes from his time until the end of the twentieth century. He was subsequently canonized as St. Malachy.

The peculiar prophecies left by Malachy are mysterious and wonderfully apt descriptions of the popes. For example, Pope Alexander IV had been Cardinal of OSTIA AND HE WAS NAMED Signum Ostiensis. The description of the nineteenth century Pope Leo XIII was Lumen in Caelo (Light of Heaven), extremely appropriate for a man whose family crest was a comet. Pope John XXIII who had originally been Patriarch of Venice, was called Pastor Nauta (Pastor of the Sea). Pope Paul VI, whose coat of arms carried the fleur-de-lys was called Flors Florum (Flower of Flowers). John Paul I, whose reign only lasted thirty-three days was called De Mediatate Lunae (of the half Moon), and he met his death on the lunar half month, one month after taking office.

Some of the others include:

Alexander VII (1654-87) Montium Custos (Guardian of the Hills)

Clement XIII (1758-1769) Rosa Umbriae (Rose of Umbria)

Pius VI (1775-99) Peregrinus Apostolicus

(Apostolic Wanderer)

Gregory VI (1831-46) De Balneis Etruriae (From the baths of Etruria)

The present Pope John Paul II is De Labore Solis (Laborer of the Sun) which may be in reference to his working under the Sun in quarries of Poland when he was young. Or, due to the waning popularity of the Roman Catholic Church, this could also be translated as "from the lonely labor". Malachy lists two more popes to follow the present Pope John Paul II, Gloriae Olivae, and lastly, Petrus Romanus (Peter of Rome). At that point, the last judgment will happen.

BUT FIRST—

But first, we have to deal with the y2k bug. For sleepless nights as the Year 2000 approaches, get yourself a copy of The Economist's special issue about the subject, dated September 19, 1998. Or access: www.yardeni.com.

(Reference: Millennium Prophecies by A.T. Mann.)

[END OF QUOTING]

Now readers, that pins it right down, doesn't it?

I do, however, suggest you take the Phoenix Cycles VERY SERIOUSLY for it is truly a "sign of the times".

I am asking to take the time to bring to your attention a couple of things that I'm sure have not missed Al's quick eye, but are so important that we will run them AGAIN here. PAY ATTENTION FOR THE HOUSE OF SATAN'S CARDS IS STARTING TO CRUMPLE AND TOPPLE.

MOTHER OF ALL WARS?

You just didn't understand what was being said by Saddam Hussein's comment about the Gulf "Storm" when he said it would be the Mother of All Wars. You haven't even begun to experience the STING of the scorpions, Judeo-Christian Zionist LIARS.

Pay particular attention to the first paragraph of this article reprint.

[QUOTING, Associated Press, Monday, January 11, 1999:]

IRAQ'S PARLIAMENT URGES CONTINUED DEFIANCE OF NO-FLY ZONES

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Iraqi legislators were expected TO OFFICIALLY RESCIND RECOGNITION OF NEIGHBORING Kuwait and back the leadership's defiance of no-fly zones imposed by Western powers.

A draft resolution by the 250-member National Assembly also rubber-stamped President Saddam Hussein's tough stance toward UN weapons inspections. The legislators were scheduled to endorse the draft Sunday and send it to the Revolutionary Command Council for ratification. It would then become law when Saddam endorses it.

The draft resolution, obtained by The Associated Press, was circulated following fiery remarks by legislators, who lambasted UN weapons inspectors and the UN Security Council for not lifting sanctions that the United Nations imposed after Iraq's 1990 invasion of Kuwait. The invasion sparked the 1991 Persian Gulf War.

"What is the use of cooperating with the Security Council at a time it has done nothing to ease the sanctions? It is essential that we stop dealing with its resolutions," said legislator Usama Mahmoud.

He added that Iraq's border with Kuwait was illegal. "Why do we recognize the borders? Why do we recognize Kuwait itself?"

Iraq's parliament formally endorsed the 105-mile Kuwaiti-Iraqi border in 1993, dropping a territorial claim on the emirate. Lawmakers said that Parliament had agreed to recognize Kuwait within newly demarcated borders in the hope that UN sanctions would be lifted.

In Kuwait, British Prime Minister Tony Blair warned Iraq on Saturday not to attack its neighbors or allied forces in the region, saying the response to such action would be swift and immediate.

[H: And what did Iraq have to say about those neighbors USED by the U.S. and Britain?] "Blair's visit was little more than a bid to collect money to pay for Operation Desert Fox, last month's four-day campaign of air and missile strikes against Iraq. His visit is aimed at encouraging the Kuwaitis to speedily pay the bill for the US-British aggression," Saad Kassem Hammudi told AFP in Bagdad... "it is deplorable that Kuwait and Saudi Arabia always serve their masters by financing unjustified aggressions against a brother country."

"What Saddam has to realize is that we are not going to allow him to threaten his neighborhood or threaten the stability of the region without taking action," Blair said after arriving in Kuwait to visit British troops stationed there.

KUWAIT WAS PART OF IRAQ UNDER THE OTTOMAN EMPIRE, which collapsed at the end of World War I. The British, who then took control of the region, gave Kuwait independence in 1961, triggering years of dispute over the border.

Speakers at the special session also called on Saddam to defy the no-fly zones in northern and southern Iraq and to sever ties with the United Nations. [H: Doesn't look to me as if they are trying to dump Saddam.]

"The no-fly zones are a crime," said lawmaker Naiba Toshi. "We have the right to fire at any aircraft violating our airspace."

[END OF QUOTING]

All of you must realize the "no-fly" zones are NOT A UNITED NATIONS "THING"; THEY ARE THE SOLE IDEA OF THE UNITED STATES, AIDED AND ABETTED BY BRITAIN.

And now for one to which you had best REALLY PAY ATTENTION:

[QUOTING, AFP, Monday, January 11, 1999:]

CHINA WARNS US AGAINST USING RELIGION FOR MEDDLING

BEIJING, China (AFP)—China has warned the United States it will not allow religious issues to be used as an excuse to meddle in its internal affairs, the official Xinhua news agency reported.

Ye Xiaowen, director of the State Administration of Religious Affairs, highlighted the issue in talks with Robert Seiple, special representative of the US Secretary of State for International Religious Freedom, the overnight report said.

"The Chinese side is willing to increase exchanges with other countries in the field of religion on the basis of equality and mutual respect, but we resolutely oppose any act of using the religious issue to interfere in the internal affairs of other countries," he said.

On the "International Religious Freedom Act" adopted by the US House of Representatives and Senate last year, Ye said it was up to the United States to formulate its own laws.

"However, it should be noted that if a country meddles in other countries' religious affairs and internal affairs through its own domestic legislation and even puts pressure on them by threatening to impose sanctions, what it does violates the principles of the international law and is not conducive to the exchanges in the field of religion between the countries," he said.

The report quoted Seiple as saying he was impressed by the tremendous progress China has made since he first visited in 1988.

He said an increase in exchanges in the field of religion would help boost bilateral relations.

China says it allows freedom of worship but makes strenuous efforts to prevent the propagation of all faiths and limits contacts between domestic and foreign religious groups. Its stand has forced many believers to practice their faith clandestinely.

The Vatican news agency Fides reported last Monday that police had subjected a Catholic priest to "sexual torture" [H: Say what? And what might "sexual torture" mean? It depends of course what "is the meaning of IS" and who is doing the speaking.] in order to make him reveal his contracts with underground priests.

[END OF QUOTING]

And so, pray tell, why do these power brokers go forth to force their sick ideas and ideals on the world so that there must be clandestine dark-side activities? Because it is wrong, that's why!

Is there any possibility that mankind might ever move out from under the Church of Satan? Looks pretty frightening, doesn't it?

Well, you had best leave China alone with your meddling Vatican agents, Mormon meddlers, and all you so-called (but are NOT) Christians who are of the synagogue of Satan (Judeo-Christian Zionists), AND you had better watch the State of the Dragon because that fire-breathing monster can and will EAT YOUR LUNCH.

The year of the rabbit means nothing like cute Easter Bunnies—let's talk killer cottontails.

And bet your bottom potukie that I certainly WILL NOT INTERVENE OR INTERFERE WITH THEIR CHOICES OF ACTIVITIES.

And to you who think you can go right on murdering the murderers and rapists—you might THINK a bit. It is said in ALL YOUR PROPHECIES that the good will get gooder and the bad will get badder—in these times of change. Doesn't anyone out there realize WHY?

When you toss out "reincarnation", you make about as bad an error as you possibly could acknowledge. If you kill a wicked person he is going to come back in an even shorter time for MORE REVENGE and WORSE WORSE. The goodly don't have to come back for further tutoring, so what you have among the GOOD are those that are getting gooder and gooder. But those badder ones are about the WORST you can conjure.

This may well be pitifully poor grammar but you had better start looking and listening because YOU IS IN IT!

Salu.

The Alpha Memorandum

1/11/99 #1 HATONN

THE "ALPHA" WRITING

This is a bit of an inside code, "Alpha", because our file numerals are 01111. You won't want to change that but you will want to make this writing easily accessible. I am going to explain what is taking place in the Philippines and with the Asian central bankers, along with Greenspan and the Bank of International Settlements in Hong Kong.

The "Global" "thing" has become that hot potato with which nobody wanted to deal but could no longer bury. And no, I don't speak of elderly certificates or cute contracts—but criminal activities. You can't do anything with paper if it is deemed in the world to be no good. However, if you utilize the PLAN there is much you can do with leverage.

I am obligated to not give details of any ongoing negotiations or structured, in structuring, or conclusive agreements. However, I am not going to HIDE or further secret away the methodology of the Plan itself and how it is being both wisely and unwisely utilized.

This will be a big focus at the "informal" bankers' meeting in Hong Kong today. We will just wait to see what the outcome of those "top secret 'informal'" meetings might produce but it is hard to call all that stuff in the fan anything other than what it is and, my goodness, there is a lot of "Oh shit-ing" going on on the merry-go-round.

Rumors are correct: the Global "stuff" has been qualified and a lot of worst-case banking games are being uncovered as buy-offs and outs have been attempted but there is something about the criminal mind—you can't shut up everyone all the time. And, further, it is not due to filching that brings the house of cards down—it is the boasting big shots right through their mouths.

Does Greenspan have a problem? Not if he works with the global community but otherwise his problem ranges, in the counting of one to ten, somewhere about 197.

THE PHILIPPINE GAME

The "game" in the Philippines is as expected, a cute "try to filch" gamble. Can they pull off a big coup, get money FREE from the scoundrels without having to pay anything (as is being promised by the Elite brokerage players called British Israel Elite [City of London]). How? Well, kids, "Where did all the gold bars go? Long time mi-iss-ing. Where did all the gold stuff go—a long time ago?" 2nd chorus: "To the Devil all of it—a long time ago." Well, you get my meaning.

Now for a tiny tale, but one of which great movies are made: "One day a long time ago—there were some men who thought they could gain the world and take the property, the gold AND control, while owning the people."

So, these men set about finding the perfect way to accomplish this feat. That wasn't too hard, what with everyone in POWER in the highest political places, so they set about their task with great gusto and macho mayhem.

Since the major gold and currency criminals had a big network and their own "gain the world" plan working it became an easy thing to merge parts of both plans into a big loop over which control could be exerted, THEY THOUGHT, until the end of time. But oops, they didn't take into consideration, GOD. Oh darn it! Neither did they take into consideration that once they started murdering Russell Herman, the holder of these precious documents, he wouldn't play ball with them and would see to it that they were CAUGHT in the act of sticky-finger rape and plunder with ever so little an amount of pillage.

Russell Herman called on ME, Yeorgos Ceres Hatonn, who happened to hold a pretty high position up the ladder—almost to the Cosmos, as a matter of fact. He placed the whole package, hook, line, and corporation into my CARE AND NURTURING.

All things were then registered and entered into the LEGAL BOOKS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

Now for you inquiring minds: Mr. Bentsen of Texas took over the mandated qualifying and hiding of said stuff, HE THOUGHT. Oh, elaborate plans were carried out and even Col. Ollie North got to lie, cheat and steal, under the shelter of National Security, about those little deals—about most of which he knew NOTHING (at first). By the time Russell was dying, however, he knew how serious this mess had become. But after all, it became his problem of just how to extract information and signatures from Russell without getting Bush and brigade caught—you know, SPECIAL FORCES methods of information gathering. But, I could help Russell go through that phase of his ordeal by removing "him", basically, from the experience except to observe.

All good students of history will recall that Mr. Bentsen remained into the next administration (Clinton's) for some strange reason, beyond that of ordinary changeover. Further, at about that same time the Secretary of Treasury was being paid by the IMF and all the transfer of the U.S. Judicial System along with the Treasury Department was being finalized within the Federal Reserve System, IMF and World Bank. All the gold reserves had been shifted out of the vaults of the U.S. and into the vaults of the NEW system. The gold remaining in the United States went to the British Israel operations (through the brokerage houses and Elite banks) in New York, or was shipped for storage abroad.

I marvel at the limited scope of your realization, people. You know all that gold wealth being paid to Holocaust victims from here, there and everywhere? Why don't YOU apply, citizen? Have you not been HURT by that old and nasty Holocaust? No, I mean YOU, whoever you are or whatever you claim as race, creed or color. YOU HAVE BEEN HURT, YOU MUST REALIZE THAT—DON'T YOU?

The rest of the gold available was stashed hither and yon—yea, even with Saddam you-know-who.

Things went along fine except that, even after the recovering of the corporation and reconfirming and reconfirming the documents into legal negotiable CONTRACT, the BOYS didn't want to give up their lop-sided game.

By this time Rubin was in the Treasurer seat and Janet Reno was in the judicial seat of power—BOTH ARE PAID EMPLOYEES OF THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND (you will find that so too are such as the Sec. of State, Defense, etc., paid by FOREIGN POWERS THROUGH THE SAME SYSTEM). WITH NOTHING TO DO WITH THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA EXCEPT AS POWER-WIELDERS FOR FOREIGN POWERS. You will note that these people do not use the U.S. Constitution nor do they actually use the U.N. Charter—they use the Talmudic Law of the Elders of Zion.

Ah, but even with the ongoing security IN PLACE, the “Boys” didn’t quit. They came along and did their own thing—AGAIN. But it is quite unlawful and invalid—ISN’T IT? But by now a lot of collapse, horrendous fall-out and a lot of bad management have passed under the bridge of LIGHT and LIFE. In addition, a LOT of very important (at least to themselves) people were not aware of the game being shoved off onto their “responsibility” shoulders by those with access to “Plausible Denial”.

So came Soros and the money banditos snatching and snitching while dealing in currencies and gold reserves, gold in general, derivatives, options trading, rollovers and anything with multi-100 + percent pay-back per WEEK (or day), whichever was good on a given day and transaction.

Now, back at the farm, I could just watch and wait for I have a lot of patience and plenty of “time” to wait—until everything got into as big a mess as it appears to be today. So, we will just leave it there for now.

Our program is not to cash out anything, ladies and gentlemen, with undue coverage or non-restraint. The only way you can balance anything and bring any kind of order back into your world programs is to back that currency in your hands, now run into chaos, through a substantial “backing” with value. That is usually gold as the accepted commodity.

But, the grabbers are still in there “everywhere” doing their insane interest-gaining fiddling. And, moreover, most of the Elite politicians, who think themselves so very important, work right along with them. Both play games of intrigue and lies. They don’t even know any other way to play. AND, THEY ARE FEAR-FILLED COWARDS OF THE WORST KIND.

The brokerage butchers, i.e., Morgan, Smith Barney, et al., offer and give backup, agree to do loans on bond floats and lower interest than the IMF and hope to save face out there some five years minimum before they are found out as having bought the whole offering themselves. But, it seems there is nothing else they could have actually done.

Fine. But who would invest under such circumstances? Nobody. So, what has happened? SIMPLE: The Central Bank is backing the bonds with GOLD. Now, know that the Central Bank is the ONLY BANK that can even handle gold in the Philippines, so that gave the Central Bank the inside edge on this deal. The Philippines has NO INTENTION WHATSOEVER OF PAYING BACK THE IMF, PAYING OFF THE NATIONAL DEBT, OR PAYING ANY INTEREST BEYOND “SHOW”, AND NEVER THE PRINCIPLE INVOLVED. Never did and never will!

Ah—BUT BIG FLUB IN THE THINKING! THAT LEAVES NOTHING UPON WHICH TO BASE THE FUNDING AND, LATER, WHAM, BAM, AND THANK YOU MA’AM, THE GOLD WILL BE SEIZED, IF THINGS CONTINUE AS THEY ARE NOW MOVING, BY THE ELITE FORCES (ARMY) OF THE WORLD GOVERNMENT—AND THE PHILIPPINES BECOMES A THING (NATION) OF THE PAST HISTORY OF THE DOWNFALL OF THE WORLD KNOWN AS EARTH SHAN.

Are you with me so far, readers? Isn’t this a cute tale of intrigue and nastiness?

Cogs began to fall into the spokes, however, when George Bush bought a bunch of stashed gold from Saddam. They were just running a really smooth game and it is still in progress. That nice Inter-American Development Bank (Bunko) has just set up little nice banks all around, you know, the little Asian Development Bank, European Development Bank, Hong Kong Development Bank, East Po-dunk Development Bank, and ever so many more. This sprang out of Inter-American Investment Corporation—MINE—originally set up by the Bush Boys but never through Incorporation—OOPS, BIG GOOF!!

This also was pretty much inclusive of the DEPOSIT TRUST outfit who runs all the stocks, etc., yours included. Names are changed on investments and never do the investors even be able to FIND their accounts and all those that can be located NOW will not be around after y2k for that is why y2k was invented in the first place.

Several banks were set up specifically to run this money into arms, drugs, whatever, among which were BNL AND THE OLD AND FAMOUS BCCI.

Now comes along goodie-two-shoes with golden wings or something and thinks a change can be wrought? Yep, and these boots are gonna walk all over the spooks.

Can it be done through established banks? Of course, but not if they won’t play fair and just.

It WILL be done through non-interest bearing banks which have been kept as big dark secrets from you nice Judeo-Christians—and are generally recognized in the bank circles as ISLAMIC-TYPE BANKS.

Now, anybody who has gold can play in this game and they don’t even need us—UNTIL they find that the world forces can come forth and simply take their gold reserves up, up and away to their secret hiding places.

IF, HOWEVER, THERE SITS A DEBT AGAINST THE TAKERS, WHOEVER MIGHT REPLACE THE IMF OR WHATEVER—THE BANK SIMPLY HANDS THE AMOUNT OF OBLIGATION OVER TO THE TAKERS IN LIKE FORM—RIGHT OUT OF THEIR OWN POT.

Now, I ask, IS THIS HARD TO UNDERSTAND? I didn’t think so! And, are there banks enough, nations enough, and people enough to use such a strange idea as gold for currency? The U.S. did until the Federal Reserve took over the U.S. and then the World—thanks to Mr. Wilson.

Oh indeed, Global has truth and the right-real stuff. Who will dare to use it? The better question is: WHO DARES NOT TO USE IT IN THIS COLLAPSING WORLD ECONOMY?

The silly shysters put outrageous “market” numbers up for your attention. People, wake up, anyone with a net-line can put up any numbers they want you-the-dreamy-eyed to see and be fooled all the time. The Big Boys are out of their minds with concern and panic.

Do they want to “deal”? Well, as Bush said once, “...not at this time”. Actually they do but I wanted to remind everyone of the original offering of cooperation at the beginning of this odyssey. Let’s just call it the Yellow Brick Road Odyssey.

Can “they” play in the game too? Yep, and it would make everything so much easier on EVERYONE. THE WORLD WANTS A WAY TO RECOVER STABILITY, NOT HANG CRIMINALS. THE POLITICIANS AND THIEVES WILL HANG THEMSELVES, OR ONE ANOTHER.

Does my little Team know all this and/or the details of my negotiations or the twirp-games being put forth? No, and they don’t need to know. They just need to keep on plugging away and hold strong in the face of great difficulties. But always remember something: GOD’S DELAYS ARE NOT GOD’S DENIALS.

And the “Philippines” or anyone else can play any game they want to play—and it simply will only be a momentary relief—sort of like soothing the stomach ulcer pain—but the ulcer is just getting bigger and bigger and bigger and it will again hemorrhage without ability to put a cork in the hole.

The bandits may well be able to contain some of the people some of the time—but they cannot, nor shall they ever, contain ME.

I would in fact like to just sign off this little message as:

George C. Hatonn, C.E.O., C.O.O.,

GLOBAL ALLIANCE INVESTMENT ASSOCIATION (GLOBAL) (aka GAIA)

I am also recognized as Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn (<sup>h</sup>ATON<sub>n</sub>) (but unless you have a Greek or Aramaic-Arabic keyboard you can’t actually spell it correctly).

You may call me “Aton”.

Any questions may be directed to the Federal Reserve, IMF, World Bank or U.S. Treasury (but they will lie to you for the heads of those organizations have their orders and being good Talmudic Kol Nidre-disciplined children, will do so under oath). Look it up. ☸

TELEPHONE HOTLINE 805-822-0202

As an adjunct to CONTACT, the Telephone Hotline keeps you as informed as possible on current events and other important information that needs to get to our subscribers before our publishing date.

The message machine will answer after 2 rings if there are any new messages for that day, and after 4 rings if not. Thus daily callers can hang up after 2 rings and save toll charges if no new message has been recorded. If the Hotline does not answer your call, then there is currently no Hotline message.
